MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS have received instructions from the of Richard Styleman, esq. deceased, to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, the latter end of May, the several FREEHOLD and COPYHOLD ESTATES, comprising Dew Hookers and the Great and Little Tillingham Farms, very desirably situate in the parishes of Peasmarsh and Iden a most beautiful, undulating, and fine sporting part of the county of Sussex, consisting altogether of 305 acres of superior corn, hop, rich meadow and wood land, lying compactly together, and approached by good roads, with suitable farm-houses, homesteads, and every necessary agricultural building in good order. The whole are in hand, having been superintended with great judgment by the late proprietor. The country is of a sporting character, and is richly ... with the parks and residences of opulent landowners. May be viewed by application to the bailiff, Mr. ... at Dew Farm, of whom particulars may be had, also at the principal inns in Rye, Winchelsea, Tenterden; the hotel at Hastings and Brighton; of Messrs. Dawes and Sons, Solicitors, 9, Angel-court, Throgmorton street; at the Mart and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS 28, Poultry.

Important Leasehold Investments, including 73 substantial private Residences and Dwelling-houses, situate in Frederick-street, Frederick-place, and Ampton-place, St. Pancras, and in College-place and King-street, Camden-town, producing a clear annual income of 3,227*l.* each house being held under a separate lease, at a low ground-rent, and the whole presenting an unusual opportunity for the secure investment of capital in large or small sums and the increase of income.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS have received instructions from the proprietor, Mr. W. Cubitt, to submit to public AUCTION, at the Mart, on Friday, April 18, at Twelve, in numerous lots, the following extensive and valuable ESTATES; and in announcing the sale of this important property, the auctioneers avail themselves of the opportunity it affords them of earnestly drawing the attention of trustees and private individuals desirous of improving income by a transfer from the Government stocks ... tments of an undeniable character, and by which their annuities may be at least doubled, independent of an accumulating surplus adequate to replace the amount of the purchase-money at the expiration of the respective leases, a material consideration, usually unappreciated by the buyers of leasehold estates. This extensive property consists of the following superior premises, erected under the immediate direction of Messrs. Cubitt and Co. the whole being in the very best condition of repairs, substantial and ornamental, requ any outlay thereon whatsoever. ... held ... a separate lease for a long term unexpired, ... a low ground- ... ntal ... ing 3,661*l.* ... and the aggregate ground-rents only 434*l.* most ... secured upon 73 pr ... residences and dwelling- ... follows:—Eleven in Frederick-street, seven in Frederick-place, and 18 in Ampton-place, Gray's-inn ... d, in the parish of St. Pancras; and 27 in College-place, and 10 in King-street, Camden town. The principal ... on let, under leases and agreements, to very respectable tenants clear of sewers rates and every other assessment without exception, and a small part, recently finished, remains in hand. May be viewed with leave of the tenants, and particulars had, 14 days prior to the sale, of Mr. John Evans, solicitor, 51, Lincoln's-inn-fields; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS have received instructions from the Executors to SELL by AUCTION at the Mart, the latter end of May, in several lots, the beautiful RESIDENCE, distinguished as the Friars, an elegant stone edifice, erected by the late Richard Styleman, esq. within the past twenty five years, and presenting a pleasing elevation in a simple Gothic style. It is pl... d near the verge of a verdant plateau or promontory forming the park, and extending from the Strand-gate in the approach from Rye from which it is distant about three miles to the New-gate on the road leading to Pett Fair Light and Hastings; from the former five, and from the latter about ... miles The face of the cliff, which is planted with fine ... own forest timber valuable copp... ... d hrubs, is intersected by ... alks, which fr... natural alcoves and rocky recesses command extensive views over the sea and the rich undulations of the landward scenery, including the splendid remains of the once celebrated monastery. The gardens are very productive The pleasure-grounds are disposed in groves and avenues in which a fine rookery has accumulated, terraces and lawns, in the centre of which stand the interesting ruins of the Grey Friars' Chapel and in connection with the neighbouring antiquities, forming a coup d'œil of great attraction. The several tenements and outlying enclosures will form distinct lots they are distributed through the town and suburbs of Winchelsea, and offer desirable investments for moderate capitalists. The estate is freehold, and under its present character is adapted for the marine residence of a nobleman or opulent commoner, but the peculiarity of the site will suggest an appropriation that with judicious management may lead to more important advantages The entire property includes upwards of 80 acres. Particulars and cards to view will be issued in due time, and further information obtained during the interval of Messrs. Dawes and Sons, Solicitors, 9, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street, and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

NECROLOGY.

THE EARL OF ABERGAVENNY.

We have to announce the death of the Right Hon. Henry John Nevill, Earl of Abergavenny, which took place at his seat, Eridge Castle, near Tunbridge Wells, in the fifty-sixth year of his age, having succeeded to the title and estates but two years and seventeen days.

The family of Nevill is of the highest antiquity, having descended from Gilbert de Nevill, a Norman chieftain, who is said to have been admiral to William the Conqueror. Its members have been distinguished for their prowess in the field, their talents in the senate, and their eloquence in debate. They have occupied the highest stations in England, six having been Lords Chancellor, two Archbishops of York, and one Archbishop of Durham, and their names are associated with the brightest periods of our history.

The late earl was never married, and consequently his only surviving brother, the Hon. and Rev. William Nevill, vicar of Frant and Birling, Kent, succeeds to the title and estates. The late earl had been labouring under a very delicate state of health for the last two or three years, which precluded his appearing in public, or even to visit and receive visits, and he never sat in the House of Lords but one night after his accession to the peerage.

William, the present Earl of Abergavenny, was baptized on the 5th of August, 1792, and married on the 7th of September, 1824, to Caroline, daughter of the late Ralph Leek, of Langford Hall, in the county of Salop, esq. by whom he has seven children still living.

THE MARQUIS OF DOWNSHIRE.

A fit of apoplexy has caused the sudden death of the Marquis of Downshire, who was in the 57th year of his age, having been born on the 8th of October, 1788. His lordship's father was the second marquis, and his mother was Mary, Baroness Sandys, who was niece and heir of Edwin, the last Lord Sandys. The deceased, Arthur Blundell Sandys Trumbull Hill, received his school education at Eton, and from that celebrated school proceeded, at the usual age, to Oxford. The father of the noble marquis died on the 7th of September, 1801, so that his lordship succeeded to his titles at the early age of thirteen, and a minority of eight years sufficed to clear off any incumbrances affecting the family estates, and at the same time to place at his lordship's disposal a considerable amount of ready money. When he had just completed the 23rd year of his age, he married Lady Maria Windsor, eldest daughter of Other-Hickman, fifth Earl of Plymouth, her ladyship being then in the 22nd year of her age.

The noble marquis having been by inheritance the possessor of more than one English peerage, took his place in the House of Lords on coming of age, and always cordially supported the administrations of Mr. Perceval, Lord Liverpool, the Duke of Wellington, and Sir Robert Peel. He was accustomed occasionally to speak in the House of Lords, always with much good sense and accurate information; but he was less distinguished by the part which he took in public affairs than by the amiable qualities and many virtues which adorned his private life. He was a man of large possessions; but the good-feeling and ability with which his estates were managed reflected credit alike upon the honesty of his intentions and the soundness of his understanding.

The ancestors of the noble marquis were of Norman descent, and anciently bore the name of De la Montagne. In the reign of Edward III. they were for the first time styled Hill alias De la Montagne, and in modern times Hill alone. Previous to the fifteenth century members of this family filled judicial offices in England, but the founder of their fortunes in Ireland went over with the Earl of Essex, in 1573, to suppress O'Neill's rebellion. From that time to the present we find this eminent and prosperous family filling high offices in the state, and acquiring in rapid succession almost all the honours of the peerage, and an amount of wealth fully commensurate with the highest aristocratic dignity. As the circumstances of his Lordship's death have been already detailed, it will not be necessary to repeat them here. The present peer is Arthur Wills Blundell Sandys Trumbull Windsor Hill, marquis of Downshire, Earl of Hillsborough, Viscount Fairford, Baron Harwich, and Viscount Kilwarlin. He was born in 1812, and married in 1837 the eldest daughter of Viscount Combermere. His lordship has sat for the county of Down since 1836, and his elevation to the peerage will of course create a vacancy in the representation of that county.

TEMPLE CHURCH.—The following notice appears on the Temple Church:—"Divine service will be performed daily in this church, at nine o'clock, until further notice."

MANOR OF CULMINGTON, SALOP.—Sale Postpo[illegible]d till 24th April, 1845.

Important Freehold Estate, consisting of nearly 1,800 acres and Manor, in the county of Salop. By Messrs. WINSTANLEY, at the Auction Mart, on Thursday, April 24, at Twelve o'clock, in One Lot,

THE MANOR of CULMINGTON, with its Appurtenances; and all that highly valuable and important FREEHOLD ESTATE, situate in the several parishes of Culmington, Diddlebury, and Stanton-Lacy, in the county of Salop, containing together 1,780 acres or thereabouts, of exceedingly rich arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, in a ring fence, in a high state of cultivation, divided into convenient farms, with excellent homesteads and suitable agricultural buildings, eligibly arranged and in complete repair; together with a good Water Corn Mill; all now in the several occupations of Messrs. James Williams, John Downes, Edward Instone, Francis Bach, and others.

The estate is equally eligible for residence or investment, being most desirably situate in the best part of the county of Salop, 6 miles from Ludlow, 11 from Wenlock, 16 from Bridgenorth, 20 from Shrewsbury, and 148 from London. It is in the immediate vicinity of the Ludlow Hunt, abounds with game, and the beautiful trout [illegible] Corve, runs through the centre thereof. Th[illegible] [illegible]d [illegible]d the Tithes [illegible] [illegible]muted. The [illegible] Arable Lands are peculiarly adapted for the growth of turnips, barley, clover, and wheat, the meadow and pasture lands are rich and productive, and the Woods and Plantations situate as to be highly ornamental to the Estate.

The [illegible] [illegible]al [illegible] will shew the Pre[illegible] in their respective occupations, and descriptive printed particulars and conditions of sale may be had, six weeks previous to the day of sale [illegible] Powell, esq. of Sutton, near Ludlow, Shropshire; of Messrs. Garbutt, Fawcett, and Hick, solicitors, Yarm, Yorkshire; at Ludlow of Messrs. Lloyds, Solicitors; of Messrs. R. T. and R. Tench, Land Agents; and at the Angel and Crown Inns; the Lion, Shrewsbury; the Star and Garter, Worcester; Messrs. Thomas Winstanley and Sons, Auctioneers, Liverpool; and in London of Messrs. Baxendale, Tatham, [illegible]pton, and Johnson, Solicitors, 24, Lincoln's-inn Fields, & 7, Great Winchester-street; Messrs. Bell, Brodrick, and Bell, Solicitors, 9, Bow Church-yard; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

HARTLEPOOL.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, at the King's Head Hotel, in Hartlepool, in the county of Durham, on Thursday, the 1st day of May next, at Two o'clock in the afternoon, in one or more lots, as may be agreed on at the time of sale, and subject to such conditions as shall be then and there produced. All those valuable and extensive FREEHOLD IRON WORKS, situate at Middleton, near Hartlepool, together with the machinery and workmen's cottages belonging thereto.

The buildings comprise foundry, fitting-up shops, engine-room, turning and planing rooms, smith's shops, and attached thereto are store-rooms and clerks' offices; on the premises are cinder ovens, the whole occupying an area of 5,000 square yards.

Adjoining are other vacant 5,000 square yards, suitable for the erection of a forge or glass works, &c.

The machinery is of the first-rate description, and consists of a steam engine of 20-horse power, turning, planing, and screwing machines, in fact, of every kind used in the manufacture of iron machinery. The whole works are in the most perfect order, and no expense has been spared to render them complete and efficient.

A considerable trade in locomotive and colliery engines and in castings has been carried on here.

The above affords an investment rarely to be met with in the iron trade, for in addition to the perfection of the works, the situation cannot be surpassed. They are placed on the edge of the finest coal field in the county, and midway between the old harbour and the west harbour and dock, from either of which they are only a few yards distant. At the rear of the premises is the terminus of the Stockton and Hartlepool Railway, and there is also a communication with the railway of the Hartlepool Dock and Railway Company. The front is bounded by the German Ocean. The facilities therefore of carriage both by land and water cannot be excelled.

The works are now in full operation, and a trade to any tent may be carried on.

At the same time and place will also be sold a new Locomotive Engine and Te[illegible]

Further particulars may be had on application to Mr. BELK, Solicitor, Hartlepool.

Brentwood, Essex.—Peremptory sale of exceedingly valuable Building Ground, in a beautiful and commanding situation.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions to offer for unreserved SALE by AUCTION, at the White Hart Inn, Brentwood, on Wednesday, the 14th day of May, at 12 o'clock, a very important and valuable PROPERTY, comprising 80 lots of very desirable Freehold Building Ground, land-tax redeemed, most eligibly situate in and near the capital and improving town of Brentwood, contiguous to the station of the Eastern Counties Railway, and abutting on and intersected by capital roads, leading to Chelmsford, Warley, Shenfield, &c. The great beauty of the situation, which presents the most delightful views of this highly popular neighbourhood, and its extreme salubrity, offer admirable sites for the erection of villa or cottage residences, and render the property worthy of the enterprising builder or capitalist. Full descriptive particulars, with plans, may be had of Messrs. Copland, solicitors, Chelmsford; at the usual inns; at the place of sale; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S offices, 62, Moorgate-street, Bank.

Chelmsford, Essex.—Important Sale of very valuable Building Ground, in first-rate situations.

MR. LEIFCHILD is instructed unreservedly to SELL by AUCTION, at the Bell Inn, Chelmsford, on Thursday, May 15, at 1, in 61 lots, an exceedingly valuable PROPERTY; comprising parts of the Primrose-hill and Burgess Well Estates, and the most desirable portions of the Town-fields, all of which are very eligibly situate in and near the town of Chelmsford; part immediately adjoining the Eastern Counties Railway Station, and the whole within a very convenient distance. It is intersected and approached by capital roads and streets, it offers great choice of situation, either for residence or business, and the lots include the most preferable sites in the improvements and extensions of the town of Chelmsford. The lots will be carefully marked out, and particulars and conditions, with plans, may be had at the usual inns the place of sale, of Messrs. Copland, solicitors, Chelmsford; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S offices, 62, Moorgate-street, Bank.

Gaston House, Little Hallingbury, Essex—a delightful and gentlemanly Residence, with beautiful Grounds, capital Stabling and Offices, and forty-two acres of Land.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions to OFFER by public AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Wednesday, May 28, at 1, the above valuable and truly desirable ESTATE; comprising an elegant and substantial mansion, containing handsome dining and drawing rooms, breakfast and gentleman's rooms, noble hall and oak staircase, six principal bed rooms with dressing-rooms and boudoir, six secondary chambers, with linen-rooms, closets, &c.; the kitchen and servants' department is ample and well arranged, the cellarage is excellent, and the whole is in the most perfect state of substantial and ornamental repair. The court yard incloses superior stabling for six horses, double coach house, and all other convenient and requisite offices. The grounds are very beautiful and park-like, and are adorned by lofty timber trees and ornamental shrubs. There are also several inclosures of rich arable and meadow land containing forty-two acres, with sufficient homestead, of farm buildings, and five labourers' cottages. Gaston House is most delightfully situate on a healthy and elevated site; it is twenty six miles from London, and within a mile and a half of the Sawbridgeworth Station, and two miles of the Bishop's Stortford Station of the Northern and Eastern Railway, it is surrounded by numerous gentlemen's seats, is in the immediate vicinity of the best meets of the Puckeridge and Mr. Conyer's hounds, and is admirably suited for any establishment which may require a country residence of the first class. Cards to view may be had of Mr. Leifchild, and particulars and conditions of sale may be had at the principal inns at Bishop's Stortford, Sawbridgeworth, Harlow, and Dunmow; of Messrs. Gee, Taylor, and Furman, solicitors, Bishop's Stortford; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S offices, 62, Moorgate-street, City.

Hubborne Lodge.—A very elegant Freehold Residence, with beautiful Pleasure Grounds and Land, in the whole about 20 acres, near Christchurch, Hampshire.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions from the Proprietor, Captain Henry Hopkins, to SELL by public AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Wednesday, the 28th of May next, at twelve for one o'clock, that justly-admired and very gentlemanly FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, known as Hubborne Lodge, approached by a handsome lodge entrance and carriage-drive, through beautiful and thriving plantations, and commanding most delightful views, surrounded by good roads and drives in all directions. The house is of handsome elevation, and approached by a flight of stone steps to the entrance-hall, dining-room, breakfast-room, and library, and an elegant bow-window drawing-room, with conservatory and green-house, nine best and secondary sleeping-rooms, dressing-rooms, and water-closets. The domestic offices are perfect and complete in every respect. Properly detached in a court yard is capital stabling for six horses, double coach-house, hay, straw, and harness rooms, with servants' rooms over an excellent bailiff's dwelling-house, farm yard, and all suitable agricultural buildings. The pleasure grounds, plantation walks, and shrubberies are laid out with great taste, and capital walled kitchen-garden well stocked with choice fruit-trees of every description in full bearing. The house is placed on a lawn in the centre of the grounds, which are beautifully timbered and watered. This very eligible property, which is in the most perfect order throughout, and fit for immediate reception, is situate on the borders of the New Forest, and within two miles of the borough town of Christchurch, and in the immediate neighbourhood of Lymington and the attractive watering places of Muddiford and Bournemouth, and presenting altogether one of the most beautiful and complete properties of this description in the county of Hants. May be viewed with tickets only, every Tuesday, Wednesday, and [illegible] previous to the sale, which, with particulars [illegible] and plans of the property, may be had of Messrs. White, Blake, Tylee, and Fawkes, solicitors, Essex-street, Strand; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S offices, 62, Moorgate-street, Bank; particulars may also be had on the premises, and at all the principal inns in the neighbourhood of the estate.

Very eligible and safe Investment.—Capital Freehold Dwelling-houses, Shops, and Warehouses, Fenchurch-street and Church-row, City.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions from the Chairman and Board of Directors of the London and Blackwall Railway Company to SELL by public AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Tuesday, May 18, at 12 for 1 o'clock, those very desirable PREMISES, admirably situate in the best part of Fenchurch-street, immediately contiguous to the Blackwall Railway Station; comprising three capital freehold dwelling-houses, with shops and warehouses, situate and being Nos. 65 and 66, Fenchurch-street, and No. 1, Church-row, with valuable frontage to Railway-place, which are now let on lease to most respectable tenants at low rents, amounting to 157*l.* per annum. The important local advantages of this property make it an exceedingly eligible and secure investment. May be viewed till the sale by applying at the premises, and particulars and conditions of sale may be had of Messrs. Stokes, Hollingsworth, Tyerman, and Johnston, 24, Gresham-street, late Cateaton-street; of Messrs. Pearse, Phillips, and Winkworth, 10, St. Swithin's-lane; at Mr. Tite's offices, St. Helen's-place, Bishopsgate street; at Mr. R. L. Jones's offices, Little Moorfields; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S land and timber offices, 62, Moorgate-street, City.

South Shields, in the county Palatine of Durham.—Extremely valuable and very extensive Freehold Premises, with an important frontage and quay on the river Tyne, and adjoining the terminus of the Brandling Railway.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received positive instructions from Messrs. Shortridge, Sawyer, and Co. to SELL by public AUCTION, on Wednesday, the 21st day of May next, at the Turk's Head Hotel, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, at two for three precisely, in one or more lots, an important and extensive FREEHOLD PROPERTY of established character and reputation, admirably situate in the most preferable part of South Shields, adjoining the river terminus of the Brandling Junction Railway, consisting of all those established flint-glass works now in full operation, iron foundry, whiting and paint manufactory, &c. comprehending the substantial well-built glasshouse and works, with warehouses four stories high, counting-houses and offices, spacious glass cutting shop, engine-house, gasometer, and retort-house, with extensive warehouses, cooper's shop, staining kiln, furnace, and all necessary appurtenances, dwelling house for superintendent, a large iron foundry, with work shops and yards. The buildings appropriated to the manufactory of whiting, paint and colour, &c. include a large whiting-house, and two whiting kilns with crane and quay and suitable warehouses. There are four convenient and desirable dwelling-houses, with well-established shops and domestic offices, a valuable free public-house with brew house, stabling, and yard, and several smaller dwelling houses. The above important property offers peculiar advantages to capitalists and manufacturers, there being [illegible] room for the erection of additional glass-works; or the premises are admirably adapted for the shipment of coals, for the iron business, or for any other purpose where extent, cheap fuel, or easy conveyance may be requisite. The quay on the river Tyne is 244 feet in length, at which vessels can load and deliver afloat. Early possession may be had of the whole property with the exception of the foundry, which is let on lease. 10,000*l.* of the purchase-money may remain on mortgage. May be viewed at any time previous to the sale. Full descriptive particulars, with ground plans of the property, may be had on application at the flint glass works; Messrs. Crosby and Compton, Solicitors, 3, Church-court Old Jewry, London; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London, who is fully authorized to treat for the whole or portions of the Property by private contract.

Two plots of Copyhold BUILDING GROUND, near the Ben Jonson, at Stepney. Five LEASEHOLD HOUSES, White Horse-street, Ratcliff, let at 87l.; term, 25 years; ground rent, 5l. 10s. each; and an IMPROVED RENT of 57l. arising out of a leasehold estate of twelve houses in and near Back-road, St. George's East. Particulars at the Mart, London; of Mr. Prentice, Solicitor, 13, Bedford-square, Commercial-road; Mr. Humphreys, Solicitor, East-India Chambers; Creed's, White Hart, Margate; Hudson's, Bull and George, Ramsgate; Royal Oak, Dover; and at the Auctioneer's offices (where plans may be seen), Mile End-road, London

TO CAPITALISTS.—Carmarthenshire and Glamorganshire, South Wales.—The Agent of an extensive Estate calls the attention of Iron Masters, Colliers, Manufacturers, Farmers, and Capitalists in general to this announcement. He is prepared to enter into engagements with respectable parties for the leasing, on long terms, of various descriptions of property, now the objects of public attention, Anthracite, Bituminous, and Steel Coal, Culm, Iron Stone, Lime Stone, Marble, Flag, and other QUARRIES, Fire Clay and Brick Earth, Sites for building at and near a flourishing and fast rising Commercial Town, Sea Port and Floating Dock, for Manufactories, Ship-building Yards, Wharfs, Store and Dwelling Houses; and in the Coal and Iron District, sites for works joining a Rail-road and Canal, leading by their main trunks and branches to three sea-ports—water power is almost general. Situations for rural and marine residences in the most beautiful parts of the country, commanding views of Swansea and Carmarthen Bays, and the Black Mountain, with good roads, cheap markets, and daily communication with Bristol, Gloucester, and the metropolis. The sportsman will find his pursuits rewarded with woodcock, snipe, and other game in winter; and in summer, trout, salmon, and the much esteemed sewin, a fish peculiar to the principality.

The Estate, containing twelve thousand acres, is situated in twenty-four parishes, offering every variety of soil and scenery to the admirer of the picturesque, and numerous objects of interest to the geologist.

As an inducement to capitalists to embark in such agricultural improvements as draining, planting, erection of proper homesteads, &c., which now so deservedly occupy public attention, leases of ninety-nine years (a term usually confined to building leases) will be granted for these purposes. Cheap food, cheap labour, cheap fuel, and cheap raw material of every description, will give the manufacturer an advantage over every other part of Great Britain; while the large and still increasing trade in coal affords an intercourse with all parts of the world, for the transmission of raw materials from other localities at cheap back freights, and for forwarding to their destination the manufactured articles. This more particularly applies to those undertakings where the consumption of coal forms a principal ingredient.

The South Wales Railway will pass through the town and the three sea-ports, and through and near a large proportion of the estate near the sea coast: while the contemplated Welsh Midland Railway will bring the collieries, iron-stone, lime-stone, and other Quarries within an easy distance of the agricultural counties of Hereford and Worcester, and the great chain of railway communication connecting Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, and all the important manufacturing districts of England.

For further particulars apply to Mr. F. L. BROWN, Solicitor, Llanelly, Carmarthenshire, or to Mr. JOHN WILLIAMS, Solicitor, 1, Verulam-buildings, Gray's-Inn, London.

Devonshire-place, Regent's-park.—A very superior Residence, with large garden, for occupation or investment.

MR. FLETCHER is favoured with instructions by the executor, to SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, May 6, at Twelve, a capital FAMILY RESIDENCE, with a double coach-house and six-stall stable, situate at the corner of Devonshire-place and the New-road, No. 20, in good repair, and in every respect suitable for the reception of a family of distinction. These excellent premises are held by lease for an unexpired term of forty-three years, at a low ground rent.—To be viewed by cards only, which may be had of the Auctioneer. Descriptive particulars are preparing, and may be had, fourteen days previous to the sale, of Messrs. Bray, Warren, and Harding, 57, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, solicitors; at the Auction Mart; and at Mr. FLETCHER'S offices, 191, Piccadilly

MANGOTSFIELD, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.—Land, Country Residence, and Brewery. To be SOLD by AUCTION, with immediate possession, at the Full Moon Inn, Bristol, on Thursday, the 22nd day of May, 1845, at Five for Six in the evening, by Mr. JOHN TAYLOR,

The under-mentioned commodious COUNTRY RESIDENCE, containing entrance-hall, parlour, and dining-room, six chambers, and two large attics, with suitable kitchens, and offices, gardens and orchards, lands and brewery, most desirably situate at Moorend, in the parish of Mangotsfield, in the county of Gloucester, five miles from the city of Bristol, in the following lots, or such others as shall be agreed upon at the time of sale, and subject to such conditions as shall be then and there produced and read.

Late the property of Mr. Samuel Rutter, deceased.

Lot 1. All that convenient and well-built DWELLING-HOUSE, with yard, stables, coach-house, and offices adjoining and belonging, with the flower-garden and large walled-in kitchen garden, well stocked with choice fruit trees now in full bearing, together with all that compact seven-quarter brewery, substantial and newly-erected malt-house, calculated for wetting twelve quarters, and excellent cellerage for 1,500 barrels, with suitable stabling, and every other requisite convenience, containing altogether by admeasurement 1a. 2r. 3p. and numbered 718 on the Tithe Commutation Map of the said parish.

Also all that piece or parcel of rich Meadow Land adjoining the dwelling-house, with a shrubbery, containing by admeasurement 3a. 1r. 11p. and numbered 717 on the said map; also all those two Orchards adjoining the last-mentioned piece or parcel of meadow land, well stocked with choice trees in full bearing, with two fish-ponds, having a never-failing supply of pure soft water, containing together by admeasurement 1a. 3r. 17p. and numbered 733 and 734 respectively on the said map.

The premises comprised in the above lot are within a ring fence, and present an unusually eligible opportunity for advantageously investing a moderate capital either in a country residence or in a lucrative business. As a brewery, the property offers unusual attractions, there being no other brewery in the district. It was established about thirteen years since by the present occupier, who has carried on an extensive business, and is now desirous of retiring. He will be willing to dispose of the plant and utensils to a purchaser at a fair valuation.

The dwelling-house and lands would form a delightful residence for a private family, being detached from the brewery, which in no way interferes either with the land or prospect.

Lot 2. All that piece or parcel of ARABLE LAND called the Ridings, containing by admeasurement 7a. 1r. 2p. and numbered 701 on the said map; and also all that productive Quarry adjoining the above, the stone from which is well adapted either for building or paving; and also all that piece of Copse-wood well covered with timber, containing together by admeasurement 1a. 1r. 7p. and numbered 700 a on the said map.

The whole of the above premises are tithe free, and are now in the occupation of Alfred Tuckett, esq. by whose permission they may be viewed

JOHN RUTTER, Solicitor, Shaftesbury.

Dated Shaftesbury, April 24, 1845.

N.B. Two-thirds of the purchase-money may remain on mortgage of the same premises.

Freehold, Copyhold, and Leasehold Estates, giving Votes for East Kent and Middlesex, producing 170*l.* per annum. In Eight lots, including a Marine Freehold Residence at Margate, Kent, commanding beautiful sea and land views. By order of the Executors of Mr. J. Rayner, deceased.

MR. MOORE will SELL by AUCTION at the Mart, on Thursday, May 8, at Twelve, a well-built nine-roomed FREEHOLD DWELLING-HOUSE, No. 2, Lower Grosvenor-place, Margate, let to F. C. Cobb, esq. at 35*l.* per annum; two small FREEHOLD HOUSES in North-street, Whitechapel-road, London; seventeen small LEASEHOLD HOUSES in Bath-place, nearly adjoining. Term, fifty-two years; ground-rent, 3*l.* 3s. each. Two plots of Copyhold BUILDING GROUND, near the Ben Jonson, at Stepney. Five LEASEHOLD HOUSES, White Horse-street, Ratcliff, let at 87*l.*; term, 25 years; ground rent, 5*l.* 10s. each; and an IMPROVED RENT of 57*l.* arising out of a leasehold estate of twelve houses in and near Back-Road, St. George's East. Particulars at the Mart, London; of Mr. Prentice, Solicitor, 13, Bedford-square, Commercial-road; Mr. Humphreys, Solicitor, East-India Chambers; Creed's, White Hart, Margate; Hudson's, Bull and George, Ramsgate; Royal Oak, Dover; and at the Auctioneer's offices (where plans may be seen), Mile End-road, London.

NECROLOGY.

THE EARL OF STAMFORD AND WARRINGTON.

We have to record the demise of the venerable Earl of Stamford and Warrington, who expired on Saturday last, after a declining illness of some months, at Enville Hall, the ancient family seat, near Stourbridge, Staffordshire.

The deceased George Harry Grey, Earl of Stamford, county Lincoln, and of Warrington, county Lancaster, Baron Grey of Groby, county Leicester, and Delamer of Dunham Massey, county Chester, in the Peerage of England, was eldest son of George Harry, fifth earl, by Lady Henrietta Cavendish Bentinck, second daughter of William, second Duke of Portland. He was born Oct. 31, 1765, so that the lamented deceased was within a few months of completing his 80th year. The earl succeeded to the title on the death of his father in May 1819.

His lordship married, December 23, 1797, Lady Henrietta Charlotte Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Francis, late Lord Elcho, and sister of the present Earl of Wemyss and March, by whom, who died in January 1838, his lordship had issue Lady Henrietta Charlotte, born Sept. 13, 1791, and married, Dec. 16, 1820, the Rev. James William Law, son of the Bishop of Bath and Wells, and cousin of the Earl of Ellenborough; Lady Mary, born in December 1800, and died in May 1821; George Henry, the late Lord Grey, of Groby, to whom we shall hereafter allude; Lady Jane, born March 21, and married, Nov. 8, 1825, Sir John B. Walsh, Bart. M.P.; and the Hon. Henry Booth Grey, born Jan. 29, 1807.

The late Lord Grey of Groby, the deceased earl's eldest son, was born April 5, 1802, and was summoned to the House of Lords by the title of Baron Grey of Groby, in 1832. He married, Dec. 20, 1824, his cousin Lady Katherine Charteris, fourth daughter of the Earl of Wemyss and March. His lordship did not survive his marriage eleven years, having died in October 1837, and her ladyship died Jan. 4, 1843, leaving issue an only son and a daughter—namely, the Hon. (now Lady) Margaret Henrietta Maria, born Dec. 12, 1825; and George Harry, Lord Grey of Groby, born Jan. 7, 1827, who now succeeds to the honours and extensive family estates by the death of his noble grandfather.

The deceased nobleman was lord lieutenant and custos rotulorum of Cheshire, chamberlain of that county, and vice-admiral of the coast of the county palatine of Chester, which offices revert to the gift of the Premier.

By the noble lord's demise the families of the Earl and Countess of Wemyss and March, Lord Elcho, the Rev. J. W. and Lady Henrietta Law, Sir John and Lady Jane Walsh, the Hon. E. W. and Lady Caroline Stewart, Lady Amelia Kaye, Mr. Booth and Lady Sophia Grey, the Hon. W. Booth and the Hon. Mrs. Grey, Lord Rossmore, &c., are placed in mourning.

The ancient lustre and numerous branches which formerly enjoyed the peerage of the family of Grey cannot be unknown to any historian or genealogist. The immediate stock of the present house was that which enjoyed the marquisate of Dorset and the dukedom of Suffolk. Lord John Grey, of Pergo, in Essex, youngest son of Thomas, second Marquis of Dorset, and uncle of the unfortunate Lady Jane Grey, married Mary, sister of Anthony Browne, Viscount Montagu, and left issue Sir Henry Grey of Pergo, who, as the honours of his family were under attainder, was created Lord Grey of Groby in 1603, and, dying in 1614, was succeeded by his grandson Henry, second Lord Grey, whom Charles I. created Earl of Stamford, in 1628. But that did not content either him or his son, whose family had enjoyed much higher honours, and who, it is considered, from disappointment, subsequently took an active part against that sovereign in the rebellion, and commanded a large military force in the army of the Parliament against the royalist army, and eventually signed the warrant for that king's execution. His eldest son died before him in 1657; and, on his death, in 1673, he was succeeded by his grandson Thomas, second earl, who was engaged in the Duke of Monmouth's futile attempt at rebellion. He died in 1720 without issue, on which the honours belonging to the family devolved on his nephew Harry, third earl, a very eccentric nobleman, who died in 1739, having married a daughter of Sir Nathan Wright, lord keeper, by whom he left Harry fourth earl, who, by Lady Mary, daughter of George Booth, last Earl of Warrington, was grandfather of the deceased earl.

The earldom of Warrington was conferred on the late earl's father in 1796, as he had inherited the large landed property of his maternal grandfather.

The Salford Charter.—By a defect in this charter, the mayor and chief magistrate of Salford cannot either hear or issue warrants or summonses.—Liverpool Standard.

Circuits of the Judges.—A copy of the commission for inquiring into the expediency of altering the circuits of the judges in England and Wales has been printed. The commission is dated on the 14th February last, appointing as commissioners Baron Parke, Mr. Justice Alderson, Mr. Justice Coleridge, J. S. Wortley, F. Kelly, W. Whateley, and John Greenwood, esqrs. and Sir W. Heathcote, E. Denison, and T. Grimston B. Estcourt, esqrs. The object of the commission, which may be pursued by any five of the commissioners, is "for inquiring and considering whether it would be expedient, with a view to the more convenient and better administration of justice, that any and what alterations should be made in the division of England and Wales into circuits for judicial business, and in the periods for holding such circuits; and whether it would be necessary or proper that any change should be made in the law terms, for the purpose of such alterations; and also for considering in what manner such alterations may be best effected."

Periodical Sales (established in the year 1803) of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Policies of Assurance, Advowsons, Next Presentations, Rent Charges in lieu of Tithes, Post-obit Bonds, Tontines, Debentures, Ground Rents, Improved Rents, Shares in Docks, Canals, Mines, Railways, Insurance Companies, and all Public Undertakings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

Friday, May 2.	Friday, Sept. 5.
" June 6.	" Oct. 3.
" July 4.	" Nov. 7.
" Aug. 1.	" Dec. 5.

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Shares in Railways, Mines, and all other undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, May 1	Thursday, September 4
Thursday, June 5	Thursday, October 2
Thursday, July 3	Thursday, November 6
Thursday, August 7	Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained ten days previous to the sale, at the Star Hotel, Oxford; University Arms, Cambridge; Hen and Chickens, Birmingham; Plough, Cheltenham; Bush, Bristol; New London Hotel, Exeter; Pearce's Hotel, Truro; Adelphi, Liverpool; Royal Hotel, Manchester; Cuff's Midland Hotel, Derby; Black Swan, York; Tontine Hotel, Sheffield; Royal Hotel, Leeds; Tontine Hotel, Glasgow; M'Gregor's Hotel, Princes-street, Edinburgh; Gresham's Hotel, Dublin; and at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

Herts.—Important Freehold Property, comprising an excellent Mansion House, called Albury Hall, the residence of the late John Calvert, esq. with extensive Park; also the Manors of Albury Hall, Patmore Hall, and Furneux Pelham, and sundry Farms, containing in the whole nearly One Thousand Six Hundred and Fifty Acres, most eligibly situate in the most preferable part of the County, and only about five miles from Bishop Stortford.

MESSRS. Very desirable property in the Vale of Clwyd.

TO be peremptorily SOLD by AUCTION by Mr. E. OWEN (by order of the trustees of the late Mr. John Williams), on Monday, the 2nd day of June, 1845, between four and six o'clock in the afternoon, at the Cross Foxes Inn, Ruthin, two very desirable FREEHOLD FARMS in the far-famed Vale of Clwyd, being six miles from Ruthin, the same distance from Corwen, and adjoining the turnpike road between those two market-towns. It is within a convenient distance of the North Wales mineral, and the Chester and Holyhead Railways, and containing about sixty acres of rich arable and pasture land.

The buildings are in good condition, and the well-known river Clwyd, so renowned for its angling facilities, runs through this admired property, which abounds with oak and other young timber in a most thriving state. It adjoins property belonging to Lord Vivian, Colonel Vaughan, W. P. Jones, esq. Mrs. Mostyn, and others, and is most eligibly adapted for the erection of a country villa, being on a small eminence close to the river.

Lithographic plans and all particulars may be had on application to Mr. Peers, solicitor, or Mr. E. OWEN, Auctioneer, Ruthin.

Essex.—In the beautiful and picturesque village of Lexden, within two miles of Colchester.—Family Residence, with excellent offices, lawn, pleasure-grounds, and garden, containing together upwards of three acres; also a desirable Cottage Residence, with garden, &c. adjoining.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from the Executors of J. De Horne, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, May 6, at Twelve, in Two Lots, a desirable FAMILY RESIDENCE, of substantial and handsome structure of white brick, containing entrance-hall, spacious breakfast, drawing, and dining rooms, butler's pantry, kitchen, scullery, and ample cellarage, several best bed-rooms and servants' chambers, detached brewhouse, coachhouse, and stalled stabling for four horses, the whole conveniently arranged and in excellent repair. The residence is pleasantly seated on a lawn, which, with the garden and ornamental pleasure-grounds, is secluded from the high road by a lofty brick wall. Also a Cottage Residence adjoining, containing dining and drawing rooms, four bed-rooms, kitchen, scullery, cellars, &c.; stable for two horses, coachhouse, and excellent garden, in the occupation of Mr. Henry Frederick Cliffe, a respectable yearly tenant, at a rent of 50l. per annum. The property is delightfully situate in the pleasant village of Lexden, two miles only from Colchester, which is about two hours' journey of the metropolis from the terminus on the Eastern Counties Railway.—The property may be viewed; and particulars, with plans annexed, may be obtained on application to John Vaizey, esq. solicitor, 2, South-square, Gray's-inn; the Cups, Colchester; at the Auction Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

Essex, twelve Miles from Brentwood, which is about three quarters of an hour's journey of the Metropolis, from the terminus on the Eastern Counties Railway.—Valuable Freehold Estate, containing 308 acres of powerful Grazing and Arable Land, with a small Farm-house and convenient Outbuildings.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the devisees in trust under the will of William Williams, esq., deceased, to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, May 6, at Twelve, an exceedingly valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, called CORRINGHAM MARSH FARM, situate in the parish of Corringham, in the county of Essex, distant nine miles from the market-town of Billericay, and twelve from Brentwood. It comprises a small farm-house, with convenient agricultural buildings, and about 308 acres of highly productive land, of exceedingly uniform staple and quality, including about 200 acres of fine forcing bullock and sheep feeding surface, and the remainder (exclusive of waste, &c.) of deep staple arable land of great fertility. Corn and produce are shipped for London and other markets from a creek on the estate, which is in the occupation of Henry Anthony Long, esq., a very extensive landed proprietor in the neighbourhood, and an occupying tenant also of the highest class, who holds under a lease for seven years, from Michaelmas, 1844, at the very moderate rent of 450l. per annum.—The property may be viewed on application to the tenant or his looker, who resides on the estate, of whom particulars may be had; as also of Mr. Wm. Blewitt, of Raynham; of Messrs. Druce and Sons, solicitors, Billiter-square; at the Auction Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

PEMBROKESHIRE.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, at the MARINERS' HOTEL, in the town and county of Haverfordwest, on Tuesday, the 3rd day of June, 1845, by Mr. H. P. GOODE, the MANSION-HOUSE and DEMESNE, FARMS, LANDS, and PREMISES, called ROSEPOOL, situate in the parish of Walwyn's Castle, in the county of Pembroke, containing by admeasurement 283a. 2r. 59p. more or less, of good arable, pasture, and meadow land, in a ring fence, now in the occupation of Mr. George Phillips.

The house and extensive out-offices are all in perfect repair, and of good and solid construction. Distant from Haverfordwest, six miles; from M[illegible]rd, four miles; from Hobb's Point (the intended terminus of a branch of the projected South Wales Railway), about eight miles; from Dale, at the mouth of Milford Haven, seven miles; and from the sea-bathing resorts of Broad and Little Havens, one mile.

The house contains, on a lofty ground-floor, three family rooms, housekeeper's room, butler's pantry, two kitchens, boot room, and various other conveniences, with excellent underground wine and beer cellars; on the first floor are five excellent bed-rooms, and upon the second floor five bed-rooms, superior to ordinary servants' rooms.

The homestead comprises a spacious farm-yard and frontage, well watered and wooded; a large and excellent walled garden, kitchen garden, and orchard, all adjoining the excellent high-road from Haverfordwest to Dale.

The House, &c. stands upon a gentle eminence, commanding an extensive landscape, and from a field adjoining it may be seen a panoramic view, embracing from thirty to forty parishes of the county of Pembroke—the mouth of Milford Haven—the whole of the beautiful Bay of St. Bride (nearly a land-locked view)—the Islands off the Coast—the Lighthouses of St. Ann's—the South Bishops, and the Smalls (half-way across the St. George's Channel)—parts of the counties of Cardigan, Carmarthen, Glamorgan, Brecon, and Devon.

Observe—About 160 acres of the poorest part of the lands are within the South Wales Coal-field, and beneath the surface (ascertained by engineers and surveyors in 1840, expressly employed for the purpose) are valuable Veins of Anthracite Coal and Culm, for upwards of thirty years to come; and from the extremity of the land there is nearly a dead level of two miles to an available inlet of Milford Haven, and one mile of gentle declivity to St Bride's Bay.

The present tenant, Mr. George Phillips, will shew the Premises, and every information may be obtained of Mr. William Cosens, solicitor, Haverfordwest.

Maps of the Estate may be seen at the Offices of Messrs. Norriss, Allen, and Simpson, solicitors, 19, Bartlett's-buildings, Holborn, London; at the Royal Western Hotel, Bristol; at the Offices of Messrs. H. P. GOODE and PHILPOTT, land-agents and surveyors, &c. Haverfordwest; and forwarded, upon application to Mr. Cosens, by post, to respectable professional men at a distance.

Haverfordwest, April 4, 1845.

BEESTON.—Excellent Freehold Family Residence, with Stabling, Offices, and Gardens, accommodation Land with eligible Building Frontages, and several Cottages in the village of Beeston, three miles from the county town of Nottingham, and close to the station of the Midland Counties Railway, and other Land near thereto, the property of Miss Richards.

MESSRS. RUSHWORTH and JARVIS have been favoured with instructions from the proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the George IV. Inn, Nottingham, on Saturday, May 24th, at three o'clock in the afternoon, in seven lots, the capital and spacious FAMILY RESIDENCE, late in the occupation of Thomas Adams, esq. situate in a pleasant part of the village of Beeston. The house partakes of the character of a mansion, presenting a distinguished elevation, and the interior combines every arrangement for domestic comforts, a very large sum of money having been expended in additions and improvements a short time since. The chimney-pieces and other decorations are of a most expensive description, and the whole is in perfect order. The stabling and out-offices are conveniently placed, and the gardens are tastefully laid out and well planted; and it altogether offers a desirable residence for a gentleman or a manufacturer whose avocations require his daily attendance in Nottingham, being within a few minutes' walk of the railway station, which is only five minutes' ride of the town. There are some inclosures of rich Meadow Land, which would form desirable appendages to the residence, and also having some valuable frontages available for building purposes, without encroaching upon the house and grounds, and in addition are several Cottages and valuable inclosures of Meadow Land, let to good tenants, and presenting favourable opportunities for investment.

The property may be viewed, and printed particulars had at the residence; at the place of sale; at the Bell Inn, Leicester; Cuff's Railway Hotel, Derby; and in London of Messrs. Fielder, Johnson, and Master, 22, Duke-street, Grosvenor-square; and of the Auctioneers, Saville-row, Regent-street, and 19, Change-alley, Cornhill.

LITHOGRAPHIC PRINTING OFFICE, 276, STRAND.—SWINFORD, Brothers, have every facility for the execution of MAPS, PLANS, RAILWAYS, machinery, drawings, fac-similes, or any description of lithographic writing, drawing, and printing in the best style of the Art. Every branch is executed by writers and artists of first-rate talent on the premises, thereby insuring the strictest punctuality; and they beg to submit the following reduced list of prices for circular letters, &c. :—1,000 4to. post circulars, fly-leaf, 1*l*. 10s.; 1,000 do. half-sheet, 1*l*. 4s.; 500 do. fly-leaf, 1*l*.; 500 do. half-sheet, 15s.; 1,000 note circulars, fly-leaf, 1*l*. 3s.; 500 do. do. 13s. 6d.; 1,000 4to. post circulars, fly-leaf, blue wove paper, 1*l*. 16s.; 1,000 do. half-sheet do. 1*l*. 8s.; 500 do. fly-leaf do. 1*l*. 1s.; 500 do. half-1,000 note circulars, fly-leaf, 1*l*. 6s.; 500 do. do. 17s.; drapers' bill-heads, 10,000, 1*l*. 15s.; 20,000, 3*l*. 5s. Particulars may be had at the Mart; and of Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, 62, Old Broad-street, Royal Exchange.

VALUABLE TITHES, Freehold and Copyhold ESTATES in Upholland, near Wigan, Lancashire.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, at the Royal Hotel in Wigan, in the county of Lancaster, on Thursday, the twenty-second day of May, 1845, at three o'clock in the afternoon, subject to such conditions as will be then produced, the CORN TITHES, extending over the greater portion of the township of Upholland, in the parish of Wigan, lately agreed to be commuted at a rent-charge of 84*l.* 11*s.* 1½*d.*

This rent-charge, being the first charge upon the land, is the best investment which can be obtained.

Also several Freehold and Copyhold Estates and Houses in Upholland, which will be offered in lots.

Upholland is situated on the road leading from Wigan to Ormskirk, distant from Wigan and the North Union Railway four miles, from Ormskirk eight miles, and from Liverpool sixteen miles.

Further information may be had on applying to Mr. James Morris, Hall-green; Mr. Richard T. Morris, surgeon; or Mr. William Rigby, Pimbo-lane, Upholland; or at the office of RALPH LEIGH, Attorney-at-Law, Wigan, from all of whom particulars and lithographic plans may be had fourteen days before the day of sale.

Very desirable property in the Vale of Clwyd.

TO be peremptorily SOLD by AUCTION by Mr. E. OWEN (by order of the trustees of the late Mr. John Williams), on Monday, the 2nd day of June, 1845, between four and six o'clock in the afternoon, at the Cross Foxes Inn, Ruthin, two very desirable FREEHOLD FARMS in the far-famed Vale of Clwyd, being six miles from Ruthin, the same distance from Corwen, and adjoining the turnpike road between those two market-towns. It is within a convenient distance of the North Wales mineral, and the Chester and Holyhead Railways, and containing about sixty acres of rich arable and pasture land.

The buildings are in good condition, and the well-known river Clwyd, so renowned for its angling facilities, runs through this admired property, which abounds with oak and other young timber in a most thriving state. It adjoins property belonging to Lord Vivian, Colonel Vaughan, W. P. Jones, esq. Mrs. Mostyn, and others, and is most eligibly adapted for the erection of a country villa, being on a small eminence close to the river.

Lithographic plans and all particulars may be had on application to Mr. Peers, solicitor, or Mr. E. OWEN, Auctioneer, Ruthin.

Ruthin, May 1, 1845.

Valuable Leasehold Ground Rents, amounting to 80*l.* per annum.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, by order of the Assignees of Jacob Connop, with the consent of the Mortgagees, at the Auction Mart, on Thursday, May 15, GROUND RENTS, amply and abundantly secured upon first-class houses, situated in Kensington Park, and amounting to 80*l.* per annum.

Particulars may be obtained of T. B. Hudson, esq. solicitor, 4, Old Jewry; of Messrs. Humphrys, Keightley, and Parkin, solicitors, 43, Chancery-lane; of J. Lucas, esq. solicitor, 8, Gray's-Inn-square; of H. Sturmy, esq. solicitor, 8, Wellington-street, London-bridge; of T. KENSINGTON PARK ESTATE.—NOTTING-HILL.—Highly important and valuable Building Land, embracing nearly one-half of this most eligible and rapidly improving Property.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK has been favoured with instructions from the Assignee of Jacob Connop, with the concurrence of the Mortgagees, to submit for SALE by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Thursday, May 15, in lots, the above most desirable PROPERTY. It comprehends about 50 acres of land, presenting sites for the erection of upwards of 300 detached and other houses, upon which an immense outlay has been made in building sewers, forming squares, draining the land, laying out and ornamenting the grounds; it embraces that portion of the estate nearest to London, and is situated on a commanding eminence, from which views of the most pleasing and delightful kind are obtained of the surrounding country. The situation is beyond doubt one of the most healthy and desirable in the environs of London for building purposes, affording to the builder, capitalist, or speculator, a rare opportunity for the investment of money.

Plans and particulars of the estate may be obtained of T. B. Hudson, esq. solicitor, 4, Old Jewry; of Messrs. Humphrys, Keightley, and Parkin, solicitors, 43, Chancery-lane; of Joseph Lucas, esq. solicitor, 8, Gray's-inn-square; of H. Sturmy, esq. solicitor, 8, Wellington-street, London-bridge; of T. Mawe, esq. solicitor, 4, New Bridge-street, Blackfriars; of E. M. Elderton, esq. solicitor, 3, Lothbury; at the Mart; and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Auction and Estate Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

KENSINGTON PARK, NOTTING-HILL.—THREE FIRST-CLASS DETACHED VILLAS, with large Gardens, and back Entrance for Coach-house and Stables, designed with the greatest taste, and most substantially built.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK has been instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, May 15, the above desirable RESIDENCES, each presenting different styles of architecture of the Swiss, Italian, and Gothic, in the highest style of art, not only with regard to the elevation, but to the interior arrangements, decoration, and finish, inclosed by ornamental brick walls, in the centre of grounds tastefully laid out with trees, shrubs, and plants. They are most delightfully situated, commanding extensive views of the surrounding country, and every way adapted for the occupation of families of the highest respectability. Held for long terms at exceedingly low ground-rents.

Descriptive particulars are now ready, and may be obtained of Joseph Lucas, esq. solicitor, 8, Gray's-inn-square; of Frederick Harrison, esq. solicitor, 44, Bloomsbury-square; at the Mart; and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Auction and Estate Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

Norland-square, Notting-hill.—Two conve nt Family Houses, held direct from the freeholder for years, producing a net rental of 165*l*. per annum.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, May 21, at Twelve, TWO well-built FAMILY HOUSES, situate and being Nos. 46 and 48, Norland-square, acknowledged to be the most healthy and pleasant outlet in the environs of London, with ornamental public grounds in the front, in which is a fountain of water. The premises are severally finished in uniformity with the square, which is generally admired as being chaste and appropriate. They are let to tenants of the highest respectability, at rents amounting to 135*l*. per annum, and are held for a term of 96 years, at ground-rents. The premises may be viewed previously to the sale by permission of the tenants, between twelve and four; and particulars may be had of W. F. Dolman, esq. solicitor, 27, Carey-street, Lincoln's-inn; at the Mart; and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Auction and Estate Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

Capital Freehold Public-house, St. James's-place, Aldgate.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK is instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, May 21, at twelve, a capital modern brick-built FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE, situate in the centre of St. James's-place, Aldgate, in the city of London, well known by the sign of the Fishmongers' Arms, admirably arranged for carrying on an extensive business, which is now being conducted in a most spirited and enterprising manner by Mr. Solomons. The premises are let on lease to Messrs. Courage and Donaldson, which will expire at Christmas, 1848, at the exceedingly low rent of 63*l*. per annum, when the valuable reversion will fall in, the estimated value of the same being about 130*l*. per annum. The house may be viewed any day prior to the sale, and particulars had of Messrs. Gregory, Faulkner, and Co. solicitors, Bedford-row; at the Auction Mart; and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Estate Office, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

Pelham-crescent, Brompton.—Excellent Family Residence, held at a ground-rent of only 6*l*. for a long term.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, May 21, at Twelve, a modern well-built RESIDENCE, situate and being No. 12, Pelham-crescent, having a southern aspect towards the ornamental gardens in the centre, finished in uniformity with the surrounding houses, and possessing accommodation for the reception of a family of the first respectability. It is in the occupation of Lady Jephson, at an annual rent of 80*l*. and is held for a term of 77 years from Lady-day 1836, at a ground-rent of 6*l*. per annum. The premises may be viewed by permission of the tenant, between one and five o'clock, and particulars had of Samuel Haines, esq. solicitor, 21, Montagu-street, Russell-square; and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Auction and Estate Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

THE HANWORTH HALL ESTATE, NORFOLK.

MR. BUTCHER respectfully announces to the public, that on Saturday, the 14th of June next, he will have the honour to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Royal Hotel, Norwich, the HANWORTH HALL ESTATE, abutting on the turnpike from Aylsham to Cromer, containing a capital mansion, delightfully situated on a rising ground in the centre of a beautifully timbered park, several farm-houses, cottages, and 1,465 acres of exceedingly good arable, pasture, and plantation land, lying very convenient for occupation, in the several parishes of Hanworth, Roughton, Alby, Thurgarton, Sustead, Bassingham, and Gresham, and nearly surrounded by the domains of Felbrigg and Gunton. Hanworth is situate in the most beautiful part of the county of Norfolk, 18 miles from Norwich, six miles from Aylsham, and five miles from the renowned and fashionable bathing-place of Cromer. It is in the immediate vicinity of the Right Hon. Lord Suffield's estate at Gunton, and of W. H. Windham's, esq. at Felbrigg. The seats of the Dowager Lady Suffield, at Blickling; the Earl of Orford, at Wolterton; and that of Lord Hastings, at Melton Constable, are also within a short distance. The estate will be peremptorily sold in 18 lots, unless an acceptable offer should be made for the same in one lot.

Particulars, with plans, are preparing, and in due time may be had of Messrs. Repton and Scott, solicitors, Aylsham; Messrs. R. M. and C. Baxter, solicitors, 48, Lincoln's-inn-fields, London; the inns at Aylsham, Holt, Cromer, and North Walsham; at the Royal Hotel, and Mr. BUTCHER'S offices, Theatre-street, Norwich. The mansion, offices, and gardens may be viewed, by ticket only, to be had of Messrs. Repton and Scott, and of Mr. BUTCHER. The tenants will shew their several holdings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

Friday, May 2.	Friday, Sept. 5.
„ June 6.	„ Oct. 3.
„ July 4.	„ Nov. 7.
Aug. 1.	Dec. 5.

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 29, Poultry.

CLERMONT LODGE ESTATE, Norfolk.—To be SOLD, by Private Contract, an important FREEHOLD ESTATE, called Clermont Lodge, including the manor of Little Cressingham, and 2,437 acres of land. This estate is two miles distant from the market-town of Watton, and about five from Swaffham. The Northern and Eastern Railway (when completed to Norwich) will run a few miles to the south of the estate, and present a ready and easy access to the metropolis. The nucleus of this noble estate was formed by William Henry, Earl of Clermont, and it has been since enriched by large additions by his nephew and heir Wm. Charles Viscount Clermont and the subsequent owners. It now incloses, in a ring fence, 2,437 acres, comprising nearly the whole of the parish of Little Cressingham, with much excellent land in the adjoining parishes of Threxton and Saham Toney. The land is parcelled into farms, and let to substantial tenants, and produces a net rental of 1,915*l*. 13s. making with the estimated yearly rental of the house, and the shooting during the season, an annual value of 2,100*l*. The estate is the most compact and perfect sporting domain in the kingdom. The game preserves are unrivalled. The mansion of Clermont Lodge is spacious and convenient, and adapted to the accommodation of a family of rank. The home grounds and gardens are laid out with much taste, comprising a variety of delightful strolls and promenades. Fine belts of plantation intersect the estate in every direction. To the north-east of the mansion is a fine oak wood, unrivalled in the quality of its timber; to the south is a valuable warren. The estate has 38½ common rights for cattle on the commons of Little Cressingham. On the Low-common is the mill, one of the finest and most complete in the county, and which is worked both by wind and water. For further particulars apply to Samuel Beazely, esq. architect, Soho-square; Wm. Murray, esq. solicitor, London-street, London; or E. R. Grigson, esq. solicitor, Watton, Norfolk. The mansion may be viewed on application to George Buckenham, the gamekeeper.

South Shields, in the county Palatine of Durham.—Extremely valuable and very extensive Freehold Premises, with an important frontage and quay on the river Tyne, and adjoining the terminus of the Darlington Junction Railway.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received positive instructions from Messrs. Shortridge, Sawyer, and Co to SELL by public AUCTION, on Wednesday, th 21st da of May, at the Turk's Head Hotel, Newcastle-upon-Tyne at two for tl precisely, in one or more lots, an important and extensive FREEHOLD PROPERTY of established character and reputation, admirably situate in the most p ferable part of South Shields, adjoining the river terminus of the Darlington Junction Railway, consisting of all those established flint-glass works now in full operation, iron-foundry, whiting and paint manufactory, &c. comprehending the substantial well-built glasshouse and works, with warehouses four stories high, counting-houses and offices, spacious glass-cutting shop, engine-house, gasometer, and retort-house, with extensive warehouses, cooper's shop, staining kiln, furnace, and all necessary appurtenances, dwelling-house for superintendent, a large iron foundry, with workshops and yards. The buildings appropriated to the manu facture of whiting, paint, and colour, &c. include a large whiting-house, and two whiting kilns, with crane on quay, and suitable warehouse. There are four convenient and desirable dwelling-houses, with well-established shops and domestic offices, a valuable free public-house with brew-house, stabling, and yard, and several small dwelling-houses. The above important property offers peculiar advantages to capitalists and manufacturers, there being ample room for the erection of additional glass-works; or the premises are admirably adapted for the shipment of coals, for the iron business, or for any other purpose where extent, cheap fuel, and easy conveyance may be requisite. The quay on the river Tyne is 211 feet in length, at which vessels can load and deliver afloat at low water, and on which staith might be erected for the shipment of coals, there being easy access to it from the Darlington Junction Railway. Early possession may be had of the whole property with the exception of the foundry, which is let on lease. Should the property be sold altogether, 10,000*l*. of the purchase-money may remain on mortgage; or, it disposed of in lots, such portion may rest as may be agreed on. May be viewed at any time previous to the sale. Full descriptive particulars, with ground-plans of the property, may be had on application at the flint-glass works; of Messrs. Crosby and Compton, Solicitors, 3, Church-court, Old Jewry, London; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London, who is fully authorized to treat for the whole or portions of the property by private contract. In consequence of the abolition of the glass duties, the present affords a most favourable opportunity for extending the works; and as the premises are, in every respect, well adapted for carrying on any or all the branches of the glass trade, on a very extended scale, they are worth the notice of parties (or a company) desirous of engaging in the business. The flint-glass trade having been carried on on the premises for nearly half a century, there is a valuable home and foreign connection, and the proprietors will give every information to purchasers.

The new economical Thermio stove, with fender and radiating hearthplate, from 8*l*. 5s.; fire-irons for chambers, 1s. 9d. per set; handsome ditto, with cut heads, 6s. 6d.; newest pattern, with elegant bronzed heads, 11s. A variety of fire-irons, with ormolu and richly-cut heads, at proportionate prices. Any article in furnishing ironmongery 30 per cent. under any other house, while the extent and variety of the stock is without any equal. The money returned for every article not approved of.—Detailed catalogues, with engravings, sent (per post) free. Established (in Wells-street) 1820.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Shares in Railways, Mines, and all other undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, June 5	Thursday, September 4
Thursday, July 3	Thursday, October 2
Thursday, August 7	Thursday, November 6

Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained ten days previous to the sale, at the Star Hotel, Oxford; University Arms, Cambridge; Hen and Chickens, Birmingham; Plough, Cheltenham; Bush, Bristol; New London Hotel, Exeter; Pierce's Hotel, Truro; Adelphi, Liverpool; Royal Hotel, Manchester; Cuff's Midland Hotel, Derby; Black Swan, York; Tontine Hotel, Sheffield; Royal Hotel, Leeds; Tontine Hotel, Glasgow; M'Gregor's Hotel, Princes-street, Edinburgh; Gresham's Hotel, Dublin; and at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

NEW BOOKS for SALE.—The following New Books may be had at the prices affixed, on application to the Publisher of the LAW TIMES, at the Office. They are quite clean and perfect, and the price of each is 30 per cent. below the published price. A Post-office order should be sent for any wanted.

Beautiful Residence, with 25 acres of Park, within 12 miles of Town and two of Harrow Station, and less than three-quarters of an hour of the metropolis.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, June 17, at Twelve, that very beautiful FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, called the Hermitage, at Harrow Weald. It is a singularly elegant structure, delineating in great perfection the choice beauties of the castellated Gothic, built at an extravagant expense, with a remarkable combination of comfort and beauty; indeed a more graceful structure has been rarely modelled. Is approached by a Gothic lodge of sweet design, and placed in a very charming small park of 25 acres, environed by the splendid woods of the seat of the Marquis of Abercorn, at Stanmore. The Hermitage contains on an elegant scale very accommodation for a family of the first respectability. The apartments are of very handsome proportions, with altogether twelve bed chambers, and every attached and detached office. The whole in high order. If even the limits of an advertisement were to permit a full description of this very charming property, the enumeration of its just attractions might tend to the belief that it was of very extravagant pretensions, it is therefore preferred parties should visit the property, which will better than any description impress its remarkable eligibility as a recherché abode for a man of taste and comfortable fortune. Further particulars may be had of Messrs. Gatty and Turner 1, Red Lion square; and at the offices of Messrs. HEDGER, Land-agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

Important Freehold Estate, within three miles of Hyde-park-corner, comprising a beautiful Residence, with valuable Market-garden Grounds, altogether upwards of 40 acres.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, June 17, at 12, unless previously disposed of by private treaty, that elegant and distinguished RESIDENCE, known as Peterborough-house, Fulham. It is a mansion of most commanding elevation, beautifully placed in park-like grounds of 11 acres, approached by handsome lodge entrance, and is in every feature perfect for the abode of a family of distinction; is now in the temporary occupation of the Dowager Countess of Listowel. The apartments are of beautiful proportions, superbly decorated, the arrangement of the whole a model of elegance and comfort, with warm and cold baths, the offices in every way excellent. The pleasure grounds charmingly disposed, capital gardens, &c., indeed, Peterborough-house, for a family of opulence, is unquestionably the choicest residence within its distance of town, and combines, in perfection, the advantages of town and country.

Also with the above, or in separate lots, will be sold, the surrounding unequalled Fruit Gardens, in the occupation of Messrs. Fitch, extending to thirty acres. This estate possesses an almost unparalleled advantage, for the parish of Fulham being all freehold, the remainder nearly all Bishop's land, and is so disposed, that without inconvenience to the mansion, a considerable portion, with valuable frontage, may be laid out for the erection of villas, for which it presents ...derful facilities. As a whole this property offers the most enviable residence with an investment of daily increasing value. Special permission to view, with all further particulars, may be had of Messrs. Addis and Guy, 10, Great Queen-street, Westminster; and of Messrs. HEDGER, Land-agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

Bucks.—Valuable Freehold Estate, 20 miles from town, comprising a commodious Family Residence, placed in a small park, with a secondary Residence, and sundry Copy- ... with investment.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, July 17, at Twelve o'clock, unless previously sold by private treaty, the desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE called the GRANGE, situate at Chalfont St. Peter's, about 20 miles from town, in a proverbially salubrious and delightful district, in the midst of the best society and good sporting. The Grange is a handsome and commodious residence, seated on the acclivity of a hill, in a pleasing small park, altogether about 30 acres, approached by neat lodges. It contains every comfort and accommodation for a family of the first respectability the reception-rooms are of handsome proportions, dining, drawing, and billiard rooms, and library, &c. most excellent and well-arranged bed-chambers, and ample domestic accommodation. The pleasure-grounds are ornamented by some noble timber, with excellent walled gardens, stabling, &c. Likewise will be sold, Gold Hill Cottage, a residence on a moderate scale, with good garden, and seven acres, with various cottages, &c. To be viewed, and particulars had of Messrs. Dendy and Morphett, Bream's-buildings, Chancery-lane; Royal Hotel, Slough, the various inns at Uxbridge, Aylesbury, &c., and of Messrs. HEDGER, Land Agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

Bucks.—Freehold Residence, in a beautiful part of the country, about 30 miles from Town, and for a man of business contemplating retirement, or for any moderate family, one of the most perfect and cheerful retreats imaginable.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, July 17, at 12, a desirable RESIDENCE called Fennell's Lodge, situate in a beautiful valley at Loudwater, about two miles from Wycombe, with coaches constantly passing to and from London. The house is placed on the slope of a hill, and commands a very pleasing view, is backed by the graceful woods of Lord Carrington's seat. Through the valley runs a trout river, and all field sports may be enjoyed in perfection. It contains dining and drawing rooms, and study and bath-room, six bed chambers, dressing-room, capital kitchen, coach-house, stabling, poultry-house, &c. A well-stocked garden and small pleasure-ground, ornamented with handsome shrubs, in the whole about one acre, combining in that small space every thing that is comfortable, and in a manner elegant. Particulars may be had of Mr. Simmons, Wycombe; at the Mart; the inns in the neighbourhood; and of Messrs. HEDGER, Land-agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

Very beautiful Gothic Residence and twenty-five acres of rich and valuable Freehold Land, within four hours' of London, three miles of Clifton and Bristol, in a most salubrious and delightful district.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, London, on Thursday, July 17, at Twelve, BURFIELD PRIORY, an abode of very superior attractions, constructed upon the designs of the late Mr. Rickman, of the best material, in the most substantial manner. Burfield Priory is an elegant edifice, each front being rich in the varied beauties of the castellated or monastic Gothic, so harmoniously blended as exteriorly to produce the choicest design, with interiorly unusual style of elegance and comfort, and is a perfect abode for a family of the first respectability. It is approached from the high road by a lodge of much beauty, and placed on an elevated site, within highly pleasing and varied park grounds, commanding extensive and interesting views of this rich and favoured district; is entered by a Gothic stone hall 32 ft. by 18, 28 ft. high, lighted by a costly marigold window of rich coloured glass, excellently adapted for a music-hall, having galleries around, with a fine-toned organ concealed by rich tracery of a Gothic window, drawing-room 25 by 16, dining-room 25 by 16, library 28 by 17, breakfast-room, &c. five best bed-chambers, dressing and bath rooms, four other bed-rooms. The offices are excellent, with coach-houses for three carriages, stabling for four horses, harness-room, lofts, and men's room; excellent walled gardens, kitchen garden, and within the priory walls about 12 acres, four of which are beautifully disposed in pleasure-grounds, with two other paddocks, also 12 acres. The residence, now in the occupation of the Ladies Boyle, may be viewed by order, which with particulars may be obtained of Messrs. Hayman, Fowler, and Sons, Clifton; and of Messrs. HEDGER, Land Agents, 10, New Bond-street, London, opposite the Clarendon, at whose offices a cosmorama drawing may be seen.

CLERMONT LODGE ESTATE, Norfolk.

To be SOLD, by Private Contract, an important FREEHOLD ESTATE, called Clermont Lodge, including ... of land. This estate is two miles distant from the market-town of Watton, and about five from Swaffham. The Northern and Eastern Railway (when completed to Norwich) will run a few miles to the south of the estate, and present a ready and easy access to the metropolis. The nucleus of this noble estate was formed by William Henry, Earl of Clermont, and it has been since enriched by large additions by his nephew and heir Wm. Charles Viscount Clermont and the subsequent owners. It now incloses, in a ring fence, 2,137 acres, comprising nearly the whole of the parish of Little Cressingham, with much excellent land in the adjoining parishes of Threxton and Saham Toney. The land is parcelled into farms, and let to substantial tenants, and produces a net rental of 1,915*l*. 13*s*. making with the estimated yearly rental of the house, and the shooting during the season, an annual value of 2,100*l*. The estate is the most compact and perfect sporting domain in the kingdom. The game preserves are unrivalled. The mansion of Clermont Lodge is spacious and convenient, and adapted to the accommodation of a family of rank. The home grounds and gardens are laid out with much taste, comprising a variety of delightful strolls and promenades. Fine belts of plantation intersect the estate in every direction. To the north-east of the mansion is a fine oak wood, unrivalled in the quality of its timber; to the south is a valuable warren. The estate has 38½ common rights for cattle on the commons of Little Cressingham. On the Low-common is the mill, one of the finest and most complete in the county, and which is worked both by wind and water. For further particulars apply to Samuel Beazely, esq. architect, Soho-square; Wm. Murray, esq. solicitor, London-street, London; or E. R. Grigson, esq. solicitor, Watton, Norfolk. The mansion may be viewed on application to George Buckenham, the gamekeeper.

Eligible LEASEHOLD PROPERTY for Investment or Occupation, Battersea.

MESSRS. BEADEL and FOULKES are directed to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Tuesday, June 3rd, at Twelve, in lots, unless previously disposed of by Private Contract, of which notice will be given, A PAIR of VILLAS, very substantially built, situate on the road leading to Vauxhall, about a quarter of a mile from Battersea-bridge, containing eight rooms each, conveniently arranged (size of drawing-room 18ft. 6in. by 16ft.), front and back Garden, and a well of good water. Also the CARCASS, far advanced, of a handsome VILLA, with 18 Rooms of large dimensions, and front and back Garden. Also a PLOT of GROUND adjoining, suitable for building. The above Property is held on Lease, at a small ground-rent, for a term of about 92 years; and, considering the extensive improvements already made and now in progress in the neighbourhood, there can be little doubt of its maintaining a high and increasing market value.

Particulars and Conditions may be obtained of Messrs. Vizard and Leman, solicitors, 51, Lincoln's Inn-fields; at Garraway's Coffee-house; and of Messrs. BEADEL and FOULKES, 25, Gresham-st. City.

IN HEREFORDSHIRE.—The Sugwa[s] Court Estate, an important Freehold Landed I[illegible]t, extending over u[pwa]rds of 600 acres of sound arable, pasture, and meadow land, productive orchard and fruit plantations, with its mansion and offices, most beautifully situate on the banks of the Wye, amidst luxuriant scenery, about three miles from the ancient city and county town of Hereford, and forty from Cheltenham.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to submit to PUBLIC COMPETITION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, the 10th day of June, at twelve o'clock (unless in the meantime an acceptable offer be made by private contract), a first-rate FREEHOLD LANDED INVESTMENT, comprising the Sugwas Court Estate, together with a very superior residence, well adapted for a family of distinction, standing in park-like meadows, most beautifully timbered pleasure-grounds and plantations, kitchen-gardens, &c. and most complete and judiciously arranged domestic offices, coach-houses, stabling, and about 560 acres of sound rich arable, pasture, and meadow land, in the highest state of cultivation, including several orchards and fruit plantations, lying in a ring fence. The estate is partly bounded by the river Wye, which affords salmon fishery of the best description. At a short remove from the mansion is an excellent farm residence, and all requisite agricultural buildings, many of which have been erected within a few years at a great outlay, together with the manorial rights, fisheries, ferryage, &c. The Sugwas Court Estate is about three miles from the ancient city of Hereford. The Hereford and Brecon mail daily passes the estate, and the Cheltenham and Aberystwith mail within about half a mile, and the intended railway extension to Hereford will bring the estate within about six hours' journey of the metropolis. Particulars, with conditions of sale, and lithographic plans, may be obtained of Mrs. Jones, who resides on the estate; of John Cleave, esq. solicitor, Hereford; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land-agents, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

TUNBRIDGE-WELLS.—Eligible Leasehold Estate, situate in the centre of this fashionable watering-place; held for 46 years at a low ground-rent.

A. Eyre, esq. at 58*l* per annum. To be viewed by permission of the tenant. Printed particulars may be obtained of Mr. Fourdrinier, solicitor, 1, Scott's-yard; at the Mart; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

Small Leasehold Investment.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY have received directions from the Executors of the late Mr. Moreland to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, May 29, the GROUND LEASE of 24, Lamb's Conduit-street, held of the Trustees of the Rugby Charity. The premises are situate in the best part of this great thoroughfare, and are now occupied by Mr. Black in the bread and biscuit trade, but let on lease to Mr. William Norwood, at a rent of 100*l*. per annum. To be viewed by permission of the tenant. Printed particulars may be obtained of Mr. Paine, solicitor, 69, Lincoln's-inn-fields; at the Mart; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

Steam Oil Mills, ... Rochester, with Engine of ... 30 h... ..., fixed Presses, Cisterns, &c.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY have received directions from the Mortgagee to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, June 4, without any reserve, in one lot, a most valuable LEASEHOLD ESTATE, held under the Dean and Chapter of Rochester for a term of 21 years, customary to be renewed every seven years upon payment of a small fine and an annual quit rent of 4s.; consisting of all those capital and substantially erected oil-mills, most advantageously situate on the bank of the river Medway, with convenience of inland water-carriage, spacious wharf, extensive granaries, yard, cooperage, and smithy, and every suitable accommodation for conducting a large stroke of business, together with the fixed plant, including a steam-engine, with high pressure, equal to 30 horses, and low pressure equal to 15 horses, either of which can be used as occasion may require, driving two pair of stones, two pair of rollers, four hydraulic presses, with force-pump, and iron and other cisterns, tanks, pipes, &c. The surplus power might be most profitably employed for a flour-mill, saw-mill, or any other manufacturing business. To be viewed by tickets only, which, with particulars, may be had 20 days previous to the sale, of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row; and of Messrs. Willis, Bower, and Willis, solicitors, Token-house-yard, London; particulars also of Mr. Anthony Ryott, Quarry-house, Frindsbury, near the mill; at the Old and New Corn Exchange Coffee-houses, Mark-lane; the Angel, Stroud; at the Crown, Rochester; the Pier, the Falcon, and Wayte's Hotel, Gravesend; and at the Mart.

... absolute power of sale, on Wednesday, the 18th of June, in one lot, a valuable LEASEHOLD ESTATE for 70 years, producing at low rents 114*l*. per annum, after deducting the ground-rent, consisting of a convenient residence in Wilmington-square, and four well-built houses in Tysoe-street, in the several occupations of Messrs. Mills, Thacker, Pemeller, Bossam, and Watkins, yearly tenants, with the exception of Mr. Watkins, who has a lease of his house at a ground-rent of 14*l*. per annum. To be viewed by permission of the tenants. Printed particulars may be obtained, 21 days previous to the sale, of Mr. F. Child, solicitor, 24, Cannon-street, City; at the Mart; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

Plaistow, Essex.—Freehold Pasture Land.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY are directed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, May 29, in two lots, TWO ENCLOSURES of rich PASTURE LAND, consisting of about 11 acres, situate near Greengate-street, Plaistow, in the occupation of Messrs. Curtis and Son, at 47*l*. per annum. Printed particulars may be had at the George, at Barking and Ilford; Abbey Arms, and Green Gate, Plaistow; at the Mart; of Messrs. Bischoff and Coxe, solicitors, 19, Coleman-street; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

TO CAPITALISTS.—Carmarthenshire and Glamorganshire, South Wales.—The Agent of an extensive Estate calls the attention of Iron-masters, Colliers, Manufacturers, Farmers, and Capitalists in general, to this announcement. He is prepared to enter into engagements with respectable parties for the leasing, on long terms, of various descriptions of property, now the objects of public attention: Anthracite, Bituminous, and Steel Coal, Culm, Iron-stone, Limestone, Marble, Flag, and other QUARRIES, Fire Clay and Brick Earth, Sites for building at and near a flourishing and fast rising Commercial Town, Seaport, and Floating Dock, for Manufactories, Ship building Yards, Wharfs, Store and Dwelling-houses; and in the Coal and Iron District, sites for Works joining a Railroad and Canal, leading by their main trunks and branches to three seaports—water power is almost general. Situations for rural and marine residences in the most beautiful parts of the country, commanding views of Swansea and Carmarthen Bays, and the Black Mountain, with good roads, cheap markets, and daily communication with Bristol, Gloucester, and the Metropolis. The sportsman will find his pursuits rewarded with woodcock, snipe, and other game in winter; and in summer, trout, salmon, and the much-esteemed sewin, a fish peculiar to the Principality.

The estate, containing twelve thousand acres, is situated in twenty-four parishes, offering every variety of soil and scenery, to the admirer of the picturesque, and numerous objects of interest to the geologist.

As an inducement to capitalists to embark in such ... cultural improvements as draining, planting, erection ... per homesteads, &c. which now so deservedly occupy public attention, leases of ninety-nine years (a term usually confined to building-leases) will be granted for these purposes. Cheap food, cheap labour, cheap fuel, and cheap raw material of every description, will give the manufacturer an advantage over every other part of Great Britain; while the large and still increasing trade in coal affords an intercourse with all parts of the world, for the transmission of raw materials from other localities, at cheap back-freights, and for forwarding to their destination the manufactured articles. This more particularly applies to those undertakings where the consumption of coal forms a principal ingredient.

The South Wales Railway will pass through the town and the three seaports, and through and near a large proportion of the estate near the sea-coast; while the contemplated Welsh Midland Railway will bring the collieries, iron-stone, limestone, and other quarries within an easy distance of the agricultural counties of Hereford and Worcester, and the great chain of railway communication connecting Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, and all the important manufacturing districts of England.

For further particulars apply to Mr. F. L. BROWN, Solicitor, Llanelly, Carmarthenshire, or to Mr. JOHN WILLIAMS, Solicitor, 1, Verulam-buildings, Gray's-inn, London.

SLOUGH, BUCKS.

TO CAPITALISTS AND BUILDERS.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. TEBBOTT, at the Crown Inn, Slough, on Tuesday, June 17th, 1845, at Two for Three o'clock precisely, in nineteen lots, a second portion of a valuable parcel of FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND (Land Tax redeemed), near the Great Western Railway Station at Slough, the property of William Bonsey, Esq. The Land is divided into nineteen lots, varying from 156 to 160 feet in depth, and from 52 to 60 feet in frontage to the New Road, called "Wellington-road," leading (from the principal entrance of the station) to the Langley, Wexham, and Uxbridge roads. The Ground is suitable for the erection of Villas or business premises; it has the advantage of an elevated and dry situation, pure air, and a plentiful supply of fine water. It commands a rich and extensive scenery, is immediately contiguous to Eton College and Windsor (with which omnibuses communicate almost hourly), and is in the midst of the Royal Hunt; it is also near the Post-office, whence two deliveries of letters take place daily. This combination of advantages renders the property a most desirable and safe investment for capital, and well worthy the attention of the public.

The lots are staked out, and can be viewed at any time; printed particulars, with conditions, and a lithograph plan annexed, may be had 14 days previous to the sale, at Hatchett's Hotel, Piccadilly; Chequers, Uxbridge; Bear, Reading; White Hart, Maidenhead; Clarence Hotel, Staines; place of sale; of Mr. W. H. Bonsey, solicitor, St. Leonard's-place, Slough; Mr. C. Barrett, Estate Agent, High-street, Eton; and at Mr. TEBBOTT'S Office, Sheet-street, Windsor; or forwarded by post on application by letter.

FREEHOLD ESTATE for SALE by PRIVATE CONTRACT.—A valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE of 190 acres, of rich meadow and pasture land, with good farm-house and buildings, producing a rental of 286l. per annum; land-tax redeemed, and partly tithe-free. The estate is situate within a mile and a half of the borough of Cricklade, Wilts, and four miles from the Great Western Railway station, and is bounded by the river Thames.

For particulars apply to Messrs. SEWELL and NEWMARCH, Solicitors, Cirencester.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Shares in Railways, Mines, and all other undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, June 5	Thursday, September 4

In the most favourite and picturesque part of the county of Kent.—Important and valuable Freehold Estates, situate near to Maidstone, and a Leasehold Dwelling-house at Tunbridge-wells.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been honoured with instructions from the Executors of the late John Ranger, esq. to prepare for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, the 10th of June, at twelve o'clock, unless in the meantime acceptable offers be made by private contract, a remarkably compact and valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, distinguished as the Cheveney Estate, situate in the parishes of Hunton and Yalding, about four miles from the Marden and Paddock-wood stations on the London and Dover Railway, one and a quarter mile from the Wateringbury and Yalding station on the Maidstone branch, and about five miles from the county town of Maidstone, and nine from Tunbridge, comprising about 143 acres of highly cultivated land, including an excellent hop garden of about 26 acres (protected by a luxuriant quickset hedge, 20 feet in height), scarcely ever known to have sustained injury from blight when the hop crops of the surrounding neighbourhood have failed, together with other valuable hop grounds, arable, meadow, orchard, and pasture land, underwood plantations, a good farm-house, four cottages, and ample agricultural buildings, all of which are in a substantial state of repair; four cottages, and about 2½ acres of freehold land, commanding eligible building sites, near the upper part of the village of Yalding; and a long leasehold estate, comprising a substantial, recently erected, stone-built residence, situate in Clarence-terrace, near to Trinity Church, Tunbridge Wells; held for an unexpired term of 46 years, at a nominal ground rent. Particulars, with lithographed plans, are preparing, and may shortly be obtained of Mr. R. Apsley Ranger, surveyor and valuer, 15, Duke-street, Adelphi; of Mr. H. Ranger, Tovil, near Maidstone; Mr. R. C. S. Ranger, on the Cheveney Estate; Mr. Brooke, Buckington, near Margate; Messrs. Stone and Wall, solicitors, Tunbridge Wells; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land-agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house. ,000*l.* of the purchase-money may remain on mortgage.

IN HEREFORDSHIRE.—The Sugwas Court Estate, an important Freehold Landed Investment, extending over upwards of 600 acres of sound arable, pasture, and meadow land, productive orchard and fruit plantations, with its mansion and offices, most beautifully situate on the banks of the Wye, amidst luxuriant scenery, about three miles from the ancient city and county town of Hereford, and forty from Cheltenham.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to submit to PUBLIC COMPETITION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, the 10th day of June, at twelve o'clock (unless in the meantime an acceptable offer be made by private contract), a first-rate FREEHOLD LANDED INVESTMENT, comprising the Sugwas Court Estate, together with a very superior residence, well adapted for a family of distinction, standing in park-like meadows, most beautifully timbered pleasure-grounds and plantations, kitchen-gardens, &c. and most complete and judiciously arranged domestic offices, coach-houses, stabling, and about 560 acres of sound rich arable, pasture, and meadow land, in the highest state of cultivation, including several orchards and fruit plantations, lying in a ring fence. The estate is partly bounded by the river Wye, which affords salmon fishery of the best description. At a short remove from the mansion is an excellent farm residence, and all requisite agricultural buildings, many of which have been erected within a few years at a great outlay, together with the manorial rights, fisheries, ferryage, &c. The Sugwas Court Estate is about three miles from the ancient city of Hereford. The Hereford and Brecon mail daily passes the estate, and the Cheltenham and Aberystwith mail within about half a mile, and the intended railway extension to Hereford will bring the estate within about six hours' journey of the metropolis. Particulars, with conditions of sale, and lithographic plans, may be obtained of Mrs. Jones, who resides on the estate; of John Cleave, esq. solicitor, Hereford; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land-agents, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Twenty Acres of valuable Meadow Land, within four miles of the Royal [illegible], adapted for Building purposes.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to prepare for SALE by AUCTION, early in June, about TWENTY ACRES of important FREEHOLD MEADOW LAND, situate in an improving neighbourhood, and presenting to the capitalist an eligible investment, and to builders a spot well adapted for building purposes.—Detailed particulars will appear in future advertisements; and in the meantime any information may be obtained at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S offices, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Between the Cemetery and the celebrated Beulah Spa, Norwood, Surrey.—Important Copyhold Estates, with great prospective reversionary interests, valuable building and accommodation Land, Ground Rents, &c.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to offer to SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, July 3rd, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, in one lot, an IMPORTANT PROPERTY, comprising the Tivoli Gardens, and King's Head Hotel, several Private Residences, Dwelling-houses and Shops, numerous Cottages, Ground-rents, and about 14 acres of valuable Building and Accommodation Land, offering to the capitalist and speculator safe investments, with great prospective advantages, eligibly situated in the most preferable part of Norwood. Detailed particulars will appear in future advertisements. Particulars of Sale, with lithographed Plans, are preparing, and may shortly be obtained on the several premises; at the Inns in the neighbourhood; of Messrs. Wiltshire and Parris, architects and surveyors, Wolsingham-place, Lambeth; of Mr. Owston, solicitor, Brigg, Lincolnshire; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Auctioneers, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

TUNBRIDGE-WELLS.—Eligible Leasehold Estate, situate in the centre of this fashionable watering-place; held for 46 years at a low ground-rent.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions from the Executors of the late John Ranger, esq. to SELL by public AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, June 10, at Twelve (unless an acceptable offer is previously made by private contract), a LEASEHOLD stone-built FAMILY RESIDENCE, delightfully situate, and numbered 3, Clarence-terrace, nearly opposite to Trinity Church, Tunbridge-wells, possessing uninterrupted views of the common, Mount Ephraim, and the surrounding picturesque country; let on lease to Mr. Wicking, for an unexpired term of 10 years from December, 1844, at a very inadequate rental of 60*l.* 5*s.* leaving an improved rental of 60*l.* 5*s.* per annum. Particulars may be obtained of Mr. Ranger, surveyor and valuer, 15, Duke-street, Adelphi; of Messrs. Stone and Wall, solicitors, Tunbridge-wells; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land-agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, and Croydon, Surrey.

Essex Lodge, Brixton, Surrey, the much admired Residence of the late Daniel Higley Richardson, Esq.; possession may be had on the completion of the purchase.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been honoured with instructions from the Executors of the above deceased gentleman, to prepare for SALE by AUCTION at the Mart, on Tuesday, the 10th day of June, at twelve o'clock (unless in the meantime an acceptable offer be made by private contract), the above singularly attractive VILLA RESIDENCE, most delightfully situate, a short distance from the road, on the most preferable part of Brixton-hill, nearly opposite the church, erected within a few years, at a considerable outlay, and regardless of expense, and much ingenuity and taste have been displayed in its exterior and interior arrangements. The house is of handsome elevation, and most conveniently and admirably adapted for the reception of a gentleman's family: it contains two attic rooms for female servants, and closets on the first floor; four best bed-rooms and a dressing ditto, an occasional summer room or conservatory; on the ground floor, a cheerful entrance hall, an elegant drawing-room, a well-proportioned dining-room, and library; and on the basement, the most complete domestic offices; coach-house, stabling, pleasure-grounds, and kitchen-garden. This eligible estate, either for occupation or investment, is held for an unexpired term of 92 years, at a low ground-rent. Particulars may be obtained of H. F. Richardson, esq. solicitor, 36, Coleman-street; at the Mart; and cards to view of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land-agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

HENDON, MIDDLESEX.—Brook Lodge, a spacious detached Family Residence, Pleasure and Kitchen Gardens, and about 19 acres of prettily timbered Meadow Land, most beautifully situate on the river Brent, and about three miles from the Regent's-park.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to submit to public COMPETITION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, June 10, at Twelve (unless in the meantime disposed of by private contract), a valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, distinguished as Brook Lodge, comprising a spacious detached family residence, containing, on the second floor, four secondary sleeping-rooms; on the first floor, six bed-rooms and a dressing-room; on the ground floor, well-proportioned dining and drawing-rooms, library, and all requisite domestic offices; pleasure and kitchen gardens, orchard, stabling, &c. and about 19 acres of rich meadow land, possessing extensive frontages to the high road from London to St. Alban's. Particulars, with lithographic plans, may be obtained on the premises; of Messrs. Shearman and Evans, Solicitors, Gray's-inn; at the principal inns in the neighbourhood; and at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land Agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

The situation of the property is very commanding, being in one of the principal thoroughfares to the London-bridge Steam Packet Wharf, [illegible] Coal Exchanges, [an]d in the imme[illegible]

The premises may be viewed by permission of the tenant; and particulars may shortly be obtained of Messrs. Bartlett and Beddome, solicitors, 27, Nicholas-lane, City; at the Mart, and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

ESSEX, near MALDON.—An important and very valuable Estate, containing 156 acres of deep-surfaced fertile arable and superior grazing Land.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has the pleasure [illegible] that he has received instructions from the Trustees under the will of the late Henry Coape, esq. to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION at the Mart, London, in the ensuing month that valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, exonerated from land-tax, called Bridge Marsh Farm, situate in the parishes of Latchendon and Althorne. It comprises a convenient bailiff's house, with appropriate agricultural buildings, and 156 acres of highly productive arable and grazing land. On this estate the late Mr. Coape several years since bored to a vast depth, and after a great outlay he succeeded in obtaining in two instances a constant supply of fine fresh water, which rises on the surface, and has never failed to give that abundant quantity which is so essential to the stock, and without which they cannot thrive. This farm is in the occupation of Mr. James Purkis, a highly respectable tenant, under an agreement for a lease for fourteen years, from Michaelmas 1841, at a rent of 315*l.* per annum.

More descriptive advertisements will shortly appear; and particulars may in due time be obtained of William Lawrence, esq. solicitor, Maldon; of Messrs. Teesdale, Symes, Weston, and Teesdale, solicitors, 31, Fenchurch-street; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

ESSEX, Seven Miles from Maldon, and about the same distance from Chelmsford.—A very desirable Farm, Freehold, and exonerated from Land-tax, containing 176 Acres of superior Land.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON is instructed by the Trustees under the will of the late Henry Coape, esq. to OFFER by AUCTION, at the Mart London, in the ensuing month, an exceedingly desirable FREEHOLD FARM (a small part only being copyhold), exonerated from land-tax, called Plomes and West Wicks, in the parish of North Fambridge. It inclu[des a convenie]nt farm-house, with adequate agricultural buil[dings, an]d 176 acres of very productive arable and pasture-land, l[ying within] a ring fence, in the occupation of Mr. Isaac Foster, a first-class tenant, and therefore in a high state of cultivation; on lease for an unexpired term of two years from Michaelmas 1844, at a rent of 150*l.* per annum. The farm is contiguous to a wharf, which affords every facility for the shipment of corn and landing manure.

A more detailed description will appear in future advertisements; and particulars in due time may be obtained of William Lawrence, esq. solicitor, Maldon; Messrs. Teesdale, Symes, Weston, and Teesdale, solicitors, 31, Fenchurch-street; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received di[rections] fr[om] [illegible] M'Do[nn]ell, esq. [to] offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, in the ensuing month, [a] desirable Freehold and Tithe-free ESTATE, situate at East Bridgford, ten miles from the towns of Nottingham and Newark, and the proposed railway from Nottingham to [illegible] Bingham, will pa[ss] [illegible] Vale of Trent. It comprises a complete mansion, in excellent repair, [cont]aining dining and drawing rooms, study, kitchens, and [illegible] offices; several convenient bed-rooms, with dr[essing rooms], nursery, and servants' rooms; pleasure [gro]unds, tastefully laid out; picturesque walks, extending two miles through the plantations, and cliff overhanging the Trent; summer and boat houses, large walled-in and [illegible]ing, barn, and other requisite buildings; together with 67 acres of superior meadow, [ara]ble, [an]d wood land, lying within a ring fence, and extending from the road in Bridgford town to the Trent river, in which the proprietor has the right of fishing to the extent of the boundary next the estate.

The property may be viewed; and particulars are in preparation, which may be had in due time of John Hassall, esq. Shelford Lodge, or Messrs. Percy, Smith, and Percy, solicitors, Nottingham; of Messrs. Tennant, Harrison, and Tennant, solicitors, 2, Gray's-inn-square; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

MALDON, ESSEX.—Valuable Property, exonerated from Land-tax.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the Trustees, under the will of the late Henry Coape, esq. to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, in Lots, at the Mart, London, in the ensuing month, a highly valuable FREEHOLD and small part COPYHOLD PROPERTY, consisting of several inclosures of exceedingly fertile pasture and arable land, called Great and Little Portlands, Great and Little Winterslade, Friars and Tainter Fields, containing in the whole 35 acres, the larger portion of which immediately joins the flourishing, agreeably situated, and ancient borough town and port of Maldon, 10 miles from the county town of Chelmsford and the Eastern Counties Railway, added to which a branch line is contemplated (and, no doubt, will be very shortly carried out) to Maldon, the effect of which must be greatly to enhance the value of property in Maldon and Dengie hundred, of which Maldon may truly be designated the capital town.

The lands are at present let to Mr. W. Dawson, Mr. W. Hockford, and Mr. A. May, highly respectable and opulent tenants, as accommodation fields, at rents amounting together to 128*l.* per annum (exclusive of three acres which are in hand), and from their locality they must always command remunerative accommodation rents of great stability. This property is not only valuable viewed as accommodation surface, but a large portion of it possesses frontages and building sites of a most eligible description, and will be sold in such divisions as may be considered desirable for purchasers.

A more detailed description will be given in future advertisements, and particulars in due time may be had of William Lawrence, esq. solicitor, Maldon; Messrs. Teesdale, Symes, Weston, and Teesdale, solicitors, 31, Fenchurch-st.; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

ESSEX, near MALDON.—Valuable and most desirable Freehold and part Copyhold Estate, consisting of nearly 250 Acres of superior Arable and Pasture Land, &c.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has been directed by the trustees under the will of the late Henry Coape, esq. to OFFER by AUCTION, at the Mart, London, in the ensuing month, that well-tenanted, deep-stapled, and highly-cultivated ESTATE, exonerated from land-tax, designated Purleigh Barns and Tobyes Farm. It [comprise]s an excellent farm-house and suitable agricultural buildings, all in a superior state of repair, together with nearly 250 acres of land, in a ring fence, and bounded by the high road from Maldon through Dengie hundred. It is in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Davey, under an agreement for a lease for 21 years from Michaelmas 1844 at a rent of 300*l.* per annum. The Maldon coach passes the farm daily to the port of Burnham, in Dengie hundred. The estate possesses great advantages as to roads and markets, and is conveniently situated as to water-carriage.

Detailed descriptions will be given in future advertisements; and in due time particulars may be obtained on application to William Lawrence, esq. solicitor, Maldon; Messrs. Teesdale Symes, Weston, and Teesdale solicitors, 31, Fenchurch-street; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

NORFOLK.—Dunham Lodge, together with 400 acres of superior Arable, Pasture, and Wood Land; also the Manor of Little Dunham, extending over 1,800 acres.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from Sir Chas. M. Clarke, Bart. to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, in the ensuing month, a very valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, exonerated from land-tax, situate at Little Dunham, five miles from Swaffham, and eight from East Dereham, in the county of Norfolk, within two hours' drive of the Brandon Station, on the Eastern Counties Railway, and the projected railway from Lynn to Norwich (which no doubt will be carried through) will pass close to the estate. It comprehends a capital Mansion of modern erection, called Dunham Lodge, containing accommodation for a family of the highest respectability, in the centre of a small park, with pleasure-grounds tastefully laid out, and walks of great length, pleasingly varied with evergreens and flowering shrubs, garden planted with the choicest fruit-trees in full bearing, together with nearly 300 acres of very superior land, in the highest state of cultivation, lying within a ring fence, 160 of which are arable, 98 pasture, and the remainder wood, abounding with game; barn, granary, and all other requisite agricultural buildings, and cottages. Also the Manor of Little Dunham, extending over 1,890 acres, with the fines and quit-rents thereto belonging.

Particulars, with plans annexed, may shortly be obtained of Messrs. Goodwin, Partridge, and Williams, solicitors, Lynn; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

LINCOLNSHIRE.—Splendid, Extensive, and highly Valuable Freehold Estate, containing nearly 2,200 Acres, Manor and Advowson, situate near Brigg.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the Proprietor to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, in the course of the ensuing month, an extensive and highly valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, late the property of Ellys Anderson Stephens esq. eligibly situate in the parish of Broughton, about two miles from Brigg, in the county of Lincoln. It comprehends [illegible] farms, containing altogether nearly 2,200 acres of [produ]ctive land of which 900 acres are arable, 800 rich grazing and pasture, and the remainder car and plantation, with good farm-houses and agricultural buildings, in the occupation of a highly respectable tenantry.

At the same time will be sold the valuable Advowson and Next Presentation to the Rectory of Broughton, consisting of a capital residence, buildings, &c. the tithe commutation rent-charge on which amounts to upwards of 1,000*l.* per annum. Also, the extensive Manor of Broughton, with the rights, royalties, and privileges belonging thereto. The estate is bounded by the properties of Sir John Lelthorpe, and also Lord Yarborough, whose foxhounds are kennelled in the neighbourhood. There are excellent covers for game, and the estate is particularly adapted for any gentleman fond of field sports.

More descriptive advertisements will shortly appear; and particulars, in due time, may be obtained on application to Messrs. Sperling and Harris, solicitors, Halstead; Messrs. Longmore and Sworder, solicitors, Hertford; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

SUFFOLK.—Freehold Estate between Beccles and Lowestoffe, consisting of a very complete Family Residence, excellent Farm-houses, Cottages, and Agricultural Buildings, together with about 1,000 Acres of rich Arable and Pasture, and productive Wood and Plantation Land, abundantly stocked with Game, lying within a ring-fence.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the Executors of the late — Cooper, esq. to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, London, in July next, the following valuable and desirable PROPERTY, designated the North Cove Hall Estate situate on the high road from Beccles to Lowestoffe. It consists of an excellent residence (with ample accommodation for a family of a high class), coach-houses, stabling, and complete domestic offices; a productive walled-in kitchen garden, and about 1 000 acres of arable, pasture and marsh land; including also about 50 acres of wood and cars, forming excellent preserves for the game, which abounds on the estate in great variety. The arable and pasture surfaces are generally of a deep staple and highly productive. The estate (with the exception of the mansion, lawn, and woods, which are in hand) is divided into desirable farms, and let to a most respectable and improving tenantry.

The mansion is seated on a lawn, approached by a carriage drive in front, and surrounded by grounds of park-like appearance, studded with ornamental timber, and the pleasure grounds are tastefully laid out, and pleasingly varied with plantations of trees, evergreens, and flowering shrubs. The above property forms one of the most perfect and best-circumstanced estates (for its extent) in this country. The mansion, farm-houses, cottages, and buildings are all in an excellent state of repair. The estate is distant three miles from Beccles, six from Lowestoffe, and 21 from Norwich, which is within half an hour's ride from Yarmouth by the railway, and the navigable river Waveny, from Beccles to the sea, bounds the estate for nearly a mile, and affords excellent fishing.

Descriptive particulars will in due time be published, and may then be obtained of Messrs. Margetson and Hartcup solicitors, Bungay; Messrs. Stevens, Wilkinson, and Satchell, solicitors, 6, Queen-street, Cheapside; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

The rents at present amount to between 11,000*l* and 12 000*l* per annum, exclusive of the castle and demesne, which is in hand.

Descriptive particulars will, after a survey has been made by Mr. Simpson, be published, and may then be obtained of Messrs. Reeves and Sons, solicitors, Merrion-sq. Dublin, and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

Mr. Simpson, while drawing the attention of capitalists to the above valuable estates, wishes to state, that a second edition of his pamphlet has been published, on which the Times newspaper made the following review:—

"Mr. W W. Simpson, the well-known and deservedly respected auctioneer and land valuator, has recently published a pamphlet, entitled 'A Defence of the Landlords of Ireland, with Remarks on the Relation between Landlord and Tenant.' The Dublin Evening Packet, in reviewing this work, gives the following character of its author: 'Mr Simpson, we scarcely need remind our readers, is an Englishman of vast experience in matters relating to the improvement and value of land in his own country. He is, moreover, a gentleman of most comprehensive views, and possesses an understanding naturally strong, and a stock of practical knowledge and sterling sense which falls to the lot of very few persons in his own or any other rank of life. With the social condition of Ireland he has made it his business, almost as a matter of necessity, to make himself thoroughly acquainted. He feels for her wants, and has contributed as much, perhaps, as any man in his time, to improve her resources, by encouraging the investment of British capital in every department of Irish industry. Such a witness as this we therefore hold to be beyond the reach of suspicion on the score either of interest or partiality. His testimony must be regarded as invaluable as it is unquestionably unimpeachable.'"

SUFFOLK.—Near Stowmarket.—A very desirable Estate, containing 161 Acres, let on Lease at a rent of 191*l*. per Annum.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from the Proprietor to OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, in the ensuing month, a very desirable ESTATE, called Eastwood Farm and Lloyds, situate in the parish of Bitcham, only four miles from Stowmarket, eight from Hadleigh, and three from Bildeston, in the county of Suffolk, comprising a suitable farm-house, two cottages, and ample agricultural buildings, together with 161 acres of excellent arable, pasture, and wood land, lying within a ring fence, 130 of which are freehold (the land-tax on 112 acres of which is redeemed); and the remainder copyhold. The estate is in the occupation of highly respectable tenants, to whom it is let on lease, for a term of eight years from Michaelmas, 1841, at a rent of 191*l*. per annum. A coach passes daily within a mile of the property to the Colchester terminus of the Eastern Counties Railway.

The estate may be viewed, and particulars may shortly be had of J. B. Ransom, esq., solicitor, Stowmarket; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

Ramsgate and Herne Bay.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to prepare for SALE by AUCTION, at the latter end of June or early in July, a valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, situate in the most preferable part of Herne Bay; and a rapidly improving property, Ramsgate. Detailed particulars will appear in future advertisements, and in the meantime information may be obtained at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S offices, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

On Tuesday next.—Essex Lodge, Brixton, Surrey, the much admired Residence of the late Daniel Higley Richardson, esq.; possession may be had on the completion of the purchase.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been honoured with instructions from the Executors of the above deceased gentleman, to prepare for SALE by AUCTION at the Mart, on Tuesday, the 10th day of June, at twelve o'clock (unless in the meantime an acceptable offer be made by private contract), the above singularly attractive VILLA RESIDENCE, most delightfully situate, a short distance from the road, on the most preferable part of Brixton-hill, nearly opposite the church, erected within a few years, at a considerable outlay, and regardless of expense, and much ingenuity and taste have been displayed in its exterior and interior arrangements. The house is of handsome elevation, and most conveniently and admirably adapted for the reception of a gentleman's family: it contains two attic rooms for female servants, and closets on the first floor; four best bed-rooms and a dressing ditto, an occasional summer room or conservatory; on the ground floor, a cheerful entrance hall, an elegant drawing-room, a well-proportioned dining-room, and library; and on the basement, the most complete domestic offices; coach-house, stabling, pleasure-grounds, and kitchen-garden. This eligible estate, either for occupation or investment, is held for an unexpired term of 92 years, at a low ground-rent. Particulars may be obtained of H. F. Richardson, esq. solicitor, 36, Coleman-street; at the Mart; and cards to view of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land-agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Twenty Acres of valuable Freehold Meadow Land, within four miles of the Regent's-park, admirably adapted for Building purposes.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to prepare for SALE by AUCTION, early in June, about TWENTY ACRES of important FREEHOLD MEADOW LAND, situate in an improving neighbourhood, and presenting to the capitalist an eligible investment, and to builders a spot well adapted for building purposes.—Detailed particulars will appear in future advertisements; and in the meantime any information may be obtained at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S offices, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

PRACTICE IN BANKRUPTCY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LAW TIMES.

SIR,—The great importance of the subject-matter of this letter will, I trust, excuse my trespassing upon your valuable columns.

On Friday last I attended professionally in support of a bankrupt before a certain District Court of Bankruptcy, and, as is both customary and absolutely necessary, in the discharge of my duty towards my client, I took ample notes of the proceedings.

At the conclusion of the business I was surprised by the registrar applying to me for my notes, which (at the moment) I gave up to him.

I demanded his authority for thus acting, when he informed me that, inasmuch as I was not entitled to a copy of the bankrupt's examination, I was not entitled to my own notes.

The consequences of such a rule as this (if any such there be) are so apparent in reference to our professional employment and the interests of our clients in general, that I appeal to some of your numerous readers, and ask whether there is any authority, either in principle or practice, for so monstrous an infringement of our privileges

Perhaps some of your subscribers will be kind enough to favour me with a reply, and in the meantime, I am yours, &c.

AARON WILLS GAY

LORD BROUGHAM'S CONVEYANCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LAW TIMES.

SIR,—By section 1, a person interested in land may convey a fee-simple; will this enable a person not having a fee to convey one? If so, and the preamble says it is expedient to facilitate the sale and conveyance of freehold lands, the Act will be a great desideratum; but is it intended that, under the word "interested," a person having only a power of appointment may exercise it by means of the deed in Schedule 1? And if the Act is intended to have such a construction, could it operate where the power is to appoint by a deed sealed and delivered in the presence of and attested by certain witnesses? And if such is intended, why does not the Act say in terms that a general power of appointment may be exercised by the form of deed given? But supposing a person having a general power of appointment, and in default of appointment a seizin in fee, were to convey by this form, is the purchaser to be considered to be in by virtue of the power in order to avoid all mesne incumbrances, or by means of the conveyance of the seizi Surely it is important that such doubts as these should not be left for judicial determination before vendors can rely upon their own construction of the Act.

Section 2 does not say that it shall not be necessary to insert in the deed made pursuant to the Act any of the forms set forth in the first column of the second schedule to the Act, but that is left to inference, like many more things; and would there not be room to doubt whether a deed made in the form prescribed, but containing the common covenants for title, &c. and none of the forms above referred to, would be considered to be a good and effectual deed under th Act? Again, if a person makes a deed in the required form, only omitting the words "in pursuance of the Act," &c. and nothing can be collected from the instrument to shew that it was intended to operate by virtue of the Act, would extraneous evidence be received to explain a document which, by sec. 4, is to have such and the same force and effect, and be construed as a lease and release?

By sec. 3 it is enacted that whenever any party to such deed shall employ therein any of the forms of words contained in column 1 of the second schedule, and distinguished by any number therein, such deed shall be taken to have the same effect, and be construed as if such party had inserted in such deed the form of words contained in col. 2 of the same schedule, and distinguished by the same number; and by sec. 9, where the grantor in any such deed has acquired by descent or by devise the lands thereby conveyed the covenants contained in the second schedule, and so employed by him, shall also extend to the acts, &c. of the person from whom he so acquired, the same. In the covenant No. 1, in the second column of the second schedule, the covenantor covenants "that for and notwithstanding any act, &c. by him" done, &c. he has power to convey. Now you will perceive that ss. 3 and 9 are clearly inconsistent; sec. 3 saying, that the words in col. 2, when employed by the words in col. 1 of the second schedule, are to be construed as if the same had been inserted in the deed; and sec. 9 saying that in certain cases other words are to be considered as also inserted in the deed which are not in col. 2 of the second schedule. But the above-mentioned inconsistency is not the only one; for even if the second column is to be considered as including, when necessary, the words of the 9th section, still the covenantor is not made to covenant against the acts of persons, other than himself, claiming under th grantor or devisor; nor does the covenant extend tc the acts of persons from whom the grantor's intestat or devisor acquired the estate intended to be conveyed nor to the acts of persons under whom the granto claimed by virtue of a voluntary conveyance. In al these cases it is the universal practice of conveyancers t extend the covenants to the last purchaser and person claiming under him. In many cases, therefore, would not be safe to rely upon the boasted efficacy the concise—so called—conveyance; as in case eviction, a purchaser would have no remedy, either a law or in equity.

By sec. 4, the deed is to have the effect and be con strued as a lease and release, but by sec. 11, if the dee should fail to take effect by virtue of the Act, it shal nevertheless be as valid, so far as the rules of law an equity will permit, as if the Act had not been made Then, supposing the deed to be void, no very impro bable supposition, what effect could it have at law It is not to be sealed, and therefore, if the Act wer not made, it would be considered an agreement t convey, and nothing more, upon which an action might be maintained for damages for non-perform ance: and in equity the remedy would be similar t proceedings by bill for a specific performance of a agreement. If that be so, sec. 11 is entirely a piece o humbug, not worth the paper it is written on. Hi lordship knew very well that now such a deed as he proposes to palm upon the public could not quiet purchaser's possession at law; but having anticipate the downfal of this efficacious deed, and scarcely knowing how to apologize, he says in effect, "Go int a court of equity, and they will set you right." It must be admitted that his lordship displays great tact in an emergency, but I am certain that he wil utterly fail in his attempt to bring his machinery int operation. He may rest assured that his labour have been in vain.

My Lord has no good opinion of his deed, other wise he would have made it compulsory; but in that respect he has been uncommon wise, for he ha avoided a mighty opposition and rendered it only necessary or prudent to shew the danger of grasping the proffered boon. If you think I have exposed any fallacy which it is desirable should be generally known by the Profession, that end cannot be better attained than by your favouring me with the insertion of this letter in your widely circulated paper.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.

J. GARRATT.

SMALL DEBTS BILL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LAW TIMES.

SIR,—Your attention is requested to the new Bill introduced by Lord Brougham for the recovery of small debts, particularly the 4th section, which is intended to injure the attorneys and to convert the Commissioners' Courts in Bankruptcy into a beargarden for the "pot-house accountants and agents" to play their pranks in.

The Bill is very defective in containing a clause relative to the landlord's claim for rent, which judgment creditors find to be the "monster evil" at the present day.

We presume you have a copy of the Bill, and remain Your most obedient servants,

BUCHANAN & GRAINGER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LAW TIMES.

SIR,—Will you have the goodness to allow a note to be introduced into the next number of the LAW TIMES, that Messrs. Pinder and Co. have appealed against the decision of the Master of the Rolls, in the case Re Pinder, reported in the LAW TIMES of Saturday last, p. 170. Messrs. Pinder and Co. have appealed against the decision on both points, viz. the right to tax the bills, and as to the delivery of the papers. We are, Sir, yours, &c.

SELECTIONS FROM CORRESPONDENCE.

A COUNTRY SUBSCRIBER suggests an existing evil and proposes a remedy.

Your columns bear so many just complaints and exposures of the interference of sham lawyers with business which should be ours alone, by virtue of our payments for privileges, and of the disreputable practices of many who are legally-qualified attorneys, that I need only allude to the grievance. Bearing it in mind, however, let me now call attention to the fact that nearly every advertisement for a clerk or manager declares a preference for one who has not been articled. I think there is some connection between these two matters, and conceive the preference I have mentioned to be in a great measure the relative cause of the former, by introducing to the working management of law business subordinates, many of them, doubt, worthy men, but not generally with an education or class to reflect credit on the Profession in the after-practice they often attain to; while, at any moment, if discharged and thrown upon their wits, their acquaintance with the law and want of status as gentlemen, make them the very persons likely to figure as sham lawyers. And I think it further likely that many of the advertising attorneys would be found to be men not originally articled to the Profession.

Surely the having been articled, or the possession of a certificate, with the other probable advantages of education and character, should not (cæteris paribus) disqualify, or make a man less trustworthy and valuable, as a superior clerk or manager! On the contrary, why should it not be the highest recommendation? One objection which may be started, viz. the danger of such a person getting hold of and running away with the clients of the business, might be easily obviated by taking in every case a covenant to pay a liquidated damage in case of practising in the vicinity. Another, and the only remaining one that I am aware of, viz. that of the uncertainty of duration of such services, might, so far as it may exist, be met by agreement to serve for a stipulated time; while I think gentlemen would not prevent any person so employed from taking advantage of a good opening or partnership elsewhere, if it occurred.

Perhaps the Profession would do well to consider the matter, and almost universally to reverse what appears to be too nearly a general rule.

REPEAL OF THE CERTIFICATE DUTY.—Sir Thomas Wilde has promised to present the petitions from the attorneys of England and Wales and Ireland for repeal of the certificate duty, on Monday evening

SCOTTISH WIDOWS' FUND and LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.—Notice is hereby given, that the INVESTIGATION into the AFFAIRS of this Society, as provided for by the Articles of Constitution, will take place on the 31st of December, 1845, and that all who effect Insurances on their Lives before that day, which closes the current septennial period, will secure a certain greater benefit than will be obtained by those who delay doing so till the commencement of the following year.

Copies of the last Annual Report, and all necessary information, may be had on application at the Head Office, or at any of the Society's Agencies.

NORTH BRITISH INSURANCE COMPANY,

Established 1809.

Protecting Capital, 1,000,000*l.* fully subscribed.

His Grace the Duke of Sutherland, K.G. President.
Sir Peter Laurie, Alderman, Chairman of the London Board.
Francis Warden, Esq. (Director H.E.I.C.) Vice Chairman.
John Webster, M.D., F.R.S. 24, Brook-street, Physician.

THIS Institution is incorporated by Royal Charter, and is so constituted as to afford the benefits of Life Insurance in their fullest extent to Policy-holders, combined with perfect security in a fully subscribed Capital of One Million Sterling, besides an accumulated Premium Fund, exceeding 412,000*l.* and a Revenue, from Life Premiums alone, of upwards of 90,000*l.* per annum.

Eighty per cent. or four-fifths of the total profits of the Company, are septennially divided among the Assured.

At the last investigation, ending 31st December, 1844, a Bonus of 1*l.* 10*s.* per cent. on the sums assured, was declared for every Annual Premium paid during the septennial period. Thus on a Policy for 5,000*l.* which had been in force upwards of six years, and on which consequently seven Annual Premiums had been paid, the Bonus declared was 525*l.*

A Prospectus, containing Tables of Premiums, with the names of the President, Vice-Presidents, Directors, and Managers, who are all responsible PARTNERS, may be obtained of Messrs. R. and M. Boyd, Resident Members of the Board, 4, New Bank Buildings; or of the Actuary, 19, Pall-mall East.

Surgeon—F. Hale Thomson, Esq., 48, Berners-street.

This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect security in a large paid-up Capital, and in the great success which has attended it since its commencement in 1834,

Its Annual Income being upwards of £72,000.

In 1841, the Company declared an addition to the Shareholders of one-half of their Stock, and also added a Bonus of 2*l.* per cent. per annum on the sum insured to all policies of the participating class from the time they were effected.

The Bonus added to policies from March, 1834, to the 31st Dec. 1840, is as follows:—

Sum Assured.	Time Assured.	Sum added to Policy.
£5,000	6 Yrs. 10 Months.	£683 6s. 8d.
5,000	2 Years	200 0 0

The Premiums nevertheless are on the most moderate scale, and only one-half need be paid for the first Five Years, where the Insurance is for Life.

Every information will be afforded on application to the Resident Directors, EDWARD BOYD, Esq., and E. LENNOX BOYD, Esq., at the Temporary Offices during the Alterations, No. 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place, London.

The Shurrenden Estate, a desirable freehold property exonerated from land-tax and partly tithe free, with very gentlemanly residence, Park-like Grounds, Woods, and land most delightfully situate near the admired village of Horsmonden, in the county of Kent, in the vicinity of Tunbridge Wells.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received positive instructions from the Trustee for Sale, and with the consent of the Mortgagees, to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on the 9th day of July, at Twelve for One o'clock, in one or more lots, the above valuable and extremely desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY; comprising a most excellent and gentlemanly residence, of handsome elevation, finished with great taste in the cottage style, with pleasure-grounds, shrubbery walks, walled kitchen garden, double coach-house and stabling, and every other appendage. Beautifully situate on a gentle eminence in a rich paddock of park-like appearance, highly ornamented with full-grown timber, and a magnificent sheet of water stocked with the finest fish, surrounded by handsome inclosures of hop garden, arable, meadow, pasture, and woodland, which is full of thriving oak and other timber.

At a convenient distance from the residence is a comfortable farm-house, with suitable agricultural buildings, with orchard, fruit, and wood land, and sundry dwelling-houses and cottages, containing in the whole nearly 200 acres. The mansion and premises are in excellent order, the lands are in a high state of cultivation, and the whole presents a most desirable opportunity for investment or occupation, being delightfully situate near the village of Horsmonden, abutting the turnpike-road from London to Brenchley and Cranbrook. Distance from London, 21 miles; Tonbridge Wells, 9; Hastings, 27; Maidstone, 13; and within half an hour's drive through a richly diversified country from Paddock-wood station on the Dover Railway. Descriptive particulars and plans are in preparation, and may be had by application to E. M. Hunt, esq. solicitor, 8, New Boswell-court, Carey-street, Lincoln's-Inn-fields, London; and to Mr. LEIFCHILD, at his land and timber offices, 62, Moorgate-street, who will give tickets to any gentleman desirous of viewing the property.

Chelmsford, Essex.—Important Sale of very valuable Building-ground, in first-rate situations.

MR. LEIFCHILD is instructed unreservedly to SELL by AUCTION, at the Bell Inn, Chelmsford, on Thursday, June 12, at One, in 61 lots, an exceedingly valuable PROPERTY; comprising parts of the Primrose-hill and the Burgess Well Estates, and the most desirable portions of the Town-fields, all of which are very eligibly situate in and near the town of Chelmsford; part immediately adjoining the Eastern Counties Railway Station, and the whole within a very convenient distance. It is intersected and approached by capital roads and streets; it offers great choice of situation either for residence or business, and the lots include the most preferable sites in the improvements and extensions of the town of Chelmsford. The lots will be carefully marked out, and particulars and conditions, with plans, may be had at the usual inns; at the place of sale; of Messrs. Copland, solicitors, Chelmsford; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S offices, 62, Moorgate-street, Bank.

Very eligible and safe Investment.—Capital Freehold Dwelling houses, Shops, and Warehouses, Fenchurch-street and Church-row, City.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions from the Chairman and Board of Directors of the London and Blackwall Railway Company to SELL by public AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Monday, June 16, at 12 for 1 o'clock, those very desirable PREMISES, admirably situate in the best part of Fenchurch-street, immediately contiguous to the Blackwall Railway Station; comprising three capital dwelling-houses, with shops and warehouses, situate and being Nos. 65 and 66, Fenchurch-street, and No. 1, Church-row, with valuable frontage to Railway-place, which are now let on lease to most respectable tenants at low rents, amounting to 157*l.* per annum. The important local advantages of this property make it an exceedingly eligible and secure investment. May be viewed till the sale by applying at the Premises, and particulars and conditions of sale may be had of Messrs. Stokes, Hollingsworth, Tyerman, and Johnston, 24, Gresham-street (late Catcaton-street); of Messrs. Hubborne Lodge.—A very elegant Freehold Residence, with beautiful Pleasure Grounds and Land, in the whole about 20 acres, near Christchurch, Hampshire.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions from the Proprietor, Captain Henry Hopkins, to SELL by public AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Monday, the 16th of June, at Twelve for One o'clock, that justly admired and very gentlemanly FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, known as Hubborne Lodge, approached by a handsome lodge entrance and carriage-drive through beautiful and thriving plantations, and commanding most delightful views, surrounded by good roads and drives in all directions. The house is of handsome elevation and approached by a flight of stone steps to the entrance-hall, dining-room, breakfast room, and library, and an elegant bow-window drawing-room, with conservatory and greenhouse, nine best and secondary sleeping-rooms, dressing-rooms, and water-closets. The domestic offices are perfect and complete in every respect. Properly detached in a court-yard are capital stabling for six horses, double coach-house, hay, straw, and harness rooms, with servants' rooms over; an excellent bailiff's dwelling-house, farm-yard, and all suitable agricultural buildings.

The pleasure-grounds, plantation walks, and shrubberies are laid out with great taste, and capital walled kitchen garden well stocked with choice fruit-trees of every description in full bearing. The house is placed on a lawn in the centre of the grounds, which are beautifully timbered and watered. This very eligible property, which is in the most perfect order throughout, and fit for immediate reception, is situate on the border of the New Forest, and within two miles of the borough town of Christchurch, and in the immediate neighbourhood of Lymington and the attractive watering-places of Muddiford and Bournemouth, and presenting altogether one of the most beautiful and complete properties of this description in Hampshire. May be viewed, with tickets only, every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday previous to the sale, which, with particulars, elevations, and ground plans of the property, may be had of Messrs. White, Blake, Tylee, and Fawkener, solicitors, Essex-street, Strand; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S offices, 62, Moorgate-street, Bank; particulars also may be had on the premises, and at all the principal inns in the neighbourhood of the estate.

Notice of Sale.—The Chettle Estate.—An important and valuable Freehold Property, comprising the whole parish of Chettle, with Manor and Advowson, most delightfully situate within a ring fence, between Salisbury and Blandford, in the county of Dorset.

Situations Vacant.

LAW.—A Solicitor, in extensive practice in a large corn-market and assize town, situate in one of the richest and most populous agricultural counties of England, has now a VACANCY for a young gentleman of quiet and domestic habits, as an IN-DOOR ARTICLED CLERK. The advertiser holds a first-rate public appointment, and the practice is a very old-established one, in a healthy locality, about ninety miles from London. A moderate premium would be taken, and he would be in every respect as one of the family.

Address, for further particulars (pre-paid), J. A. LAW TIMES office, Essex-street, Strand, London.

LAW.—A young Solicitor in a small country town WANTS an active CLERK who thoroughly understands Conveyancing, and is also fully competent to undertake the sole Management of Magisterial and Petty Sessions Practice. No one need apply but persons of very active habits, and disposed to exert themselves for the increase of the advertiser's practice. A preference will be given to a person who has not been articled.

Apply by letter, stating full particulars, references, and amount of salary required for the first year, to "Lex," care of Charles Stronghill, esq. 7, Coleman-street, London.

LAW.—WANTED for a Permanency, in a Country Office, a steady CLERK, who will copy and engross neatly and expeditiously. One accustomed to magisterial business will be preferred. Salary 50 guineas a year. No one need apply whose character will not bear strict inquiry.—Apply N. Law Times Office, 29, Essex-st. Strand, London.

Situations Wanted.

LAW.—WANTED, by a young Gentleman who passed his examination last Hilary Term, the SITUATION of MANAGING COMMON LAW and CONVEYANCING CLERK, in a respectable Attorney's office in the country. Salary required not so much an object as the acquirement of further knowledge of his Profession. Testimonials of the highest respectability can be given.

Address, prepaid, to A. Z. Post-office, Southam, Warwickshire.

LAW.—The Advertiser, a Gentleman of liberal education, of about 40 years of age, wishes to procure employment in a Country Solicitor's office. He writes a good hand, and understands cash accounts and the mode of copying in general.

The Advertiser's chief object is employment; and, being possessed of an independency, a small salary would be accepted.

Address U. X. Post-office, Huntingdon.

A YOUNG MAN, at present engaged in a leading mercantile house in the city, is desirous of a Situation as COPYING CLERK or BOOK-KEEPER, for either of which he can be highly recommended as perfectly competent. The advertiser's object in seeking to change his present situation is to obtain one where he could be allowed a portion of each day to attend the University classes, and which he would earn again by diligence in after-hours. A moderate salary will be accepted for permanent employment.

To any Professional Gentleman requiring such an assistant, please address to P. P. care of Mr. Wood, Stationer, 24, Milk-street, Cheapside, which shall have his immediate and respectful attention.

LAW.—A GENTLEMAN, occupied many years in the Profession, is desirous of a permanent engagement, either in Town or Country; he has been accustomed to draw Abstracts and ordinary Deeds, and assist in general business, and keep the books, and is a good penman. Satisfactory references can be furnished.

Address to L. M., Mr. HUNNARD'S, Law Stationer, Inner Temple-lane.

LAW COSTS.—Wanted by an active middle-aged person, who is thoroughly competent to make out Parliamentary and General Costs, a situation as BILL CLERK. The advertiser has been occupied for upwards of twenty years in offices of great practice and respectability (and who are concerned for several corporate bodies), in drawing out Costs in every department of the profession; would have no objection to make out Costs which might be heavily in arrear. Most respectable references will be given. Address L. J. at Messrs. Witherby, Law Stationers, No. 34, Parliament-street, Westminster.

12th June, 1845.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Shares in Railways, Mines, and all other undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, July 3 — Thursday, October 2
Thursday, August 7 — Thursday, November 6
Thursday, September 4
Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained ten days previous to the sale, at the Star Hotel, Oxford; University Arms, Cambridge; Hen and Chickens, Birmingham; Plough, Cheltenhma; Bush, Bristol; New London Hotel, Exeter; Pierce's Hotel, Truro; Adelphi, Liverpool; Royal Hotel, Manchester; Cuff's Midland Hotel, Derby; Black Swan, York; Toutine Hotel, Sheffield; Royal Hotel, Leeds; Tontine Hotel, Glasgow; M'Gregor's Hotel, Princes-street, Edinburgh; Gresham's Hotel, Dublin; and at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

ISLINGTON.—Freehold Investment.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY have received instructions from the Executors of the late James Ware, Esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, the 18th of June, a very convenient FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, desirably situate, No. 16, Colebrook-row, Islington, and containing six bed-rooms, three sitting-rooms, with kitchen and offices, and a garden in the rear; in the occupation of Mr. Richards, a yearly tenant, at fifty guineas per annum.

To be viewed by permission of the tenant. Printed particulars may be obtained of Mr. Giraud, solicitor, 7, Furnival's-inn; at the Angel at Islington; at the place of sale; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

UPPER DEAL, KENT.—In the month of JULY next, will be SOLD by AUCTION, in lots, of which the particulars will appear in future advertisements, by order of the Devisee in Trust, under the will of Capt John Baker, R.N. deceased, all that very commodious and desirable Freehold Messuage or MANSION HOUSE, replete with every convenience requisite for the reception of a family of distinction, with the extensive and beautiful Lawn, Shrubberies, Garden, and Pleasure-grounds, laid out with considerable taste, Orchards well stocked with trees, and Meadow Land, the whole containing about nine acres, completely inclosed, and a great part with an excellent wall, flanked on the north and east sides with a fine row of ornamental trees, situate and being in the picturesque village of Upper Deal, within a short mile of the town of Deal, and also of Walmer Castle, and for many years past and now the residence of James Cooper, esq.; and likewise about twelve acres of first-class Arable and Meadow Land contiguous, and in the highest state of cultivation. In the meantime for particulars apply at the offices of Messrs. MERCER and EDWARDS, Solicitors, Deal, where a map of the Estates may be seen; or at the offices of Mr. Mercer, solicitor, Ramsgate; or of Messrs. Austen and Hobson, solicitors, 4, Raymond-buildings, Gray's-inn, London.

VERY VALUABLE ESTATES forming most desirable Investments, near Boston and Spalding, to be SOLD by AUCTION, at the latter end of the present month or early in July. In Swineshead, the Manor of Swineshead Abbey, with its members, and a capital Mansion-house, called Swineshead Abbey, with stables, coach-houses, barns, and other appropriate buildings and offices, all in perfect repair; and 160 acres of extraordinary rich Land, of which about 70 acres are first-rate old feeding land, the whole being in the occupation of Richard Calthrop, esq., the owner. The mansion is suited to the accommodation of a gentleman's family, the apartments being numerous, and of good dimensions. The gardens attached are planted with the best fruit-trees, both standard and trained, and in full bearing. The grounds are within a ring-fence, ornamented with fine old oak and other timber, and in great part belted with thriving plantations.—In Quadring Fen, a Farm-house with extensive and well-arranged barns, stables, hovels, and other agricultural buildings, and 212 acres of highly productive Land in the best state of cultivation, situate in Quadring Fen, and also in the occupation of Mr. Calthrop. This farm is extremely compact in form, divided into convenient closes well fenced, and chiefly with thriving quick hedges; and at the west end adjoins the bank of the Fort foot or Black Sluice main drain, navigable to the Port of Boston.

More detailed particulars, with plans, will be forthwith published, and any further information may in the meantime be obtained from Messrs. CHARLES BONNER and SON, Solicitors, Spalding.

June 1845.

SLOUGH, BUCKS.

TO CAPITALISTS AND BUILDERS.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. TEBBOTT, at the Crown Inn, Slough, on Tuesday, June 17th, 1845, at Two for Three o'clock precisely, in nineteen lots, a second portion of a valuable parcel of FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND (Land Tax redeemed), near the Great Western Railway Station at Slough, the property of William Bonsey, Esq. The Land [illegible] divided into nineteen lots, varying from 156 t[o] 180 feet in depth, and from 52 to 60 feet in frontage to the New Road, called "Wellington-road," leading from the principal entrance of the station to the Langley, Wexham, and Uxbridge roads. The Ground is suitable for the erection of Villas or business premises; it has the advantage of an elevated and dry situation, pure air, and a plentiful supply of fine water. It commands a rich and extensive scenery, is immediately contiguous to Eton College and Windsor (with which omnibuses communicate almost hourly), and is in the midst of the Royal Hunt; it is also near the Post-office, whence two deliveries of letters take place daily. This combination of advantages renders the property a most desirable and safe investment for capital, and well worthy the attention of the public.

The lots are staked out, and can be viewed at any time; printed particulars, with conditions, and a lithograph plan annexed, may be had 14 days previous to the sale, at Hatchett's Hotel, Piccadilly; Chequers, Uxbridge; Bear, Reading; White Hart, Maidenhead; Clarence Hotel, Staines; place of sale; of Mr. W. H. Bonsey, solicitor, St. Leonard's-place, Slough; Mr. C. Barrett, Estate Agent, High-street, Eton, and at Mr. TEBBOTT'S Office, Sheet-street, Windsor; or forwarded by post on application by letter.

EXCELLENT FAMILY MANSION and ESTATE, at Stapleton, Gloucestershire, two miles from Bristol.—To be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT, by order of the Trustees of the will of the late Michael Hinton Castle, esq. deceased, the STAPLETON GROVE ESTATE, consisting of an excellent Family Mansion, approached by a rustic entrance lodge, through ornamental grounds, finely timbered, skirted by the demesnes of his Grace the Duke of Beaufort and Sir John Smyth, bart. and divided by the turnpike-road from the palace and grounds of the Lord Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol. The house [is] modern, substantially built, and in excellent repair; it comprises a handsome entrance hall, two large drawing-r[ooms] communicating by folding doors, a dining-room, 30 ft. by 20; library, school-room, housekeeper's-room, servants' hall, kitchens, &c. on the ground floor; bath-room and numerous convenient offices in the basement; five spacious bed-rooms, with dressing-rooms to each, two nurseries, and four other bed-rooms on the first floor; besides six attics and the usual domestic offices, containing every possible convenience.

Detached are a six-stall stable and loose box, coachhouse for four carriages, harness-room, men-servants'-room, and convenient agricultural buildings, and an ornamental tower in the grounds. There are two large and well-stocked kitchen gardens, with hot-house, grape-house, pinery, &c. The principal apartments have a southern aspect, towards a lawn, tastefully laid out with flower gardens and plantations adjoining which are three closes of very rich meadow land, the whole containing about thirty acres. Also, two convenient Dwelling Houses, with gardens, coachhouses, and stables, adjoining the above, and advantageously situated, to be held therewith. Also, a small detached Close of meadow land, containing about two acres: and another, with hanging wood, containing about three acres, adjoining the river Frome. The mansion and appurtenances have never been occupied by any one but the proprietor for the time being, and will be found to comprise every requisite for the residence of a family of distinction.

To be viewed by tickets only, for which, and for further particular application should be made to Messrs. J. P., W., and J. Y. Sturge, land surveyors, Broad-street; or to Mr. Brooke Smith, solicitor, Small-street, Bristol.

Just published, 3 vols. royal 8vo. containing nearly 3,000 pages, and above 300 pages of Index, £5 5s. boards,

THE LAW of NISI PRIUS, Evidence in Civil Actions, and Arbitrations and Awards: with an Appendix of the New Rules, the Statutes of Set-off, Interpleader, and Limitation, and the Decisions thereon. By A. J. STEPHENS, Barrister-at-Law.

"The Law of Nisi Prius has received from Mr. Stephens the most elaborate treatment to which it has yet been subjected. Not only has he collected a greater number of cases bearing upon it, but he has cited those cases at more length; and when he has occasion to set forth statute-law, he copies the very words of the legislature. Furthermore, in addition to the usual subjects treated of in works on Nisi Prius, he has introduced the subjects of evidence in civil actions, and arbitration and awards. There is a copious Appendix of the New Rules, and the Statutes of Set-off, Interpleader, and Limitation, with notes of the cases that have arisen upon them. Some idea of the vast array of legal lore gathered and classified in this laborious publication may be formed from this; that it consists of three volumes, large 8vo. closely but clearly printed, with no waste of margin; each volume contains upwards of 1,000 such pages; and the INDEX fills no less than two hundred and eight pages; which alone will entitle the work to the attention of all who know the incalculable value of a copious and well-digested index to a law book. The names of the cases cited fill one hundred pages, having three columns in each; and the list of text authors cited occupies eight columns."

From an article on Mr. A. J. STEPHENS'S Law of Nisi Prius, in The Law Times of May 17, 1845.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK is in- structed to SELL by AUCTION, peremptorily, at the Auction Mart, on Wednesday, June 25, at Twelve, Three well-built semi-detached VILLAS, one with possession, the others let to highly respectable tenants, producing 126l. per annum; held direct from the freeholders, at moderate ground-rents.

May be viewed, and particulars obtained at the Mart; of Messrs. Fisher and De Jersey, solicitors, 162, Aldersgate-st., and at Mr. CHINNOCK'S AUCTION and ESTATE Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

BOROUGH of SOUTHWARK.—Free Public-house, two Dwelling-houses with Shops, one with Possession, and Two Tenements.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, June 25, at Twelve, in One Lot, the Free House known as the CROWN PUBLIC-HOUSE, being No. 50, Kent-street, let to Mr. Baxter at an annual rent of 75l., a Dwelling-house adjoining, with spacious business premises in the rear, let to Mr. Stokes, hardwareman, at the very inadequate annual rent of 25l.; also a newly-built house with spacious double-fronted shop, large yard, buildings in the rear, and back entrance, with possession, and two newly-built tenements in the rear; the whole forming a most compact leasehold estate of the value of 180l. per annum.

The property may be viewed any time prior to the sale; and particulars had at the Auction Mart; of Messrs Richardson, Smith, and Sadler, solicitors, 28, Golden-square; and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Auction and Agency Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

Small Freehold Villa, near Turnham-green, with Paddock, Chaise-house, and Stable; Land-tax redeemed, with possession.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart on Wednesday, June 25, at Twelve, a compact FREEHOLD ESTATE, situated at Little Sutton, immediately at the back of the Horticultural Gardens, being No. 3, Grove-terrace, Little Sutton, about five minutes' walk from the Old Pack Horse Inn, on the high road, Turnham-green, most delightfully situate, in the midst of rural scenery. It is a brick-built semi-detached villa, with small paddock adjoining; a newly-built chaise-house and two-stalled stable in the rear, a pleasure-garden in the front, kitchen garden behind presenting a most compact and delightful residence for a small family, or for investment.

May be viewed, and particulars obtained of James Dyer, esq. solicitor, 27, Ely-place, Holborn; at the Old Pack Horse, Turnham-green; at the Auction Mart; and at Mr FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Auction and Agency Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

NOTTING-HILL.—New Shops for occupation or investment; also Five Private Houses, all well Let for peremptory sale.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, June 25, at Twelve, FOUR capital and well-built HOUSES and SHOPS, with handsome mahogany fronts, and each having back entrances; one is let on lease to a baker, the others are admirably adapted for occupation or investment for small capitalists, being in Princes-road, close to St James's Church, Norland's; also Five Private Dwellings immediately opposite, being Nos. 30 to 34 inclusive, all let to respectable tenants; the whole being of the estimated rental of 100l per annum, held direct from the freeholder for 90 years at very low ground-rents. Mr. Chinnock particularly recommends this property to his friends, as it must be peremptorily sold. The houses are most substantially built, and the property is increasing in value daily.

May be viewed; and particulars had at the Auction Mart, and at Mr. FREDERICK CHINNOCK'S Offices, 28, Regent street, Waterloo-place.

KENT.—Freehold, above [illegible], Beershop, small Houses, Brick Field, &c. on the high road.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, June 17, at Twelve for One, in One Lot, a valuable PROPERTY as above, situate about one mile from Green-street-green, on the main road from Dartford to Meopham. It comprises a superior beershop, known as the Queen's Head, a small homestead attached, and about 24 acres of excellent land, chiefly arable, and part brick-field, let to Mr. C. Johnson, on an agreement for lease expiring in about another year; 8 acres of thriving orchard, with three tenements thereon, let at about 48l. per annum.—Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Messrs. Frankham and Dixon, solicitors, Basinghall-street; Messrs. Coombe and Sharland, solicitors, Town-hall, Gravesend; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, Surveyor and Land Agent, 34, Coleman-street, near the Bank of England.

HANTS.—110 Acres Freehold, improvable, in Five-Acre Lots.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at Twelve for One, a most improvable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, desirably situate in the parish of Crondale, in the county of Hants, near the Oat Sheaf Inn, alongside the South Western Railway, about three and a-half miles from the Winchfield Station. As villas with a few acres of ground to each are much wanted in the neighbourhood, the estate, which comprises about 110 acres, will be sold in lots of about five acres each.—Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr. Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street.

SOUTH DEVON.—Freehold Estate and beautiful Residence.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, opposite the Bank of England, on Tuesday, July 15 at Twelve for One, a beautiful FREEHOLD ESTATE, known as the "Pitt Estate," situate in the parish of Hennock, near Chudleigh, in the picturesque county of Devon. It comprises a noble Family Residence, with ornamental grounds, extending over about thirty acres; also a capital freehold Farm, with farm-house and all requisite out-buildings thereon; the whole comprising about 100 acres.

Fuller particulars in future advertisements, and in the meantime may be obtained of John Hull Terrell, esq. solicitor, Exeter; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

Ground Rents, Improved Rents, &c amounting to 1,000l a year, secured on 72 Houses on the Acton Estate, Kingsland-road, Leasehold, for 63 years, at trifling ground-rents.

MESSRS. NEWTON and APPLETON very respectfully announce that they are favoured with the instructions of the Trustees under the Will of the late Thomas Dunston, esq. deceased, peremptorily to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, June 25, at twelve, in 26 lots, the several GROUND-RENTS of 24l. 4s., 22l. 10s., 22l., 20l., 20l., 18l., 14l., 12l., 10l., 9l. 10s., 8l. 10s., 8l., and 6l. 10s. most amply secured on numerous substantial houses. Also, 15 capital Residences, Acton-place, let to responsible old tenants, at rents from 35l. to 42l. a year each, and subject only to a trifling ground-rent for 63 years. And 13 other Houses, each let at 18l. a year, held for same term, at a small ground-rent, offering most eligible investments for capital in large or small amounts.—To be viewed by leave of the tenants, and full descriptive particulars, with plans annexed, obtained of Mr Hodgson, solicitor, 12, Broad-street-buildings; and of NEWTON and APPLETON, estate agents, 7, Mansion-house-street, City.

Mansion, with Land and Building Ground, together 11 acres.—An important Freehold Estate, Wandsworth, Surrey, land-tax redeemed.

MESSRS. NEWTON and APPLETON are instructed by the Proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Monday, June 30, at Twelve, peremptorily, in 24 lots, the ORCHARD ESTATE, comprehending a modern-built mansion, in good order, equal to all the requirements for the immediate accommodation of a large highly respectable family, or eligible for a public institution, or easily divided into two good houses. It stands on an eminence, commanding extensive views of the Thames and all the beautiful surrounding country, with gardens, pleasure-grounds, and rich paddock, about seven acres; also, without interfering with the above, about four acres, divided into lots for building purposes, desirable for the erection of detached villas, which are much wanted to meet the demand in this locality, being highly recommended by the faculty for the salubrity of its air and supply of the celebrated Coomb-wood water. Full descriptive particulars, with plans, may be obtained of Mr. Newton, Rosebank, Hampton-court; and at Messrs. NEWTON and APPLETON'S offices, 7, Mansion-house-street, City.

NORFOLK.—ELIGIBLE INVESTMENT.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, By Mr. WILLIAM WRIGHT, at the King's Arms Hotel, East Dereham, on Friday, the 11th day of July, 1845, at four o'clock in the afternoon—A very valuable and compact ESTATE at Beeston, near Mileham and Great Fransham, in the county of Norfolk, comprising an excellent Farm-house with convenient offices and garden adjoining, suitable farm-yards, stables, and barns, 3 cottages, and 183 acres, 1 rood 19 poles of superior meadow, pasture, and arable land in a high state of cultivation, and now let on lease to Mr. Robert W. Godfrey, at an annual rent of 330l. The house and premises were most substantially built, and all the farm buildings put into a thorough state of repair by the present proprietor only six years since. This property is within 7 miles of the market towns of Dereham and Swaffham, 16 miles of Lynn, 24 miles of Norwich, and lies within a ring fence, and offers a most safe and eligible investment to capitalists.

To view the estate, apply to Mr. Godfrey, the tenant; and for further particulars (with plans) to Messrs Sewell and Newmarch, solicitors, Cirencester; Mr. J. O. Beetham, Lynn; or to Messrs. Allen and Holmes, 21, Bedford-row, London.

BUCKS.—Valuable Freehold Estate, 20 miles from town, comprising a commodious Family Residence, placed in a small park, with a secondary Residence, and sundry Copyhold Cottages, as a whole combining desirable residence with investment.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUC- TION, at the Auction Mart, on Thursday, July 17, at Twelve, unless previously sold by private treaty, the desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE called the GRANGE, situate at Chalfont St. Peter's, about 20 miles from town, in a proverbially salubrious and delightful district, in the midst of the best society and good sporting. The Grange is a handsome and commodious residence, seated on the acclivity of a hill, in a pleasing small park, altogether about 30 acres, approached by neat lodges. It contains every comfort and accommodation for a family of the first respectability: the reception-rooms are of handsome proportions, dining, drawing, and billiard rooms, and library, &c. most excellent and well-arranged bed-chambers, and ample domestic accommodation. The pleasure-grounds are ornamented by some noble timber, with excellent walled gardens, stabling, &c. Likewise will be sold, Gold Hill Cottage, a residence on a moderate scale, with good garden, and seven acres, with various cottages, &c. To be viewed, and particulars had of Messrs. Dendy and Morphett, Bream's-buildings, Chancery-lane; Royal Hotel, Slough; the various inns at Uxbridge, Aylesbury, &c; and of Messrs. HEDGER, Land Agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

Very beautiful Gothic Residence and twenty-five acres of rich and valuable Freehold Land, within four hours of London, three miles of Clifton and Bristol, in a most salubrious and delightful district

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Thursday, July 17, at Twelve, BURFIELD PRIORY, an abode of very superior attractions, constructed upon the designs of the late Mr. Rickman, of the best materials, in the most substantial manner. Burfield Priory is an elegant edifice, each front being rich in the varied beauties of the castellated or monastic Gothic, so harmoniously blended as exteriorly to produce the choicest design, with interiorly unusual style of elegance and comfort, and is a perfect abode for a family of the first respectability. It is approached from the high road by a lodge of much beauty, and placed on an elevated site, within highly pleasing and varied park grounds, commanding extensive and interesting views of this rich and favoured district; is entered by a Gothic stone hall 32 ft. by 18, 28 ft. high, lighted by a costly marigold window of rich coloured glass, excellently adapted for a music-hall, having galleries around, with a fine-toned organ concealed by rich tracery of a Gothic window, drawing-room 25 ft. by 16, dining-room 25 ft. by 16, library 28 ft. by 17, breakfast-room, &c. five best bed-chambers, dressing and bath rooms, four other bed-rooms. The offices are excellent, with coach-houses for three carriages, stabling for four horses, harness-room, lofts, and men's rooms; excellent walled garden, kitchen garden, and within the priory walls about 12 acres, four of which are beautifully disposed in pleasure-grounds, with two other paddocks, also 12 acres. The residence, now in the occupation of the Ladies Boyle, may be viewed by order, which with particulars may be obtained of Messrs. Hayman, Fowler, and Sons, Clifton; and of Messrs. HEDGER, Land Agents, 10, New Bond-street, London, opposite the Clarendon, at whose offices a cosmoramic drawing may be seen.

BUCKS.—Freehold Residence, in a beautiful part of the country, about 30 miles from Town, and for a man of business contemplating retirement, or for any moderate family, one of the most perfect and cheerful retreats imaginable.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUC- TION, at the Auction Mart, on Thursday, July [illegible], at 12, a desirable RESIDENCE called Pennell's Lodge, situate in a beautiful valley at Loudwater, about two miles from Wycombe, with coaches constantly passing to and from London. The house is placed on the slope of a hill, and commands a very pleasing view, is backed by the graceful woods of Lord Carrington's seat. Through the valley runs a trout river, and all field sports may be enjoyed in perfection. It contains dining and drawing rooms, and study and bath-room, six bed chambers, dressing-room, capital kitchen, coach-house, stabling, poultry-house, &c. A well-stocked garden and small pleasure-ground, ornamented with handsome shrubs, in the whole about one acre, combining in that small space every thing that is comfortable, and in a manner elegant. Particulars may be had of Mr. Simmons, Wycombe; at the Auction Mart, the inns in the neighbourhood, and of Messrs HEDGER, Land-agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

No. 20, Pudding-lane, Eastcheap, City.

MESSRS. DAVIS and VIGERS will SELL by AUCTION, on the Premises as above, by order of the Executrix, on Thursday, June 19, at Twelve, without reserve, the genuine STOCK IN TRADE of the late Mr. Samuel Graffey, a wine merchant; comprising 247 dozen of Port, 40 dozen of Sherry and Marsala, one butt and three quarter-casks of Sherry, counting-house fittings, tools, crates, hampers, wine-carriage, &c. Catalogues and Samples may be had.—Auction offices, 3, Frederick's-place, Old Jewry.

WORCESTERSHIRE.—To be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT, a desirable and compact FREEHOLD ESTATE, called Lockeridge, situate near the town of Upton-on-Severn, and within three miles of the Malvern Hills, comprising a farm-house, with requisite farm buildings, and about one hundred and twelve acres, of rich meadow, pasture, arable, and orchard land, nearly in a ring fence, and now occupied, at the low rent of 171l per annum, by Mr. John Hill, whose tenancy will expire on the 2nd of February next. The tenant will depute a person to shew the estate.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. HAMMOND, Solicitor, Leominster, Herefordshire. All letters to be postage paid.

The object of this publication is to supply the Clerical and Legal professions with a complete collection of the Statutes relating to Ecclesiastical and Eleemosynary Institutions in a form convenient for reference, and rendered the more useful for that purpose by notes of the decisions upon the various enactments.

London: John W. Parker, West Strand.

FOR STOPPING DECAYED TEETH. Price 4s. 6d. Patronized by her Majesty, his Royal Highness Prince Albert, and her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent.—Mr. THOMAS'S SUCCEDANEUM, for stopping decayed teeth, however large the cavity. It is placed in the tooth in a soft state, without any pressure or pain, and will remain firm in the tooth for many years, rendering extraction unnecessary, arresting the further progress of decay. All persons can use Mr. Thomas's Succedaneum themselves with ease, as full directions are inclosed. Prepared by Mr. THOMAS, Surgeon Dentist, price 4s. 6d. Sold by Savory and Moore, 220, Regent-street, and 143, Bond-street; Sanger, 150, Oxford-street; Butler, 4, Cheapside; Prout, 229, Strand; Johnston, 68, Cornhill; and all Medicine venders.

Mr. Thomas continues to supply the loss of Teeth on his new system of self-adhesion, without springs or wires. This method does not require the extraction of any teeth or roots, or any painful operation whatever. At home from 11 till 4. 64, Berners-street, Oxford-street.

TO SOLICITORS.—CAPITAL OFFICES to be LET on the First-floor at 7, Old Jewry; they are light and lofty, and are well adapted for a Solicitor. Rent very moderate.

Apply to Mr. ROBERTS, Auctioneer and Valuer, 7, Old Jewry, Cheapside.

WANTED to PURCHASE an ESTATE, consisting of a Gentleman's Residence, situate in a well-timbered park of from two to five hundred acres, and with or without a thousand or fifteen hundred acres immediately adjoining.

Messrs. MUSGROVE and GADSDEN are instructed to negotiate for an eligible property of the above description within a day's journey of London, and a sporting country will be preferred. Communications, with detailed information (which will be treated as of a confidential nature), to be addressed to Messrs. MUSGROVE and GADSDEN, 18, Old Broad-st. London.

Ground Rents, Improved Rents, &c. amounting to 1,000l. a year, secured on 72 Houses on the Acton Estate, Kingsland-road, Leasehold, for 63 years, at trifling ground-rents.

MESSRS. NEWTON and APPLETON very respectfully announce that they are fav... red with the instructions of the Trustees under the Will of the late Thomas Dunston, esq. deceased, peremptorily to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Wednesday, June 25, at twelve, in 26 lots, the several GROUND-RENTS of 24l. 4s., 22l. 10s., 22l., 20l., 20l., 18l., 14l., 12l., 10l., 9l. 10s., 8l. 10s., 8l., and 6l. 10s. most amply secured on numerous substantial houses. Also, 15 capital Residences, Acton-place, let to responsible old tenants, at rents from 35l. to 42l. a year each, and subject only to a trifling ground-rent for 63 years. And 13 other Houses, each let at 18l. a year, held for same term, at a small ground-rent, offering most eligible investments for capital in large or small amounts. To be viewed by leave of the tenants, and full descriptive particulars, with plans annexed, obtained of Mr. Hodgson, solicitor, 32, Broad-street-buildings; and of NEWTON and APPLETON, estate agents, 7, Mansion-house-street, City.

Mansion, with Land and Building Ground, together 11 acres.—An important Freehold Estate, Wandsworth, Surrey, land-tax redeemed.

MESSRS. NEWTON and APPLETON are instructed by the Proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Monday, June 30, at Twelve, peremptorily, in 21 lots, the ORCHARD ESTATE, comprehending a modern-built mansion, in good order, equal to all the requirements for the immediate accommodation of a large highly respectable family, or eligible for a public institution, or easily divided into two good houses. It stands on an eminence, commanding extensive views of the Thames and all the beautiful surrounding country, with gardens, pleasure-grounds, and rich paddock, about seven acres; also, without interfering with the above, about four acres, divided into lots for building purposes, desirable for the erection of detached villas, which are much wanted to meet the demand in this locality, being highly recommended by the faculty for the salubrity of its air and supply of the celebrated Coombe wood water. Full descriptive particulars, with plans, may be obtained of Mr. Newton, Rosebank, Hampton-court; and at Messrs. NEWTON and APPLETON'S offices, 7, Mansion-house-street, City.

WORCESTERSHIRE.—To be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT, a desirable and compact FREEHOLD ESTATE, called Lockeridge, situate near the town of Upton-on-Severn, and within three miles of the Malvern Hills, comprising a farm-house, with requisite farm buildings, and about one hundred and twelve acres, of rich meadow, pasture, arable, and orchard land, nearly in a ring fence, and now occupied, at the low rent of 178l. per annum, by Mr. John Hill, whose tenancy will expire on the 2nd of February next. The tenant will depute a person to shew the estate.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. HAMMOND, Solicitor, Leominster, Herefordshire. All letters to be postage paid.

Deal and Great Mongeham, Kent.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. E. SPAIN, at the "Walmer Castle" Inn, in Deal, on Thursday, the 10th day of July, 1845, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon (by order of the devisees in trust under the will of Mr. Israel Wellard, late of Upper Deal, yeoman, deceased), the following valuable and very desirable FREEHOLD and other PROPERTY, in seven lots.

Lot 1.—All that commodious and very convenient Freehold Messuage or Dwelling-house, with the yards, fore-court, extensive out-buildings and domestic offices, and capacious walled-in garden, well laid out and stocked with thriving wall and other trees, containing altogether by admeasurement 2 roods and 34 perches and a half of land, little more or less, situate and being in the best part of the pleasant village of Upper Deal, adjoining the turnpike-road leading from Deal to Sandwich, and for many years the residence of the deceased proprietor, and now of his widow, Mrs. Wellard.

The dwelling-house is of modern construction, and placed at a convenient distance from the road, with a forecourt or garden in front; the premises are replete with every comfort, and from their extent and situation offer advantages rarely to be met with—presenting an excellent opportunity to a purchaser, either for a good genteel family residence or for investment.

Lot 2.—All that compact and also modern-built Messuage or Dwelling-house, with the out-houses, yard, garden, and appurtenances thereunto belonging (including a small additional piece of ground in the rear, extending back to an out-house belonging to Lot 1), situate and being in Upper Deal aforesaid, adjoining Lot 1 and the said turnpike-road, containing altogether 12 perches and a half of land, and (with the exception of the said small additional piece of ground), now in the occupation of George Hughes, Esq.; together also with a triangular piece of Ground in front, containing about 5 perches and a half of land, and inclosed with an iron railing.

This lot is very pleasantly situated, and is replete with all necessary conveniences, and well adapted for the residence of a small family.

Lot 3.—All that piece or parcel of Freehold Meadow Land, of first-rate quality, containing by admeasurement 1a. 1r. 15p. little more or less, also lying and being at Upper Deal aforesaid, adjoining the before-mentioned turnpike-road, and late also in the occupation of the deceased proprietor.

This lot, in addition to its great advantages as first-rate meadow land, is admirably adapted for building purposes, having an extensive frontage next the turnpike-road.

Lot 4.—All that Freehold Messuage or Tenement, with the outhouses, yard, ground, and appurtenances thereunto belonging, situate and being No. 5, in Nelson-street, in the town of Deal, and now in the occupation of John O'Brien.

Lot 5.—All that the Interest of the deceased Mr. Wellard in a piece or parcel of Freehold Arable Land, containing by admeasurement 2a. 3r. 7p. little more or less, lying and being in the parish of Great Mongeham, held for a term of 60 years, commencing the 10th October, 1808, in case a female now of the age of 77 years shall so long live.

Lot 6.—A similar Interest on a piece or parcel of Arable Land, containing by admeasurement 3r. 1p. little more or less, also lying and being in the parish of Great Mongeham.

Lot 7.—A like Interest on another piece or parcel of Arable Land, ... ing by admeasurement 2r. 37p. little more less, also lying and being in the parish of Great Mongeham. The last three lots were all late in the occupation of Mr. Wellard.

To view Lots 1 and 2, apply to Mrs. Wellard, at her residence, Upper Deal, and for further particulars apply to Messrs. MERCER and EDWARDS, solicitors, Deal, at whose offices a map of Lots 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 may be seen. Particulars can also be obtained by applying to Mr. Lott, solicitor, Bow-lane, Cheapside, London.

THREE VOTES for the COUNTY of SOUTHAMPTON.—Important to Capitalists, Merchants, Manufacturers, and others.—Fareham, Hampshire.—EDWARD KNIGHT has been instructed by the proprietors to DISPOSE OF, by PUBLIC COMPETITION, on Thursday, the 26th day of June next, at 6 o'clock in the evening, at the Red Lion Inn in Fareham, all those large and well-known BUILDING PREMISES, occupied for the last century and upwards as a tobacco-pipe manufactory, commanding an immense trade for some years, and still continuing to outvie any manufactory of this business in the county; together with other buildings and meadow land: the whole well adapted either for investment, for building, or other lucrative speculations, being freehold property and land-tax redeemed. An arm of Portsmouth harbour runs within a short distance of the premises, capable of conveying vessels of 400 tons burden, and the railway station is within five minutes' walk thereof. The large market is held every fortnight. For particulars and plans apply to John W. Hewett, esq. Solicitor, Fareham; Messrs. Walker and Gridley, 5, Southampton-street, Bloomsbury-square, London; and at the offices of the auctioneer, Fareham.

NORFOLK.—ELIGIBLE INVESTMENT.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, By Mr. WILLIAM WRIGHT, at the King's Arms Hotel, East Dereham, on Friday, the 11th day of July, 1845, at four o'clock in the afternoon—A very valuable and compact ESTATE at Beeston, near Milcham and Great Fransham, in the county of Norfolk, comprising an excellent Farm-house with convenient offices and garden adjoining, suitable farm-yards, stables, and barns, 3 cottages, and 183 acres, 3 roods 19 poles of superior meadow, pasture, and arable land in a high state of cultivation, and now let on lease to Mr. Robert W. Godfrey, at an annual rent of 330l. The house and premises were most substantially built, and all the farm buildings put into a thorough state of repair by the present proprietor only six years since. This property is within 7 miles of the market towns of Dereham and Swaffham, 18 miles of Lynn, 24 miles of Norwich, and lies within a ring fence, and offers a most safe and eligible investment to capitalists.

To view the estate, apply to Mr. Godfrey, the tenant; and for further particulars (with plans) to Messrs. Sewell and Newmarch, solicitors, Cirencester; Mr. J. O. Swetham, Lynn; or to Messrs. Allen and Holmes, 31, Bedford-row, London.

PRELIMINARY ADVERTISEMENT.—Shortly to be SOLD by Public AUCTION, pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery made in a cause "Broadbent v. Broom," with the approbation of John Edmund Dowdeswell, esq. one of the Masters of the said Court, in lots, the following valuable FREEHOLD ESTATES, situate at Whitle, in the parish of Glossop, in the county of Derby; viz. the Whitle Estate, comprising capital mansion-house, with suitable out-buildings, and about 49 statute acres of excellent land, in the occupation of Mr. James Broom; and the Tan-pits Estate, comprising two several messuages, with outbuildings, and about 19 statute acres of excellent land, in the occupation of Jesse Wild and another; and also Two Cottages near thereto, late in the occupation of Enoch Bridge and another.

Further particulars and conditions of sale will shortly be issued, and, when issued, may be had (gratis) in London, at the Master's office, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane; of Messrs. Mayhew and Son, 26, Carey-street, Lincoln's-inn; Mr. John Spinks, jun. Great James-street, Bedford-row; Messrs. Milne, Parry, Milne, and Morris, Temple; Mr. Redfern, solicitor, Oldham; Mr. Walmsley, solicitor, Marple, near Stockport; and at the offices of Mr. Halsall, solicitor, Middleton, near Manchester; and of Mr. John Taylor, land surveyor, of New Mills, in the county of Derby, where a plan of the estates may be seen, and a proper person directed to show the property.

TO CAPITALISTS.—Carmarthenshire and Glamorganshire, South Wales.—The Agent of an extensive Estate calls the attention of Iron-masters, Colliers, Manufacturers, Farmers, and Capitalists in general, to this announcement. He is prepared to enter into engagements with respectable parties for the leasing, on long terms, of various descriptions of property, now the objects of public attention: Anthracite, Bituminous, and Steel Coal, Culm, Iron-stone, Limestone, Marble, Flag, and other QUARRIES, Fire Clay, and Brick Earth, Sites for Building at and near a flourishing and fast rising Commercial Town, Sea-port, and Floating Dock, for Manufactories, Ship-building Yards, Wharfs, Store and Dwelling-houses; and in the Coal and Iron District, sites for Works joining a Railroad and Canal, leading by their main trunks and branches to three sea-ports—water power is almost general. Situations for rural and marine residences in the most beautiful parts of the country, commanding views of Swansea and Carmarthen Bays, and the Black Mountain, with good roads, cheap markets, and daily communication with Bristol, Gloucester, and the Metropolis. The sportsman will find his pursuits rewarded with woodcock, snipe, and other game in winter; and in summer, trout, salmon, and the much-esteemed sewin, a fish peculiar to the Principality.

The estate, containing twelve thousand acres, is situated in twenty-four parishes, offering every variety of soil and scenery to the admirer of the picturesque, and numerous objects of interest to the geologist.

As an inducement to capitalists to embark in such agricultural improvements as draining, planting, erection of proper homesteads, &c. which now so deservedly occupy public attention, leases of ninety-nine years (a term usually confined to building-leases) will be granted for these purposes. Cheap food, cheap labour, cheap fuel, and cheap raw material of every description, will give the manufacturer an advantage over every other part of Great Britain; while the large and still increasing trade in coal affords an intercourse with all parts of the world, for the transmission of raw materials from other localities, at cheap back freights, and for forwarding to their destination the manufactured articles. This more particularly applies to those undertakings where the consumption of coal forms a principal ingredient.

The South Wales Railway will pass through the town and the three sea-ports, and through and near a large proportion of the estate near the sea-coast; while the contemplated Welsh Midland Railway will bring the collieries, iron-stone, limestone, and other quarries within an easy distance of the agricultural counties of Hereford and Worcester, and the great chain of railway communication connecting Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, and all the important manufacturing districts of England.

From the late Acts of Parliament affecting the law of debtor and creditor, and abolishing all imprisonment for debts under 20*l.* so great facilities are afforded to debtors to evade proceedings against them in courts of law, that it has become necessary for tradesmen to unite together to watch the proceedings of bankrupts, and of parties petitioning the Courts of Bankruptcy and Insolvency, and rigorously to oppose the certificates or petitions of those who have fraudulently incurred their debts or secreted their property.

From the large expense attending every individual opposition (and which expense is greatly increased by the wide extent of the Bristol Bankruptcy District), but few creditors can be expected to come forward singly and fight the battle of the whole body; consequently the interests of all are sacrificed: whereas if a number of creditors unite to share the expense of opposition, they may reasonably hope to secure some valuable advantages for the whole body, amply compensating them for the small expense of contribution.

It is a matter of certainty that, since the passing of the Insolvent Act of 1842, such has been the reluctance of single creditors to bear individually the whole expense of opposing their debtors' petitions, that a great number of fraudulent debtors (many with ample means of payment) have succeeded in obtaining from the Bankruptcy Courts orders of protection, in cases where, if any opposition had been offered, their petitions would have been summarily dismissed, or their property secured for the benefit of their creditors.

By the Act of 1844, commonly called Lord Brougham's Act, parties are enabled to petition for fiats in bankruptcy against themselves; and so extensively have insolvent parties already availed themselves of this power, that out of the fifty-six bankrupts advertised in the six Gazettes previous to and inclusive of the 10th of June, 1845, twenty-four of the fiats were issued on the bankrupts' own petitions, and not at the desire of their creditors.

From feeling the necessity of co-operation in tradesmen to protect their interests under the present state of the law, this Society has been formed for the purpose of examining into the affairs of persons (debtors to members of the Society) passing through the Bankruptcy or Insolvent Courts; of opposing such as, upon inquiry, it may be deemed necessary or proper to oppose; and of preventing, as far as may be, any fraudulent disposition of property, or fraudulent preference.

It is considered advisable that the duties of this Society shall not extend beyond the Bristol district, which comprehends the counties of Gloucester and Monmouth, the northern division of the county of Wilts, the eastern division of the county of Somerset, the county of the city of Bristol, and the counties of Brecon, Cardigan, Carmarthen, Glamorgan, Pembroke, and Radnor, embracing, as is apparent, a large mercantile and trading community; and it is intended that agents shall be appointed for the purposes of the Society in every town throughout this extensive district. But it is not intended to exclude from the Society any parties because they reside out of the district, the object of the Society being to include among its members all those parties, wherever resident, who may, from their dealings with tradesmen residing within the district, find it advantageous to join the Society.

The salutary dread of so powerful a combination must tend materially to prevent fraud; and the earnest determination of the Society to prosecute, to the utmost extent of its ample means, all persons guilty of any manner of fraudulent dealing with any member of the Society, must insure a more safe and wholesome system of trade between the members of this Society and the public than at present exists.

It is proposed that the annual subscription shall be two guineas; and regarding the estimated number of subscribers, and the number of bankrupts and insolvents passing through the courts, it is confidently anticipated that this small subscription will be amply sufficient to meet the expenses of the Society.

Persons who approve of the important objects of this Society, and are desirous of becoming subscribers, are requested to forward their names, with their subscriptions, to the solicitors or accountants of the Society, from any of whom every information can be obtained.

BOYS could WRITE as well as MEN, if they use WILLIS'S fine PEN and SPRING HOLDER; sold in cases, containing 100 pens and 12 spring holders, 2s. 6d.; or 100 pens, 1s. 6d. These pens last longer than any other, if used with the spring holder, being light as a quill. The name and address on pen and holder, WILLIS, 8, Newgate-street, London.

Upper Holloway, Seven Sisters'-road.—Five Acres of Freehold Building Ground.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at 12 for 1 (unless previously disposed of by private contract), about Five Acres of FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, land tax [illegible]d, situate in the preferable part of Upper Holloway, about three miles from the City, on the high road known as the Seven Sisters'-road, which leads direct from the West-end to Tottenham. The estate is laid out as a square, called Holloway-square, and wide roads are already made up, so that it is at once eligible for the erection of houses. Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr. Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

First Sale of a Portion of about 80 Acres of Freehold Building Ground, Peckham, in the centre of a complete neighbourhood; and Freehold Ground Rents.

MR. SINGLE has the pleasure to announce that he is authorised to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, July 22, at Twelve, in lots, or to let upon building leases, or to dispose of by private contract, Five or Six Acres of invaluable FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, land-tax redeemed, presenting considerable frontages on the Commercial-road, James's-street, &c. Peckham, near the Rosemary Branch Tavern. The estate possesses fine rich brick earth, and is surrounded by a large and highly respectable neighbourhood. The healthfulness, pleasantness, and convenience for the City, for which it is peculiar, will cause it to be built over as rapidly as have been the various estates around it. Also Freehold Ground Rents, amply secured. Mr. Single has just surveyed it, designed roads, &c. throughout the whole property, and strongly recommends it for those desirous of making ground-rents or building for investment. In twelve months it will realize probably double its present value. Particulars of Messrs. Gregson and Kewell, solicitors, 8, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; at the Rosemary Branch Tavern, Peckham; and of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, near the Bank.

HANTS.—110 Acres Freehold, improvable, in Five-Acre Lots.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at Twelve for One, a most improvable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, desirably situate in the parish of Crondale, in the county of Hants, near the Oat Sheaf Inn, alongside the South Western Railway, about three and a-half miles from the Winchfield Station. As villas with a few acres of ground to each are much wanted in the neighbourhood, the estate, which comprises about 110 acres, will be sold in lots of about five acres each.—Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr. Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street.

South of Devon.—Pitt Estate, Mansion, and Grounds (33 acres), delightful Farm Residence and capital Farm (137 acres): one of the most picturesque spots in England.

MR. SINGLE has now surveyed PITT ESTATE, and feels much pleasure in giving a more detailed description than heretofore. The SALE will take place at the Auction Mart, London, on Tuesday, the 15th day of July, at 12 for 1 o'clock, and particulars, with plans and a sketch of the residence, are ready for applicants. It is situate in the Parish of Hennock, about one mile from Chudleigh (a post town), in the county of Devon, and ten from Exeter. After a drive from Exeter, almost unparalleled for picturesque beauty, crossing the river Teign, which winds in meandering beauty contiguous to the land, affording famous trout and salmon fishing, you approach the mansion through a park of rising ground adorned with ornamental timber, and belted with luxuriant plantations. The elevation of the mansion-house is most attractive and handsome, commanding views of indescribable beauty in endless variety, cheered and bounded by the hanging woods on Lord Clifford's estate. The seats of the Duke of Somerset, Lord Clifford, Lord Viscount Exmouth, Sir David Dunn, Alexander Adair, esq. Arthur Chichester, esq. late M. P. for Honiton, and other distinguished noblemen and gentlemen, are close at hand, so that, although secluded from almost every thing but highly picturesque beauty, it is amidst first-rate society. The residence is newly-built on a moderate scale, and planned with good judgment, and does great credit to the eminent architects, Messrs. Scott and Moffat, of London. The land comprises about 33 acres, and possession can at once be obtained. At an agreeable distance stands a farm residence, with about 137 acres of most thriving orchards, capital arable and pasture land, admirably suited for a gentleman farmer, to one of which excellent members of society it is let on lease for a term of fourteen years from Lady-day 1843, determinable the first seven or ten years. The luxuriance of growth of both the crops and trees, and the prettily wooded park-like appearance of the whole estate, beautified as it is with hill and dale, give it a strong claim to all who are lovers of the picturesque beauty and salubrious air for which the south of Devon is proverbial. The whole lies in a ring fence, is freehold, and will be offered first in one lot, and if not sold, in five lots. It is only about one mile from Chudleigh, five and a half hours' distant from London; and the station at Newton Abbott, one of the best market-towns in the county, only about four miles distant from the property, will soon be completed. The estate may be viewed on application to Mr. Flood, of Chudleigh, and Mr. Tosswill, the tenant of the farm; and printed particulars, with a map annexed, may be obtained of Messrs. Scott and Moffat, architects, Spring-gardens, London; Mr. Robert H. Terrell, solicitor, 14, Gray's-inn-square, London; of Messrs. Watts and Whidborne, solicitors, Teignmouth, Devon; of Mr. John H. Terrell, solicitor, St. Martin's-lane, Exeter; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, London, near the Bank of England.

WINSTANLEY are directed by the Executors to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, July 10, in one lot, a desirable ESTATE for investment, consisting of the ground lease of two convenient dwelling-houses, situate Nos. 6 and 7, Red Lion-square, the former in hand, and the latter let on lease at 80*l.* per annum; two houses with shops, Nos. 57 and 58, Eagle-street, and workshops behind, in the occupation of respectable yearly tenants, at 117*l.* per annum. The houses can be viewed by permission of the tenants.—Printed particulars may be obtained at 6, Red Lion-square; of Mr. Sutcliffe, solicitor, New Bridge-street, Blackfriars; at the Mart; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

In Staffordshire, on the Borders of Derbyshire.—The remaining Portion of the Swinscoe Estate, consisting of about 400 acres, with convenient Farm-houses and Agricultural Buildings.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY have received directions from the surviving Trustee under the Will of Brian Hodgson, esq. deceased, to SELL by AUCTION, at the Green Man, Ashbourn, in the county of Derby, on Thursday, the 31st of July, in lots, the remaining PORTION of the SWINSCOE ESTATE, consisting of about 400 acres of excellent pasture and arable land, let to respectable tenants, at moderate rents. The estate is intersected by the high road between Derby and Manchester, and will be divided into small farms, with suitable farm-houses and agricultural buildings, situate in the township of Swinscoe and parish of Blore, in the county of Suffolk, about four miles from Ashbourn, ten from Leek, sixteen from Derby, and contiguous to the demesnes of the Earl of Shrewsbury, and H. F. O'keover, esq. and in a country abounding with game. To be viewed by applying to the respective tenants. Printed particulars may be obtained at the Green Man, Ashbourn; the George, Leek; Red Lion, Calton Moor; Swan, Stafford; Angel, Macclesfield; King's Head and Midland Counties Hotel, Derby; Lion and Flying Horse, Nottingham; Bulkeley Arms, Stockport; the Hen and Chickens, and at the offices of the Midland Counties Herald, at Birmingham; King's Head, Coventry; Three Crowns and Bell, at Leicester; Bridgewater Arms, Manchester; Royal Hotel, Chester; of Thomas Fellows, esq. solicitor, at Rickmansworth, Herts; of Messrs. Littledale and Bardswell, solicitors, Messrs. Thomas Winstanley and Sons, at Liverpool; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row, London.

Deal and Great Mongeham, Kent.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. E. SPAIN, at the "Walmer Castle" Inn, in Deal, on Thursday, the 10th day of July, 1845, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon (by order of the devisees in trust under the will of Mr. Israel Wellard, late of Upper Deal, yeoman, deceased), the following valuable and very desirable FREEHOLD and other PROPERTY, in seven lots.

Lot 1.—All that commodious and very convenient Freehold Messuage or Dwelling-house, with the yards, forecourt, extensive out-buildings and domestic offices, and capacious walled-in garden, well laid out and stocked with thriving wall and other trees, containing altogether by admeasurement 2 roods and 34 perches and a half of land, little more or less, situate and being in the best part of the pleasant village of Upper Deal, adjoining the turnpike-road leading from Deal to Sandwich, and for many years the residence of the deceased proprietor, and now of his widow, Mrs. Wellard.

The dwelling-house is of modern construction, and placed at a convenient distance from the road, with a forecourt or garden in front; the premises are replete with every comfort, and from their extent and situation offer advantages rarely to be met with—presenting an excellent opportunity to a purchaser, either for a good genteel family residence or for investment.

Lot 2.—All that compact and also modern-built Messuage or Dwelling-house, with the out-houses, yard, garden, and appurtenances thereunto belonging (including a small additional piece of ground in the rear, extending back to an out-house belonging to Lot 1), situate and being in Upper Deal aforesaid, adjoining Lot 1 and the said turnpike-road, containing altogether 12 perches and a half of land, and (with the exception of the said small additional piece of ground), now in the occupation of George Hughes, Esq.; together also with a triangular piece of Ground in front, containing about 5 perches and a half of land, and inclosed with an iron railing.

This lot is very pleasantly situated, and is replete with all necessary conveniences, and well adapted for the residence of a small family.

Lot 3.—All that piece or parcel of Freehold Meadow Land, of first-rate quality, containing by admeasurement 1a. 1r. 15p. little more or less, also lying and being at Upper Deal aforesaid, adjoining the before-mentioned turnpike-road, and late also in the occupation of the deceased proprietor.

This lot, in addition to its great advantages as first-rate meadow land, is admirably adapted for building purposes, having an extensive frontage next the turnpike-road.

Lot 4.—All that Freehold Messuage or Tenement, with the outhouses, yard, ground, and appurtenances thereunto belonging, situate and being No. 5, in Nelson-street, in the town of Deal, and now in the occupation of John O'Brien.

Lot 5.—All that the Interest of the deceased Mr. Wellard in a piece or parcel of Freehold Arable Land, containing by admeasurement 2a. 3r. 7p. little more or less, lying and being in the parish of Great Mongeham, held for a term of 60 years, commencing the 10th October, 1808, in case a female now of the age of 77 years shall so long live.

Lot 6.—A similar Interest on a piece or parcel of Arable Land, containing by admeasurement 3r. 1p. little more or less, also lying and being in the parish of Great Mongeham.

Lot 7.—A like Interest on another piece or parcel of Arable Land, containing by admeasurement 2r. 37p. little more or less, also lying and being in the parish of Great Mongeham. The last three lots were all late in the occupation of Mr. Wellard.

To view Lots 1 and 2, apply to Mrs. Wellard, at her residence, Upper Deal, and for further particulars apply to Messrs. MERCER and EDWARDS, solicitors, Deal, at whose offices a map of Lots 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7 may be seen. Particulars can also be obtained by applying to Mr. Lott, solicitor, Bow-lane, Cheapside, London.

Valuable Leasehold Property, held of the Duke of Dorset, for an unexpired term of 55 years, at a low ground-rent, producing a rental of 277*l.* per annum.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY are directed by the Executors to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Thursday, July 10, in one lot, a desirable ESTATE for investment, consisting of the ground lease of two convenient dwelling-houses, situate Nos. 6 and 7, Red Lion-square, the former in hand, and the latter let on lease at 80*l.* per annum; two houses with shops, Nos. 57 and 58, Eagle-street, and workshops behind, in the occupation of respectable yearly tenants, at 117*l.* per annum. The houses can be viewed by permission of the tenants.—Printed particulars may be obtained at 6, Red Lion-square; of Mr. Sutcliffe, solicitor, New Bridge-street, Blackfriars; at the Mart; and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

VALUABLE FREEHOLD ESTATE, situate in Warwickshire, tithe-free and land-tax redeemed, to be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. GEORGE AGG, on WEDNESDAY, the 30th of July, 1845, at Four o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of Mrs. Mary Hughes, known by the name or sign of the New Inn, and lying midway between Evesham and Alcester, by order of the trustees and executors of the will of the late Mr. John Masefield, and subject to conditions then to be produced, all that very valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, situate in the parish of Salford Priors, in the county of Warwick (adjoining the turnpike-road leading from Evesham to Alcester, and situate at the distance of five miles or thereabouts from each of those places), called or known by the name of the Pitchell Estate, with two good and substantial messuages, and several cottages standing thereon; the whole containing 201 acres and upwards, which will be offered in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.

Lot 1 will comprise the principal part of this very desirable Estate, consisting of luxuriant arable, meadow, and pasture land, and orcharding, with 7 acres or thereabouts of wood-land; and containing altogether upwards of 172 acres: together with the substantial and commodious residence and out-offices conveniently situated thereon.

Lot 2 will consist of a modern and very genteel residence with convenient offices and outbuildings thereto belonging, in the occupation of Mr. Benjamin Bomford; and also a small cottage situate near to the same, in the occupation of John Simmonds; together with about 20 acres of valuable arable and pasture land, immediately connected with the residence, and adjoining lot 1.

Lot 3 will comprise four good and substantial newly-erected cottages, with gardens thereunto belonging; the whole consisting of 1¼ acres of land, and upwards, and adjoining the next lot.

Lot 4. A piece of very fertile arable land adjoining the last lot and lot 2, and containing about 7¼ acres.

It is supposed that the Salt Spring, referred to in "Dugdale's Antiquities of Warwickshire," under the head "Salford Priors," was and is upon this Estate; and that Limestone and Paving-stone abundantly exist. In fine, to those ambitious of a delightful and healthy spot for residence and occupation, or to the capitalist desirous of a profitable investment, such an opportunity as the present is rarely to be met with.

The Estate is Tithe-free, and the Land-tax redeemed. The only outgoings are trifling annual payments amounting together to 18*s.* 6*d.* and payable to the Vicar of Salford Priors aforesaid, for the time being, which are intended to be wholly chargeable on Lot 1.

Descriptive particulars, with lithographed plans, will be ready for distribution twenty-one days prior to the Sale, and may be had on application at the principal Inns in Evesham, Alcester, Warwick, Stratford, and the neighbourhood. In the meantime further information may be obtained on application to Mr. Smith, of Rushford, in the parish of Salford Priors aforesaid, Mr John Haywood, of Salford Priors, or Mr. Hall, of Bretforton, in the county of Worcester, the Trustees and Executors of the late Mr. Masefield; to Mr. Charles Bell, solicitor, 36, Bedford-row, London; Mr. Oswald Cheek, solicitor, Evesham; Mr. Lovegrove, solicitor, Gloucester; Mr. W. H. Davies, Land Surveyor, Abingdon; or to the AUCTIONEER, Evesham; of each of whom also the descriptive particulars and lithographed plans may be obtained when ready for distribution.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Shares in Railways, Mines, and all other undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, August 7	Thursday, November 6
Thursday, September 4	Thursday, December 4.
Thursday, October 2

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained ten days previous to the sale, at the Star Hotel, Oxford; University Arms, Cambridge; Hen and Chickens, Birmingham; Plough, Cheltenham; Bush, Bristol; New London Hotel, Exeter; Pierce's Hotel, Truro; Adelphi, Liverpool; Royal Hotel, Manchester; Cuff's Midland Hotel, Derby; Black Swan, York; Tontine Hotel, Sheffield; Royal Hotel, Leeds; Tontine Hotel, Glasgow; M'Gregor's Hotel, Princes-street, Edinburgh; Gresham's Hotel, Dublin; and at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

Upper Holloway, Seven Sisters'-road.—Five Acres of Freehold Building Ground.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at 12 for 1 (unless previously disposed of by private contract), about Five Acres of FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, land tax redeemed, situate in the preferable part of Upper Holloway, about three miles from the City, on the high road known as the Seven Sisters'-road, which leads direct from the West-end to Tottenham. The estate is laid out as a square, called Holloway-square, and wide roads are already made up, so that it is at once eligible for the erection of houses. Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr. Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

First Sale of a Portion of about 30 Acres of Freehold Building Ground, Peckham, in the centre of a complete neighbourhood; and Freehold Ground Rents.

MR. SINGLE has the pleasure to announce that he is authorised to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, July 22, at Twelve, in lots, or to let upon building leases, or to dispose of by private contract, Five or Six Acres of invaluable FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, land-tax redeemed, presenting considerable frontages on the Commercial-road, James's-street, &c. Peckham, near the Rosemary Branch Tavern. The estate possesses fine rich brick earth, and is surrounded by a large and highly respectable neighbourhood. The healthfulness, pleasantness, and convenience for the City, for which it is peculiar, will cause it to be built over as rapidly as have been the various estates around it. Also Freehold Ground Rents, amply secured. Mr. Single has just surveyed it, designed roads, &c. throughout the whole property, and strongly recommends it for those desirous of making ground-rents or building for investment. In twelve months it will realize probably double its present value. Particulars of Messrs. Gregson and Kewell, solicitors, 8, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; at the Rosemary Branch Tavern, Peckham; and of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, near the Bank.

HANTS.—110 Acres Freehold, improvable, in Five-Acre Lots.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at Twelve for One, a most improvable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, desirably situate in the parish of Crondale, in the county of Hants, near the Oat Sheaf Inn, alongside the South Western Railway, about three and a-half miles from the Winchfield Station. As villas with a few acres of ground to each are much wanted in the neighbourhood, the estate, which comprises about 110 acres, will be sold in lots of about five acres each.—Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr. Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street.

South of Devon.—Pitt Estate, Mansion, and Grounds (33 acres), delightful Farm Residence and capital Farm (137 acres): one of the most picturesque spots in England.

MR. SINGLE has now surveyed PITT ESTATE, and feels much pleasure in giving a more detailed description than heretofore. The SALE will take place at the Auction Mart, London, on Tuesday, the 15th day of July, at 12 for 1 o'clock, and particulars, with plans and a sketch of the residence, are ready for applicants. It is situate in the Parish of Hennock, about one mile from Chudleigh (a post town), in the county of Devon, and ten from Exeter. After a drive from Exeter, almost unparalleled for picturesque beauty, crossing the river Teign, which winds in meandering beauty contiguous to the land, affording famous trout and salmon fishing, you approach the mansion through a park of rising ground adorned with ornamental timber, and belted with luxuriant plantations. The elevation of the mansion-house is most attractive and handsome, commanding views of indescribable beauty in endless variety, cheered and bounded by the hanging woods on Lord Clifford's estate. The seats of the Duke of Somerset, Lord Clifford, Lord Viscount Exmouth, Sir David Dunn, Alexander Adair, esq. Arthur Chichester, esq. late M. P. for Honiton, and other distinguished noblemen and gentlemen, are close at hand, so that, although secluded from almost every thing but highly picturesque beauty, it is amidst first-rate society. The residence is newly-built on a moderate scale, and planned with good judgment, and does great credit to the eminent architects, Messrs. Scott and Moffat, of London. The land comprises about 33 acres, and possession can at once be obtained. At an agreeable distance stands a farm residence, with about 137 acres of most thriving orchards, capital arable and pasture land, admirably suited for a gentleman farmer, to one of which excellent members of society it is let on lease for a term of fourteen years from Lady-day 1843, determinable the first seven or ten years. The luxuriance of growth of both the crops and trees, and the prettily wooded park-like appearance of the whole estate, beautified as it is with hill and dale, give it a strong claim to all who are lovers of the picturesque beauty and salubrious air for which the south of Devon is proverbial. The whole lies in a ring fence, is freehold, and will be offered first in one lot, and if not sold, in five lots. It is only about one mile from Chudleigh, five and a half hours' distant from London; and the station at Newton Abbott, one of the best market-towns in the county, only about four miles distant from the property, will soon be completed. The estate may be viewed on application to Mr. Flood, of Chudleigh, and Mr. Toswill, the tenant of the farm; and printed particulars, with a map annexed, may be obtained of Messrs. Scott and Moffat, architects, Spring-gardens, London; Mr. Robert H. Terrell, solicitor, 14, Gray's-inn-square, London; of Messrs. Watts and Whidborne, solicitors, Teignmouth, Devon; of Mr. John H. Terrell, solicitor, St. Martin's lane, Exeter; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, London, near the Bank of England.

EXAMINATION QUESTIONS in TRINITY TERM are now ready, with full Answers and References to Cases and Authorities. By the Editors of "The Law Students' Magazine." Price 1*s.* 6*d.* or sent free on receipt of 24 postage stamps. Series 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 may still be had.

KELLY and Co. 20, Old Boswell-court, Temple-bar; and all Booksellers.

The property is altogether held under E. B. Portman, Esq. until Lady-day, 1888.—Printed particulars, with plans annexed, of E. and B. Harrison, solicitors, Southampton-buildings, Holborn; at the Auction Mart; and at Messrs. MUSGROVE and GADSDEN'S Offices, 18, Old Broad-street, City.

FAMILY MANSION and LANDS, Upper Deal, Kent. For SALE by AUCTION, by Messrs. SPAIN and CASTLE, at the Royal Hotel in Deal, on the 31st July, 1845, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, in nine lots.

Lot 1. A singularly desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, at Upper Deal, consisting of a substantial family mansion, known as Upper Deal House, comprising handsome entrance-hall, with marble floor in mosaic, fine old staircase, excellent dining-room and breakfast parlour opening on the lawn, good drawing-room, very superior bed-rooms, and dressing-rooms attached, servants' rooms, laundry, spacious kitchen, butler's pantry, water-closet, and all other necessary domestic offices, coach-house, stabling, dovecote, and poultry-yard, and numerous out-buildings. Together with two very productive kitchen gardens, large fruit garden, beautiful lawn and pleasure grounds, surrounded with a profusion of evergreen shrubs, interspersed with fine clipped holly, laurel, and yew hedges, in the old style, and the whole laid out with considerable taste. Likewise a large inclosure of paddock or meadow land and orchard ground in park style, dotted with trees, and belted on two sides with a fine row of thriving forest trees, and on the other two sides by lofty walls. The mansion-house and the lands, which contain by admeasurement 8a. 3r. 2p. little more or less, are in one inclosure. The house, which opens on the lawn, has a fine view in that direction over the property, and commands from other parts extensive land and sea-views. The land is of the best quality, and the estate is adapted for the reception of a family of the first respectability, and, although retired, is within a short mile of the town of Deal, and the same distance from Deal and Walmer Castle, in a neighbourhood the most respectable, and in a place remarkable for its salubrity. The estate is now, and has been for many years, the residence of James Cooper, esq.

Lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, comprise several pieces of very superior Arable and Meadow Land, adjoining and contiguous to Lot 1, containing altogether about 12a. 2r. 26p. and all freehold except about 2a. 3r. 39p. which is leasehold, and held under his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The above estates produce a clear rental of 149*l*. per annum, and present a very desirable opportunity for investment.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Mercer and Edwards, solicitors, Deal; or to Mr. Mercer, solicitor, Ramsgate; or Messrs. Austen and Hobson, solicitors, Raymond-buildings, Gray's-inn, London; at whose offices maps of the estates can be seen, and of whom particulars, with plans, can be obtained seven days prior to the sale.

Robinson and Barlow, solicitors, 20, Essex-street, Strand; and Messrs. NEWTON and APPLETON, Auctioneers and Estate Agents, 7, Mansion-house-street City.

CLIFF HOUSE, Warwick. To be LET on Lease, for five and a quarter, twelve and a quarter, or nineteen and a quarter years, from the 29th of September next, with or without the furniture, a most genteel modern Family Villa, the residence of Robert Wheeler, esq. replete with every possible convenience, and delightfully situated within a mile and a half of the celebrated Royal Leamington Spa, and within ten minutes' walk of the pleasant town of Warwick, commanding a beautiful picturesque view of the towers of Warwick Castle and the churches. It comprises entrance-hall, breakfast, dining, and drawing rooms, and ante-room; four best chambers, with three dressing-rooms, ladies'-maid's room, back staircase, and servants' apartments, store-room, &c.; excellent wine and beer cellars, most convenient domestic offices, spacious stabling for five horses, with lofts over; yard, with double coach-house, harness-room, and excellent coachman's-room; extensive pleasure and kitchen gardens, in a high state of cultivation, containing about three and a half acres, vinery, with vines in full bearing, and a greenhouse, with choice flowers and shrubs. Twelve acres of excellent grass land on rental.

The house is a short distance from the road, and is approached by a carriage drive, with a convenient and handsome lodge; is centered in the middle of the Warwickshire Hunt, and is within ten minutes' walk of the Railway Station.

For further particulars, and for cards to view apply at the offices of Mr LOVEDAY, Solicitor, Warwick.

HAMPSTEAD.—Two excellent Residences, with Gardens and Meadow Land, situate on the rise of Hampstead-hill, held under the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, at a merely nominal rent.

MESSRS. RUSHWORTH and JARVIS are directed by the Executors of Edward Whiteside, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, FRIDAY, August 15, at Twelve, in one lot, a PAIR of substantial FAMILY RESIDENCES, standing at an agreeable remove from the road, one of which, with garden and stabling, at present in the occupation of Mrs. Wellaston, with whom arrangements are made for immediate possession if required; the other having the additional advantage of more than two acres of pleasure grounds and meadow land, will be sold, subject to a lease at a peppercorn rent, which expires at Lady-day next, and is at present in the occupation of John Innes, esq. The property is held for three lives, and, being renewable in the customary manner, it is nearly equal to freehold, and affords a favourable opportunity for securing a very desirable residence or a good investment.

The house may be viewed by permission of the tenants, and particulars had at the Red Lion, Hampstead; of Messrs. Burgoynes, Thrupp, and Clark, solicitors, 160, Oxford-street; and at the offices of Messrs. RUSHWORTH and JARVIS, Saville-row, Regent-street, and 19, 'Change-alley, Cornhill.

FAMILY MANSION and LANDS, Upper Deal, Kent. For SALE by AUCTION, by Messrs. SPAIN and CASTLE, at the Royal Hotel in Deal, on the 31st July, 1845, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, in nine lots.

Lot 1. A singularly desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, at Upper Deal, consisting of a substantial family mansion, known as Upper Deal House, comprising handsome entrance-hall, with marble floor in mosaic, fine old staircase, excellent dining-room and breakfast parlour opening on the lawn, good drawing room, very superior bed-rooms, and dressing-rooms attached, servants' rooms, laundry, spacious kitchen, butler's pantry, water-closet, and all other necessary domestic offices, coach-house, stabling, dovecote, and poultry-yard and numerous out buildings. Together with two very productive kitchen gardens, large fruit garden, beautiful lawn and pleasure ground surrounded with a profusion of ... ersed with fine clipped holly, laurel, and yew hedges, in the old style, and the whole laid out with considerable taste. Likewise a large inclosure of paddock or meadow land and orchard ground in park style, dotted with trees, and belted on two sides with a fine row of thriving forest trees, and on the other two sides by lofty walls. The mansion-house and the lands, which contain by admeasurement 8a. 3r. 2p. little more or less, are in one inclosure. The house, which opens on the lawn, has a fine view in that direction over the property, and commands from other parts extensive land and sea views. The land is of the best quality, and the estate is adapted for the reception of a family of the first respectability, and, although retired, is within a short mile of the town of Deal, and the same distance from Deal and Walmer Castle in a neighbourhood the ... respectable, and in a place remarkable for its salubrity. The estate is now, and has been for many years the residence of James Cooper, esq.

Lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, comprise several pieces of very superior Arable and Meadow Land, adjoining and contiguous to Lot 1, containing altogether about 12a. 2r. 26p. and all freehold except about 2a. 2r. 20p. which is leasehold, and held under his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The above estates produce a clear rental of 150*l.* per annum, and present a very desirable opportunity for investment.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Mercer and Edwards, solicitors, Deal; or to Mr. Mercer, solicitor, Ramsgate; or Messrs. Austen and Hobson, solicitors, Raymond-buildings, Gray's-inn, London; at whose offices maps of the estates can be seen, and of whom particulars, with plans, can be obtained seven days prior to the sale.

Upper Holloway, Seven Sisters'-road.—Five Acres of Freehold Building Ground.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at 12 for 1 (unless previously disposed of by private contract), about Five Acres of FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, land tax redeemed, situate in the preferable part of Upper Holloway, about three miles from the City, on the high road known as the Seven Sisters'-road, which leads direct from the West-end to Tottenham. The estate is laid out as a square, called Holloway-square, and wide roads are already made up, so that it is at once eligible for the erection of houses. Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

South of Devon.—Pitt Estate, Mansion, and Grounds (33 acres), delightful Farm Residence and capital Farm (137 acres), one of the most picturesque spots in England.

MR. SINGLE has now surveyed PITT ESTATE, and feels much pleasure in giving a more detailed description than heretofore. The SALE will take place at the Auction Mart, London, on Tuesday, the 15th day of July, at 12 for 1 o'clock, and particulars, with plans and a sketch of the residence, are ready for applicants. It is situate in the Parish of Hennock, about one mile from Chudleigh (a post town) in the county of Devon, and ten from Exeter. After a drive from Exeter, almost unparalleled for picturesque beauty, crossing the river Teign, which winds in meandering beauty contiguous to the land, affording famous trout and salmon fishing, you approach the mansion through a park of rising ground adorned with ornamental timber, and belted with luxuriant plantations. The elevation of the mansion-house is most attractive and handsome, commanding views of indescribable beauty in endless variety, cheered and bounded by the hanging woods on Lord Clifford's estate. The seats of the Duke of Somerset, Lord Clifford, Lord Viscount Exmouth, Sir David Dunn, Alexander Adair, esq. Arthur Chichester, esq. late M. P. for Honiton, and other distinguished noblemen and gentlemen, are close at hand, so that, although secluded from almost every thing but highly picturesque beauty, it is amidst first-rate society. The residence is newly-built on a moderate ... and planned with good judgment, and does great credit to the eminent architects, Messrs. Scott and Moffat, of London. The land comprises about 33 acres, and possession can at once be obtained. At an agreeable distance stands a farm residence, with about 137 acres of most thriving orchards, capital arable and pasture land, admirably suited for a gentleman farmer, to one of which excellent members of society it is let on lease for a term of fourteen years from Lady day 1844, determinable the first seven or ten years. The lu ... wth of both the crops and trees, and the prettily w ... d park-like appearance of the whole estate, beautified as it is with hill and dale, give it a strong claim to all who are lovers of the picturesque beauty and salubrious air for which the south of Devon is proverbial. The whole lies in a ring fence, is freehold, and will be offered first in one lot, and if not sold, in five lots. It is only about one mile from Chudleigh, five and a half hours' distant from London; and the station at Newton Abbott, one of the best market-towns in the c ... nly about four miles distant from the property, will soon be completed. The estate may be viewed on application to Mr Flood, of Chudleigh, and Mr. Tosswill, the tenant of the farm; and printed particulars, with a map annexed, may be obtained of Messrs. Scott and Moffat, architects, Spring-gardens, London; Mr. Robert H. Terrell, solicitor, 14, Gray's-inn square, London; of Messrs. Watts and Whidborne, solicitors, Teignmouth, Devon; of Mr. John H. Terrell, solicitor, St. Martin's lane, Exeter; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, London, near the Bank of England.

HANTS.—110 Acres Freehold, improvable, in Five-Acre Lots.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Tuesday, July 15, at Twelve for One, a most improvable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, desirably situate in the parish of Crondale, in the county of Hants, near the Oat Sheaf Inn, alongside the South Western Railway, about three and a-half miles from the Winchfield Station. As villas with a few acres of ground to each are much wanted in the neighbourhood, the estate, which comprises about 110 acres, will be sold in lots of about five acres each.—Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Mr. Thomas Pryer, solicitor, 17, Pavement, Finsbury; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street.

First Sale of a Portion of about 30 Acres of Freehold Building Ground, Peckham, in the centre of a complete neighbourhood; and Freehold Ground Rents.

MR. SINGLE has the pleasure to announce that he is authorized to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on Tuesday, July 22, at Twelve, in lots, or to let upon building leases, or to dispose of by private contract, Five or Six Acres of invaluable FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, land-tax redeemed, presenting considerable frontages on the Commercial-road, James's-street, &c. Peckham, near the Rosemary Branch Tavern. The estate possesses fine rich brick earth, and is surrounded by a large and highly respectable neighbourhood. The healthfulness, pleasantness, and convenience for the City, for which it is peculiar, will cause it to be built over as rapidly as have been the various estates around it. Also Freehold Ground Rents, amply secured. Mr. Single has just surveyed it, designed roads, &c. throughout the whole property, and strongly recommends it for those desirous of making ground-rents or building for investment. In twelve months it will realize probably double its present value. Particulars of Messrs. Gregson and Kewell, solicitors, 8, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; at the Rosemary Branch Tavern, Peckham; and of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, near the Bank.

Capital Freehold Residence at Limehouse, for Investment or Occupation.

MESSRS. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, July 24, at Twelve (pursuant to the Will of the late Van H. Christie, esq.), the substantial brick-built RESIDENCE, 1, Albion-terrace, Commercial-road, for many years occupied by the testator. The house is one of the best in the vicinity, and possesses all the requisites for the accommodation of a respectable family, whilst as an investment it recommends itself from the circumstance of houses in Albion-terrace being much sought after by principals in the numerous manufacturing and mercantile establishments in the neighbourhood, a fact which is attested by none of them having ever remained many days unoccupied. It is considered that the house in question would immediately let on lease at 65*l.* per annum.—To be viewed till the sale, and particulars had on the premises; of Robert Ellis, esq. solicitor, Cowper's-court, Cornhill; and at the offices of Messrs. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN, Auctioneers Surveyors, and Estate-agents, 68, Old Broad-street.

Profitable Freehold Investment, near the London and St. Katharine's Docks, with Votes for Middlesex.

M'Carthy, Hume, Crocker, Moore, and others, at yearly and monthly rents amounting to 72*l.* 2*s.* per annum. The situation of these houses, close to the Docks, will always ensure a regular class of tenants. Mr. Blake, of the King of Prussia Public-house, in Cartwright-street, will shew the houses, and particulars may be had of him; at the Mart; of James Mander, esq. solicitor, 9, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; and at the offices of Messrs. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN, 68, Old Broad-street.

RATCLIFF.—Two Freehold Houses with Shops, and a Warehouse.

MESSRS. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN ... at the Mart, on THURSDAY, June 24, at Twelve, in one lot, a desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, in a commanding situation at Ratcliff-cross (facing Butcher-row), consisting of the house No. 55, Broad-street, let to Mr. Fulluck, on a three years' tenantcy, at the very low rent of 40*l.*; No. 54, at present unlet, but of the like value of 40*l.*; and a warehouse at the rear, let on lease to Mr. Ray, coal owner, at 10*l.*; making together a secure income of 90*l.* per annum.—To be viewed by leave of the tenants, and particulars had at No. 54; of George Henderson, Esq. solicitor, 28, Mansell-street; at the Mart; and at the offices of Messrs. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN, auctioneers, surveyors, and estate agents, 68, Old Broad-street.

Freehold Building Land, Homerton, Middlesex, near the College and intended new Church, and in the vicinity of Victoria Park.

MESSRS. ROBERTS and ROBY will SELL by AUCTION at the Mart, on FRIDAY, July 18, at Twelve o'clock, valuable FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, divided into Forty-one Lots, for the convenience of small capitalists, builders, and others; most desirably situate as above, being only about two miles from London, seated on a gravelly soil, and surrounded by a populous and thriving neighbourhood, and exonerated from land tax.—To be viewed, and particulars with plans had at the Lamb and Flag, near the property of Mr. Scarborough, Tokenhouse-yard, Lothbury; Mr. Lambert, surveyor, No. 40, Coleman-street; Mr. C. Anderson, 7, Laurie-terrace, Westminster-road; Mr. Ball, Queen's Arms Tavern, Newgate-street; Auction Mart; and at ROBERTS and ROBY'S Offices, 24, Moorgate-street, Bank.

Periodical Sales (established in the year 1803) of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Policies of Assurance, Advowsons, Next Presentations, Rent Charges in lieu of Tithes, Post-obit Bonds, Tontines, Debentures, Ground Rents, Improved Rents, Shares in Docks, Canals, Mines Railways, Insurance Companies, and all Public Undertakings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

The venerable Castle of Herstmonceux, modern Mansion, Park, Manors, and Domain of nearly 2,300 acres, Sussex.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS have received instructions to announce for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, on FRIDAY, August 8, at Twelve, in several lots, the extensive and highly valuable FREEHOLD LANDED ESTATE; comprising the ancient and interesting remains of Herstmonceux Castle, the modern mansion, beautifully timbered park, pleasure-grounds, gardens, orchards, numerous eligible farms and detached lands, comprising in the whole a beautiful domain of nearly 2,300 acres of superior meadow, pasture, marsh, arable, and wood land; also the manors of Herstmonceux, Gotham, and Old Court, with the hundred of Foxearle, and the rights, royalties, and immunities thereto belonging; producing altogether a yearly revenue of about 2,700*l*. exclusive of the mansion and premises in hand. The situation is most agreeable, distant from Battle nine miles, Uckfield 15, the sea-coast five, Eastbourne 10, Hastings 15, Brighton 25, and London 59, in a finely undulated, picturesque, and sporting part of the county of Sussex, through which is now constructing the railway from Brighton to Hastings, which will add the advantages of two stations, each within six mile of this important property.

The Castle of Herstmonceux presents one of the most elaborate specimens of the Moated Palace, or Feudal Manor House, of the period of Henry VI. and constitutes an imposing feature in the surrounding scenery, and an object of general attraction. The park is well diversified by hill and vale, finely wooded and well watered, and the views from various parts embrace the adjacent rich level of Pevensey, the sea, the romantic hills towards Hastings, and the Southern Downs. The modern mansion is adapted for a family of distinction and opulence, and the church is approached within six furlongs through beautiful shrubberies and belts of timber. The manors are not only extensive and well stocked with game, but productive in fines, reliefs, quitrents, and heriots. The farms are 16 in number, cultivated with much attention to modern improvement, of which the Lime Farm, the Mill Land Farm, and other small holdings and isolated lands, will be arranged in separate lots, still leaving an ample domain, including all the wood-lands, as an appendage to the mansion. The garden of the ancient castle has also been preserved, and remains rich in fruit and the finest vegetables; there are several fish-ponds, and the preserves for game are extensive. May be viewed by application to James Young, esq. Windmill-hill, Herstmonceux, of whom in due time particulars and plans may be obtained; also of P. Gordon, esq. solicitor, Symond's-inn, London; at the George Inn, Battle; the Crown, Hailsham; the Woolpack, Herstmonceux; the Star, Lewes; the Castle, Hastings; the Old Ship, Brighton; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry, London.

Burwash, Sussex.—Freehold Farm and Wood Lands, Sussex.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS are instructed by the Executors of John Parkinson, esq. deceased, to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on FRIDAY, August 8, a FREEHOLD ESTATE, comprising Witherhurst Farm, in the parish of Burwash, four miles from Hurst-green, six from Ticehurst, and 16 from Tunbridge-wells, in the county of Sussex, consisting of 120 acres of land, whereof about 81 are arable and pasture, and 40 acres timber and coppice, with a farm-house and agricultural buildings. The open lands are in the occupation of Mr. W. Barrow, but the wood lands are in hand. May be viewed, and particulars obtained in due time at the inns in the neighbouring towns; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

GLOUCESTERSHIRE.—Excellent Freehold Grass Farm, within two miles of Cheltenham.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on FRIDAY, August 15, at Twelve, in two lots, a valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, comprising Ham Dairy Farm, consisting of 91 acres — roods, and — perches of most productive pasture and wood land, lying in a ring-fence, with two farm-houses and the requisite agricultural buildings; very eligibly situate in the parish of Charlton Kings, about two miles from Cheltenham, on the high London road from thence to Witney and Oxford. The estate is beautifully undulated, and possesses many fine sites for the erection of villas, commanding the most picturesque and extensive prospects, including the Malvern and Leckhampton hills, Gloucester Cathedral, and the Welsh mountains in the distance; also an inclosure of pasture land, comprising about six acres, situate a short distance from the above. The whole, with the exception of the wood-land, is in the occupation of old and respectable tenants, at rents amounting to 265*l*. per annum. May be viewed with leave of the tenants, and particulars had at the Plough, Cheltenham; the Bell, Gloucester; of Messrs. Bubb and Lingwood, solicitors, Cheltenham; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

Herne-hill, Camberwell.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on FRIDAY, August 8, by order of the Executors of Thomas Crosse, esq. an elegant detached VILLA RESIDENCE, beautifully situate at Herne-hill, about four miles from the several bridges, in the county of Surrey, and late in the occupation of the deceased; containing suitable apartments for a respectable family, dressing-rooms, library, elegant reception-rooms, conservatory, entrance-hall and staircase, domestic offices of every description; coach-house, stable, and other external offices, in excellent order, lawn, pleasure and kitchen gardens, shrubberies, plantations, and a paddock of rich meadow land; the whole comprising about three acres and a half. The estate is held on lease for a long term unexpired, at a low reserved rent. May be viewed, with tickets only, 14 days previous to the sale, when particulars may be had of Messrs. Crosse and Son, solicitors, Hatton-court, Threadneedle-street; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

GLOUCESTERSHIRE.—Extensive Freehold Residence, within seven acres of Land, within two miles of Cheltenham.

WEST DEVON.—Capital Freehold Estates, Mansion, Park, Plantations, Manors, Fisheries, together with the entire Royalty to the whole of the village or town of Lifton, four miles from Launceston, and 40 from Exeter, on the mail coach road; the property of W. A. Harris Arundell, esq.—By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Mart, in August.

A Highly important and most valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, comprising the Lifton Estate, with the beautiful mansion called Lifton house, seated in a park, and surrounded by a rich domain of about 5,000 acres, lying nearly within a ring fence, intersected only by the beautiful rivers Tamar and Lead, which runs through the property, within nine hours' reach of London, forming altogether one of the finest estates in West Devon; contiguous to the parks and mansions of the noble Dukes of Northumberland and Bedford, and in the midst of the finest scenery in the county. These estates are now chiefly free from life-leases, those existing are upon advanced ages. The present income is upwards of 6,000*l*. per annum, and when the life leases drop it will exceed 9,000*l*. per annum. The mansion is approached from the mail coach road by an ornamental lodge, exclusive of other approaches, placed upon a lawn and park, sheltered by extensive and thriving plantations, through which are carriage turf drives of great extent. The mansion contains every accommodation, the principal apartments consisting of noble saloon, drawing-room, library, and dining parlour, each of the dimensions of 30 feet by 24 and 16 feet high, with offices of every description, capital kitchen gardens with walls clothed with the finest fruit trees, graperies, and greenhouse. The farms attached to this most magnificent estate are chiefly upon a strata of lime, producing the most abundant crops of corn and turnips, with a proportionate quantity of the finest feeding pastures upon each side of the rivers Tamar and Lead. There are also upon the estate two important and most extensive lime works from which the tenantry derive considerable advantage. These works supply the agriculturists of West Devon for many miles round, the limestone being of the finest quality and in great request. The particulars and plans, which are in course of preparation, will fully go into all the detail, and may be had 20 days prior to the sale of W. H. Cotterell, esq. solicitor, Throgmorton-street; at the New London Inn, Exeter; White Hart, Launceston; Inn at Oakhampton; London Inn, Lifton; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, 62, Old Broad-street, Royal Exchange.

BERKSHIRE.—Valuable and Important Freehold Estate in the county of Berks, consisting of sundry Farms, large and small, near to the Farringdon-road Station, in the parishes of East Hanney, Goosey, Stanford, Faringdon, Lambourne, and Great Coxwell, containing altogether about 1,240 acres of land.—By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Bear Inn, Wantage, on THURSDAY, August 28, at Twelve, in 23 lots, by order of the Devisees in Trust of the late E. P. Bastard, esq.

THESE Estates are situate in the several parishes of East Hanney, Stanford, Lambourne, Great Coxwell, Goosey, and Faringdon, comprising altogether about 1,300 acres of fine arable and rich dairy land, part in the rich Vale of White Horse, celebrated for the productiveness of its soil, and highly esteemed by agriculturists. The estates offer first-rate investments for large or small capitalists, and will be subdivided into lots as follows:—East Hanney Farm, in the parish of East Hanney, with farm-house, farm buildings, and 279*a*. 1*r*. 7*p*. of arable and pasture land, in the occupation of Mrs. Dormer. Millaway Farm, in the parish of Goosey, with farm-house, farm buildings, and 30*a*. 0*r*. 4*p*. of arable and meadow land, in the occupation of Mr. A. Barnes. Stanford Farm, in the parish of Stanford, in the Vale of White Horse, with a fine old manor-house near the church, farm buildings, and 110*a*. 1*r* 28*p*. of arable and pasture land, in the occupation of Mr. William Farrant. Samuel Anderson, Esq.	Charles Graham, Esq.
Hamilton Blair Avarne, Esq.	F. Charles Maitland, Esq.
Edw. Boyd, Esq., Resident.	William Railton, Esq.
E. Lennox Boyd, Esq., Asst. Resident.	John Ritchie, Esq.
	F. H. Thomson, Esq.
Charles Downes, Esq.

Surgeon—F. Hale Thomson, Esq., 48, Berners-street.

This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect security in a large paid-up Capital, and in the great success which has attended it since its commencement in 1834,

Its Annual Income being upwards of £72,000.

In 1841, the Company declared an addition to the Shareholders of one-half of their Stock, and also added a Bonus of 2*l*. per cent. per annum on the sum insured to all policies of the participating class from the time they were effected.

The Bonus added to policies from March, 1834, to the 31st Dec. 1840, is as follows:—

Sum Assured.	Time Assured.	Sum added to Policy.
£5,000	6 Yrs. 10 Months.	£683 6s. 8d.
5,000	2 Years	200 0 0

The Premiums nevertheless are on the most moderate scale, and only one-half need be paid for the first Five Years, where the Insurance is for Life.

Every information will be afforded on application to the Resident Directors, EDWARD BOYD, Esq., and E. LENNOX BOYD, Esq., at the Temporary Offices during the Alterations, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place, London.

To Readers and Correspondents.

Messrs. BANCROFT (Barnstaple.—The note has been forwarded to the reporter. The fact is, that in consequence of the Courts sitting so unwontedly late, we have been deprived of all our regular reporters, who are at their sessions, and are obliged to get such imperfect notes as can be procured anywhere, and many cases cannot be obtained at all. The proposed new arrangements of the Terms will, we hope, remove this difficulty, which, at present, is perfectly unavoidable, and is the cause of the errors and omissions noticed by our correspondents.

TYRO.—There is a series of Books of Questions varying from 4s 6d. to 6s. each.

We have received some printed resolutions of the Hull Law Society, which, for obvious reasons, we cannot publish, but we may congratulate the Society on its unflinching discharge of the painful duty of promptly vindicating the honour of the Profession. This is indeed making the Law Societies subserve the purposes for which they are established.

A SOLICITOR stands over for next week.

NECROLOGY.

LORD SEAFORD.

We regret to learn that Lord Seaford expired suddenly on Tuesday last, at Wood-lodge, near Chichester. The noble earl only ... appeared to be in the possession of excellent health, and his sudden death proved a severe shock to her ladyship and family.

Charles ..., Baron Seaford, of Seaford, county Sussex, in the peerage of the United Kingdom, was second son of Mr. John Ellis. He was ... Lady Hardy, widow of Admiral Sir Thomas Hardy, the late Governor of Greenwich Hospital.

The late lord, when Mr. Ellis, represented Seaford in the House of Commons, and from his extensive estates and property in the West Indies, was in Parliament considered as the leader of the West India interest.

In 1826, the deceased, who was a great friend of the late Mr. Canning, was raised to the peerage. By his first marriage he leaves issue Charles Augustus, Lord Howard de Walden in right of his mother, born 3rd June, 1799, and married to Lady Lucy Cavendish Bentinck, fourth daughter of the Duke of Portland, who now succeeds to the additional peerage and family estates. His lordship is envoy and minister plenipotentiary at the court of Lisbon. And the Honourable Lieutenant-Colonel Augustus Frederick Ellis (60th foot), born 17th September, 1800, and married 25th June, 1828, Miss Mary Thurlow Cuninghame, eldest daughter of Sir David Cuninghame, Bart.

His lordship was a Whig in politics, and was a constant supporter of Earl Grey and Viscount Melbourne in the late administrations, as well as the Right Hon. George Canning, during his short career of office.

THE LATE MR. SERJEANT ATCHERLEY.—The late Mr. Serjeant Atcherley, who died on Sunday, was Attorney-General of the County Palatine of Lancaster. He was called to the bar in 1810, and was made a serjeant in 1827; he had a patent of precedency. He was frequently in the habit of trying prisoners on the Northern Circuit.

Lot 3. A valuable FARM, called Sharnden and Upper Barn Land; comprising a substantial farm-house, with oast-house, two barns, hay barns, cattle lodges, and all requisite farm buildings, and about 269 acres of excellent land, ... chester, and the remainder is freehold.

Mayfield is 9 miles from Tonbridge-wells, 24 from Hastings, and 24 from Brighton.—Descriptive particulars and conditions of sale may be had, 14 days prior to the sale, of Messrs. Barclay and King, solicitors, Mayfield, Sussex; Messrs. Palmer, France, and Palmer, 24, Bedford-row, Holborn, London; and of the Auctioneers, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London, and Croydon, Surrey.

Essex Lodge, Brixton Rise, Surrey; the much admired residence of the late Daniel Higley Richardson, Esq. Possession may be had on the completion of the purchase.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been honoured with instructions from the executors of the above deceased gentleman to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, August 7, at Twelve (unless in the meantime an acceptable offer be made by private contract), the above singularly attractive VILLA RESIDENCE, most delightfully situate a short distance from the road, on the most preferable part of Brixton-Rise, nearly opposite the church, erected within a few years at a considerable outlay and regardless of expense, and much ingenuity and taste have been displayed in its exterior and interior arrangements. The house is of handsome elevation, and most conveniently and admirably adapted for the reception of a gentleman's family; coach-house, stabling, pleasure-grounds, and kitchen garden. This eligible estate, either for occupation or investment, is held for an unexpired term of 92 years, at a low ground rent.—Particulars may be obtained of H. F. Richardson, esq. solicitor, 40, Coleman-street; at the Auction Mart; and cards to view, of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land Agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Leasehold Investments, Somers'-town and Tottenham, Middlesex, adapted to a small Capitalist.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on MONDAY, August 11, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, TWO LEASEHOLD DWELLING-HOUSES, Nos. 63 and 64, Brill-row, Somers'-town, and THREE HOUSES, Nos. 3, 4, and 8, Factory-row, Tottenham, Middlesex, in the occupation of respectable tenants, and held at low ground-rents.

May be viewed, and particulars obtained of J. Bishop, esq. solicitor, 14, Lincoln's Inn-fields; and at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S Offices, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, and Croydon, Surrey.

Freehold Estate, Paradise-street, Rotherhithe, entitling to a Vote for the Eastern Division of the county of Surrey.—To Builders and Others.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION at the Mart, on MONDAY, August 11, at Twelve o'clock, a valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, comprising a spacious brick-built dwelling-house, No. 59, Paradise-street, Rotherhithe, with a large garden in the rear, capable of being converted into valuable building land, in the occupation of a respectable tenant, at the low rent of 18l. per annum.

May be viewed, and particulars obtained on the premises; of Mr. G. Drew, solicitor, Bermondsey-street; and at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S Offices, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Secure Investments, apportioned in Lots, to meet the convenience of small capitalists.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on MONDAY, August 11, at Twelve, in 3 Lots, a valuable and rapidly improving LONG LEASEHOLD PROPERTY, consisting of three new, substantially erected, and well-finished residences, Nos. 1, 2, and 3, Bryan street, Chalk-road, Pentonville, in the occupation of very respectable tenants, at rentals amounting to 84l. per annum, held direct from the freeholder for a term of 99 years, from December 1842, at low ground-rents.—May be viewed and particulars obtained on the premises, of John Bishop, esq. solicitor, 14, Lincoln's-Inn-fields, and at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S Offices, No. 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Valuable Copyhold Estate, High-street, Putney.—Comprising a spacious Family Residence, with Pleasure and Kitchen Gardens, contiguous to the intended Station on the London and Richmond Railway, desirable for occupation or investment.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on MONDAY, August 11, at Twelve, a spacious detached FAMILY RESIDENCE, with coach-house, stabling, pleasure and kitchen gardens.—May be viewed, and particulars obtained of Messrs. Clayton and Cookson, solicitors, No. 2, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; Red Lion, Putney; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Auctioneers and Surveyors, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

SOMERSETSHIRE.—To Landed Proprietors, Capitalists, and the Public.—A most valuable and desirable ESTATE for SALE, consisting of 179 acres of arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, tithe-free and land-tax redeemed. To be sold in fee by Auction, at the Egremont Hotel, Williton, Somersetshire, by Mr. THOMAS HAWKS, on TUESDAY, the 29th day of July, 1845, at five o'clock in the afternoon, all that valuable FARM and ESTATE, with the farm-house, outbuildings, and homestead belonging thereto, called Croydon Farm, consisting of about 163 acres of arable, meadow, and pasture land, in the occupation of Mr. Richard Bindon, as tenant thereof.

And also all that WOOD, commonly called Croydon Wood, with the waste lands and coppices adjoining, containing together about 15 acres, and held by the proprietors of the estate.

And also a COTTAGE, with gardens and orchard, containing about three-quarters of an acre, in the occupation of Mr. James Larcombe.

And also the reversion of a COTTAGE and GARDEN, consisting of about a quarter of an acre, held at the yearly rent of 1s. on lease for 99 years, granted in the year 1801, and now determinable with two lives.

The above property is in the parishes of Old Cleeve and Carhampton, or one of them, in the county of Somerset, in the centre of valuable estates belonging to Sir John Trevelyan, bart. J. F. Luttrell, esq. and other gentlemen, lies in a ring fence, and is free from tithes, and the land-tax has been redeemed. It is situated in a fine sporting country, and possesses an excellent stream of water, plentifully supplied with trout.

For a view of the estate, apply to Mr. Richard Bindon, on the premises; and for further particulars, to the Auctioneer, at Williton; to Mr. G. D. Fisher, Widcombe Nursery, Bath; to Mr. James Chapman, solicitor, Warminster, Wilts; or to Messrs. Prideaux and Son, solicitors, Albion Chambers, Bristol.

NECROLOGY.

EARL OF DUNMORE.

We regret to have to announce the death of the Earl of Dunmore, at Streatham, the noble earl's temporary residence, and whither he had gone for the benefit of his health, he having been in a declining state for some time past.

Alexander Murray, Earl of Dunmore, Viscount Fincastle, and Baron Murray, of Blair, Meulin, and Tillemont, in the peerage of Scotland; and Baron Dunmore, of Dunmore, in the Forest of Atholl, county of Perth, in the peerage of the United Kingdom; was the sixth earl (creation 1686); was born June 1, 1804; succeeded his father, George, the fifth earl, November 11, 1836; married at Frankfort-on-the-Maine, September 27, 1836, Catherine, daughter of George Augustus, the eleventh Earl of Pembroke; and has left issue two daughters and a son—namely, Susan Catherine Mary, born July 7, 1837, Constance Euphemia Woronzow, born December 2[illegible], 183[illegible], and a son, Viscount Fincastle, born March 24, 1841, and now Earl of Dunmore. The family estate [illegible] extensive, and lie principally in Stirlingshire and Argyleshire.

MR. J. ADOLPHUS.

[illegible] regret to announce the death of Mr. John Adolphus, the celebrated barrister, which took place suddenly at the house of his son, Mr. J. Leycester Adolphus, in Montague-street, Russell-square, at a late hour on Wednesday night. Mr. Adolphus was one of the oldest members in the criminal courts of this country, and father of the Old Bailey Bar. The deceased gentleman, in early life, raised himself to distinction in the metropolitan courts of criminal jurisprudence, and in a few years worked his way into a large and lucrative practice. Mr. Adolphus on various occasions throughout his professional career had distinguished himself in a very remarkable manner by his extraordinary talents, judgment, and energy, especially during the memorable trial of Thistlewood in 1820, when he was only retained as leading counsel on behalf of the conspirators a few hours before the trial commenced, notwithstanding which, though the trial was one of the most interesting and momentous which perhaps ever took place in a criminal court, involving as it did the liberties and lives of many individuals, he displayed as much legal knowledge, mental acuteness, acquaintance with the facts of the case, and professional talent generally, during the protracted proceedings, as if he had devoted an entire month to the preparation of the defence. The manner in which he acquitted himself was equally the admiration of the Bench, the Bar, and the public. That he was physically equal to the subject was the surprise of all who were aware of the fact that he had sat up the whole of the previous night for the purpose of mastering the principal facts of the case, scattered as they were over a mass of evidence. His statements and arguments were as clear and ingenious as his cross-examination of witnesses was skilful and felicitous. Mr. Adolphus spoke with much ease and fluency, and on all important occasions displayed talent and eloquence of the highest order. He has died sincerely lamented by a very numerous circle of friends. Among the literary efforts of the deceased gentleman may be mentioned the History of the Reign of George III. the seventh volume of which has just appeared; the Political State of the British Empire, 4 vols.; Biographical Memoirs of the French Revolution; Life of Bannister, 2 vols. &c.

On the 11th of June, to Clara Maria Susanna Lowe, 50*l*. daughter of the late General Sir Hudson Lowe, in consideration of the services of her father, and her own destitute condition; in trust to Sir Joshua Rickets Rowley, bart. captain, R.N., and Lieutenant Edward William De Lancy Lowe, 32nd regiment of foot. Total, 1,200*l*. The return is dated Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, July 7, 1845, and signed by Edward Cardwell.

To Readers and Correspondents.

FAIR PLAY.—We have exposed the advertisements of Mr. Weston so often that there is no need to repeat them.

T. A. M. (Bath.)—We cannot insert his letter; for, however true, as we doubt not it is, it would be a libel.

A CORRESPONDENT (Bradford.)—We are compelled to avoid discussions of this nature, as, once admitted, they would be endless.

JOHN CORNWALL, jun.—The question is needless. The usual costs would be allowed, as if the prisoner had been tried.

H. P. C.—Nothing more has been heard of this case.

A. M. (Birmingham.)—We are unable to find the case he names. It is not in the Index as yet.

Secure Investment.—Valuable Long Leasehold Property, Downham-road and Clarence-terrace, New North-road, Islington, producing a rental of 289l. 10s. per annum.

TO BE SOLD by AUCTION, by Messrs. VENTOM and HUGHES, at the Auction Mart, on Wednesday, July 23, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, in three lots, by order of the proprietor, the following truly desirable and substantial brick-built houses, peculiarly adapted for the residences of genteel families; they have been erected without regard to expense, are finished in a style of modern neatness, and are replete with accommodation:—

Lot 1. A New Brick-built RESIDENCE with slated roof, being No. 42, Downham-road, New North-road, held for ninety-five years at a ground-rent of 5l. 10s. and of the annual value of 40l.

Lot 2. FIVE SUBSTANTIAL RESIDENCES, with slated roofs, being Nos. 29, 30, 31, 32, and 33, Clarence-terrace, Rotherfield-street, Lower-road, Islington; they are seated at a pleasant distance from the road, from which they are divided by fore-courts and iron railing, and approached by stone steps. The are let to respectable tenants at rents amounting to 156l. Held on lease for ninety-five years, at the apportioned ground-rent of 5l. each house.

Lot 3. THREE HOUSES, of a similar description, being Nos. 22, 23, and 24, in the same terrace, let at rents amounting to 93l. 10s. per annum. Held for the like term as lot 2, at the apportioned ground-rent of 5l. for each house.

May be viewed, by permission of the tenants, ten days prior to the sale; printed particulars had of Mr. Beckingham, No. 28, Clarence-terrace; the Rosemary Branch, Hoxton; Angel, Islington; Messrs. Overton and Hughes, solicitors, 25, Old Jewry; Mr. Brown, auctioneer, Herne Bay, Kent; of Messrs. VENTOM and HUGHES, Auctioneers and Estate Agents, Angel-court, Throgmorton-st.; and at the Auction Mart.

UPPER HOLLOWAY.—Four substantial brick-built Houses, at low Ground-rents.—By Messrs. VENTOM and HUGHES, at the AUCTION MART, on THURSDAY, July 24, at Twelve, in Two Lots, by Order of the Proprietors.

FOUR newly-erected and substantial Brick-built HOUSES, with Slated roofs, divided from the roads and fore-courts and iron railing, and numbered 1, 2, 6, and 7, Seymour-place, John-street, near the Crown, Upper Holloway, containing each four airy chambers, parlour, kitchen, wash-house, and neat garden, of the annual value of [illegible]l. each; held for a term of 66 years, at a ground-rent of [illegible]l. each. The houses have been built under the superintendence of the proprietors, present a neat and uniform elevation, and commanding extensive views of the surrounding country.

May be viewed: printed particulars had of Mr. Lawrence, No. 6; the Rosemary Branch, Hoxton; of John Scarborough, esq., 19, Tokenhouse-yard; the Auction Mart; of Messrs. VENTOM and HUGHES, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; and of Mr. Brown, Auctioneer, Herne Bay, Kent.

Marine Residence, with Eleven Acres of ornamental Plantations, Gardens, and Paddocks, in Plymouth; and Farms in Egg Buckland, Devonshire, for sale.

TO BE SOLD by AUCTION, by Messrs. WOOD and SON, on MONDAY, the 28th day of July, at the Royal Hotel, Plymouth, precisely at Two o'clock in the afternoon.

Lot 1.—Green Bank, with immediate possession. The villa and grounds are situated at Plymouth, and contain about eleven acres of pasture, gardens, shrubbery, and plantations, within a walled inclosure. The House contains an entrance hall, library, drawing-room, dining-room or picture-gallery, morning-room, conservatories, bath-room, first and second kitchens, servants' hall, and all requisite offices on the ground floor, with extensive cellars under; two staircases, six best bed-rooms, and dressing-room, two water-closets, five servants' rooms, and every domestic arrangement which can be required to render the place fit for the residence of a family of the first respectability. The stable is detached, contains loose boxes and stalls for eight horses, double coach-house, hay-house, granary, and saddle-room, with groom's apartment, the whole inclosed. An abundant supply of excellent spring and soft water. Should this stabling not be required, it could readily be converted into a house or houses, with separate entrances. The estate, whilst it commands uninterrupted views of the Eddystone, Sound, Breakwater, Cawsand Bay, Mount Edgcumbe, and all the adjacent country, is perfectly sheltered, and has a southern aspect. The property forms a most delightful residence, within a short distance of the town end of the intended terminus of the South Devon Railway. It was completed by the proprietor for his own occupation, at a great expense, and is sold in consequence of his having left the neighbourhood.

Lot 2.—An Estate called Skinner's-place, in the parish of Egg Buckland, in the county of Devon, containing about 38 acres, now in the occupation of Mr. John Blake.

Lot 3.—An Estate called Fragmoor, containing about 54 acres, in the occupation of Mr. John Brooking.

Lot 4.—An Estate called Colwell, in Egg Buckland, with the famous Slate Quarry, called Rumple Quarry, containing in the whole about 140 acres. The arable, tillage, and pasture lands are in the occupation of Mr. John Wills, the Quarry and Woods are in hand.

Lot 5.—Three Cottages and a Garden, in Egg Buckland.

Lot 6.—A Cottage and Garden, in the said village.

Lot 7.—The Public-house in the said village, called the New Inn, with the Garden thereto belonging.

Lot 8.—A Cottage, Blacksmith's Shop, and Garden, in the said village.

Lot 9.—A Cottage and Garden, in the said village.

Lot 10.—A Cottage and Garden, in the said village.

Lot 11.—Four Cottages and Gardens, also situated in the said village.

Colwell is within five miles, the other Estates, the Cottages and Inn, are within two miles of Green Bank, and would form a desirable appendage to that Property. The Timber is to be taken at a valuation. The respective tenants will shew the Estates.—Cards of admission to view Green Bank, and further particulars of the whole Property, may be obtained from Mr. Surr, solicitor, 80, Lombard-st. London, or Mr. Elworthy, solicitor, Courtenay-st. Plymouth.

SLOUGH, BUCKS.—To Capitalists and Others.—Superior Freehold and Copyhold Estate, comprising the well-known celebrated Nursery Grounds of Mr. Thos. Brown, offering a most eligible investment.

MR. TEBBOTT has the honour most respectfully to inform the public that he has been favoured with instructions to SUBMIT to COMPETITION the above valuable property, at the Crown Inn, Slough, on THURSDAY, July 31st, 1845, at One for Two o'clock, precisely, in One Lot, by order of the proprietor, who has lately retired from the business in favour of the present occupier, Mr. W. C. Brown, by whom this old-established Nursery, in all its branches, is now carried on in the same spirited manner for which it has been so long celebrated.

The property is of the first-rate description, and contains eight acres (more or less), part Freehold and part Copyhold (tithe-free and land-tax redeemed); with an excellent newly-built Residence in the Italian style, with an admirably arranged interior, finished with superior taste; verandah and lawn in front, inclosed by a neat iron palisade fence; small yard at the back, with a reservoir for rain water; a spacious shop, 37 feet by 15 feet, with loft and counting-house at the back; a conservatory partly of the same dimensions, with corresponding fronts, forming the wings of the house; front and inner yards well inclosed, including three store sheds, cart and packing sheds, two and three stall stables, chaise house, part with lofts, cow-house, and granary over: capital barn, with York stone thrashing-floor, &c. The splendidly arranged gardens are in the highest possible order, and formed into various compartments, intersected by spacious gravel walks, and screened by luxuriant belts, and division fences, of holly, yew, hornbeam, and box, from 6 to 16 feet in height. Numerous greenhouses, propagating ditto, forcing and open pits (part with steam apparatus), potting and fuel sheds, the whole well supplied with fine spring water, &c.; let on lease to a highly respectable tenant at 200l. per annum.

N.B. The dwelling house, out-buildings, greenhouses, &c. stand upon the freehold part, the whole lying extremely compact, and is bounded on the north by land of Wm. Penney, esq. on the west by Mrs. Abbey's estate, on the east with a ... of 160 feet to the Wexham road, and on the south by the turnpike road, to which it has an important frontage of the ... one of the most commanding situations in Slough, within a few minutes walk of the Great Western S... about one mile from Eton, and two from Windsor.

To be ... on of the tenant, of whom particulars may be had, four days prior to the sale; of Wm. Tate, esq. solicitor, 10, Basinghall-st. London; at the Auctioneer's office, Windsor; place of sale; or forwarded by post upon application.

Capital Freehold Residence at Limehouse, for Investment or Occupation.

MESSRS. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, July 24, at Twelve (pursuant to the Will of the late [redacted] Christie, esq.), the substantial brick-built RESIDE[redacted], Albion-terrace, Commercial-road, for many years ... by the testator. The house is one of the best in the vicinity, and possesses all the requisites for the accommodation of a respectable family, whilst as an investment it recommends itself from the circumstance of houses in Albion-terrace being much sought after by principals in the numerous manufacturing and mercantile establishments in the neighbourhood, a fact which is attested by none of them having ever remained many days unoccupied. It is considered that the house in question would immediately let on lease at 65l. per annum.—To be viewed till the sale, and particulars had on the premises; of Robert Ellis, esq. solicitor, Cowper's-court, Cornhill; and at the offices of Messrs. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN, Auctioneers Surveyors, and Estate-agents, 68, Old Broad-street.

Profitable Freehold Investment, near the London and St. Katharine's Docks, with Votes for Middlesex.

MESSRS. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, July 24, at Twelve, in one lot, SIX FREEHOLD HOUSES, in excellent repair, being 22, Cartwright-street, Rosemary-lane, and 1 to 5, Walton's-court adjoining, in the several occupations of Messrs. M'Carthy, Hume, Crocker, Moore, and others, at yearly and monthly rents amounting to 72l. 2s. per annum. The situation of these houses, close to the Docks, will always ensure a regular class of tenants. Mr. Blake, of the King of Prussia Public-house, in Cartwright-street, will shew the houses, and particulars may be had of him; at the Mart; of James Mander, esq. solicitor, 9, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; and at the offices of Messrs. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN, 68, Old Broad-street.

RATCLIFF.—Two Freehold Houses with Shops, and a Warehouse.

MESSRS. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, June 24, at Twelve, in one lot, a desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, in a commanding situation at Ratcliff-cross (facing Butcher-row), consisting of the house No. 55, Broad-street, let to Mr. Fulluck, on a three years' tenancy, at the very low rent of 40l.; No. 54, at present unlet, but of the like value of 40l.; and a warehouse at the rear, let on lease to Mr. Ray, coal owner, at 10l.; making together a secure income of 90l. per annum.—To be viewed by leave of the tenants, and particulars had at No. 54; of George Henderson, Esq. solicitor, 26, Mansell-street; at the Mart; and at the offices of Messrs. HUMPHREYS and WALLEN, auctioneers, surveyors, and estate agents, 68, Old Broad-street.

Periodical Sales (established in the year 1803) of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Policies of Assurance, Advowsons, Next Presentations, Rent Charges in lieu of Tithes, Post-obit Bonds, Tontines, Debentures, Ground Rents, Improved Rents, Shares in Docks, Canals, Mines, Railways, Insurance Companies, and all Public Undertakings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

NECROLOGY.

EARL GREY.

The death of this aged peer took place on Thursday week, at the family residence, Howick Hall, Northumberland, where he had been staying for the last few months with the countess and some of the junior members of the family. The venerable nobleman was in his 82nd year. Some time since the state of the noble earl's health was such as excited the worst fears of the members of his family, but, after a short struggle, he rallied, and was once more enabled, though only for a short time, to join the family. His illness, we believe, was owing to an attack of paralysis. He continued in rather an improved state up to the 12th inst. when he again appeared to droop. On Wednesday he grew considerably worse, and his extreme age, coupled with the violence of the attack, dispelled all further hopes of recovery, and he gradually sank; his medical advisers being still in attendance upon him until a late hour on the Thursday night, when he expired, in the presence of the countess, Viscount Howick (now Earl Grey), the Hon. Capt. Grey, and some of the noble earl's domestics.

Viscount Howick had been in attendance at the House of Commons up to Wednesday, on which day he left for Howick House. Colonel Grey, we believe, only arrived on Friday evening, so that on his arrival he found that the noble earl had expired. The latest accounts received by the Viscountess Howick at her residence in Belgrave-square up to a late hour on Thursday evening, were to the effect, that he was in a most alarming state, and that no hopes were entertained of any further improvement manifesting itself. On Friday morning her ladyship received an express, which announced that her noble father-in-law had been carried off. The illness which thus baffled all medical skill was unaccompanied by excess of pain, and the noble sufferer awaited the approach of his last moments with Christian resignation.

The name of Charles Earl Grey is associated with the recollections of the great men and the memorable events of the bygone generation, and with the many party struggles and politicians of the day.

He was born March 13, 1764, being son of the first Earl Grey, who, when Sir Charles Grey, was a distinguished military commander, having served at the memorable battle of Minden, and at the siege and conquest of Quebec, under General Wolfe. His mother was the daughter of George Gulz, esq., of Southwick. He received his education first at Eton and subsequently at King's College, Cambridge. When but 18, he visited the Continent, and made the tour of several of the European states. He returned to his native country in 1786. In the latter mentioned year he was returned to Parliament for the county of Northumberland, the vacancy having been occasioned by the elevation of Lord Lovain to the Upper House. He had not, however, completed his 21st year until two or three days previous to that on which he took his seat. He almost immediately joined the Whig party, then in opposition under Charles Fox. His first speech was delivered in the debate on Mr. Pitt's commercial treaty with France, and gave presage of the talent by which his long parliamentary career was subsequently distinguished. The oratorical ability which he displayed on this occasion secured him a foremost position in the house, and during the same session, which was his first, he was named one of the managers in the impeachment of Warren Hastings, and from that time he always took a leading part in the debates.

In 1792 Mr. Grey became a member of the Whig Club, and shortly afterwards of the great political confederation known as the "Friends of the People," the avowed object of which was to obtain a reform in the system of parliamentary representation. At the head of this formidable association stood the names of the principal members of the Whig party. Mr. Fox, however, declined to enrol his name among them, observing, "Though I perceive great and enormous abuses, I do not see the remedy." The society, however, continued to grow in numbers and to increase in influence. A series of resolutions, passed at the meetings, and a declaration of the principles and objects of the society, were printed and extensively circulated. On the 30th of April Mr. Grey gave notice, in the House of Commons, of a motion, which, in the course of the next session, he should submit to the consideration of the House, the object of which was a reform in the representation of the people. The debate which arose on the motion when it was brought forward in the following session, and the struggles to which the desire in the country for the attainment of the object gave rise, which were continued for numerous years, are matters of history. The contest was severe and protracted. Its progress was occasionally interrupted by various circumstances; but, like a river, the current of which has received a temporary check, on the removal of the obstructions, the onward course of public opinion was accelerated, and at length became resistless.

In January 1806, Mr. Pitt died, and Mr. Fox was called to the administration of public affairs. Mr. Grey, who by the elevation of his father to the peerage, had become Lord Howick, was appointed First Lord of the Admiralty, with a seat in the cabinet. In October following the country was deprived of the services of Mr. Fox. Lord Howick then became leader of the House of Commons and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. The abolition of the slave-trade was proposed by this administration. The sovereign took alarm at the attempt of the ministers to remove some of the existing disabilities on Roman Catholics, and they were dismissed. Parliament was dissolved. Lord Howick, not choosing to contest the county of Northumberland, took his seat for Appleby. The death of his father, which took place shortly after, removed him to the upper house of Parliament. His lordship now took the title of Earl Grey.

For several years after his succession to the peerage Earl Grey took no very prominent part in public affairs. The abortive attempt of George IV. in 1812, to induce him and Lord Grenville to join the Perceval administration, illustrated the integrity of his principles and the consistency of his conduct. The tragical death of Perceval, who was assassinated by Bellingham shortly after, again opened a path for Lord Grey to place and power. There were, however, difficulties, and the noble lord did not take office.

The retirement of Lord Liverpool, in 1827, placed Mr. Canning at the helm of affairs; Lord Grey declined to support that statesman. His lordship, after the death of Mr. Canning, in a speech on the second reading of the Roman Catholic relief bill, in 1829, justified himself for having declined to extend to the deceased statesman's administration his active support.

Lord Grey took a prominent part in the trial of Queen Caroline before the House of Peers, and distinguished himself in the debates upon that occasion. After this the life of Earl Grey was passed principally in the bosom of his family until the sudden termination of the Wellington administration, in 1830, brought him forth from his retirement to assume the reins of government.

During the four years which he continued in office, he carried parliamentary reform and the abolition of slavery. Since his retirement from office, in 1834, he has taken no part in politics, but has resided principally at Howick, with his family. It is almost impossible for us, his contemporaries, to take a calm and dispassionate view of the career of Earl Grey, but his bitterest political opponents admit that his was essentially a great mind. An elegant orator, a conscientious and high-minded statesman, he carries with him to his grave the veneration of his friends and the respect of those to whom he was politically opposed.

The noble earl married in 1794 the Hon. Mary Elizabeth Ponsonby, only daughter of the first Lord Ponsonby, an Irish peer, and by this lady, who survives him, he leaves a numerous family. He is succeeded to the title and estates by Viscount Howick, M.P. for Sunderland. He was born in 1802, and married in 1832 the youngest daughter of the late Sir Joseph Copley, bart. (she was born in 1803). The noble lord was Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, from 1830 to 1833, was in 1834 Under-Secretary for the Home department, was Secretary at War in 1839, and represented Winchelsea in the parliament of 1826, Higham Ferrars in that of 1830, and the northern division of Northumberland from 1831 to 1841, and was returned for Sunderland in October 1841.—Morning Herald.

LORD BATEMAN.

It is with regret we have to announce the death of Lord Bateman, who expired on the 22nd inst. at the family residence in Portman-square.

The noble lord had been rather unwell since the 13th inst. but not so seriously indisposed as to create the least apprehension as to his recovery. On Sunday afternoon his disorder assumed a more alarming character, and on Monday he gradually became worse, when the medical attendants gave out no hopes of his eventual restoration to health.

The deceased W. Bateman Hanbury, Baron Bateman of Shobdon, county Hereford, in the peerage of the United Kingdom, was eldest son of Mr. W. Hanbury, of Kelmarsh, and Charlotte, daughter of Mr. Charles James Packe. He was born June 24, 1780, and was consequently in his 66th year. His lordship, then Mr. Hanbury, married, August 16, 1822, Elizabeth, second daughter of Lord Spencer Stanley Chichester, brother of the late Marquis of Donegal, by whom, who survives his lordship, he leaves issue three sons and four daughters, his eldest son, the Hon. W. Bateman Hanbury (now Lord Bateman), being in his 20th year.

The late lord represented the borough of Northampton in several parliaments preceding the passing of the Reform Bill, and in 1832 he contested, in conjunction with Viscount Milton (now Earl Fitzwilliam), the representation of the county, in opposition to Lord Brudenell (the Earl of Cardigan) and Mr. Tyson, but was with the latter gentleman rejected. When Viscount Milton was called to the House of Lords, by the death of his father, Earl Fitzwilliam, the late Viscount Milton succeeded, but dying in December 1835, he again unsuccessfully contested the seat with Mr. Thos. P. Maunsell, who was returned by a majority of 600.

In 1837 he was created a peer by Viscount Melbourne. His lordship, on the death of his second cousin, the last Viscount Bateman, whose estates he inherited, took the additional arms and surname of Bateman.

On the death of Earl Somers, in 1841, he was appointed by the then government Lord Lieutenant of Herefordshire, which of course, now at the disposal of the Premier.

By his lordship's demise, the families of Sir S. P. and Lady Micklethwait, Major-General Sir John Hanbury, K.C.H. the Marquis and Marchioness of Donegal, &c. are placed in mourning.

MR. MURRAY, M.P.

Mr. Murray, the member for the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright, whose death occurred this week, will be much and deeply regretted. He was one of the most honourable, upright, high-minded gentlemen in the House of Commons. His political opinions were of the most liberal cast; but he was at the same time perfectly tolerant of those who thought differently from himself, provided he believed them to be sincere. Since he became a member of the House of Commons he has never failed, whenever his health permitted, to attend to his duty, and to give his vote in support of every measure, by whomsoever proposed, that appeared calculated to promote the freedom and well-being of his countrymen. In all the private relations of life he was most admirable. He was at once a safe and a warm friend, a kind and most generous landlord, and an indulgent and liberal master. The improvements he effected at his magnificent seat in the south of Scotland evince the purity of his taste and the elegance of his mind. He was cut off in his 56th year, and has left a blank which few that knew him will be sanguine enough to suppose can be speedily supplied.

MR. E. BOLTON CLIVE, M.P.

We regret to learn that Mr. Edward Bolton Clive, M.P. expired at his son's seat, near Cr[illegible]. He was a Whig in politics, and had for a long series of years represented the city of Hereford in the House of Commons. We understand the honourable member's health had been on the decline ever since the sudden death of Colonel Clive. He was related to the Earl of Powis, being cousin of the last earl.

CORRESPONDENCE.

SMALL DEBTS BILL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LAW TIMES.

SIR,—I have read several letters in the LAW TIMES on the subject of what is there properly termed the objectionable clause (viz. the seventh) of the Small Debts Bill, now on its passage through the House of Commons. From the strenuous opposition raised against it in your paper, I was led to suppose there must be something objectionable in it that I had failed to discover upon first reading it over. Upon taking up your paper last week I perceived another article on the same subject, but taking a different view of the clause from that previously urged. I have since again carefully read over the Bill, and in my humble opinion neither of the constructions before alluded to is the correct one. There is not any thing in the clause that I can find to authorize any persons whatever to practise in the Court of Bankruptcy. The clause is, if I may use the term, a negative clause,—a clause inserted for the purpose of dispensing with some requirement that now exists. The right of barristers and attorneys to practise in the Court of Bankruptcy was given by a previous Act of Parliament.

I cannot look upon the clause as one merely giving to parties in proceedings in the Court of Bankruptcy a right which everybody was before entitled to, of appearing in person in that court. But according to my view of the clause in question, it has a very definitive object and meaning, which I will endeavour shortly to explain. By a rule of the Court of Bankruptcy, made in pursuance and under the authority of the & 6 Vict. c. 116, the signature of an insolvent is required to be attached to each sheet of his petition and schedule, and to be attested by an attorney of the court. In the schedule of the Act before mentioned, the following form of attestation is given:—"Signed, sealed, and delivered by (the insolvent), in the presence of , attorney or agent in the matter of the said petition." This made it necessary for an insolvent, before he presented his petition (a very proper regulation), to employ an attorney or agent to attest his signature to the schedule, which attorney or agent was required by the Act to be the attorney or agent in the matter of the said petition, and it was therefore his duty to see that the petition and schedule were according to the prescribed form. The commissioners decided that attorney or agent in the Act meant the attorney of the insolvent or the agent of the attorney (who must of necessity be an attorney also). It is evident that the rule of the Court of Bankruptcy before mentioned was founded on the same construction of the words attorney or agent. But such construction, it is well known, gave great offence to Lord Brougham, who [illegible] term agent in the Act to mean any person, whether attorney or otherwise, employed by the insolvent Hence this clause, which has been inserted in the Bill for the sole purpose of annulling the rule before mentioned and of upsetting the construction put upon the term "agent" by the commissioners, and of setting up in their stead Lord Brougham's law. Whether the clause, as worded, will have the effect intended is another question. I much doubt if it will have such effect.

There is also another instance in the ninth clause of a like mischievous interference with a well-considered rule of the Court of Bankruptcy; which directs that, before the discharge of an insolvent from custody, the detaining creditor shall have an opportunity of shewing cause against his discharge, which requires also to be narrowly watched.

Should you think these few remarks of any value, you can use them or not, as you please.

I am, Sir, yours obediently,

A BARRISTER.

[There is, after all, between our correspondent and ourself no substantial difference on the subject of his letter. In our leader of last week we stated that the suspicious clause, if interpreted literally, was a superfluity; if construed otherwise, might be detrimental to the interests of the Profession. In either case, we wished to see it struck out, and so, it would seem, does our correspondent.—ED. LAW TIMES.]

MORTGAGE STAMPS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LAW TIMES.

SIR,—In the former discussion on this subject, the following point was, I believe, unnoticed, and as the question now arises in practice, I shall be obliged to any of your experienced conveyancing readers for their opinion.

Where two or more separate mortgages are transferred to a single new mortgagee, or are reconveyed to the mortgagor on being paid off, by one deed, is a single 35s. stamp sufficient, or should there be a 35s. stamp in respect of each mortgage?

My own opinion, founded on the language of the Act, 3 Geo. 4, c. 117, s. 2, is, that a single stamp is not sufficient, but I believe it is opposed to the prevailing practice.

Let me at the same time inquire whether any progressive duty is required on the "reconveyance" of mortgages in Great Britain. It will be observed, that that word is omitted in the clause imposing progressive duty in England, but added as to Ireland. The difference was, no doubt, undesigned, but it exists. I am, Sir, yours, &c.

Lot 10. A Cottage and Garden at Newton, in the occupation of the overseers of Newton; also, a small Croft or Field at Newton, in the occupation of Thomas Oeevers, and two Gardens at Newton adjoining thereto, in the several occupations of Richard Walker and Henry Fairclough.

Lot 11. The Materials and Sites of two old Cottages and a Garden at Newton, with the appurtenances, formerly occupied by Joshua Parsons, which premises adjoin the south-west side of a dwelling-house or cottage belonging to Mr. Leonard Wilkinson, and are in the occupation of Lawrence Marsdon.

The estates lie near the populous market towns of Clitheroe, Gisburn, and Settle, and within a short distance from the intended Clitheroe Junction, the North-Western, and the Manchester, Liverpool, and Great North of England Union Railways, and comprise several compact and very desirable farms, containing altogether 583 acres, 2 roods, and 8 perches, or thereabouts, statute measure, together with the wastes and waste lands, and rights of common, common of pasture, and turbary.

The respective tenants will shew the estates, and further information may be obtained of Mr. Henry Smith, of Boothstown, Worsley, near Manchester, cotton-spinner; Messrs. John Ashworth and Sons, Turton, near Bolton; and of Mr. George Whitehead, or Messrs. T. A. and J. GRUNDY, Solicitors, Bury, Lancashire, of whom may be had printed particulars and lithographic plans of the property.

FAMILY MANSION and LANDS,

Upper Deal, Kent. For SALE by AUCTION, by Messrs. SPAIN and CASTLE, at the Royal Hotel in Deal, on the 31st July, 1845, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, in nine lots.

Lot 1. A singularly desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, at Upper Deal, consisting of a substantial family mansion, known as Upper Deal House, comprising handsome entrance-hall, with marble floor in mosaic, fine old staircase, excellent dining-room and breakfast parlour opening on the lawn, good drawing-room, very superior bed-rooms, and dressing-rooms attached, servants' rooms, laundry, spacious kitchen, butler's pantry, water-closet, and all other necessary domestic offices, coach-house, stabling, dovecote, and poultry-yard, and numerous out-buildings. Together with two very productive kitchen gardens, large fruit garden, beautiful lawn and pleasure grounds surrounded with a profusion of evergreen shrubs, interspersed with fine clipped holly, laurel, and yew hedges, in the old style, and the whole laid out with considerable taste. Likewise a large inclosure of paddock or meadow land and orchard ground in park style, dotted with trees, and belted on two sides with a fine row of thriving forest trees, and on the other two sides by lofty walls. The mansion-house and the lands, which contain by admeasurement 8a. 3r. 2p. little more or less, are in one inclosure. The house, which opens on the lawn, has a fine view in that direction over the property, and commands from other parts extensive land and sea views. The land is of the best quality, and the estate is adapted for the reception of a family of the first respectability, and, although retired, is within a short mile of the town of Deal, and the same distance from Deal and Walmer Castle, in a neighbourhood the most respectable, and in a place remarkable for its salubrity. The estate is now, and has been for many years, the residence of James Cooper, esq.

Lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, comprise several pieces of very superior Arable and Meadow Land, adjoining and contiguous to Lot 1, containing altogether about 12a. 2r. 26p. and all freehold except about 2a. 2r. 29p. which is leasehold, and held under his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The above estates produce a clear rental of 150*l*. per annum, and present a very desirable opportunity for investment.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Mercer and Edwards, solicitors, Deal; or to Mr. Mercer, solicitor, Ramsgate; or Messrs. Austen and Hobson, solicitors, Raymond-buildings, Gray's-inn, London; at whose offices maps of the estates can be seen, and of whom particulars, with plans, can be obtained seven days prior to the sale.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, August 7	Thursday, November 6
Thursday, September 4	Thursday, December 4.
Thursday, October 2

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and [illegible]dition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully call the attention of the capitalists and agriculturists to the SALE of FREEHOLD ESTATES at Mayfield, Sussex, particulars of which may be obtained at their offices, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

FULLER and MARSH, Charlotte row, Mansion-house.

Essex Lodge, Brixton-Rise, Surrey, the much admired residence of the late Daniel Higley Richardson, Esq. Possession may be had on the completion of the purchase.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been honoured with instructions from the executors of the above deceased gentleman to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, August 7, at Twelve (unless in the meantime an acceptable offer be made by private contract), the above singularly attractive VILLA RESIDENCE, most delightfully situate a short distance from the road, on the most [illegible] part of Brixton-Rise, erected within a few years at a considerable outlay and regardless of expense, and much ingenuity and taste have been displayed in its exterior and interior arrangements. The house is of handsome elevation, and most conveniently and admirably adapted for the reception of a gentleman's family; coach-house, stabling, pleasure-grounds, and kitchen garden. This eligible estate, either for occupation or investment, is held for an unexpired term of 92 years, at a low ground rent.—Particulars may be obtained of H. F. Richardson, esq. solicitor, 36, Coleman-street, at the Auction Mart, and cards to view, of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land Agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

KENT.—A beautiful Freehold Estate, about 13 miles from Town, with an extensive Right of Fishing in the river Cray.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on THURSDAY, August 21, at Twelve, a beautiful PROPERTY, called Vale Mascall, situate on the high road from Foot's Cray and North Cray to Bexley, by which it is on one side bounded, and also by the river Cray. Vale Mascall House is a residence replete with accommodation for a gentleman's establishment, every regard to comfort and convenience being studied in an unusual degree; is situate in a pleasing lawn sloping to the river Cray, a clear, rapid, sparkling trout-stream, which for a considerable distance margins the property, and which affords first-rate amusement, from the quantities and qualities of its trout, &c. The house contains handsome reception rooms, excellent bed-chambers, and superior offices, and with pleasure grounds, gardens, and land, altogether exceeds 14 acres. It is in every respect a charming property, in the district of the Crays, surrounded by choice society.—Particulars may be had of Messrs. HEDGER, Land-agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

SOUTHILL PARK, BERKS.—To be Sold by Private Contract, by

MESSRS. ADAM, MURRAY, and SON, the desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE of Southill Park, eligibly situated five miles from Windsor Great Park, and within a short distance from Bagshot and Ascot Heath. This Estate, which was formerly occupied by the late Right Honourable George Canning, and is now vested in the Trustees of the late Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, comprises a NOBLE MANSION, seated in a Park of about 200 acres, which is watered by a running stream, and ornamented by beautiful upper and lower lakes and cascades; stately oak, chesnut, and other trees of luxuriant foliage; lawn and flower-gardens, walled fruit and kitchen-gardens, with 150 feet of glass in grape and pine succession houses, gardener's house, sheds, melon-ground, &c. There are attached offices of all descriptions, with every convenience for the accommodation of a numerous establishment. Capital farm-yard, barn, sheds, pigstyes, bullock sheds, granary, waggon and cart sheds, and other agricultural buildings, all in good repair. The Estate, including the Park, consists of 765*a.* 1*r.* 32*p.* of arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, partly in a high state of cultivation, and partly consisting of thriving plantations. For further particulars apply to Willoughby Rockham, esq. solicitor, 46, Lincoln's-inn-fields, or Messrs. ADAM, MURRAY, and SON, Surveyors and Land Agents, 35, Craven-street, Strand.

SIMPSON has received directions from the Proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the Bull Inn, Woodbridge, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Two o'clock in the afternoon, in lots, the following valuable PROPERTY:—A desirable Farm, situate in the parish of Grandisburgh. It comprises 112 acres of superior arable and pasture land, a convenient farm-house, and appropriate agricultural buildings, in the occupation of Mr. Henry Manby, a most excellent tenant, at the low rent of 140*l.* per annum. A desirable Farm, situate in the parishes of Burgh and Clopton, a short distance from the last lot, comprising an excellent farm-house, garden, two cottages, and conveniently-arranged agricultural buildings, together with 103 acres of productive arable and meadow land, in the occupation of Mr. John Wood, a most respectable tenant, at a rent of 150*l.* per annum. A desirable small Farm, in the parish of Burgh, nearly adjoining the last, containing 36 acres of fertile arable, pasture, and meadow land, together with a cottage and farm buildings, &c. in the occupation of Mr. Wm. Wright, a very respectable tenant, at a rent of 63*l.* per annum. The farms may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may be obtained on application to John Wood, jun. esq. solicitor, Woodbridge; John Richard Wood, esq. solicitor, 1, Hare-court, Temple; Henry Waid, esq. 51, Lincoln's-inn-fields; White Horse, Ipswich; at the place of sale; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

Kennington-street, Walworth. — Eligible Investment.— Three genteel Residences, with good gardens.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, on WEDNESDAY, August 6, at Twelve, in one lot, THREE genteel RESIDENCES, with good gardens in the rear, pleasantly situate Nos. 85, 86, and 87, Kennington-street, Walworth, in the parish of St. Mary, Newington. No. 85 is in the occupation of the proprietor, who is willing to rent the same at 35*l.* per annum, and Nos. 86 and 87 are let to respectable tenants at an annual rent of 52*l.* making in the whole a rental of 87*l.* per annum. They are held for an unexpired term of sixty-two years from Lady-day last, at a ground-rent of 10*l.* 10*s.* The situation of this property is one of the most improving near London, and the houses are well adapted for the occupation of those whose avocations require their daily attendance in London, to which place omnibuses are running every five minutes. The houses may be viewed, and particulars may be obtained at the Mart, and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

IRELAND.
Just published, Second Edition, price One Shilling,

A DEFENCE of the LANDLORDS of IRELAND, with Remarks on the Relation between Landlord and Tenant, and a Postscript, containing an Extract from a Speech of the Right Hon. the Earl of Devon referring to the condition of Ireland.

By W. W. SIMPSON,
Member of the Royal Dublin Society.

JOHN OLLIVIER, 59, Pall-mall, London; MACHEN and Co. Westmoreland-st. Dublin; and to be had of all Booksellers.

(Extract from the Times of 9th November, 1844.)

"Mr. W. W. Simpson, the well-known and deservedly respected auctioneer and land valuator, has recently published a pamphlet, entitled 'A Defence of the Landlords of Ireland, with remarks on the Relation between Landlord and Tenant.' The Dublin Evening Packet, in reviewing this work, gives the following character of its author:—' Mr. Simpson, we scarcely need remind our readers, is an Englishman of vast experience in matters relating to the improvement and value of land in his own country. He is, moreover, a gentleman of most comprehensive views, and possesses an understanding naturally strong, and a stock of practical knowledge and sterling sense which falls to the lot of very few persons in his own or any other rank of life. With the social condition of Ireland he has made it his business, almost as a matter of necessity, to make himself thoroughly acquainted. He feels for her wants, and has contributed as much perhaps as any man in his time to improve her resources, by encouraging the investment of British capital in every department of Irish industry. Such a witness as this we therefore hold to be beyond the reach of suspicion on the score either of interest or partiality. His testimony must be regarded as invaluable, as it is unquestionably unimpeachable.' "

SUFFOLK, in the town and port of Woodbridge.—Desirable Residences and Land.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from the Proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the Bull Inn, Woodbridge, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Two in the afternoon, in lots, the following desirable PROPERTY:—Four valuable inclosures of highly-productive pasture and arable accommodation Land, lying close to the town, containing about 12 acres, and let on lease to Mr. Henry Fiske, for an unexpired term of five years from October, 1844, at a rent of 40*l.* per annum. T. W. NELSON,
Gresham-place, Lombard-street.

IRELAND.—In the counties of Galway and Mayo.—Valuable Fee Simple Estates, comprising 2,170 statute acres, in the occupation of a respectable tenantry, at a very low rental.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Commercial-buildings, Dublin, in the month of November next, the following exceedingly desirable FEE SIMPLE ESTATES:—The lands of Corballey Blaney, eligibly situate midway between the excellent market-towns of Galway and Tuam, about eight miles distant from each town, containing 679 statute acres of productive arable and pasture land, including a considerable tract of turlough or bottom, yielding excellent herbage for black cattle and sheep. There are only seven tenants on the estate, who hold chiefly on leases. The lands of Cahernahoon, situate near the last, but a mile nearer to the town of Galway, comprising 175 statute acres of equally productive land, let on leases to good tenants. The lands of Barneville, advantageously situate within a mile of Kilconnell, only five from the great town of Ballinasloe (where the largest cattle fair in the kingdom is held), 16 from Galway. They consist of 345 statute acres of excellent tillage and grazing land, chiefly in the occupation of one tenant, who has a lease, and farms the land remarkably well. Also the lands of Crimlin Boulaboy, and Course Park, situate four miles from Claremorris, three from Ballindangan, and six from Dunmore, comprising 970 statute acres of excellent arable and pasture land, including about 100 ... of bog, in the occupation of good tenants, who hold chiefly on leases. The soil of the above estates is of a kindly description, being on a limestone substratum, and produces excellent corn and green crops. The lands are surrounded by good roads and markets, and occupied by an unexceptionable tenantry, who pay their rents with great punctuality. The estates may be viewed; and particulars, with plans annexed, may shortly be had of Thomas Bermingham, esq. Caramana, near Kilconnell; of Frederick Sutton, esq. solicitor, 19, Kildare street, Dublin; at the place of sale; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, Bucklersbury, London.

SUFFOLK.—Desirable Estate between Beccles and Lowestoffe, consisting of a very complete Family Residence, excellent Farm-houses, Cottages, and Agricultural Buildings, together with upwards of 920 acres of rich Arable, Pasture, productive Wood, and Plantation Land, abundantly stocked with game, lying within a ring fence.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the Executors of the late John Cooper, esq. to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, London, on WEDNESDAY, August 6, at Twelve, in one lot, the following valuable and desirable PROPERTY, designated the North Cove Hall Estate, situate on the high road from Beccles to Lowestoffe. It consists of an excellent residence, with ample accommodation for a family of a high class, coach-house, stabling, and complete domestic offices, a productive walled-in kitchen garden, and upwards of 920 acres of arable, pasture, and marsh land; including also about 70 acres of wood and carrs, forming excellent preserves for the game, which abounds on the estate in great variety. The arable and pasture surfaces are generally of a deep staple and highly productive. The estate is divided into desirable farms, and let to a most respectable and improving tenantry, at rents (including the estimated rental of the mansion and lands in hand) amounting to 1,561*l.* per annum. The mansion is seated on a lawn, approached by a carriage-drive in front, and surrounded by grounds of park-like appearance, studded with ornamental timber, and the pleasure grounds are tastefully laid out, and pleasingly varied with plantations of trees, evergreens, and flowering shrubs. The above property forms one of the most perfect and best-circumstanced estates (for its extent) in this country. The mansion, farm-houses, cottages, and buildings are all in an excellent state of repair. The estate is distant three miles from Beccles, six from Lowestoffe, and twenty-one from Norwich, which is within about half an hour's ride from Yarmouth by the railway; and the navigable river Waveney, from Beccles to the sea, bounds the estate for nearly a mile, and affords excellent fishing. The property may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may be obtained of Messrs. Margetson and Hartcup, solicitors, Bungay; Messrs. Stevens, Wilkinson, and Satchell, solicitors, 6, Queen-street, Cheapside; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

IRELAND.—County of Antrim.—One of the most improving and extensive Fee Simple Estates in the United Kingdom, containing 50,000 acres, the greater part situate in the manufacturing district of the county.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the Right Hon. the Earl of Mountcashel to SUBMIT to public COMPETITION, at Belfast, several extensive and exceedingly valuable FEE SIMPLE ESTATES, containing in the whole a surface of 50,000 acres, a large portion of which consists of productive meadow, pasture, and arable land, and the remainder fuel and reclaimable bog, mountain, &c.: the greater part is situate in the manufacturing district of the county of Antrim, and in the occupation of an opulent, respectable, and chiefly Protestant tenantry, many of whom hold under old leases at head-rents, on the falling in of which a very large increase of rental will accrue. The rents at present amount to between 11,000*l.* and 12,000*l.* per annum, exclusive of the castle and demesne, which is in hand. Descriptive particulars will (after a survey has been made by Mr. Simpson) be published, and may then be obtained of Messrs. Reeves and Sons, solicitors, Merrion-square, Dublin; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

In the county of Donegal, 10 miles from Derry.—Desirable Estate, comprising upwards of 4,000 statute acres.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from the Proprietor to offer for SALE by AUCTION, in the month of November next, desirable ESTATES, comprising the Four Quarter Lands of Bally-...n, Gortlick, Sharragore, and Teneduff, containing in the whole upwards of 4,000 statute acres, eligibly situate in the barony of Ennishowen, about 10 miles from Derry, in the county of Donegal. Further descriptive advertisements will shortly appear, and particulars may in due time be obtained on application to M. Lloyd, esq. London-street, Derry; of William Elliot, esq. Strabane; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

SUFFOLK, near Woodbridge.—Compact and desirable Farm, comprising 53 acres of superior land.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from the Proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the Bull Inn, Woodbridge, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Two o'clock in the afternoon, a compact ESTATE, eligibly situate in the parishes of Debach and Charsfield, about four miles and a half from the market-town and port of Woodbridge. It comprises a small farm-house, barn, and agricultural buildings, together with 53 acres of land, of which 43 are arable and the remainder pasture; in the occupation of Mr. John Payne, a very respectable yearly tenant, at a rent of 73*l.* 10*s.* per annum. The estate may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may be obtained on application to John Wood, jun. esq. solicitor, Woodbridge; John Richard Wood, esq. solicitor, 1 Hare-court, Temple; Henry Ward, esq. 51, Lincoln's Inn-fields; White-horse, Ipswich; at the place of sale; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

SUFFOLK, within two miles and a half of Woodbridge.—A valuable estate, comprising 141 acres of excellent Land, with farm-house, &c.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received directions from the Proprietor to SELL by AUCTION, at the Bull Inn, Woodbridge, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Two in the afternoon, a desirable ESTATE, situate in the parish of Bromeswell, about two miles and a half from the market-town and port of Woodbridge. It comprises a convenient farm-house, large garden, and suitable agricultural buildings, together with 141 acres of land, of which 85 acres are arable, and the remainder meadow and pasture. The farm is in the occupation of Mr. Thos. Gross, tenant from year to year, at the low rent of 100*l.* per annum. The estate, of which 107 acres are freehold, and the remainder copyhold, is surrounded by excellent roads, and affords partridge shooting in abundance. The property may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may be obtained on application to John Wood, jun. esq. solicitor, Woodbridge; John Richard Wood, esq. solicitor, 1, Hare-court, Temple; Henry Ward, esq. 51, Lincoln's-inn-fields; White Horse, Ipswich; at the place of sale; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

LINCOLNSHIRE.—Extensive and highly valuable Freehold Estate, containing near 2,200 Acres, situate near Brigg; together with the valuable Advowson and Next Presentation to the Rectory of Broughton, producing upwards of 1,100*l.* per annum, exclusive of the mansion and glebe.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON will SELL by AUCTION, by direction of the heirs of the late Ellys Anderson Stephens, esq. and their trustees, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, August 28, at Twelve, in one lot, an extensive and highly valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, eligibly situate in the parish of Broughton, about three miles from Brigg. It comprehends nearly 2,200 acres of generally fertile arable, pasture, carr, and wood land. Those surfaces which are designated Carr Lands are of a very powerful and productive description. Also the Manor of Broughton, with the manorial rights appertaining thereto. The property is bounded by the estates of the Earl of Yarborough on the west (whose fox-hounds are kennelled in the neighbourhood), Sir John Nelthorpe on the south, Charles Winn, esq. on the north, and on the east by T. G. Corbutt, esq.'s lands. The estate, therefore, is highly eligible, and peculiarly adapted to field sports in all their varieties, as the woods which form the coverts are of great extent, and adjoin those of a proprietary who preserve so strictly that a constant stream of game must always supervene, independent of any small expense which the proprietor might choose to incur for direct preservation. There are four woods on the estate, three of which, from their magnitude, namely, the East and Far Woods (nearly adjoining) and West Wood, containing respectively 161, 95, and 169 acres—would each command some of the finest pheasant shooting in the kingdom; added to which, the growing timber and coppice woods yield a certain annual revenue. There are very agreeable sites for the erection of a shooting lodge or lodges.

With the above will be sold the PERPETUAL ADVOWSON and NEXT PRESENTATION to the valuable RECTORY of BROUGHTON, situate about three miles from Brigg, consisting of a splendid and most complete modern Residence, with gardens, pleasure-grounds, &c. together with 94*a.* 1*r.* 20*p.* of glebe-land, and the tithe commutation rent charge, amounting to upwards of 1,100*l.* per annum. The parish contains 16,912 acres. The Rev. Thomas Booth Wright, the present incumbent, is in his 30th year, and the population is about 900. Mr. Simpson will be open to offers for the entire estate till within fourteen days of the day which may be fixed for the Auction. The property may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may shortly be obtained on application to Mr. James Marshall, at Broughton; Messrs. Sperling and Harris, solicitors, Hatlstead; Messrs. Longmore and Sworder, solicitors, Hertford; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

Periodical Sales (established in the year 1803) of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Policies of Assurance, Advowsons, Next Presentations, Rent Charges in lieu of Tithes, Post-obit Bonds, Tontines, Debentures, Ground Rents, Improved Rents, Shares in Docks, Canals, Mines, Railways, Insurance Companies, and all Public Undertakings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

Friday, Aug. 1.	Friday, Nov. 7.
" Sept. 5.	" Dec. 5.
" Oct. 3.

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

STAFFORDSHIRE.—Most Important and Valuable Estates of about 2,000 acres, with an inexhaustible extent of superior Coal, capital and extensive Flint and Pottery Mills, Lime Kilns, &c. offering an influential and first-rate Investment for any great capitalist, and also a fine and beautiful estate for residence, with mansion, manor, woods, plantations, and fishery.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned by the mortgagees of the property to offer for PUBLIC SALE, at the Auction Mart, in the City of London, on TUESDAY, August 26, in Two lots (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made) the fine and truly important FREEHOLD ESTATES of Consall and Woodhead, within a short distance of the towns of Cheadle and Leek, and only 18 miles from Buxton, containing about 2,000 acres. The estates consist of the manor, well stocked with game, fishery, fish-ponds, beautiful woods and plantations well stored with thriving oak, and several valuable farms surrounding the mansion of Consall Hall, and containing in all upwards of 1,800 acres. This estate is tithe-free, extra-parochial, and, except one small farm, exonerated of land-tax. It is partly bounded by the river Churnet, and the Trent and Mersey Canal, within a few miles of Alton Towers, the splendid seat of the Earl of Shrewsbury; and added to the great many recommendations of this fine property is the incalculable value of the minerals, about 1,600 acres containing ascertained strata or mines of superior coal, which were opened by the late proprietor of the estate, veins of iron stone, with railroads completed to the canal and turnpike roads, and very superior brick earth; and, also, at a desirable distance from the residence, several first-rate flint and pottery mills, lime works, &c. most substantially and admirably constructed, chiefly of stone and iron, with an immense power of water; stone quarries and wharfs. The estimated value of the property is near 6,000*l.* per annum, with great prospective increase. The proposed Manchester railroad through the Churnet Valley will pass almost close to the boundary of the estate, and the Whitmore station on the London and Liverpool line of railway is only about 16 miles distant. The Mortgagees are ready to receive offers for the whole or any parts of the property. Particulars with plans will be immediately issued, and every information may be obtained of Messrs. Jenkyns and Phelps, Solicitors, 14, Red Lion-square, London; at the Mart; at the Midland Counties Herald Office, and the chief inns at Birmingham, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Stafford, Stone, Cheadle, Shrewsbury, and Wolverhampton; of Mr. Edwin Heaton, of Leek; and of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, London, where plans of the estates may be inspected.

The LEE GRANGE ESTATE and MANOR, in the Vale of AYLESBURY, between that and the other Market-towns of Buckingham, Winslow, and Bicester.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned to announce that some time in August next will be submitted to PUBLIC SALE (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made), the above very valuable and famous FREEHOLD DAIRY and GRAZING ESTATE; comprising nearly the whole hamlet of Shipton Lee, close to Quainton, and within a few miles of Aylesbury and Buckingham; consisting of several capital dairy farms, with suitable houses and homesteads, in the hands of highly respectable tenants, with some beautiful woodlands, full of thriving young oak, and abounding with game, comprising in a ring fence nearly 1,300 acres, chiefly rich grass land, and embracing the Grange Hill, one of the most prominent and beautiful features of the neighbourhood. The annual value of this fine property is about 2,000*l.* exempt from land-tax, and almost from tithes.

Further particulars will be shortly published; and in the interim information may be had of Messrs. Whitmore, Romieu, and Walters, 9, Lincoln's inn; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land-agents, &c. in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, and Windsor.

IN ROMNEY MARSH. Capital Freehold Grazing Farms offering most eligible Investments particularly for Trustees and others looking to Income without the Drawback of Repairs or Timber.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on —— August, in Lots, nearly 580 acres of rich FREEHOLD GRAZING LAND, in Romney Marsh, near the towns of Lydd and New Romney, all let to yearly but highly respectable tenants, at low rents; viz. an estate called Derings, in the occupation of Mr. Stephen Terry, jun.; a farm in the parish of Ivy Church, in the occupation of Mr. George Foord; an estate called Bird Kitchen Land, occupied by Mr. Francis Finn; and another farm in the occupation of Mr. John Prescott, both lying near the town of Lydd; and about 50 acres of rich marsh-land near the town of New Romney, in the occupation of Mr. William Hoskins, with several detached parcels of fertile marsh and arable land; the whole presumed to be of the value of 1,000*l.* per annum.

The estates may be viewed by permission of the tenants; and particulars with plans had in due time at the inns in New Romney, Lydd, Hythe, Rye, &c.; of Mr. Mortimer, solicitor, in the Albany, Piccadilly; of Mr. Austin, solicitor, Canterbury; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land-agents and Surveyors, in Waterloo-place, Pall mall.

HAZELBY, near HIGHCLERE and NEWBURY, a highly picturesque and healthy part of Hants, next Berkshire.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Twelve (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made by Private Contract), the above desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, situate at East Woodhay, within four miles of the town of Newbury; comprising a modern compact residence, with good stabling, cottages, and other conveniences, delightfully placed in the centre of about 60 or 100 acres (at the option of the purchaser) of very finely-timbered park-like grounds, a beautiful wood with old oaks and underwood, adjoining the lawn. The grounds are undulated, well watered, and the house commands a great extent of the magnificent and varied scenery of High Clere and Hampstead Marshall, the splendid seats of Lords Carnarvon and Craven. It is a very productive loamy soil, and the neighbourhood and roads are of the best description. The house has been recently decorated, and immediate possession may be had. For cards to view and particulars apply to Mr. Pinnaker, solicitor, Newbury; and to treat, to Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Waterloo-place, Pall-mall.

Near TAUNTON.—Sidbrook, one of the most admired and ...... Residences, on a moderate scale, in this beautiful and desirable neighbourhood, with two rich and picturesque Farms, all freehold.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will submit to PUBLIC SALE, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on · August, at Twelve, in Three Lots unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made by Private Contract), SIDBROOK HOUSE, with its beautiful pleasure-grounds and extensive walks, walled garden, stabling, ornamental lodge, and conservatory; together with Sidbrook and Overton manor farms, delightfully situated near the picturesque village of West Monkton, within three miles of Taunton, and seven of Bridgewater, and only one hour's journey from Exeter, two from Bath and Bristol, and five from London. The estate comprises an elegant villa, erected about twenty years since upon a beautiful and elevated spot, commanding extensive scenery on all sides, embracing the magnificent vale and town of Taunton, the Wellington and Chatham pillars, and other interesting and grandly contrasted objects. The home farm consists of about 115 acres of rich meadow, orchard, and arable land, with a respectable farm-house and buildings of all kinds, and every part of the property in most complete order. Overton farm is on the other side of the village, and consists of a beautifully situated superior farm-house and homestead, and about 125 acres of rich orchard, meadow, and arable land; and Higher Sidbrook farm comprises about 49 acres of excellent land, with bailiff's cottage, barn, ox-sheds, &c.—The estate cannot be viewed without an order, which may be had of Messrs. Druce and Son, solicitors, Billiter-square, City; of William Kinglake, esq. solicitor, Taunton; and of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land-agents and Surveyors, Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, who are alone authorized to treat for the property.

Beautifully situate Tithe-free Estate, in the vicinity of Chertsey, St. Ann's-hill, and Virginia Water, known as the ... Burrow Hills, presenting a delightful site for the erection of a Villa.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON offer for PUBLIC SALE, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Twelve unless previously disposed of by private contract), a singularly healthy spot for a residence, consisting of a highly picturesque and delightfully situated little DOMAIN of about 100 acres, possessing rare natural beauties, particularly the bold undulations from which it takes its name, judiciously embellished by plantations in a very thriving state, and commanding on all sides very extensive and finely varied scenery. It is chiefly freehold, with a small portion copyhold of equal value. It is approached by capital roads; ... surrounded by numerous gentlemen's seats and objects of interest; only three miles from the town of Chertsey, and five from the Weybridge station on the South-ampton Railway, making only 1½ hours' journey from London; within a pleasant drive of Windsor, Virginia Water, and Ascot, with several packs of hounds in the neighbourhood, and within a walk of the River Wey and the Thames, affording excellent fishing. There is a small cottage and farm-buildings on the property, and it abounds with game, being in the midst of extensive preserves. There is brick-earth on the estate, and good water, with every attraction for building. It may be viewed at any time, and particulars with plans had of D. Grazebrook, esq. solicitor, Chertsey; at the neighbouring inns; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, and Windsor.

On the bank of the Thames, between Windsor and Maidenhead. A Compact Modern Mansion, on a gentle elevation commanding a fine view of the Castle and the Scenery of the River ... led by about seventeen acres of very rich pasture and meadow land.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on THURSDAY, July 31, at Twelve (unless an acceptable offer should be previously made by Private Contract), a handsome FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, on a most comfortable scale, within two miles of Windsor, known as "The Hatch," on which considerable sums have been lately expended in improvements and decorative repair, the whole being in the most perfect order. The house is modern and compact, containing rooms of excellent size and proportions, and ample accommodation for a large family, newly built stables, hothouse and conservatory, productive gardens and lawns with gravelled walks, and a rich park-like paddock, ornamentally timbered and belted by plantation; also a capital meadow of seven acres, divided merely by the road, and extending a considerable distance ... magnificent reach of the Thames, affording good boating and fishing. The purchaser may have the modern and handsome furniture at a fair valuation, with immediate possession, on the completion of the purchase. It may be viewed with cards, which, with particulars, may be had at Messrs. SMITH'S Offices, in Waterloo place, Pall-mall, and Windsor, particulars may also be had at the Mart; and at the libraries, Maidenhead, Reading, &c.; also of Messrs. SMITH and ALLISTONS, Solicitors, Warnford-court, Throgmorton-street, City.

In a favourite and beautiful part of Devonshire.—Sandford Orleigh, a delightful Residence, close to the town of Newton Abbott, 16 miles from Exeter, now within 10 hours' journey of London.

It is pleasantly situated at the western entrance of the village, within an easy distance of the church and chapel. It commands some beautiful scenery, upon a most healthy dry soil, only two miles on the London side from the town of Staines, seven from Windsor, and fifteen miles from Hyde Park-corner, and a railroad projected by Staines. Good fishing and hounds in the immediate neighbourhood.—The estate can only be viewed with cards, which may be had at Messrs. SMITH'S Offices, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall; Particulars may also be had of Messrs. Rogers, solicitors, Manchester-buildings, Westminster.

DORSETSHIRE.—The very beautiful and important ESTATE of CASTLE-HILL, near the picturesque Village and Church of Buckland Newton, with an elegant Mansion, valuable Manors, and a remarkably rich Domain of about 1,350 Acres, consisting of capital Dairy and other Farms, in excellent order and repair, finely timbered, and intersected by Brooks and ornamental Covers and Plantations, abounding with Fish and Game.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are instructed to submit to SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on TUESDAY, August 26, at Twelve (unless previously disposed of by Private Contract), the above singularly beautiful and very valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, the greater part rich grass land, situate between Cerne Abbas, Sherborne, and Dorchester, in the centre of Mr. Farquharson's hunt; comprising a handsome, substantial, and truly comfortable mansion, one of the most admired and favourite seats in the county, of an elegant uniform elevation, designed by Sir William Chambers, and in most excellent order, with suitable offices, excellent stabling, extensive and delightful pleasure-grounds and shrubberies, embellished with a superb variety of timber, ornamental water, grotto, &c. most luxuriant walled gardens, vinery, and conservatory, surrounded by bold park-like paddocks, embracing a celebrated Roman station, and commanding on all sides the most magnificent scenery, extending over the vale of Blackmoor into several counties, together with about 1,350 acres (exclusive of the commons within the manors), with convenient farm-houses and homesteads, keeper's and gardener's cottages, and an inn well known to sportsmen as Revels Inn, upon the Dorchester turnpike-road. The whole let to highly respectable tenants, at low rents, but of the estimated annual value of 2,250*l.* offering a most solid and superior investment for capital, and a very complete and delightful residence. The estate cannot be viewed without an order, and will be shewn by Mr John Foot, of Glanvill's Wootton.—An order, with particulars and plans, may be obtained of Mr. Lambert, Burghfield, near Reading; of Messrs. Dawes and Sons, solicitors, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; or at the offices of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, and Windsor, who are authorized to treat for the same.

VALUABLE FREEHOLD and TITHE-FREE ESTATE, in the parish of Cartmel, for SALE. —To be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. WILLIAM KILSHAW, at the Crown Hotel, Grange, in the parish of Cartmel, in the northern division of the county of Lancaster, on FRIDAY, the 8th day of August, 1845, at Four o'clock in the afternoon precisely (subject to such conditions of sale as will be then and there produced), all that valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, comprising a farm called Wyke, with Humphrey Head, and Rough Holme, situate in the said parish of Cartmel, containing 148a. 1r. 11p. of excellent arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land (be the same more or less), divided into convenient inclosures, with substantial homesteads and out-buildings, in a good state of repair; likewise a pew in Flookburgh Church. Upon the estate, and issuing from a projecting limestone rock called Humphrey Head, there is a medicinal spring known as the Holy Well, celebrated for its beneficial properties. The water upon analysis is found to contain 18 grains of sulphate of lime, two grains of sulphate of magnesia, and 49 grains of muriate of soda, in each pint. The whole of the estate is well watered and timbered (there being about 24 acres of wood land), and is situate on the beautiful estuary of Morecambe Bay, within ten miles of Windermere Lake, two from Cartmel, and eight from the market town of Ulverstone. The above very desirable property affords an excellent opportunity for investment and speculation, the farm being in a high state of cultivation, whilst the Holy Well Spa in the hands of parties desirous of affording accommodation to visitors by the erection of a convenient hotel, it is confidently submitted, would be found to possess attraction for the valetudinarian that would speedily lead to its becoming a spa of great resort, and be found a source of considerable profit to the proprietor. The estate is exonerated from tithes and land-tax, and has, in addition to its other advantages, a right of turbary upon 4a. 2r. of Ellerside Moss. Mr. John Bell, the tenant, will shew the estate, and plans may be seen and further particulars obtained at the office of Messrs. W. R. and H. A. Gregg, solicitors, Kirkby Lonsdale; S. Seddon Smith, esq. solicitor, Liverpool; Messrs. Mitton and Nealor, solicitors, 23, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane, London; and at the offices of Messrs. Smithson and Jackson, solicitors, Malton, Yorkshire.

VOL. V. No. 122.] SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1845.

Money Wanted.

MONEY.—Wanted, 7,000*l.* for a term of seven or ten years, on Mortgage of FREEHOLD ESTATES over ample value, for which Five per Cent. interest will be given.

Particulars may be had on application to Mr. WITHERS, Solicitor, Church-house, Holt, Norfolk.

MONEY.—IRISH INVESTMENTS.—Wanted, the sum of 42,000*l.* and two sums of 10,000*l.* each, at Four per Cent. on valuable and adequate fee-simple landed property, of between 3,000*l.* and 4,000*l.* per annum, situate in the County and City of Dublin. Title unexceptionable.

Apply, by letter, to Mr. M'GRATH, 30, Rutland-square, Dublin.

N.B.—None but principals need apply.

MONEY.—The Advertiser, having a clear title to freehold property producing upwards of 3,000*l.* per annum, but being wrongfully kept out of possession, and unable to afford means to enable him to recover the same, wishes to meet with a GENTLEMAN who will ASSIST him. He proposes to give 500*l.* for every 100. advanced.

Every satisfaction will be given as to title, &c. on applying to Mr. LANGLEY, Solicitor, 45, Bedford-row, Holborn.

Situations Wanted.

LAW.—A Young Man, who has been in a country attorney's office for some years, wishes an ENGAGEMENT. Most satisfactory references will be given by his employer. Moderate salary will be accepted. Apply to J. M. No. 2, Spencer-street, Northampton-square.

LAW.—A Gentleman who served his articles in the Country, and was one year in an office in London prior to passing his examination on his being admitted a solicitor last Easter Term, is desirous of obtaining a situation as CLERK in a Solicitor's office of general practice.

Address, prepaid, to J. W. W. care of Messrs. Boyle, law stationers, 59, Carey-street, Lincoln's-inn.

Situations Vacant.

LAW.—WANTED, for a permanency, in a Country Office, about 60 miles from London, a steady, middle-aged Person, as COPYING CLERK. He must also be able to make out bills of costs, attend to magisterial business in the absence of the Principal, and willing to make himself generally useful.

The most satisfactory references as to character and ability will be required, but no one need apply who is not a strict Churchman and Conservative. Salary 100*l.* per annum.

Address to A. B. LAW TIMES Office, Essex-street.

LAW.—A Solicitor, in extensive practice in a large corn-market and assize town, situate in one of the richest and most populous agricultural counties of England, has now a VACANCY for a young gentleman of quiet and domestic habits, as an IN-DOOR ARTICLED CLERK. The advertiser holds a first-rate public appointment, and the practice is a very old-established one, in a healthy locality, about ninety miles from London. A moderate premium would be taken, and he would be treated in every respect as one of the family.

Address, for further particulars (pre-paid), L. LAW TIMES office, Essex-street, Strand, London.

Partnerships Wanted.

LAW PARTNERSHIP.—A GENTLEMAN, sixteen years in practice, holding a high corporate appointment in a populous town in Kent, and who has also an office at an improving and fashionable watering-place, is desirous of engaging with a PARTNER to unite in conducting the business at either of the above places. The expected premium would not be large, but the engagement, to a gentleman of some capital and of assiduous habits, would prove a very lucrative one. Any gentleman wishing to retire from the more arduous labours of his profession to a salubrious and picturesque neighbourhood, would find the advertiser willing to devote himself to the active management of the business, and might, if desirable, be accommodated with apartments at his private house.

Address, by letter only, to A. F. No. 133, Salisbury-square, Fleet-street, London.

KENT.—A beautiful Freehold Estate, about 13 miles from Town, with an extensive Right of Fishing in the river Cray.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on THURSDAY, August 21, at Twelve, a beautiful PROPERTY, called Vale Mascall, situate on the high road from Foot's Cray and North Cray to Bexley, by which it is on one side bounded, and also by the river Cray. Vale Mascall House is a residence replete with accommodation for a gentleman's establishment, every regard to comfort and convenience being studied in an unusual degree; is situate in a pleasing lawn sloping to the river Cray, a clear, rapid, sparkling trout-stream, which for a considerable distance margins the property, and which affords first-rate amusement, from the quantities and qualities of its trout, &c. The house contains handsome reception-rooms, excellent bed-chambers, and superior offices, and with pleasure grounds, gardens, and land, altogether exceeds 14 acres. It is in every respect a charming property, in the district of the Crays, surrounded by choice society.—Particulars may be had of Messrs. HEDGER, Land-agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

LINCOLNSHIRE.—Extensive and highly valuable Freehold Estate, containing nearly 2,200 Acres, situate near Brigg; together with the valuable Advowson and Next Presentation to the Rectory of Broughton, producing upwards of 1,100*l.* per annum, exclusive of the mansion and glebe.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON will SELL by AUCTION, by direction of the heirs of the late Ellys Anderson Stephens, esq. and their trustees, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, August 28, at Twelve, in one lot, an extensive and highly valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, eligibly situate in the parish of Broughton, about three miles from Brigg. It comprehends nearly 2,200 acres of generally fertile arable, pasture, carr, and woodland. Those surfaces which are designated Carr Lands are of a very powerful and productive description. Also the Manor of Broughton, with the manorial rights appertaining thereto. The property is bounded by the estates of the Earl of Yarborough on the west (whose fox-hounds are kennelled in the neighbourhood), Sir John Nelthorpe on the south, Charles Winn, esq. on the north, and on the east by T. G. Corbutt, esq.'s lands. The estate, therefore, is highly eligible, and peculiarly adapted to field sports in all their varieties, as the woods which form the coverts are of great extent, and adjoin those of a proprietary who preserve so strictly that a constant stream of game must always supervene, independent of any small expense which the proprietor might choose to incur for direct preservation. Three woods on the estate are so extensive, that they would command some of the finest pheasant shooting in the kingdom; added to which, the growing timber and coppice woods yield a certain annual revenue. There are very agreeable sites for the erection of a shooting lodge or lodges.

With the above will be sold the PERPETUAL ADVOWSON and NEXT PRESENTATION to the valuable RECTORY of BROUGHTON, situate about three miles from Brigg, consisting of a splendid and most complete modern Residence, with gardens, pleasure-grounds, &c. together with 94a. 1r. 20p. of glebe land, and the tithe commutation rent-charge, amounting to upwards of 1,100*l.* per annum. The parish contains 6,912 acres. The Rev. Thomas Booth Wright, the present incumbent, is in his 80th year, and the population is about 900. Mr. Simpson will be open to offers for the entire estate till within fourteen days of the day fixed for the Auction. The property may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may shortly be obtained on application to Mr. James Marshall, at Broughton; Messrs. Sperling and Harris, solicitors, Halstead; Messrs. Longmore and Sworder, solicitors, Hertford; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

TO be SOLD in lots, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Chancery, made in certain causes of "Milbank v. Stevens," and "Milbank v. Collier," with the approbation of Nassau William Senior, esquire, one of the Masters of the said court, by Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, the person appointed by the said Master to sell the same, on THURSDAY, the 14th day of August, at Twelve o'clock at noon, at the Auction Mart, in the City of London:—A FREEHOLD FARM, called South Ockendon Hall, comprising Two Dwelling-houses, out-buildings, windmill, and several inclosures of land, containing about 668 acres, in the occupation of Thomas Bennett Sturgeon, at the yearly rent of 1,050*l.*, land-tax redeemed.

A Freehold Messuage, with barns, stables, and other conveniences, and farm, called Little Moullands, in South Ockendon, containing about 213 acres of land, in a ring fence. All the land-tax upon this estate excepting 1*l.* 1s. is redeemed.

A Beer-shop, and several Cottages in the village of South Ockendon.

The Advowson and Next Presentation to the Rectory of South Ockendon. The rectory comprises a parsonage-house in good repair, with stables, coach-house, large garden, lawn, and about sixteen acres of glebe land. The tithes of the parish, exclusive of the glebe, have been commuted at the sum of 828*l.* 1s. The present incumbent is in the 51st year of his age.

A Copyhold Farm called Blatches, situate at Eastwood, near Rochford, comprising a farm-house, barns, stables, and about 100 acres of land, now on lease to Mr. Thomas Rickett, at the yearly rent of 150*l.* Land tax redeemed; late the property of John Cliff, esq. deceased.

Particulars may be had gratis, at the said Master's chambers, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane, London; at the Auction Mart; of Messrs. Perkins, Jepp, and Veley, of Chelmsford, Essex, solicitors; of Mr. Thomas Wright Nelson, of Gresham-place, Lombard-street, London, solicitor; of Mr. George White, of No. 12, Hatton Garden, London, solicitor; of Messrs. Gadsden and Flower, of No. 14, Furnival's-Inn, London, solicitors; of Messrs. Sutton, Ewens, Ommanney, and Prudence, of No. 6, Basinghall-street, London, solicitors; of Mr. Edward Smith Bigg, of Southampton-buildings, aforesaid, solicitor; of Messrs. Lofty and Potter, of No. 35, King-street, Cheapside, London, solicitors; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, of No. 18, Bucklersbury, London, Auctioneer; and at the White Hart Inns, at Romford and Brentwood.

SUFFOLK.—Desirable Estate between Beccles and Lowestoffe, consisting of a very complete Family Residence, excellent Farm-houses, Cottages, and Agricultural Buildings, together with upwards of 920 acres of rich Arable, Pasture, productive Wood, and Plantation Land, abundantly stocked with game, lying within a ring fence.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions from the Executors of the late John Cooper, esq. to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, on WEDNESDAY, August 6, at Twelve, in one lot, the following valuable and desirable PROPERTY, designated the North Cove Hall Estate, situate on the high road from Beccles to Lowestoffe. It consists of an excellent residence, with ample accommodation for a family of a high class, coach-house, stabling, and complete domestic offices; a productive walled-in kitchen garden, and upwards of 920 acres of arable, pasture, and marsh land; including also about 70 acres of wood and carrs, forming excellent preserves for the game, which abounds on the estate in great variety. The arable and pasture surfaces are generally of a deep staple and highly productive. The estate is divided into desirable farms, and let to a most respectable and improving tenantry, at rents (including the estimated rental of the mansion and lands in hand) amounting to 1,564*l.* per annum. The mansion is seated on a lawn, approached by a carriage-drive in front, and surrounded by grounds of park-like appearance, studded with ornamental timber, and the pleasure grounds are tastefully laid out, and pleasingly varied with plantations of trees, evergreens, and flowering shrubs. The above property forms one of the most perfect and best-circumstanced estates (for its extent) in this country. The mansion, farm-houses, cottages, and buildings are all in an excellent state of repair. The estate is distant three miles from Beccles, six from Lowestoffe, and twenty-one from Norwich, which is within about half an hour's ride from Yarmouth by the railway; and the navigable river Waveney, from Beccles to the sea, bounds the estate for nearly a mile, and affords excellent fishing. The property may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may be obtained of Messrs. Margetson and Hartcup, solicitors, Bungay; Messrs. Stevens, Wilkinson, and Satchell, solicitors, 6, Queen-street, Cheapside; at the Mart; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 18, Bucklersbury.

This day is published,

THE NEW ORDERS in CHANCERY, with Practical Notes and a copious Index for Office Uses.

By G. S. ALLNUTT, Esq. Barrister-at-Law. Price 3s. boards.

"The above Orders come into operation on the 28th of October next; consequently a well-arranged edition of them is absolutely requisite for both branches of the Profession. Mr. Allnutt's work possesses so many advantages, that we cannot refrain from recomending it to the attention of those for whose benefit it has been compiled; and we can conscientiously say that, in the hurry of business, this little work, from its size, price, well-arranged, copious, and accurate index, and the clear, concise, and explanatory notes which are attached to it, will be found peculiarly valuable, and answer the purpose of the practitioner far better than a more elaborate edition."—Sun.

Long Leasehold Estate for Investment, Brixton, Surrey.

MESSRS. DAVIS and VIGERS are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, without reserve, on THURSDAY, August 14, at Twelve for One o'clock, in six lots, a valuable and very desirable LEASEHOLD ESTATE, comprising 12 residences newly erected in the cottage style, substantially built and completely finished, situate and being Nos. 1 to 12, Holland-crescent, Barrington-road, Brixton, Surrey, calculated to secure a rental of 430*l*. per annum; held by lease from Lady Holland for 80 years, at low ground-rents. To be viewed by permission of the tenants. Particulars and conditions of sale to be had of Messrs. J. and C. Rogers, Manchester-buildings, Westminster; of Mr. Sutton, on the premises; at the Mart; Green Man, Coldharbour-lane, Brixton; and at the auctioneers' offices, 3, Frederick's-place, Old Jewry.

Elegant Residence, with Capital Offices, Pleasure-grounds, beautiful Gardens, Conservatories, Shrubbery-walks and rich Park-like Paddocks, ornamented with stately forest timber, at Penge, near Beckenham, on the borders of Kent and Surrey, the whole containing upwards of One Hundred and Four Acres.—By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Auction Mart, on FRIDAY, August 15, at Twelve, in one lot,

PENGE-PLACE, the elegant FREEHOLD RESIDENCE of JOHN SCOTT, Esq. most substantially erected under the superintendence of an eminent architect, in the Elizabethan style, placed almost on the summit of the hill, sheltered by thriving plantations, and commanding the most uninterrupted views of a country abounding in richness and beauty of scenery not to be surpassed in any situation, however distant, and yet within an hour's ride of any part of town, and fifteen minutes' walk of the Sydenham station on the Croydon Railway. The approach to this beautiful residence, which has been fitted up with great taste and regardless of expense, on either side, is by an ornamental lodge entrance. It contains eight bed-chambers, some of the principal 22ft. by 21ft. dressing-room, bath-room, and water-closets, with every convenience for the addition of more bed-chambers if required; an elegant entrance-hall leading to two conservatories and the principal rooms, which consist of dining-room 26 feet by 21 feet, elegant drawing-room with massive folding doors opening to a library, the two about 48 feet in length and 21 feet wide, finished in great taste with richly-carved oak chimney-pieces, the whole suite of these rooms overlooking the gardens and park-like grounds; a morning-room, and attached and detached servants' offices of every description, stabling for four horses, standing for four carriages, a productive orchard, capital walled garden, pleasure-grounds, shrubbery-walk, noble terrace-walk in front, splendid flower-gardens, planted with the most rare and choice plants, lawn with standard rose trees, American and other flowering shrubs, refreshed by a fountain supplied from a never-failing spring of water, farm-yard, farm buildings, and the rich park-like paddocks which surround the whole, containing together upwards of 104 acres, in the highest possible condition, and without a single intersection, offering to a merchant, banker, or first-rate family, one of the most delightful retreats within so short a distance of the metropolis. The whole freehold, land-tax redeemed, and, except as to a payment of 2s. 6d. per annum, tithe-free.—May be viewed by tickets only, which, with particulars, may be had of Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, 62, Old Broad-street, Royal Exchange; particulars also of Messrs. Allan and So[illegible] solicitors, Frederick's-place, Old Jewry; and at the Auctn Mart.

BERKSHIRE.—Valuable and important Freehold Estates, in the county of Berks, consisting of sundry Farms, large and small, near to the Farringdon-road station, in the parishes of East Hanney, Goosey, Stanford, Farringdon, Lambourne, and Great Coxwell, containing altogether about 1,240 acres of Land.—By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Bear Inn, Wantage, on THURSDAY, August 28, at Twelve, in Twenty-three Lots, by order of the Devisees in Trust of the late E. P. Bastard, esq.

THESE ESTATES are situate in the several parishes of East Hanney, Stanford, Lambourne, Great Coxwell, Goosey, and Farringdon, comprising altogether about 1,300 acres of fine arable and rich dairy land, part in the rich vale of White Horse, celebrated for the productive[illegible] of its soil, and highly esteemed by agriculturists. The estates offer first-rate investments for large or small capitalists, and will be subdivided into lots as follows:—East Hanney Farm, in the parish of East Hanney, with farm-house, farm-buildings, and 279a. 1r. 7p. of arable and pasture land, in the occupation of Mrs. Dormer; Millaway Farm, in the parish of Goosey, with farmhouse, farm-buildings, and 30a. 4p. of arable and meadow land, in the occupation of Mr. A. Barnes; Stanford Farm, in the parish of Stanford, in the vale of White Horse, with a fine old Manor-house, near the church, farm-buildings, and 110a. 1r. 28. of arable and pasture land, in the occupation of Mr. William Farrant. Stanford Park Farm, in the parish of Stanford, in the vale of White Horse, a capital dairy farm, with a good house, farm-buildings, and 310a. 1r. 1p. of arable, pasture, and meadow land, in the occupation of Mr. William Farrant, Mr. Charles Hunter, and others. An excellent House in the village of Great Coxwell, with barn, stable, &c. and 79a. 2r. 15p. of arable, meadow, and pasture land, in the occupation of Mr. James Foreman. Sixty-six acres, two roods, and nineteen perches of arable and pasture land, in Eastbury Field, in the parish of Lambourne, in the occupation of Mr. Spicer. Beckhampton Farm, in the parish of Lambourne, with farm-house, farm-buildings, and 92a. 2r. 9p. of arable and pasture land, in the occupation of Mr. Spicer. Hills Farm, in the parish of Lambourne, with farm-house, farm-buildings, 111a. 3r. 28p. of arable and pasture, and woodland, in the occupation of Mr. Mildenhall. The remaining lots will consist of accommodation plots of fine productive arable, meadow, and pasture land, in Bradfield, near the village of East Hanney, Goosey-green, in the parish of Great Coxwell, Lambourne, and in Eastbury Field, in quantities varying from one to twenty acres. These estates may be viewed, and particulars, with plans, had twenty days prior to the sale, of Messrs. Karslake and Crealock, solicitors, 4, Regent-street; Mr. Ormond, solicitor, Wantage; of Charles Bailey, esq. 5, Stratford-place; and Messrs. Phillips and Westbury, Andover. Particulars also at King's Head, Abingdon; Inn, at Farringdon; Bear, Reading; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, 62, Old Broad-street, Royal Exchange.

WEST DEVON.—Capital Freehold Estates, Mansion, Park, Plantations, Manors, Fisheries, together with the entire Royalty to the whole of the village or town of Lifton, four miles from Launceston and forty from Exeter, on the mail-coach road, the property of W. A. Harris Arundell, esq.—By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Auction Mart, on FRIDAY, September 19, at Twelve, in one lot, and if not then sold, the whole estate will be subdivided into lots, and sold by Auction in October at Launceston.

A Highly important and most valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, comprising the LIFTON ESTATE, with the beautiful mansion called Lifton House, seated in a park and surrounded by a rich domain of about five thousand acres, lying nearly within a ring fence, intersected only by the beautiful rivers Tamar and Load, which run through the property, within nine hours' reach of London, and forming altogether one of the finest estates in West Devon, contiguous to the parks and mansions of the noble dukes of Northumberland and Bedford, and in the midst of the finest   in the county. These estates are now chiefly free from life leases, those existing are upon advanced ages. The present income is upwards of 6,000*l*. per annum, and when the life leases drop it will exceed 9,000*l*. per annum. The mansion is approached from the mail-coach road by an ornamental lodge, exclusive of other approaches, placed upon a lawn and park, sheltered by extensive and thriving plantations, through which are carriage turf drives of great extent. The mansion contains every accommodation, the principal apartments consisting of a noble saloon, drawing-room, library, and dining-parlour, each of the dimensions of 30 feet by 24 feet, and 16 feet high, with offices of every description, capital kitchen gardens, with walls clothed with the finest fruit trees, graperies, and greenhouse. The farms attached to this most magnificent estate are chiefly upon a stratum of lime, producing the most abundant crops of corn and turnips, with a proportionate quantity of the finest feeding pastures upon each side of the rivers Tamar and Load. There are also upon the estate two important and most extensive lime-works, from which the tenantry derive considerable advantage. These works supply the agriculturists of West Devon for many miles round, the limestone being of the finest quality and in great request.—The particulars and plans, which are in course of preparation, will fully go into all the detail, and may be had twenty days prior to the sale of W. H. Cotterell, esq. solicitor, Throgmorton-street; J. C. Braddon, esq. solicitor, Camelford, Cornwall; William Denis Moore, esq. solicitor, Exeter; at the Old and New London Inns, Exeter; White Hart, Launceston; Inn at Oakhampton; London Inn, Lifton; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, 62, Old Broad-street, Royal Exchange.

NORTHUMBERLAND.—Capital Freehold Estates, Mansion, Tithes, extensive and exclusive Sheep-walks, comprising altogether about 3,300 acres. — By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Auction Mart, on FRIDAY, August 22, at Twelve, in Three Lots,

THE COLLINGWOOD ESTATE, in the parish of Whittingham, about ten miles from Alnwick, and thirty-six from Newcastle, comprising a most excellent Property, either for investment or residence, in a beautiful part of the county, surrounded by the properties of his Grace the Duke of Northumberland, Lord Ravensworth, Ralph Carr, and Thomas Riddle, esqrs. It is well wooded, and watered by the Aln, a fine trout stream running through the estate. The farm buildings are very commodious, most of the land well drained, and in an excellent agricultural condition. The farms are let to a highly respectable tenantry, who have held as tenants-at-will, and, under circumstances, likely to quit at a moment's notice; consequently the rents are inadequately low, and capable of considerable improvement, considering that 2,400 acres of fine arable and rich feeding pastures now produce only 2,610*l*. per annum. Lot 2. The Tithes, now converted into a rent-charge of about 260*l*. per annum, over and upon the estates of the Duke of Northumberland, Thomas Riddell, and Ralph Carr, esqrs. included in Alnham, Prendwick, and Screenwood. Lot 3. The capital freehold and exclusive sheep-walk, extending over 1,300 acres of fine down land, called Blackhope Moor, also in the parish of Whittingham. The projected railroad to Alnwick will bring this fine property within 12 hours' reach of London.—The estates may be viewed on application to Mr. Smith, of Great Ryle Farm; and particulars [illegible]d, twenty days prior to the sale, of Messrs. Luces, Myers, Rigge, and Roscoe, solicitors, Liverpool; Messrs. Thorp and Dickson, Alnwick; Robert Neilson, esq., Halewood and Liverpool; William Appleby, esq. Eastfield-house, Alnwick; at the Auction Mart; and of HOGGART and NORTON, Old Broad-street.

SURREY.—The Wonham Estate, between Reigate and Dorking, distant two miles from the former, four miles from the latter, and four miles from the Red-hill Station of the Dover and Brighton Railways (at this point they intersect, which is twenty miles from London).

MR. W. BUTCHER has been honoured with instructions from the noble proprietor to SUBMIT to AUCTION, at Garraway's, on THURSDAY, August 7, at Twelve, this distinguished and truly valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, placed in a much admired part of the county of Surrey, in the vicinage of Boxhill, Denbies, the Deepdene, Berry-hill, and numerous other delightful spots; comprising a well-built mansion of handsome elevation and Gothic design, with pleasure grounds and most prolific gardens, placed in the midst of a beautifully timbered park, with unusually rich meadow land adjoining, in the whole 176 acres, in the highest state of cultivation, the same having been pastured without intermission for many years. The river Mole winds through the centre of the property, from which may be obtained some excellent fishing.—The estate may be viewed upon application to John Lane, at Wonham: descriptive particulars are in course of preparation, with a plan of the estate, which may be had twenty-one days previous to the sale, at the White Hart Hotel, Reigate; Red Lion, Dorking; Greyhound, Croydon and Sutton; Steine Hotel, Worthing; Gloucester Hotel, Brighton; Ship Hotel, Dover; Artichoke, Newington-causeway; at Garraway's; of R. Groom, [illegible] solicitor, 3, Henrietta-street, Cavendish-square; Messrs. Newton and Woodrow, Norwich; and of Mr. W. BUTCHER, estate agent, Epsom.

The very important and valuable Iron Works, upon the Tyne, near Newcastle.—By Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, at the Auction Mart, in London, on Friday, August 15 (instead of July 25, as previously advertised), at Twelve, by order of the surviving Partners, and in consequence of the demise of Thomas Bell, esq.

THE WALKER IRON WORKS, which have been established for about 40 years, with great success, under the firm of Messrs. Losh, Wilson, and Bell, are now in full work, carrying on a most extensive home and foreign trade, for which latter purpose they are most e[illegible]tially adapted, having the navigation of the Tyne, with wharfs and quays in front of the furnaces, by which superior advantage an enormous expense of transit and dues are exempted. The limits of an advertisement will not allow of the detail which the printed particulars will afford, aided by lithographic plans; but it is perhaps requisite to state that these works have cost upwards of 100,000*l*. which has been a most profitable expenditure, and from the present great demand for Iron, and the prospect of its long continuation, it is fairly assumed that, in a very few years, a purchaser would realize that sum. In this purchase will be included the whole of the substantial buildings, mouldinghouses, inclined planes, furnaces, steam-engines, and lathes, without any valuation whatever, unless it may be for the manufactured iron, or the materials therewith connected. The purchaser will also be let into immediate possession, with the established connection and trade, also to the beneficial existing contracts for the supply of iron. Upon the property are upwards of 150 cottages, and several good houses and premises.—These works may be viewed, and printed particulars, with plans, may be had twenty days prior to the day of sale, on application at the works; particulars also of John Clayton, esq. solicitor, Newcastle; of Messrs. Amory, Sewell, and Moores, solicitors, Throgmorton-street, London; at the hotels, Liverpool, Bristol, Manchester, Birmingham, Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Dublin; and of Messrs. HOGGART and NORTON, 62, Old Broad-street, Royal Exchange.

CLIFF HOUSE, Warwick.—To be LET, on Lease, for five and a quarter, twelve and a quarter, or nineteen and a quarter years, from the 29th of September next, with or without the furniture, a most genteel modern Family Villa, the residence of Robert Wheeler, esq. replete with every possible convenience, and delightfully situated within a mile and a half of the celebrated Royal Leamington Spa, and within ten minutes' walk of the pleasant town of Warwick, commanding a beautiful picturesque view of the towers of Warwick Castle and the churches. It comprises entrance-hall, breakfast, dining, and drawing rooms, and ante-room; four best chambers, with three dressing-rooms, ladies'-maid's room, back staircase, and servants' apartments, store-room, &c.; excellent wine and beer cellars, most convenient domestic offices, spacious stabling for five horses, with lofts over; yard, with double coach-house, harness-room, and excellent coachman's-room; extensive pleasure and kitchen gardens, in a high state of cultivation, containing about three and a half acres; vinery, with vines in full bearing, and a greenhouse, with choice flowers and shrubs. Twelve acres of excellent grass land on rental.

The house is a short distance from the road, and is approached by a carriage drive, with a convenient and handsome lodge; is centered in the middle of the Warwickshire Hunt, and is within ten minutes' walk of the Railway Station.

For further particulars, and for cards to view, apply at the offices of Mr. LOVEDAY, Solicitor, Warwick.

55*l*. Improved Rental, opposite the principal entrance to the London Docks, in an improving situation.

MESSRS. MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

Friday, Sept. 5.	Friday, Nov. 7.
,, Oct. 3.	,, Dec. 5.

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

MR. NEWMAN will SELL by AUCTION, at the Bath Hotel, Bournemouth, on TUESDAY, the 26th day of August, 1845, at Two o'clock, in two Lots (unless otherwise arranged at the time of sale), TWO ACRES of FREEHOLD LAND, situate in the heart of Bournemouth, bounded on the south by the sea-beach, commanding the most delightful views, and singularly valuable as being the only freehold building-site in this much-frequented and fashionable watering-place.

Also, a valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, of about 20 acres, situate on a rising elevation, and adjoining the noted Chine at Boscombe. This charming and particularly healthful retreat is situate immediately on the Cliff, and within a short mile of Bournemouth; it commands extensive prospects of sea and land, including the Isles of Wight and Purbeck, with the picturesque ruin of Corfe Castle, and Poole Harbour, with the Isle and Castle of Brownsea. The frontage is bounded by the sea-beach, which is easy of access by an excellent carriage-road; and the vicinity of the rendezvous of the Royal Yacht Club at Cowes, the advantage of good anchorage in the Bay, and the always easy approach to the Harbour of Pool, render it a most desirable spot for a yachting gentleman. The town of Christchurch is within a distance of four miles, and the railroad from Southampton to Dorchester will in a few months place Boscombe within four hours' ride of London. The estate abounds with excellent brick earth, and a plentiful supply of pure spring water. This land will be offered in convenient lots.

Further particulars, with lithographic plans, may be obtained on application to Mr. Crighton, Hurn; Mr. Druitt solicitor; and Mr. NEWMAN, Auctioneer, Christchurch, Hants.

In Chancery.—Pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, in a cause of "Brown v. Lake," with the approbation of Sir William Horne, one of the Masters of the said Court.—Three valuable Freehold and Copyhold Farms, with numerous Dwelling-houses, Cottages, and Gardens, comprising 164a. 1r. 39p. and producing a rental of 357l. 11s. per annum, most desirably situate in the parishes of North Weald, Magdalen Laver, High Ongar, and Nazing, in the southern division of the county of Essex.

MR. LEIFCHILD (the person appointed by the said Master) respectfully announces that he will OFFER by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on TUESDAY, August 26, at Twelve for One, in four lots, the above Valuable and Important PROPERTY, which consists of a desirable copyhold estate at North Weald, near Epping and Harlow, comprising a very excellent brick-built residence, known as North Weald Lodge, with lawn, flower-garden, and paddock, sufficient farm-buildings and yards, all well supplied with water, and surrounded by 11 inclosures of capital arable and meadow land, and nine convenient and substantial cottages with large gardens; the whole containing 62a. 3r. 26p. The house, gardens, and paddocks are now in hand: the farm is let to Mr. Joseph Hinson, but who has notice to quit at Michaelmas next, and the cottage rents are regularly paid, the whole rental amounting to 146l. 6s. A desirable small Freehold Estate, by the roadside from Epping to Moreton, comprising a substantial dwelling-house, with offices and large garden, and a capital inclosure of rich meadow land, containing together 3a. 0r. 35. now occupied by Mrs. Trummer, at 15l. 15s. per annum. A very valuable Copyhold Grass Farm, called Brundsell's or School-green Farm, desirably situate at North-Weald-Basset, near Epping, and comprising an excellent and convenient dwelling-house and offices, ample barns, stables, cow-house, piggeries, and other outbuildings and yards, with 16 inclosures of very sound pasture and arable land, and two cottages with productive gardens; the whole containing 81a. 0r. 8p. The farm is let to Mr. W. Hurrell, a most respectable tenant, whose holding will expire at Michaelmas next, at 110l. per annum, and the cottages to Messrs. Hemmings and Blatch, at 10l. per annum. Also a very desirable small Dairy Farm, delightfully situate at Nazing, Essex, commanding extensive and beautiful views, and within easy distance of the capital market-towns of Ware, Hertford, Epping, and Waltham, and only two miles from the Broxbourne Station on the Northern and Eastern Railway; it comprises a very commodious dwelling-house, with dairy and offices, barn, stable, cow-house, and other out-buildings, orchard, garden, and yard, with five handsome inclosures of prime pasture and arable land, lying close round the house, well watered and screened by fine young timber; also two substantial cottages, with good gardens, the whole containing 17a. 1r. 10p. The farm is let to Mrs. Woods as yearly tenant, at 35l. per annum, and the cottages to Mansfield and Fairchild, at 10l. 10s. per annum. This farm is land-tax redeemed, is copyhold of the manor of Nazing, and there are valuable common rights attached to this farm. The several properties may be viewed till the sale by applying to the tenants.—Particulars, with plans of the farms, are in preparation, and may be had (gratis), at the said Master's chambers, in Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane, London; of Messrs. Hindman and Howard, solicitors, Basinghall-street; at the principal inns in the neighbourhood; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-st. London.

Highly important and extremely valuable Landed Estates, alike eligible either for investment or occupation, most delightfully situate in a rich and fertile district, near the borough-town and port of Harwich, containing altogether nearly 1,100 acres of the finest land in the county of Essex.

MR. LEIFCHILD has been favoured with positive instructions by the devisees in trust for sale to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, in various lots, a valuable and most desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, known as Southall Farm, in the parish of Ramsey; comprising a gentlemanly residence, with ample accommodation for a highly respectable family; lawns, shrubberies, pleasure-grounds, and walled kitchen gardens, large and commodious farm-yards, with numerous well-arranged agricultural buildings of every description, and 378 acres of very superior pasture, arable, and sound rich marsh land in a high state of cultivation. This property, which is admirably situate on an eminence near the town of Harwich, and commanding land and sea views of great extent and beauty, is held under an agreement for lease, which will expire at Michaelmas 1853, by Mr. Wm. Keer, a highly respectable tenant, at the low rent of 600l. per annum. Also a very desirable Freehold Property, adjoining the preceding farm, and formerly held with the same, comprising sundry handsome inclosures of arable and marsh land, containing in the whole 150 acres; let to Mr. John South, a most respectable tenant at will, at an apportioned rent of 200l. per annum. A very eligible and most desirable Freehold Estate, known as Reyden-hall Farm, delightfully situate in the beautiful village of Ramsey; comprising a genteel family residence, with lawns, gardens, and pleasure-grounds, capital farm-yard, with appropriate agricultural buildings, surrounded with numerous handsome inclosures of fine meadow and productive corn land of the first quality, in a high state of cultivation, containing in the whole 278 acres, in a ring fence, now in the occupation of Mr. Robert Giles, a most respectable tenant, at the low rent of 450l. per annum. A very compact and valuable Freehold Estate, known as Stourwood Farm, eligibly situate near the turnpike-road, in the parish of Ramsey; comprising a commodious farm-house, with excellent garden, large farm-yards, and suitable agricultural buildings of every description, surrounded by handsome inclosures of first-rate corn land in high cultivation, containing in the whole 161 acres, now in the occupation of Mr. William Malpas, as tenant at will, at the low rent of 250l. per annum. A small Freehold Estate, known as Fox's Farm, in the parish of Wrabness, with farm-house, yards, and buildings, surrounded by eight inclosures of fine arable land, in excellent cultivation, containing in the whole about 60 acres; let to Mr. Edward Fisher, at the low rent of 90l. per annum.—Mr. Leifchild begs respectfully to commend to the attention of noblemen, capitalists, and trustees the above important properties. The farms are of the very first character, and occupied by highly respectable tenants; the houses and buildings are in excellent repair, and the lands farmed in the best possible manner. In addition to these intrinsic advantages, the local and contingent attractions are very superior; among them may be mentioned the beautiful rides and drives with which the neighbourhood abounds, the well-known fertility of the district, its contiguity to the capital market-town and port of Manningtree, and to the borough-town and port of Harwich, to which a railway is in contemplation for the ensuing year.—The estates may be viewed, with tickets only, by permission of the respective tenants, and full descriptive particulars and lithographic plans of each lot will be ready for delivery twenty-one days previous to the sale, at all the principal inns in the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk, and Essex; at Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Co.'s, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-st. London.

Eligible and safe Investment of 300l. per annum in the county of Essex.

MR. LEIFCHILD is instructed by the Devisees in Trust for Sale to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, at Twelve for One precisely, the valuable TITHE RENT CHARGE, arising out of certain capital lands in the admired parish of Dovercourt, near the borough town and port of Harwich, producing 300l. per annum, and payable half-yearly by 25 responsible parties. Full descriptive particulars, with a terrier annexed, will be issued twenty-one days previous to the sale, and may be had at the principal inns in Essex, Suffolk, and Norfolk; at Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Winter's, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S, Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London.

Milkhurst Toll Farm.—A desirable Freehold Estate, land-tax redeemed, at Heathfield, a picturesque district, in the county of Sussex.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions, from the Devisees in Trust for Sale, to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, at Twelve for One, in one lot, a very desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, known as Milkhurst Toll Farm, eligibly situate by the side of the turnpike-road leading from Lewes to Burwash, Mayfield, and Tunbridge-wells, in the pleasant village of Heathfield, in the county of Sussex. It consists of an excellent farm-house, with yards and gardens, barns, stables, oast-house, and other out-buildings, together with 24 inclosures of arable, meadow, pasture, hop-garden, and wood land in a ring fence, the whole containing 149a. 2r. 5p., about 60 of which are productive wood-land. The property is now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Potten, a respectable tenant; it is freehold, and land-tax redeemed, and the commuted tithes are very moderate. The woods are full of fine young oak timber and thriving underwood, and are well adapted for the preservation of game, of which there is abundance at the present time. May be viewed by permission of the tenant and full descriptive particulars, with plans, will be issued 21 days previous to the sale, and may be had on the premises; at the principal inns at Lewes, Hastings, Tunbridge, and Tunbridge-wells, and Mayfield; of Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Winter, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London.

Compact Freehold Farm, in the parish of Barcombe, in the county of Sussex.

MR. LEIFCHILD is instructed by the Devisees in Trust for Sale to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, at Twelve for One, in two lots, a very eligible small FREEHOLD FARM, known as Spithurst or Panthill Farm, pleasantly situate in the parish of Barcombe, within five miles of the capital market-town of Lewes, in the county of Sussex; comprising a small farm-house and suitable buildings, with 14 inclosures of capital arable, pasture, and wood land, in very excellent cultivation; also a genteel cottage residence, with excellent gardens, and two handsome inclosures of meadow land adjoining: the whole containing 61a. 2r. 2p. in the several occupations of Mr. Wright and the Rev. Evan Jones. —May be viewed by permission of the tenants, and full descriptive particulars, with plans, will be issued 21 days previous to the sale, and may be had at the principal inns at Brighton, Lewes, and Hastings, Tunbridge and Tunbridge-wells; on the premises; of Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Winter, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London.

LAW BOOKS, &c.—Solicitors may have their LAW and other BOOKS bound in the best style of the Art, at moderate Prices, by the BINDER for the LAW TIMES, if transmitted to the Publisher of the LAW TIMES, 29, Essex-street.

N.B. If Forms or other Publications of the VERULAM SOCIETY or LAW TIMES, to the amount of 2l. be ordered to be inclosed in a parcel with Books sent for Binding, they will be sent carriage free.

TO LARGE CAPITALISTS.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON respectfully recommend to the notice of capitalists disposed to undertake or join in working a large property, the very important FREEHOLD ESTATE of COUSALL in Staffordshire, as possessing such immense sources of improvement—particularly as to its minerals and power of water, with the old-established pottery and flint mills—as to hold out a most safe, important, and highly improvable investment, certainly of a more solid and permanent nature than many of the railway and other speculations for which companies are daily formed. The sale is fixed for the 26th of August, and the particulars and plans are now ready.—See Advertisement.

Waterloo-place.

STAFFORDSHIRE.—Most Important and Valuable Estates of about 2,000 acres, with an inexhaustible extent of superior Coal, capital and extensive Flint and Pottery Mills, Lime Kilns, &c. offering an influential and first-rate Investment for any great capitalist, and also a fine and beautiful estate for residence, with mansion, manor, woods, plantations, and fishery.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned by the mortgagees of the property to offer for PUBLIC SALE, at the Auction Mart, in the City of London, on TUESDAY, Aug. 26, at Twelve, in Two lots (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made) the fine and truly important FREEHOLD ESTATES of Consall and Woodhead, within a short distance of the towns of Cheadle and Leek, and only 18 miles from Buxton, containing about 2,000 acres. The estates consist of the manor, well stocked with game, fishery, fish-ponds, beautiful woods and plantations well stored with thriving oak, and several valuable farms surrounding the mansion of Consall Hall, and containing in all upwards of 1,800 acres. This estate is tithe-free, extra-parochial, and, except one small farm, exonerated of land-tax. It is partly bounded by the river Churnet, and the Trent and Mersey Canal, within a few miles of Alton Towers, the splendid seat of the Earl of Shrewsbury; and added to the great many recommendations of this fine property is the incalculable value of the minerals, about 1,600 acres containing ascertained strata or mines of superior coal, which were opened by the late proprietor of the estate, veins of iron stone, with railroads completed to the canal and turnpike roads, and very superior brick earth; and, also, at a desirable distance from the residence, several first-rate flint and pottery mills, lime works, &c. most substantially and admirably constructed, chiefly of stone and iron, with an immense power of water; stone quarries and wharfs. The estimated value of the property is near 6,000*l.* per annum, with great prospective increase. The proposed Manchester railroad through the Churnet Valley will pass almost close to the boundary of the estate, and the Whitmore station on the London and Liverpool line of railway is only about 16 miles distant. The Mortgagees are ready to receive offers for the whole or any parts of the property. Particulars with plans will be immediately issued, and every information may be obtained of Messrs. Jenkyns and Phelps, Solicitors, 14, Red Lion-square, London; at the Mart; at the Midland Counties Herald Office, and the chief inns at Birmingham, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Stafford, Stone, Cheadle, Shrewsbury, and Wolverhampton; of Mr. Edwin Heaton, of Leek; and of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, London; where plans of the estates may be inspected.

In a favourite and beautiful part of Devonshire.—Sandford Orleigh, a delightful Residence, close to the town of Newton Abbott, only 16 miles from Exeter, now within 10 hours' journey of London.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are directed by the executor of the late George Templer, esq. to announce that they will offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the New London Hotel, in Exeter, on FRIDAY, August 15, at Two (unless previously disposed of by private treaty), the above elegant and beautifully situate MANSION, erected within the last ten years, of the olden style of architecture, with all the requisite appendages for a gentleman's establishment on a moderate scale, in perfect order, and delightfully placed on a healthy and highly picturesque eminence, commanding extensive marine and inland scenery, and sheltered by ornamental shrubberies and plantations, with hot-houses and conservatory, together with a valuable farm and meadows attached, with a newly-built farm-house and all necessary buildings.—Further particulars will be shortly published, and in the interim every information may be obtained of Messrs. Smart and Buller, solicitors, 56, Lincoln's Inn-fields; or of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, Waterloo-place, Pall-mall.

Near TAUNTON.—Sidbrook, one of the most admired and complete Residences, on a moderate scale, in this beautiful and desirable neighbourhood, with two rich and picturesque Farms, all freehold.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will submit to PUBLIC SALE, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on TUESDAY, Aug. 26, at Twelve, in three Lots (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made by Private Contract), SIDBROOK HOUSE, with its beautiful pleasure-grounds and extensive walks, walled garden, stabling, ornamental lodge, and conservatory; together with Sidbrook and Overton manor farms, delightfully situated near the picturesque village of West Monkton, within three miles of Taunton, and seven of Bridgewater, and only one hour's journey from Exeter, two from Bath and Bristol, and five from London. The estate comprises an elegant villa, erected about twenty years since upon a beautiful and elevated spot, commanding extensive scenery on all sides, embracing the magnificent vale and town of Taunton, the Wellington and Chatham pillars, and other interesting and grandly contrasted objects. The home farm consists of about 115 acres of rich meadow, orchard, and arable land, with a respectable farm-house and buildings of all kinds, and every part of the property in most complete order. Overton farm is on the other side of the village, and consists of a beautifully situated superior farm-house and homestead, and about 125 acres of rich orchard, meadow, and arable land; and Higher Sidbrook farm comprises about 48 acres of excellent land, with bailiff's cottage, barn, ox sheds, &c.—The estate cannot be viewed without an order, which may be had of Messrs. Druce and Son, solicitors, Billiter-square, City; of William Kinglake, esq. solicitor, Taunton; and of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land-agents and Surveyors, Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, who are alone authorized to treat for the property.

DORSETSHIRE.—The very beautiful and important ESTATE of CASTLE-HILL, near the picturesque Village and Church of Buckland Newton, with an elegant Mansion, valuable Manors, and a remarkably rich Domain of about 1,350 Acres, consisting of capital Dairy and other Farms, in excellent order and repair, finely timbered, and intersected by Brooks and ornamental Covers and Plantations abounding with Fish and Game.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are instructed to submit to SALE by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, in the City of London, on TUESDAY, August 26, at Twelve (unless previously disposed of by Private Contract), the above singularly beautiful and very valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, the greater part rich grass land, situate between Cerne Abbas, Sherborne, and Dorchester, in the centre of Mr. Farquharson's hunt; comprising a handsome, substantial, and truly comfortable mansion, one of the most admired and favourite seats in the county, of an elegant uniform elevation, designed by Sir William Chambers, and in most excellent order, with suitable offices, excellent stabling, extensive and delightful pleasure-grounds and shrubberies, embellished with a superb variety of timber, ornamental water, grotto, &c. most luxuriant walled gardens, vinery, and conservatory, surrounded by bold park-like paddocks, embracing a celebrated Roman station, and commanding on all sides the most magnificent scenery, extending over the vale of Blackmoor into several counties, together with about 1,350 acres (exclusive of the commons within the manors), with convenient farm-houses and homesteads, keeper's and gardener's cottages, and an inn well known to sportsmen as Revels Inn, upon the Dorchester turnpike-road. The whole let to highly respectable tenants, at low rents, but of the estimated annual value of 1,850*l.* offering a most solid and superior investment for capital, and a very complete and delightful residence. The estate cannot be viewed without an order, and will be shewn by Mr. John Foot, of Glanvill's Wootton.—An order, with particulars and plans, may be obtained of Mr. Lambert Burghfield, near Reading; of Messrs. Dawes and Sons, solicitors, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; or at the offices of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Waterloo-place, Pall mall, and Windsor, who are authorized to treat for the same.

Mitcham, Newington, Whitechapel, Bethnal Green, Clapton, Mile End, St. George's East, and Spitalfields, desirable Freehold and Leasehold Estates, giving votes for Middlesex and East Surrey, producing 432*l.* per annum very desirable for occupation and investment.

MR. MOORE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY next, August 14, at Twelve, in fourteen lots, by order of the executors of Mrs. Mary Ferrett, deceased, TWO FREEHOLD 6-roomed HOUSES, with very long gardens, at Lower Mitcham Surrey, on the high road to Brighton, let at 39*l.* per annum. Also Two convenient Dwelling-houses, Nos. 13 and 14 Hood's-terrace, Kennington-street, Walworth, containing six rooms, forecourt, long garden, &c. let at 50*l.* per annum, term 60 years, ground-rent 8*l.* each. Two semi-detached Cottage Residences, with large gardens, delightfully situate in Mount Pleasant-lane, Warwick-road, Clapton, commanding beautiful views of the surrounding country, suitable for the occupation of persons of respectability; term 58 years, ground-rent 5*l.* An 8-roomed Residence, with long garden, chaise-house, and stable, situate No. 23, Gloucester-terrace, New-road, Whitechapel, term 44 years, ground-rent 3*l.* 18*s.* 9*d.* Two 6-roomed Dwelling-houses, Nos. 8 and 10, Ocean-street, Stepney, term 61 years, ground-rent 6*l.* Two smaller Houses, Nos. 11 and 21, Ocean-street, term 61 years, ground-rent 4*l.* 10*s.* Three 5-roomed Freehold Houses, with gardens, Nos. 1 to 3, King-street, Cambridge-road, near the Queen's Head, let at 54*l.* per annum. Printed particulars may be had, fourteen days prior to the sale, of Mr. George Rutherford, solicitor, 13, Lombard-street; at Garraway's; and of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers, &c. 36, Fenchurch-street.

Shares in the British Gas-light Company, Anti-Dry-Rot Company, and the Mile-end Cemetery, and about Sixteen Dozen of Port and Sherry, the property of the late Samuel Weddell, esq.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON are directed by the Executors of Samuel Weddell, esq. late of Aldgate, deceased, to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on MONDAY, August 25, at Twelve, FIFTEEN SHARES of 20*l.* each, in the British Gas-light Company, Fifteen Shares in the Anti-Dry-Rot Company, and Five Shares in the Mile-end Cemetery Company; also, twelve dozen of fine old Port, and a few dozen of Sherry.—Particulars may be had, ten days prior to the sale, of Messrs. Lawford, solicitors, Drapers' Hall, 27, Throgmorton-street; at Garraway's; and of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers, &c. 36, Fenchurch-street.

Freehold beautiful Villa Residence, with Six Acres of Land, at Tanner's-end, near [illegible]gate, seven miles from Town.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON are directed to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on MONDAY, August 25, at Twelve (unless previously disposed of by private contract), a FREEHOLD VILLA RESIDENCE, delightfully situate in the centre of its own grounds, which are tastefully disposed and beautifully varied in lawns, shrubberies, and walks, ornamented with fine timber and a stream of water. The house is substantially built, and arranged with much taste and judgment, and is adapted to a moderate-sized family. There are excellent detached offices, with stabling for five horses, double carriage-house, and all the requisite outbuildings, with excellent water. The whole is in the most complete order. Eleven acres of land adjoining are held on lease. Coaches pass several times daily, and it is a short distance from the railway.—To be viewed by tickets only, which, with particulars, may be had by applying to Mr. C. Ellis, 21, Bedford-street, Covent-garden; at Garraway's; and of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers and Estate Agents, 36, Fenchurch-street.

Freehold Residence, Highbury-grove, Islington.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON are directed to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on MONDAY, August 25, at Twelve, a FREEHOLD commodious RESIDENCE, desirably situated in Highbury-grove, Islington; comprising, on the two pair, four good chambers; on the first floor, a sitting-room and two excellent bedrooms; ground-floor, a spacious entrance-hall, dining and drawing rooms of good proportions, and patent water-closet; very convenient basement, comprising kitchen, wash-house, and all suitable offices, with good supply of water; a good garden, well planted, laid out in lawn and walks, inclosed by a brick wall. The premises are now in the occupation of Miss Chalmers, who quits at Michaelmas, at a rent of 70*l.* per annum, and pays all taxes and repairs. To be viewed by tickets only. Printed particulars may be had, fourteen days prior to the sale, at Garraway's, and of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers, &c. 36, Fenchurch-street.

TRINITY-SQUARE, TOWER-HILL.—Valuable Freehold Estate, Land-tax redeemed, comprising a Capital Residence and extensive Premises attached, Carriage-house, Stabling, spacious covered Yard, and capacious Wine Vaults of the finest temperature.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON respectfully announce that they are directed by the Executors and Devisees under the will of the late Thomas Butler, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on MONDAY, August 25, at Twelve, a FREEHOLD superior RESIDENCE, most desirably situate, being No. 42, near the Trinity House, Tower-hill, commanding extensive views of the Surrey hills, affording ample accommodation for a merchant, or family of the highest respectability, and particularly adapted to the wine trade (one of the most respectable and extensive concerns in that line in the City having been carried on there for many years by the late proprietor). The house is in the most substantial and complete repair, and contains eight light lofty commodious chambers, with dressing-rooms, noble dining and drawing-rooms, library, gentleman's dressing-room, entrance-hall, waiting-room, spacious light geometrical staircase, and superior domestic arrangements of every description, immediately adjoining is a spacious entrance, inclosed by folding gates, leading to an extensive covered yard, with carriage-house, four-stall stable, lofts, and capacious arched cellaring of the finest temperature. The situation being contiguous to the Docks, Custom House, and Corn Exchange, renders it a most desirable property either for occupation or as an investment.

To be viewed with tickets only, which may be had of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers and Estate Agents, 36, Fenchurch-street. Printed particulars will be ready fourteen days prior to the sale, and may be had as above; also of Mr. George Rutherford, solicitor, 13, Lombard-street; and at Garraway's.

EPSOM, SURREY.—Valuable Copyhold Land.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON are directed by the Devisees in Trust of the late N. Garland, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on MONDAY, August 25, at Twelve, in several Lots, about Forty Acres of valuable COPYHOLD LAND, situate in the Common Field, Epsom, the principal part lying immediately contiguous to the town of Epsom, adjoining the park of Woodcote Grove, now in cultivation as garden ground, on lease to Mr. Barnard, but adapted to building purposes; the remainder arable land, let to Mr. Weston, tenant at will.—To be viewed by application to Mr. Scott, High-street, Epsom, of whom printed particulars and plans may be had 14 days prior to the sale; also, at the Spread Eagle, Epsom; of Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Co. solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers and Land Surveyors, 36, Fenchurch-street.

Eligible Investment.—Dover, Kent, four miles from the Town and Railway Station, and five from the Folkstone Station.

MESSRS. BROOKS and GREEN have received instructions to SUBMIT for SALE by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, opposite the Bank of England, on SATURDAY, August 23, a truly desirable and valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, comprising an excellent Residence, with every requisite office and outbuilding, productive gardens, and common right of pasturage, together with 180 acres of arable, meadow, and pasture land, let on lease to a very respectable tenant, and good farmer, at the rent of 200*l.* per annum, which is regularly and punctually paid.

Particulars may be obtained of Messrs. Rooper, Birch and Ingram, solicitors, 64, Lincoln's-Inn-fields; and of Messrs. BROOKS and GREEN, Estate Agents, Surveyors, and Auctioneers, 28, Old Bond-street, London.

The HAFOD ESTATE, in SOUTH WALES.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON respectfully apprise the public, and particularly those parties who have had particulars, that they have SOLD this magnificent ESTATE, comprising the splendid mansion and domain of about 14,000 acres, by private contract; as also the other estates of his Grace the Duke of Newcastle in South Wales, altogether upwards of 24,000 acres.

Waterloo-place, Pall Mall, August 12, 1845.

The important and beautiful Freehold Estate and Manor of Lee Grange, in the Vale of Aylesbury, between that and the other Market Towns of Buckingham, Winslow, and Bicester.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned to announce that, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on TUESDAY, September 16, at Twelve, will be submitted to PUBLIC SALE (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made) the above very valuable and famous FREEHOLD DAIRY and GRAZING ESTATE; comprising nearly the whole hamlet of Shipton Lee, close to Quainton, and within a few miles of Aylesbury and Buckingham, consisting of several capital dairy farms, with suitable houses and homesteads, in the hands of highly respectable tenants, with some beautiful woodlands, full of thriving young oak, and abounding with game, comprising in a ring fence nearly 1,380 acres, chiefly rich grass land, and embracing the Grange Hill, one of the most prominent and beautiful features of the neighbourhood. The annual value of this fine property is about 2,000*l.* exempt from land-tax, and almost from tithes.—Further particulars may be had of Messrs. Whitmore, Roumieu, and Walters, 9, Lincoln's-inn; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, &c. in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, and Windsor.

IN ROMNEY MARSH.— razing offering most eligible inve ts, particularly for trustees and others looking to without the drawback of repairs or timber.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on TUESDAY, September 16, at Twelve, in lots, nearly 580 acres of rich FREEHOLD GRAZING LAND, in Romney Marsh, near the towns of Lydd and New Romney, all let to yearly, but highly respectable tenants, at low rents, viz.:—An estate called Derings, in the occupation of Mr. Stephen Tarry, jun.; a farm in the parish of Ivy Church, in the occupation of Mr. George Foord; an estate called Bird Kitchen Land, occupied by Mr. Francis Frim; and another farm in the occupation of Mr. John Prescott, both lying near the town of Lydd; and about 50 acres of rich marsh land near the town of New Romney, in the occupation of Mr. William Hoakins, with several detached parcels of fertile marsh and arable land; the whole presumed to be of the value of 1,000*l.* per annum. The estates may be viewed by permission of the tenants; and particulars, with plans, had at the inns in New Romney, Lydd, Hythe, Rye, &c.; of Mr. Mortimer, solicitor, in the Albany, Piccadilly; of Mr. Austin, solicitor, Canterbury; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents and Surveyors, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall.

Romantic Freehold Residence, with a valuable Farm, beautiful Woods and Plantations, and a respectable little Inn, in Monmouthshire, only one mile from Abergavenny, on the river Usk, immediately facing the Blorenge Mountain, in the midst of Alpine and other scenery of indescribable magnificence and beauty.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are instructed by the executors of the late R. Alner, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, some time in October next (unless an acceptable offer should be previously made by Private Contract), the PENTRE ESTATE, comprising an elegant modern mansion, compact and economical in its general arrangement for a moderate establishment; with capital stabling, double coach-house, walled garden, cattle-yard, and other buildings; the whole finished in a substantial and admirable manner, seated amidst luxuriant plantations, on the south side of the range of hills at the opening of the beautiful vale of Crickhowell, its parklike grounds skirting the high turnpike road, with the river Usk beyond, from which boldly rises the magnificent Blorenge, immediately opposite the house, forming a grand central link of splendid mountain scenery, in which the Sugar Loaf, the Derry, and the Skyrrid are prominent features. Also a valuable Farm, with a complete homestead, surrounded by nearly 140 acres of excellent arable and grass land, with ornamental plantations, refreshed by several fine springs irrigating the lower grounds; and the Inn, known as the "Lamb and Flag," with its stabling, garden, orchard, and paddock, having an important frontage to the turnpike-road. The land-tax is redeemed.—The estate may be viewed by tickets. Particulars and plans may be had when the day of sale is is fixed, at the chief inns at Abergavenny, Brecon, Monmouth, Chepstow, Hereford, and Bristol; at the Mart; of Henry Walbridge, esq. Llanthewy Court, near Abergavenny; of Mr. Harvey, solicitor, Sturminster Newton, Dorset; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, who are authorized to treat in one or two lots.

Valuable Freehold Investments, consisting of Parcels of rich Grazing Land in Romney Marsh, Kent.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on TUESDAY, September 16, at Twelve, in Two Lots, about 25 acres of very valuable FREEHOLD MARSH LAND, lying in two parcels, close to the town of Dymchurch, on the high road from Rye to Hythe and Folkestone; let to Mr. Blake, at the very low and reduced rent of 175*l.* from year to year, but parts now in the occupation of Messrs. Frim and Hunt, as under-tenants. The estate may be viewed, and particulars with plans, had at the chief inns at Hythe, Folkestone, Rye, New Romney, and Canterbury; of Messrs. Sewell and Co. solicitors, Newport, Isle of Wight; of Messrs. Foster and Westmacott, solicitors, 28, John-street, Bedford-row; of Samuel Selmes, esq. Beckley, Sussex; at the Mart; and of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall.

In the beautiful and healthy vicinity of HAWKHURST, capital and delightfully situated FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, and very valuable compact estate of about 355 acres, part ornamental, woodlands abounding with game, between Tunbridge Wells and Hastings, in the counties of Kent and Sussex.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, in September next (unless previously disposed of by private contract), the valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE of Sea Coxheath, affording most excellent shooting near the picturesque and remarkably healthy village of Hawkhurst, only ten miles from the Staplehurst station on the Dover Railway, 13 from Tunbridge Wells, and 18 from Hastings. It comprises a substantial and comfortable mansion, with gardens, pleasure grounds, stabling, and suitable appendages for a country establishment on a moderate scale, delightfully placed on a fine commanding brow, amidst scenery of great extent and varied beauty, approached from the turnpike-road, near the church, by a handsome stone-built lodge, with a broad terrace carriage-drive through plantations and shrubberies skirting some park-like pastures and the farm-lands in hand. The whole estate consists of 355 acres, of which about 129 acres are ornamental, and very thriving wood-lands (tithe free), the remainder pasture, meadow, arable, and hop land, with convenient farm-houses and homesteads, in part let. Possession may be had of the residence and lands in hand on the completion of the purchase, and with or without the furniture.—The estate may be viewed with cards, which may be had, with any other information, of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall; and descriptive particulars, with plans, may be had when the day of sale is fixed, at the neighbouring inns at Hastings, Tunbridge Wells, and at the Auction Mart.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, September 4	Thursday, November 6
Thursday, October 2	Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

In East Kent, on the borders of Sussex, between Tenterden and Rye.—A spacious Family Residence, with Pleasure and Kitchen Gardens, surrounded by about 48 acres of rich Meadow and Pasture Land, eligible for investment or occupation.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions from the Executors of the late Richard Knight, esq. to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Mart, opposite the Bank of England, on WEDNESDAY, August 27, at Twelve o'clock, a very valuable and rapidly improving ESTATE, consisting of an excellent and spacious Family Residence, surrounded by about 48 acres of rich meadow and pasture land (11 acres of which are marsh), most pleasantly situated on the summit of Underhill, in the parish of Wittesham, midway between the improving town of Tenterden and the port of Rye, 15 miles from the Headcorn Station on the South-Eastern Railway, and 16 from Hastings. This compact little estate commands extensive and picturesque inland and marine views, embracing considerable portions of the counties of Kent and Sussex, with a distant view of the British Channel and the French coast. The Ashford, Rye, and Hastings Railway (a branch from the South-Eastern line), which has obtained the Royal assent, passes within about three miles of this estate, at about which distance it is believed there will be a station, which will enable this estate to be reached in about three hours from the metropolis. The property is leasehold, for an unexpired term of 753 years, at a peppercorn rent, and the land-tax is redeemed.—May be viewed on application, and particulars, with lithographic plans, obtained on the premises; of Wm. Knight, esq. Wittesham; of Mr. Joseph Munn, solicitor, Tenterden; at the George Hotel, Rye; Swan, Hastings; George, Battle, and Roberts-bridge; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Auctioneers, Surveyors, and Land-agents, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

A valuable Plot of Copyhold Building Ground and Arable Land, considered equal to freehold, containing nearly 12 acres, well situate on the Bath road, between Hounslow and Cranford, and a short distance from the Southall Station on the Great Western Railway.

MR. PEISLEY respectfully announces he will SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, August 27, at Twelve, in three lots, the above described valuable PLOT of COPYHOLD BUILDING GROUND and ARABLE LAND, of superior quality, most desirably situate, on the north side of the high Bath and Windsor road, near the 12th mile-stone, and possessing a very long frontage. The beautiful avenue of fine forest oak trees, the admiration of the neighbourhood, nearly skirts this property; it is placed among gentlemen's seats, the views are extensive, the air pure, and the soil proverbially healthy. The whole is free from tithe.—May be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, may be had ten days prior to the sale, at the principal inns in the neighbouring towns; at Garraway's; of Messrs. Allen and Holmes, solicitors, 31, Bedford-row; and of Mr. PEISLEY, Auctioneer and Surveyor, Hounslow.

IN MIDDLESEX.—A capital Freehold Family Mansion, beautifully situate, at Feltham, Middlesex, 12 miles from town, with about 46 acres of superior Land, free from tithe, which will be subdivided into building plots, and Plots of Meadow, from two to twelve acres. The Mansion and about 20 acres of Land are Freehold, the remainder Copyhold of Kempton Manor, and considered equal to freehold, the fine being small and certain.

MR. PEISLEY respectfully acquaints the Public he will SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on Wednesday, Aug. 27, at Twelve, in lots, the above-described FREEHOLD MANSION, distinguished as Feltham-place, adjoining Hanworth-park, with the pleasure-grounds, large court-yard, coach-houses, stabling for eight horses, farm-yard, with outbuildings; two large walled gardens, orchard, meadow land, and cottages. The mansion, which is very substantial and in excellent repair, is suited for the reception of a highly respectable family, and contains a spacious entrance hall 24 feet by 14 feet, leading to a handsome saloon 30 feet 6 by 19 feet 6, lofty drawing-room 24 feet 6 by 18 feet 6, dining-room 24 feet 6 by 18 feet 6, morning room, an elegant light principal staircase leading to six principal bedchambers, with three dressing-rooms, and six secondary ditto, water-closet, &c.; housekeeper's room, light lofty kitchen, capital cellarage, and domestic offices. It stands elevated, commanding extensive views, approached by a carriage-drive, with a beautiful lawn, shrubbery, and terrace-walks, adorned with stately timber and other trees, among which is a very large and beautiful cedar, perhaps the finest in England. The building plots are placed in the best part of the village, overlooking Hanworth-park, the large open green, and within an easy walking distance of the church. The meadows, from their contiguity to the village, let readily at high rents. The whole is in good repair, and offers many advantages from the projected lines of railway running near.—May be viewed by applying on the premises. Particulars, with plans annexed, may be had, 10 days prior to the sale, at the principal inns in the neighbouring towns; at Garraway's; of E. White, esq. solicitor, Great Marlborough-street; and of Mr. PEISLEY, auctioneer and surveyor, Hounslow.

CRANFORD, MIDDLESEX.—Valuable Freehold and Copyhold Estate, with nine acres of first-rate Land (the copyhold equal to freehold), consisting of a substantial Family Residence, beautifully situate within its own grounds, at Cranford, Middlesex, twelve miles from town, and a mile and a half only from the Southall Station on the Great Western Railway, with an early prospect of a Windsor and West End Railway running near, on an improved, safe, and economical plan.

MR. PEISLEY begs to apprize the public he will SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, August 27, at Twelve, the above-described FREEHOLD and COPYHOLD ESTATE, which comprises a desirable family residence, with a noble entrance hall and stone staircase, and containing, on the first-floor, eight bed-chambers, with closets and water-closet; on the principal floor, a large lofty drawing-room, about 25 by 20, with three windows opening to the lawn; dining-room, morning-room, and breakfast-room, kitchen and offices, &c. The pleasure-grounds are tastefully laid out and adorned with full-grown trees and shrubs. The gardens are stocked with trees of the best description and very productive. The stabling, suited to four horses, is nearly new, with coach-houses and man's room over, and walled yard. There is a freehold meadow of first-rate land, about six acres, containing good brick earth. The house has been let furnished for several years, at a very low rent, and produces with the land 130*l.* per annum. The furniture may be had at a valuation, or at a price to be named, which will be from 200*l.* to 300*l.* and if not taken will be sold by auction on the premises.—May be viewed with cards only. Particulars, with plans annexed, may be had, ten days prior to the sale, at the principal inns in the neighbouring towns; at Garraway's; of Messrs. Bicham and Dalrymple, 15, Bedford-row; and of Mr. PEISLEY, Auctioneer and Surveyor, Hounslow, of whom cards to view can alone be had.

TRINITY-SQUARE, TOWER-HILL.—Valuable Freehold Estate, Land-tax redeemed, comprising a Capital Residence and extensive Premises attached, Carriage-house, Stabling, spacious covered Yard, and capacious Wine Vaults of the finest temperature.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON respectfully announce that they are directed by the Executors and Devisees under the will of the late Thomas Butler, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on MONDAY, August 25, at Twelve, a FREEHOLD superior RESIDENCE, most desirably situate, being No. 42, near the Trinity House, Tower-hill, commanding extensive views of the Surrey hills, affording ample accommodation for a merchant, or family of the highest respectability, and particularly adapted to the wine trade (one of the most respectable and extensive concerns in that line in the City having been carried on there for many years by the late proprietor). The house is in the most substantial and complete repair, and contains eight light lofty commodious chambers, with dressing-rooms, noble dining and drawing-rooms, library, gentleman's dressing-room, entrance-hall, waiting-room, spacious light geometrical staircase, and superior domestic arrangements of every description; immediately adjoining is a spacious entrance, inclosed by folding gates, leading to an extensive covered yard, with carriage-house, four-stall stable, lofts, and capacious arched cellaring of the finest temperature. The situation being contiguous to the Docks, Custom House, and Corn Exchange, renders it a most desirable property either for occupation or as an investment.

To be viewed with tickets only, which may be had of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers and Estate Agents, 36, Fenchurch-street. Printed particulars will be ready fourteen days prior to the sale, and may be had as above; also of Mr. George Rutherford, solicitor, 13, Lombard-street; and at Garraway's.

EPSOM, SURREY.—Valuable Copyhold Land.

MESSRS. ELLIS and SON are directed by the Devisees in Trust of the late N. Garland, esq. to SELL by AUCTION, at Garraway's, on FRIDAY, August 29, at Twelve, in several Lots, about Forty-six Acres of valuable COPYHOLD LAND, situate in the Common Field, Epsom, the principal part lying immediately contiguous to the town of Epsom, adjoining the park of Woodcote G[illegible] now in cultivation as garden ground, on lease to Mr. Bar[illegible] but adapted to building purposes; the remainder arable land, let to Mr. Weston, tenant at will.—To be viewed by application to Mr. Scott, High-street, Epsom, of whom printed particulars and plans may be had 14 days prior to the sale; also, at the Spread Eagle, Epsom; of Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Co. solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and of Messrs. ELLIS and SON, Auctioneers and Land Surveyors, 36, Fenchurch-street.

PECKHAM.—21 Plots Freehold Building-ground, fronting the Commercial-road, and close to the valuable for Residences, Wharfage, &c. &c.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, August 26, at Twelve for One, in lots, 21 PLOTS of highly valuable FREEHOLD BUILDING-LAND, most desirably situate on the West side of the Peckham Branch of the Grand Surrey Canal, near to, and partly fronting the Commercial-road, Peckham, offering rare opportunities for dwelling-houses, wharfs, &c. &c.; distance only about 2½ miles from London-bridge, and the neighbourhood one where a larger number of houses have been erected within the last two or three years, on account of the great demand for them, than have been built in any other part of London within the same time.—Particulars may be obtained of Mr. John Butler, solicitor, 134, Tooley-street, Borough; and at the Offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

KENT.—A beautiful Freehold Estate, about thirteen miles from town, with an extensive right of fishing in the river Cray.

MESSRS. HEDGER will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on THURSDAY, August 28, at twelve, a beautiful PROPERTY, called Vale Mascall, situate on the high road from Foot's Cray and North Cray to Bexley, by which it is on one side bounded, and also by the river Cray. Vale Mascall House is a residence replete with accommodation for a gentleman's establishment, every regard to comfort and convenience being studied in an unusual degree, is situate in a pleasing lawn sloping to the river Cray, a clear, rapid, sparkling trout stream, which for a considerable distance margins the property, and which affords first-rate amusement from the quantities and qualities of its trout, &c. The house contains handsome reception rooms, excellent bed chambers, and superior offices, and with pleasure-grounds, gardens, and land, altogether exceeds fourteen acres. It is in every respect charming property, in the district of the Crays, surrounded by choice society. Particulars may be had of Messrs. HEDGER, Land Agents, 10, New Bond-street, opposite the Clarendon.

THE CRITIC;

A JOURNAL OF BRITISH AND FOREIGN LITERATURE, ART, AND MUSIC; GUIDE TO THE BOOK-CLUB AND LIBRARY, AND BOOKSELLERS' CIRCULAR.

THE CRITIC owes its large circulation and great popularity to the many novelties to be found in its columns. It is thoroughly independent, strictly honest in its reviews, devotes special attention to Foreign Literature, and while avoiding sect or party, supports religion, in opposition to the sceptical philosophy of other literary journals. Its most striking features are—

JOURNAL OF ENGLISH LITERATURE.	THE TOURIST, comprising every kind of information useful to travellers and their correspondence.
JOURNAL OF GERMAN LITERATURE.	JOURNAL OF MESMERISM.
JOURNAL OF ITALIAN LITERATURE.	ART, MUSIC, THE DRAMA.
JOURNAL OF SPANISH AND PORTUGUESE LITERATURE.	BOOKSELLERS' CIRCULAR, &c. &c.
JOURNAL OF AMERICAN LITERATURE.

A copy for his own use sent by post on the day of publication to any BOOKSELLER or CIRCULATING LIBRARY KEEPER at the cost of stamp and paper only, on forwarding 4s. 4d. in penny-postage stamps for half a year's subscription.

N.B.—A copy as a specimen sent post free to any person transmitting three penny-postage stamps.

THIS Office unites the Benefit of a Mutual Association with the security of a Proprietary Company, and offers to the Assured the following advantages:—

1. Credit until death, with privileges of payment at any time previously, for one-half of the premiums for the first five years, upon Assurances for the whole of Life,—a plan peculiarly advantageous for securing Loans.
2. In Loan transactions the lender secured against the risk of the borrower going out of Europe.
3. Sums assured to become payable AT GIVEN AGES or DEATH, if previous.
4. Policies indefeasible; fraud alone, not error, vitiating them; and in case the Renewal Premium remain unpaid, the Assurance may be revived at any time within SIX MONTHS, upon satisfactory proof of health, and payment of a trifling fine.
5. Officers in the Army and Navy, and persons residing abroad or proceeding to any part of the world, assured at low rates.
6. Immediate, Survivorship, and Deferred Annuities granted; and Endowments for Children, and every mode of provision for Families arranged.

Information, and Prospectuses furnished, on application at the Office.

This old-established Society has recently received additional powers, by special Act of Parliament, and affords facilities in effecting Insurances to suit the views of every class of insurers.

Premiums are received yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, or upon an increasing or decreasing scale.

Two-thirds of the profits are added septennially to the policies of those insured for life; one-third is added to the guarantee fund for securing payment of the policies of all insurers.

The last bonus under this provision was declared on the 27th of June, 1845, being an additional bonus of Ten per cent. on all the premiums paid by the holders of policies of insurance for the whole term of life, with corresponding additions to holders of policies of endowment.

Those who are insured to the amount of 300*l.* and upwards for the whole term of life, are admitted to vote at the half-yearly general meetings of the proprietors.

DAVID FOGGO, Secretary.

DEEDS FOR EXECUTION ABROAD.—Messrs. J. and R. M'CRACKEN, Foreign Agents, No. 7, Old Jewry, beg to inform the Legal Profession, that they undertake to forward Deeds for Execution by Parties abroad, through their correspondents on the Continent, for the costs of transmission, and a simple Commission.

THE NEW ORDERS in CHANCERY, with Practical Notes and a copious Index for Office Uses.

By G. S. ALLNUTT, Esq. Barrister-at-Law.

Price 3s. boards.

"The above Orders come into operation on the 28th of October next; consequently a well-arranged edition of them is absolutely requisite for both branches of the Profession. Mr. Allnutt's work possesses so many advantages, that we cannot refrain from recommending it to the attention of those for whose benefit it has been compiled, and we can conscientiously say that, in the hurry of business, this little work, from its size, price, well-arranged, copious, and accurate index, and the clear concise, and explanatory notes which are attached to it, will be found peculiarly valuable and answer the purpose of the practitioner far better than a more elaborate edition."—Sun.

LEICESTERSHIRE.

TO be SOLD, by PRIVATE CONTRACT, a FREEHOLD DAIRY and PLOUGH FARM, in an excellent state of cultivation, situate within a short distance of the terminus of the Leicester and Swannington Railway, containing about 100 acres, 51 of which are in old turf and meadow. Coal of nearly two yards' thickness has been proved in an adjoining estate at a depth of little more than a hundred yards, and mines are in active operation in the immediate neighbourhood, leaving no doubt whatever of the existence of coal under the whole of this farm. No consideration, however, is demanded for the mines, a fair surface value only being required.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply (by pre-paid letters) to Messrs. SPENCER and ROLLINGS, Solicitors, Waterloo-street, Birmingham.

WEST LODGE, CLAPHAM-COMMON.—Capital Freehold Residence, with Lodge, Gardens, and Pleasure Grounds, Green-house, and Meadow Land, altogether about eight acres; land-tax redeemed.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 16, a most eligible FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, erected and finished in a very superior style of elegant neatness, planned for the occupation of a family of the first respectability, and situate at the north-west extremity of Clapham-common; containing a handsome entrance hall, with two staircases, library and drawing-room, a dining-room 25 feet by 17, gentleman's room, two water-closets, a boudoir, five best bed-chambers with closets, dressing-rooms, &c. three secondary rooms, a billiard-room or large nursery, excellent kitchen, and wash-house, amply supplied with fine spring and soft water, servants' hall, dairy, larder, and other attached offices, and capital cellarage, a paved carriage yard, two coach-houses, gig-house, four-stall stable, laundry, and other suitable detached buildings; the lawn, fore-court, and shrubberies are beautifully laid out, the walks encircling the meadows and extending to the Wandsworth-road, to which there is a considerable building frontage. To be viewed by cards only, which, with descriptive particulars, may be had of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row; particulars may also be had at the office of Mr. Wright, solicitor, 7, Rathbone-place, Oxford-street; and at the place of sale.

QUEMERFORD, near Calne, Wilts.—To Manufacturers, Millers, Brewers, and other Capitalists. Valuable and extensive Freehold Flour Mill and Factory, possessing both steam and water power, with Two private Residences, Cottage, Gardens, and Two Closes of rich Pasture Land, land-tax redeemed. NORFOLK.—Denham Lodge, together with about 300 acres of superior Arable, Pasture, and [illegible] Land; also the Manor of Little Dunham, extending over 1,[illegible] acres.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has the pleasure to announce that the above valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, which was offered for sale by auction in last month, has since been DISPOSED OF by Private Contract, to Robert Copeman, esq. of Aylsham.—Bucklersbury, Aug 16, 1845.

KENT.

MR. W. W. SIMPSON has received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, pursuant to an order of the High Court of Chancery, made in a cause, "Hill against Hanson," with the approbation of Andrew Henry Lynch, esq. one of the Masters of the said Court, at the Crown Inn, Cranbrook, on THURSDAY, September 4, the FEE SIMPLE of and in a certain MESSUAGE or TENEMENT, called Cowshorn, in the parish of Cranbrook, in the county of Kent, together with several closes, pieces, or parcels of land, meadow, pasture, and wood, with the appurtenances belonging to the said messuage, and occupied therewith, containing 40a. 1r. 30p. and now in the occupation of John Hague, as tenant from year to year, at the yearly rent of 70*l.*; the land-tax amounts to 8*l.* 8s. per annum. Particulars may be had (gratis) at the said Master's chambers, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane, London; of Messrs. Willis, Bower, and Willis, solicitors, Tokenhouse-yard, London; Messrs. J. N. Carter and Son, Spalding, Lincolnshire; Thomas Greetham, esq. Stanfield Hall, near Wragley, Messrs. Sharpe, Field, and Jackson, solicitors, Bedford-row, London; Messrs. Unthank and Co. Norwich; Mr. Thomas Smith, solicitor, 15, Furnival's inn, London; Mr C. Singleton, 21, Great James-street, Bedford-row, London; at the place of sale, at the principal inns at Dover, Deal, Canterbury, Maidstone, and Cranbrook; and of Mr. W. W. SIMPSON, 19, Bucklersbury, London.

LINCOLNSHIRE.—Extensive and highly valuable Freehold Estate, containing nearly 2,200 Acres, situate near Brigg; together with the valuable Advowson and Next Presentation to the Rectory of Broughton, producing upwards of 1,100*l.* per annum, exclusive of the mansion and glebe

MR. W. W. SIMPSON will SELL by AUCTION, by direction of the heirs of the late Ellys Anderson Stephens, esq. and their trustees, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, August 28, at Twelve, in one lot, an extensive and highly valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, eligibly situate in the parish of Broughton, about three miles from Brigg. It comprehends nearly 2,200 acres of generally fertile arable, pasture, carr, and woodland. Those surfaces which are designated Carr Lands are of a very powerful and productive description. Also the Manor of Broughton, with the manorial rights appertaining thereto. The property is bounded by the estates of the Earl of Yarborough on the west (whose fox-hounds are kennelled in the neighbourhood), Sir John Nelthorpe on the south, Charles Winn, esq on the north, and on the east by T. G. Corbutt, esq's lands. The estate, therefore, is highly eligible, and peculiarly adapted to field sports in all their varieties, as the woods which form the coverts are of great extent, and adjoin those of a proprietary who preserve so strictly that a constant stream of game must always supervene, independent of any small expense which the proprietor might choose to incur for direct preservation. Three woods on the estate are so extensive, that they would command some of the finest pheasant-shooting in the kingdom; added to which, the growing timber and coppice woods yield a certain annual revenue. There are very agreeable sites for the erection of a shooting lodge or lodges.

With the above will be sold the PERPETUAL ADVOWSON and NEXT PRESENTATION to the valuable RECTORY of BROUGHTON, situate about three miles from Brigg, consisting of a splendid and most complete modern Residence, with gardens, pleasure-grounds, &c together with 94a. 1r. 20p. of glebe land, and the tithe commutation rent-charge, amounting to upwards of 1,100*l.* per annum. The parish contains 6,912 acres. The Rev Thomas Booth Wright the present incumbent, is in his 29th year, and the population is about 900. Mr. Simpson will be open to offers for the entire estate till within fourteen days of the day fixed for the Auction The property may be viewed, and particulars, with plans annexed, price 1s. each, may now be obtained on application to Mr. James Marshall, at Broughton; Messrs. Spolling and Harris, solicitors, Halstead, Messrs Longmore and Sworder, solicitors, Hertford, at the Mart, and of Mr W. W SIMPSON, 19, Bucklersbury.

MR. NEWMAN will SELL by AUCTION, at the Bath Hotel, Bournemouth, on TUESDAY, the 26th day of August, 1845, at Two o'clock, in two Lots (unless otherwise arranged at the time of sale), TWO ACRES of FREEHOLD LAND, situate in the heart of Bournemouth, bounded on the south by the sea-beach, commanding the most delightful views, and singularly valuable as being the only freehold building-sits in this much-frequented and fashionable watering-place

Also, a valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, of about 20 acres, situate on a rising elevation, and adjoining the noted Chine at Boscombe. This charming and particularly healthful retreat is situate immediately on the Cliff, and within a short mile of Bournemouth; it commands extensive prospects of sea and land, including the Isles of Wight and Purbeck, with the picturesque ruin of Corfe Castle, and Poole Harbour, with the Isle and Castle of Brownsea The frontage is bounded by the sea-beach, which is easy of access by an excellent carriage-road; and the vicinity of the rendezvous of the Royal Yacht Club at Cowes, the advantage of good anchorage in the Bay, and the always easy approach to the Harbour of Pool, render it a most desirable spot for a yachting gentleman The town of Christchurch is within a distance of four miles, and the railroad from Southampton to Dorchester will in a few months place Boscombe within four hours' ride of London. The estate abounds with excellent brick earth, and a plentiful supply of pure spring water. This land will be offered in convenient lots.

Further particulars, with lithographic plans, may be obtained on application to Mr. Crighton, Hurn; Mr. Druitt solicitor, and Mr. NEWMAN, Auctioneer, Christchurch, Hants

DENBIGHSHIRE.

FREEHOLD ESTATES OF INHERITANCE.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, by Messrs. CHURTON and SONS, at the Lion Inn, Ruthin, in the county of Denbigh, on MONDAY, the [illegible] day of September, 1845, at Three o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions of sale to be then and there produced, the following Freehold Property, either all together, or in the following or such other lots as shall be determined upon at the time of sale, that is to say.—

Lot 1. All that messuage or tenement, together with the several fields, closes or parcels of arable and pasture land (which are of the very best quality) thereunto belonging, lying in a ring fence, in the parish of Llanfair Dyffryn Clwyd, in the county of Denbigh, and containing by admeasurement 36a. 0r. 19p. or thereabout (be the same more or less,) and called by the name of Garreglwyd, now in the holding of Mrs Ellin Williams, her under-tenants or assigns This lot nearly adjoins the road leading from Ruthin to Wrexham.

Lot 2.—All that messuage or tenement with the several fields, closes, and parcels of arable and pasture land of the same quality thereunto belonging, lying in a ring fence, in the parish of Llanfair Dyffryn Clwyd aforesaid, containing by admeasurement 27a. 0r. 17p. or thereabout (be the same more or less), and called by the name of Plas Isaf otherwise Ty Isaf, also called Pentre Cacholyn, and now in the holding of Mr. John Williams, his under-tenants or assigns. This lot also nearly adjoins the said road leading from Ruthin to Wrexham, and is opposite to the last lot

Lot 3 —All those fields, closes, and parcels of rich arable and pasture land, called by the name of the Pentre Coch Fields, otherwise the Plas Coch Fields, situate in the said parish of Llanfair Dyffryn Clwyd, and containing by admeasurement 15a 2r. 25p. or thereabout (be the same more or less), and now in the holding of Mr. Jones, his under-tenants or assigns.

Lot. 4 All those three Dwelling-Houses, Cottages, and Stable, adjoining the last Lot, together with the gardens and appurtenances thereunto belonging and adjoining, and containing one rood of land or thereabout (be the same more or less), and now in the respective holdings of Moses Williams, John Hughes, and Anne Davies, their respective under-tenants or assigns.

The lands comprised in each of the above three first lots are of the richest quality, well supplied with water, most eligibly situated, and afford opportunities for erecting genteel Family Mansions in the most pleasant and picturesque part of the much admired and fertile Vale of Clwyd The view from the above property commands a full and extensive range of the whole of the Vale, terminating in the Irish Sea, along the coast of which the Chester and Holyhead Railway is intended to pass, and is now in progress. Limestone in abundance may be had at a very cheap rate within the immediate neighbourhood, also coal at the distance of 10 miles. The roads in every direction leading from the above property are very good and always kept so; materials for that purpose being had in the neighbourhood. There are also excellent trout streams within a very short distance. Packs of fox-hounds and harriers are hunted in the vicinity of the property, and there is abundance of game in the neighbourhood; the same adjoining extensive preserves. The projected line of railway in continuation of the "Trent Valley Railway," and to join the Chester and Holyhead Railway, is within a few miles of the property, and the road to the same is the good turnpike-road to Mold. The estate is situated within about two miles of the market-town of Ruthin, where there are public conveyances to Liverpool, Chester, Manchester, Barmouth, Carnarvon, Holyhead, and other places—14 miles from Wrexham, 11 from Llangollen, 16 from Corwen, 8 from Mold, 10 from Denbigh, and 18 from the celebrated watering-places of Rhyl and Abergele, where steam-packets sail regularly for Liverpool The estates adjoin property belonging to Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart. M P. Wilson Jones, esq William Jones, esq. Miss Jones, of Plas Newydd, John Greathead Harris, esq. Joseph Ablett, esq Bevis Thelwall, esq Thomas Hughes, esq. Mrs. Lewis, Pentre-celyn, John Jones, esq Mr. Peter Smart, and others.

For further particulars apply to Mr. John Welch, land agent, Bachymbyd, near Ruthin; Mr John Williams, Pentre-celyn (who will shew the premises); Messrs Edwards and Peake, solicitors, 11, New Palace-yard, London, and at the offices of Mr James Vaughan Horne, solicitor, Denbigh where plans are left for inspection.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows.—

Thursday, September 4	Thursday, November 6
Thursday, October 2	Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, September 4	Thursday, November 6
Thursday, October 2	Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, September 25, at Twelve, without reserve, a valuable COPYHOLD ESTATE, situate at Little Bushey, Herts; consisting of a very desirable detached cottage residence, newly built, with about three acres of superior meadow land; let at rents amounting to 33*l.* per annum. The meadow land possesses valuable building frontages to the road from Bushey to Elstree and Watford.—Particulars may be obtained at the Mart; of Mr. Nation, solicitor, 4, Orchard-street, Portman-square; of Mr. Fairthorne, solicitor, St. Alban's; of Mr. Blagg, solicitor, St. Alban's; at the Three Crowns, Bushey Heath; at the Rose and Crown, Watford; and of the Auctioneers, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Freehold Estates, Battersea, Surrey.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, September 25, at Twelve, a desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, situate near to the new church, in Battersea-fields; comprising two substantial brick-built family residences, with excellent gardens in the front and rear; also four well-built cottages in Sleaford-street, all of which are let to respectable tenants, and produce a rental of 92*l.* per annum.—The property may be viewed on application to the tenants, and particulars obtained on the premises; of Mr. Haclam, solicitor, Copthall-court, Throgmorton-street; and at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S Offices, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

KENT.—A compact Freehold Farm.

MR. W. MARSHALL will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, September 1, at One precisely, a very desirable FREEHOLD FARM, comprising about 50 acres of very fertile land, known as Park-farm, Smarden, near Biddenden, adjoining the property of Sir Edward Deering. The lands are in a high state of cultivation, have been in the possession of the present family for many years, and can be safely recommended as a profitable and secure investment of capital, the present proprietor being willing to rent the same on lease.—Particulars, and cards to view may be obtained of Thomas Blackman, esq. Lashenden, near Biddenden; at the Mart; and at the offices of the Auctioneer, 23, Moorgate-street, Bank.

Valuable Reversion in Funded Property and Freehold Ground-rents, and in a Moiety of 5,000*l.* secured by a policy in the Equitable.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY respectfully announce that they have been directed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, 9th of October, in Three Lots, the following property, viz.:—

Lot 1.—The absolute Reversion in One Moiety expectant on the decease of a gentleman aged 65, in the undermentioned stock, now standing in the names of trustees in the Bank of England—600*l.* Three-and-a-Quarter Reduced, 729*l.* 13s. 6d. and 700*l.* Consols, and 2,485*l.* 10s. 5d. New Three-and-a-Quarter per Cents.

Lot 2.—The Absolute Reversion expectant on the decease of the same gentleman, in One Moiety of One Fifth Share of a Freehold Estate, consisting of about 27 acres of land in the Liverpool-road, Islington, extending from the workhouse to Park-lane, now covered with houses, and known as the Barnsbury Park Estate, let upon long leases, and producing a total rent of 808*l.* 14s.

Lot 3. A Moiety of the sum of 5,000*l.* secured by a policy in the Equitable, receivable on the death of the same party, the premiums on which, during the life of the party assured, are payable by trustees out of the rents of the freehold property at Islington.

Printed particulars may be had of Messrs. Bischoff and Coxe, solicitors, 19, Coleman-street, at the Mart, and of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row.

WEST LODGE, CLAPHAM-COMMON.—Capital Freehold Residence, with Lodge, Gardens, and Pleasure Grounds, Green-house, and Meadow Land, altogether about eight acres. land-tax redeemed.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 16, a most eligible FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, erected and finished in a very superior style of elegant neatness, planned for the occupation of a family of the first respectability, and situate at the north-west extremity of Clapham-common; containing a handsome entrance hall, with two staircases, library and drawing-room, a dining-room 25 feet by 17, gentleman's room, two water-closets, a boudoir, five best bed-chambers with closets, dressing-rooms, &c. three secondary rooms, a billiard-room or large nursery, excellent kitchen, and wash-house amply supplied with fine spring and soft water, servants' hall, dairy, larder, and other attached offices, and capital cellarage, a paved carriage yard, two coach-houses, gig-house, four-stall stable, laundry, and other suitable detached buildings; the lawn, fore court, and shrubberies are beautifully laid out, the walks encircling the meadows and extending to the Wandsworth-road, to which there is a considerable building frontage.—To be viewed by cards only, which, with descriptive particulars, may be had of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row; particulars may also be had at the office of Mr. Wright, solicitor, 7, Rathbone-place, Oxford-street; and at the place of sale.

CLAPHAM.—Long Leasehold Investment.

MESSRS. FOOKS and JOHNSON are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, opposite the Bank of England, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, in lots, five very desirable long LEASEHOLD HOUSES, adjoining each other, being "Pleasant-place," Manor-street, Clapham. These houses are exceedingly well built, in a good situation, let to very respectable tenants, at a rental of 158*l.* per annum, which is considered much under their value, and form altogether an exceedingly eligible investment; held on lease for 73 years, from March 25, 1842, at the low ground-rent of 23*l.* per annum, which will be apportioned.—May be viewed by leave of the respective tenants. Particulars at the Mart; of Messrs. Harbin and Ward, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn; and of Messrs. FOOKS and JOHNSON, Auctioneers, Surveyors, &c. 30, Lincoln's-inn-fields.

LAMBETH.—Three good Leasehold Houses and Shop in an excellent situation.

MESSRS. FOOKS and JOHNSON are instructed by the administrator to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 17, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, THREE very excellent LEASEHOLD HOUSES and SHOP, with good premises in the rear, situate and being Nos. 75, 76, and 78, Prince's-road, Lambeth. These houses are well built, in good repair, and let to respectable tenants, producing altogether a rental of about 85*l.* per annum. The lease is for 61 years, about 37 years of which are unexpired; and this property will be sold free of ground-rent, affording, therefore, a most desirable investment.—May be viewed by leave of the respective tenants. Particulars may be obtained of Messrs. Harbin and Ward, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn, at the Mart, and of Messrs. FOOKS and JOHNSON, Auctioneers, Surveyors, &c. 30, Lincoln's-inn-Fields.

VALUABLE FREEHOLD ESTATE.—Maunby; North Riding of Yorkshire.—For SALE by AUCTION, at the house of Mrs. Andrews, Three Tuns Inn, in Thirsk, in the county of York, on MONDAY, the 22nd September, 1845, at One o'clock in the afternoon; either altogether or in Lots, as may be agreed upon at the time of sale, and subject to conditions to be then produced, all that the MANOR or LORDSHIP of MAUNBY-UPON-SWALE, in the parish of Kirkby Wiske, in the North Riding of Yorkshire, with the rights, royalties, members, and appurtenances thereunto belonging or appertaining. Together with all that Ferry or Passage over the said river Swale, at Maunby aforesaid, with all the dues, duties, payments, privileges, and customs thereunto belonging or therewith enjoyed. Also, all that Valuable Freehold Estate, situate, lying, and being at Maunby aforesaid, containing in the whole by estimation, 473 acres or thereabouts, and forming the two very compact and convenient farms following, viz.:—All those several closes or parcels of excellent arable, pasture, and meadow land, containing in the whole by admeasurement, 220 acres or thereabouts. Together with the commodious farm house, farming buildings, and conveniences thereto belonging, commonly called or known by the name of the Maunby Demesne Farm, now in the tenure or occupation of Mr. George Nicholson. And all those several closes or parcels of excellent arable, pasture, and meadow land, containing, in the whole by admeasurement, 252 acres, or thereabouts. Together with the farm house, farming buildings and conveniences thereto belonging, commonly called or known by the name of the Maunby Rush Farm, and now in the tenure or occupation of Mrs. Elizabeth Jordison. The above estate which is respectably tenanted, contains some of the best pasture and feeding land in the North-Riding of Yorkshire, and the arable land is very productive and in a high state of cultivation. This very eligible property offers a most desirable investment to the capitalist, the whole of it is covered by a modus or customary payment in lieu of tithes, with the exception of a very small portion of the Maunby Rush Farm, the tithes of which have been commuted. The estate is well stocked with game, and the owner of it will have the exclusive fishing in the river Swale to considerable extent. Possession of the entire estate can be given to the purchaser in the spring of 1846. Maunby is situate within a convenient distance from the market towns of Northallerton and Thirsk, and near the Otterington Station on the Great North of England Railway. The tenants will show their respective farms, and printed particulars, with plans of the estate, may be had on and after the 1st of September next, at the place of Sale, from Messrs. Sharpe, Field, and Jackson, solicitors, 41, Bedford-row, London; Mr. Farmery, solicitor, Ripon; or, Mr. JOHN PREST, solicitor, Masham, Yorkshire.—Masham, August 12, 1845.

HERTS. — Shortly will be offered for SALE by AUCTION (of the times and places whereof due notice will be given in future papers), unless previously disposed of by private contract, the MANORS of COTTERED and BRADFIELD, situate near Buntingford, in the county of Hertford; with the ancient Mansion-house called Bradfield Hall, beautifully situated amongst extensive woodlands, and upwards of 930 acres of arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, with superior farmhouses, cottages, and buildings, conveniently situated thereon, in the occupation of respectable tenants; moderately stocked with game, and well adapted for preserving. The whole is freehold and tithe-free, and is situated within thirty miles of London, and, with the exception of a few acres, bounded by a ring fence. The estate is surrounded by good roads, and the poor-rates and outgoings are extremely moderate.—Mr. Samuel Cooper, of Cottered, will shew the estate; and further particulars may be obtained on application to Messrs. Jessopp, Son, and Burnaby, solicitors, Derby; or to Mr. Thomas Miles, surveyor, Leicester.

Derby, August 2, 1845.

Sales by Auction.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is assured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—
Thursday, October 2 | Thursday, November 6
Thursday, December 4.
Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

TO BE PEREMPTORILY SOLD, pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, made in a cause Broadbent v. Broom, and Clegg v. Broom, with the approbation of John Edmund Dowdeswell, esquire, one of the Masters of the said Court, by Mr. JOHN OUSEY, at the Crown Inn, New Mills, in the county of Derby, on WEDNESDAY, the 17th day of September instant, at five o'clock in the afternoon, in two lots, certain FREEHOLD ESTATES, in the hamlet of Whitle, in the parish of Glossop, in the county of Derby, consisting of a capital Messuage or Mansion House, with the outbuildings, gardens, and appurtenances thereto, with a cottage adjoining, and several pieces or parcels of land, known as the WHITLE BANK ESTATE, containing 48 acres 3 roods and 15 perches statute measure.
Also an Estate contiguous and adjoining to the last-mentioned property, known as the TAN PITS ESTATE, consisting of two Farmhouses and buildings and lands, together with two Messuages or Cottages, and gardens thereto, containing in the whole 19 acres 1 rood and 15 perches, statute measure.
Printed particulars whereof may be had (gratis) at the said Master's office, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane; of Messrs. Mayhew and Son, 26, Carey-street, Lincoln's-inn; Mr. John Spinks, jun. Great James-street, Bedford-row; Messrs. Milne, Parry, Milne, and Morris, Temple, London; of Mr. Richard Redfern, solicitor, Oldham; Mr. Walmsley, solicitor, Marple, near Stockport; Mr. HALSALL, Solicitor, Middleton, near Manchester (where a plan of the estates may be seen); at the place of sale; and also of Mr. John Taylor, land surveyor, New Mills.

GLAMORGANSHIRE, SOUTH WALES.—Capital FREEHOLD ESTATE and FREEHOLD MINERAL PROPERTY, to be SOLD by AUCTION by Messrs. ADAM MURRAY and SON, at the Mackworth Arms Inn, in the borough and seaport town of Swansea, in October next, unless disposed of in the mean time by Private Contract, of which due notice will be given, a House, in High-street, and a good Wharf near the Town Hall, and several Farms (twenty in number), and the coal under upwards of 1,600 acres of land, all situate in the several parishes of Llansamlet, Swansea, St. John-juxta-Swansea, Llanyefelach, Llanyuke, Llandilo-talybort, Loughor, Ilstone, and Llanridian. Some of the coal is of as good quality for steam-packet purposes as any in the kingdom, and the situation commands an excellent outlet to the sea for exportation. The South Wales, Welsh Midland, and Swansea Vale Railways will pass through parts of the property, and will increase the facilities of bringing the coal to market. A portion of the coal in Llanyefelach and St. John's has been leased at sleeping rents and royalties to most responsible tenants.—Printed particulars will be ready by the middle of September, and may be had of Messrs. Llewellyn and Randall, solicitors, Neath; Messrs. Rowland, Hacon, and Rowland, solicitors, 38, Threadneedle-street, London; at the office of Messrs. ADAM MURRAY and SON, 35, Craven-street, Strand, London; at the inns at Bristol and Swansea, and at the Commercial Rooms at Liverpool, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Manchester, and Glasgow.

HERTS.—Shortly will be offered for SALE by AUCTION (of the times and places whereof due notice will be given in future papers), unless previously disposed of by private contract, the MANORS of COTTERED and BRADFIELD, situate near Buntingford, in the county of Hertford; with the ancient Mansion-house called Bradfield Hall, beautifully situated amongst extensive woodlands, and upwards of 830 acres of arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, with superior farmhouses, cottages, and buildings, conveniently situated thereon, in the occupation of respectable tenants; moderately stocked with game, and well adapted for preserving. The whole is freehold and tithe-free, and is situated within thirty miles of London, and, with the exception of a few acres, bounded by a ring fence. The estate is surrounded by good roads, and the poor-rates and outgoings are extremely moderate.—Mr. Samuel Cooper, of Cottered, will shew the estate; and further particulars may be obtained on application to Messrs. Jessopp, Son, and Burnaby, solicitors, Derby; or to Mr. Thomas Miles, surveyor, Leicester.
Derby, August 2, 1845.

THIS Office unites the Benefit of a Mutual Association with the security of a Proprietary Company, and offers to the Assured the following advantages:—

1. Credit until death, with privileges of payment at any time previously, for one-half of the premiums for the first five years, upon Assurances for the whole of Life,—a plan peculiarly advantageous for securing Loans.
2. In Loan transactions the lender secured against the risk of the borrower going out of Europe.
3. Sums assured to become payable AT GIVEN AGES OF DEATH, if previous.
4. Policies indefeasible; fraud alone, not error, vitiating them; and in case the Renewal Premium remain unpaid, the Assurance may be revived at any time within SIX MONTHS, upon satisfactory proof of health, and payment of a trifling fine.
. Officers in the Army and Navy, and persons residing abroad or proceeding to any part of the world, assured at low rates.
6. Immediate, Survivorship, and Deferred Annuities granted; and Endowments for Children, and every mode of provision for Families arranged.

Information, and Prospectuses furnished, on application at the Office.

This old-established Society has recently received additional powers, by special Act of Parliament, and affords facilities in effecting Insurances to suit the views of every class of insurers.

Premiums are received yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, or upon an increasing or decreasing scale.

Two-thirds of the profits are added septennially to the policies of those insured for life; one-third is added to the guarantee fund for securing payment of the policies of all insurers.

The last bonus under this provision was declared on the 27th of June, 1845, being an additional bonus of Ten per cent. on all the premiums paid by the holders of policies of insurance for the whole term of life, with corresponding additions to holders of policies of endowment.

Those who are insured to the amount of 500*l*. and upwards for the whole term of life, are admitted to vote at the half-yearly general meetings of the proprietors.

DAVID FOGGO, Secretary.

Extensive and Important Sale of Freehold Property, in Merionethshire, North Wales.

MR. LLOYD has been honoured with instructions from the Trustees of the late Richard Parry, esq. of Llwyn Ynn, to submit to PUBLIC AUCTION, on TUESDAY, the 7th of October, 1845, at Twelve o'clock at the Golden Lion Hotel, Dolgelly, in the following, or such lots as may be agreed upon, the GOPPA ESTATE, situate in the parish of Trawsfynydd, in the county of Merioneth, comprehending upwards of 2,200 acres of arable, pasture, and meadow land, with substantial farm-houses and commodious out-buildings, in good repair, and most respectably tenanted.

The rents are very moderate, and in many instances would admit of a considerable advance without any injustice to the tenants; the tithes are commuted, the poor-rates low, and the land-tax upon the whole property redeemed.

This Estate presents to capitalists and others desirous of a safe investment, a most favourable opportunity, as the land abounds in minerals, and the certainty of unlocking the resources of the country by the projected railways, enhances its prospective value to an incalculable extent.

The Mansion House of Goppa on Lot 1, with a trifling outlay, would form a suitable residence for a gentleman of fortune; several trout streams pass through and adjoin the property; and the covers are notorious for early woodcocks.

Every Lot on the Estate has the advantage of having extensive sheep-walks attached, and on most of them are labourers' cottages.

The property is situate on both sides of the turnpike-road leading from Dolgelley to Maentwrog, and is distant from the former place twelve miles, and from the latter five miles.

The lots may be viewed on application to the tenants.

All further information, together with particulars and lithographic plans, may be obtained from Francis Hallowes, esq. Coed, near Dolgelly; Walter Powell Jones, esq. Cefn Rug, near Corwen; Mr. Robert Roberts, Bodtegin, near Cerrig-y-druidion; Messrs. Law and Tindal, solicitors, 10, New-square, Lincoln's-inn, London; and at the office of Mr. Thomas Hughes, solicitor, Denbigh; at the Hall of Commerce, London; and at the Auctioneer's Offices, Well-street, Ruthin.

NOTICE.—THE DELL adjoining WINDSOR PARK.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON respectfully apprize the Public that the late Sale of this much admired and delightful retreat, the property of Lord Rossmore, having been abandoned, offers will be again received for the estate with or without the furniture.

For cards to view and particulars, apply to Messrs. Pemberton, Crawley, and Gardiner, solicitors, Whitehall-place; or to Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, in Waterloo-place, Pall Mall, who are fully authorized to treat for its disposal.

The important and beautiful Freehold Estate and Manor of Lee Grange, in the Vale of Aylesbury, between that and the other Market Towns of Buckingham, Winslow, and Bicester.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on FRIDAY, September 26, at Twelve (instead of Sept. 16, as before advertised, unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made), the above very valuable and famous FREEHOLD DAIRY and GRAZING ESTATE; comprising nearly the whole hamlet of Shipton Lee, close to Quainton, and within a few miles of Aylesbury and Buckingham, consisting of several capital dairy farms, with suitable houses and homesteads, in the hands of highly respectable tenants, with some beautiful woodlands, full of thriving young oak, and abounding with game, comprising in a ring fence nearly 1,350 acres, chiefly rich grass land, and embracing the Grange Hill, one of the most prominent and beautiful features of the neighbourhood. The annual value of this fine property is about 2,000*l*. exempt from land-tax, and almost from tithes.—Further particulars may be had of Messrs. Whitmore, Roumieu, and Walters, 9, Lincoln's-inn; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, &c. in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, and Windsor.

IN ROMNEY MARSH.—Capital Freehold Grazing Farms, offering most eligible investments, particularly for trustees and others looking to income without the drawback of repairs or timber.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON will SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on TUESDAY, September 16, at Twelve, in lots, nearly 580 acres of rich FREEHOLD GRAZING LAND, in Romney Marsh, near the towns of Lydd and New Romney, all let to yearly but highly respectable tenants, at low rents, viz.: — An estate called Derings, in the occupation of Mr. Stephen Terry, jun.; a farm in the parish of Ivy Church, in the occupation of Mr. George Foord; an estate called Bird Kitchen Land, occupied by Mr. Francis Prim; and another farm in the occupation of Mr. John Prescott, both lying near the town of Lydd; and about 50 acres of rich marsh land near the town of New Romney, in the occupation of Mr. William Hoskins, with several detached parcels of fertile marsh and arable land; the whole presumed to be of the value of 1,000l. per annum. The estates may be viewed by permission of the tenants; and particulars, with plans, had, in due time, at the inns in New Romney, Lydd, Hythe, Rye, &c.; of Mr. Mortimer, solicitor, in the Albany, Piccadilly; of Mr. Austin, solicitor, Canterbury; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents and Surveyors, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall.

In the beautiful and healthy vicinity of HAWKHURST, capital and delightfully situated FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, and very valuable compact estate of about 355 acres, part ornamental, woodlands abounding with game, between Tunbridge Wells and Hastings, in the counties of Kent and Sussex.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned to offer for SALE by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Friday, September 26, at Twelve (unless previously disposed of by private contract), the valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE of Sea Coxheath, affording most excellent shooting near the picturesque and remarkably healthy village of Hawkhurst, only ten miles from the Staplehurst station on the Dover Railway, 13 from Tunbridge Wells, and 18 from Hastings. It comprises a substantial and comfortable mansion, with gardens, pleasure grounds, stabling, and all suitable appendages for a country establishment on a moderate scale, delightfully placed on a fine commanding brow, amidst scenery of great extent and varied beauty, approached from the turnpike-road, near the church, by a handsome stone-built lodge, with a broad terrace carriage-drive through plantations and shrubberies skirting some park-like pastures and the farm-lands in hand. The whole estate consists of 355 acres, of which about 129 acres are ornamental, and very thriving wood-lands (tithe free), the remainder pasture, meadow, and hop land, with convenient farm-houses and homesteads, part let. Possession may be had of the residence and lands in hand on the completion of the purchase, and with or without the furniture.—The estate may be viewed with cards, which may be had, with every other information, of Messrs. DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, London; and descriptive particulars, with plans, may be had at the neighbouring inns; at the hotels and libraries at Hastings, Tunbridge Wells, &c. and at the Auction Mart.

Periodical Sales (established in the year 1803) of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Policies of Assurance, Advowsons, Next Presentations, Rent Charges in lieu of Tithes, Post-obit Bonds, Tontines, Debentures, Ground Rents, Improved Rents, Shares in Docks, Canals, Mines, Railways, Insurance Companies, and all Public Undertakings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, follow:—

Friday, Oct. 3. | Friday, Nov. 7.
Friday, Dec. 5.

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

Valuable Long Leasehold Investments, producing a Rental of 1,085*l*. per Annum.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS are instructed to offer for SALE, in 17 lots, a highly valuable PROPERTY, most eligibly situated in one of the most improving neighbourhoods at the west side of the Metropolis, comprising Seventeen excellent Modern DWELLING-HOUSES, with roomy and capacious shops, with plate-glass fronts and private entrances, presenting a uniform and handsome elevation, and erected in a superior and durable manner, the whole let on lease to very respectable tenants, and producing a rental of 1,085*l*. per annum, held on lease for a term of 97 years unexpired, at a ground-rent of 170*l*. per annum, leaving a net income of 915*l*. presenting to capitalists a favourable opportunity for safe and profitable investments.—May be viewed with tickets only, which, with particulars, may be had of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

Excellent Leasehold Property, in the Wandsworth-road, producing a net rental of 322*l*. per annum.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on Friday, September 19, at Twelve, in two lots, the following valuable LEASEHOLD PROPERTY, held for long terms unexpired, partly at a low ground-rent, and the remainder at a peppercorn, comprising six convenient private residences, with large gardens behind, being 12 to 17, both inclusive, Albion-terrace, Wandsworth-road, and two workshops, with yards and premises, and about two acres of garden-ground in the rear; the whole producing a net rental partly on lease for the whole term, of 322*l*. per annum. —May be viewed with leave of the tenants, and particulars had, fourteen days previous to the sale, of Messrs. Clayton and Cookson, solicitors, 6, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

MIDDLESEX.—Manor and Farm of Headstone, in the parish of Harrow, comprising 411 acres of rich Meadow, Pasture, Arable, and Wood Land, exonerated from Land-tax, and chiefly Tithe-free.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Auction Mart, on FRIDAY, September 19, at Twelve, in three lots, an extensive and very valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, exonerated from land-tax, comprising Headstone Manor, or reputed Manor, and Farm, most advantageously situate in the hamlet of Pinner, and parish of Harrow, and abutting upon the Harrow station of the London and Birmingham Railway Company, consisting of 411 acres of superior arable, pasture, and meadow land, lying within a ring fence, with farm-house, and all suitable agricultural buildings. The moderate distance from the metropolis, the peculiar local advantages, and the access by the railway, powerfully recommend the property as an eligible investment.—May be viewed by application to the tenant, of whom particulars may be had; also, at the King's Head, Harrow; the Red Lion, Southall; the Crane, Edgware; the King's Arms, Uxbridge; of Mr. Visard, solicitor, Dursley, Gloucestershire; of Messrs. Blower, Visard, and Parson, solicitors, 61, Lincoln's-inn Fields; Mr. Storey, solicitor, St. Alban's; at the Auction Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

TO BE PEREMPTORILY SOLD, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Chancery, made in the causes Smart v. Kenrick, and Smart v. Sturgis, with the approbation of the Honourable Sir George Rose, one of the Masters of the said Court, at the Cross Foxes Inn, at Ruthin, in the county of Denbigh, on TUESDAY, the 23rd day of September, 1845, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, a MESSUAGE or TENEMENT, called Tythin-ucha, or Tyucha, situate in the parish of Derwin, in the county of Denbigh, with the pieces or parcels of land held therewith, containing in the whole 41a. 3r. 36p. or thereabouts, now in the occupation of Edward Roberts, as tenant from year to year.—Particulars and conditions may be had (gratis) at the said Master's chambers, in Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane, London; of Messrs. Few, Hamilton, and Fews, solicitors, Henrietta-street, Covent-garden, London; of Messrs. Milne, Parry, Milne, and Morris, solicitors, 2, Harcourt-buildings, Temple, London; of Mr. Marter, solicitor, 5, Furnival's-Inn, London; of Mr. Peers, solicitor, Ruthin; at the place of sale; and at the principal inns in the neighbourhood. JOSEPH PEERS, Ruthin,
Plaintiff's Solicitor.

THE HEADLAM HALL ESTATE, DARLINGTON, DURHAM.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, at the King's Head Hotel, Darlington, in the county of Durham, on MONDAY, the 13th day of October, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, by Mr. WETHERELL, Auctioneer (unless previously disposed of by private contract, of which due notice will be given), a most desirable MANSION, called HEADLAM HALL, with spacious gardens, lawn, orchard, pleasure-grounds, and plantations, well suited for the accommodation of a gentleman's family; and a valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, comprising about 165 acres of superior meadow, pasture, and arable land, with several cottages for farm-labourers, situate adjoining the pleasant and rural village of Headlam, and about a mile and a half from Gainford, beautifully situate on the banks of the river Tees. The estate, which is in excellent condition, and in the occupation of a highly-respectable tenant, is situate in the best and most picturesque part of the county of Durham, and is easily accessible by good roads to the best markets, being distant from Darlington eight miles, from Barnard-castle eight miles, and from Bishop Auckland eight miles and a half. It is also in a good sporting country, being only three miles distant from the Duke of Cleveland's residence of Raby Castle, where a first-rate pack of fox-hounds is kept. The continuous lines of railway meeting at Darlington afford a ready means of communication with all parts of the kingdom.

Also, to be SOLD at the same time, a compact well-built HOUSE, of moderate size, fronting upon the village-green of Headlam, with a good garden and paddock, in the occupation of Mrs. Brockett. Mrs. Brockett will, upon application, send a person to shew the estate.

Particulars, and a lithographic plan of the estate, will shortly be ready, and may be obtained of Messrs. Meredith and Reeves, solicitors, 8, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; and Messrs. Harbin and Wards, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn, Strand, London; at the George Hotel, York; King's Arms Hotel, Lancaster; King's Head Hotel, Darlington; of the Auctioneer, Durham; and of Mr. Bowser, solicitor, Bishop Auckland, who is authorised to treat for the sale of the estate.

Sales by Auction.

Leasehold Residence, with Coach-house and Stable, Brixton-place, near the new church, Brixton.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK is instructed by the Executors to SELL by AUCTION, upon the Premises, on WEDNESDAY, October 8, at Two o'clock precisely, the LEASE of a private RESIDENCE, being 29, Brixton-place, having gardens in front and rear, with coach-house and two-stall stable, and fit for the immediate reception of a respectable family; held for an unexpired term of 17 years, at the low rent of 45*l.* per annum.—May be viewed, and particulars obtained at the Mart; of Messrs. Richardson, Smith, and Sawyer, solicitors, 28, Golden-square; and at Mr. F. CHINNOCK'S Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

First-rate Leaseholds for investment or occupation, Ampthill-square, Hampstead-road, held direct from the Duke of Bedford, for long terms, at very low ground rents.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK is instructed to SELL, peremptorily, at the Mart, on WEDNESDAY, October 8, at One precisely, FOUR substantially-built private RESIDENCES, two being No. 5, Ampthill-square, and No. 2, Ridgmount-place, let on lease to highly responsible tenants, at rents amounting to 161*l.* per annum; the others being Nos. 3 and 4, Ampthill-square, ready for occupation. Mr. Chinnock particularly recommends this property for either investment or occupation. The houses are, most substantially built, well finished, and decorated with great taste, situate in a highly improving neighbourhood, and held direct from the Duke of Bedford for 99 years, at ground rents of 5*l.* and 6*l.* each.—Descriptive particulars will be published early, and may be obtained of J. Ivemey, esq. solicitor, 1, Ampthill-square, and 26, Chancery-lane; at the Auction Mart; and at Mr. CHINNOCK'S Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

WINDMILL-HILL, GRAVESEND. — Valuable Freehold Property, known as the Shrubbery Tea Gardens.

MR. FREDERICK CHINNOCK will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on WEDNESDAY, October 8, at Twelve, without the slightest reservation, a valuable PLOT of FREEHOLD BUILDING GROUND, situate on the north-eastern side of Windmill-hill, presenting a considerable undulation of surface, and enjoys from every point the unrivalled panoramic views for which this spot is so justly celebrated. Considerable sums have been expended from time to time upon it by inclosing it with a 5-feet oak fence, sinking a well to a considerable depth, and numerous erections, among others a grated rustic saloon 50 feet by 128, ...er-houses, &c. A portion of the ground could with advantage be allotted as building land without deteriorating from the beauties of the spot, the whole combining to form a ...e investment for capital, and a trifling outlay in the repairing the walks and approaches will ensure a good income in the ensuing season: the whole forming a most compact freehold estate, containing 6a. 2r. 5p.—May be viewed any time previously to the sale. Particulars had of Messrs. Coombe and Sharland, solicitors, Town-hall, Gravesend; at the Mart; and at Mr. F. CHINNOCK'S Auction and Agency Offices, 28, Regent-street, Waterloo-place.

A seven-roomed House and Shop adjoining; term, 50 years; ground-rent, 3*l.* 10s.; and a well-built House and Shop, 25, East-road, City-road, let at a net rent of 30*l.* per annum; term, 40 years; ground-rent, 6*l.*—May be viewed by leave of the tenants, and particulars had of W. H. Turner, esq. Whitechapel-mount; S. Prentice, esq. 13, Bedford-square East; J. Ellerthorp, esq. Colet-place, Commercial-road; Messrs. J. and W. Sheffield, 64, Old Broad-street; of W. J. Boulton, esq. Northampton-square; Mercers' Hall; Swan, Stratford; the Mart; and at the Auctioneer's offices, Mile-end-road.

TO BE PEREMPTORILY SOLD, pursuant to an Order of the High Court of Chancery, made in the causes Smart v. Kenrick, and Smart v. Sturgis, with the approbation of the Honourable Sir George Rose, one of the Masters of the said Court, at the Cross Foxes Inn, at Ruthin, in the county of Denbigh, on TUESDAY, the 23rd day of September, 1845, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, a MESSUAGE or TENEMENT, called Tythin-ucha, or Tyucha, situate in the parish of Derwin, in the county of Denbigh, with the pieces or parcels of land held therewith, containing in the whole 41a. 2r. 36p. or thereabouts, now in the occupation of Edward Roberts, as tenant from year to year.—Particulars and conditions may be had (gratis) at the said Master's chambers, in Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane, London; of Messrs. Few, Hamilton, and Fews, solicitors, Henrietta-street, Covent-garden, London; of Messrs. Milne, Parry, Milne, and Morris, solicitors, 2, Harcourt-buildings, Temple, London; of Mr. Marter, solicitor, 5, Furnival's-Inn, London; of Mr. Peers, solicitor, Ruthin; at the place of sale; and at the principal inns in the neighbourhood. JOSEPH PEERS, Ruthin, Plaintiff's Solicitor.

GLAMORGANSHIRE, SOUTH WALES. —Capital FREEHOLD ESTATE and FREEHOLD MINERAL PROPERTY, to be SOLD by AUCTION by Messrs. ADAM MURRAY and SON, at the Mackworth Arms Inn, in the borough and seaport town of Swansea, in October next, unless disposed of in the mean time by Private Contract, of which due notice will be given, a House, in High-street, and a good Wharf near the Town Hall, and several Farms (twenty in number), and the coal under upwards of 1,600 acres of land, all situate in the several parishes of Llansamlet, Swansea, St. John-juxta-Swansea, Llanyefelach, Llanyuke, Llandilo-talybont, Loughor, Pistone, and Llanridian. Some of the coal is of as good quality for steam-packet purposes as any in the kingdom, and the situation commands an excellent outlet to the sea for exportation. The South Wales, Welsh Midland, and Swansea Vale Railways will pass through parts of the property, and will increase the facilities of bringing the coal to market. A portion of the coal in Llanyefelach and St. John's has been leased at sleeping rents and royalties to most responsible tenants.—Printed particulars will be ready by the middle of September, and may be had of Messrs. Llewellyn and Randall, solicitors, Neath; Messrs. Rowland, Hacon, and Rowland, solicitors, 38, Threadneedle-street, London; at the office of Messrs. ADAM MURRAY and SON, 35, Craven-street, Strand, London; at the inns at Bristol and Swansea, and at the Commercial Rooms at Liverpool, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Manchester, and Glasgow.

Highly important and extremely valuable Landed Estates, alike eligible either for investment or occupation, most delightfully situate in a rich and fertile district, near the borough-town and port of Harwich, containing altogether nearly 1,100 acres of the finest land in the county of Essex.

MR. LEIFCHILD has been favoured with positive instructions by the Devisees in Trust for Sale, to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, in various lots, a valuable and most desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, known as Southall Farm, in the parish of Ramsey; compris[illegible] gentlemanly residence, with ample accommodation fo[r] a highly respectable family; lawn[illegible]ls, and walled kitchen gardens, large and [illegible]tious farm-yards, with numerous well-arranged agricultural building of every description, and 378 acres of very superior pasture arable, and sound rich marsh land in a high state of cultivation. This property, which is admirably situate on an eminence near the town of Harwich, and commanding land and sea views of great extent and beauty, is held under an agreement for lease, which will expire at Michaelmas 1853, by Mr. Wm. Keer, a highly respectable tenant, at the low rent of 600*l*. per annum. Also a very desirable Freehold Property, adjoining the preceding farm, and formerly held with the same, comprising sundry handsome inclosures of arable and marsh land, containing in the whole 160 acres; let to Mr. John South, a most respectable tenant at will, at an apportioned rent of 200*l*. per annum. A very eligible and most desirable Freehold Estate, known as Royden-hall Farm, delightfully situate in the beautiful vill[age] [of] Ramsey, comprising a genteel family residence, with lawns, gardens, and pleasure-grounds, capital farm-yard, with appropriate agricultural buildings, surrounded with numerous handsome inclosures of fine meadow and productive corn land of the first quality, in a high state of cultivation, containing in the whole 278 acres, in a ring fence, now in the occupation of Mr. Robert Giles, a most respectable tenant at the low rent of 450*l*. per annum. A very compact and val[uable] Freehold Estate, known as Stourwood Farm, eligibly situate near the turnpike-road, in the parish of Ramsey; comprising a commodious farm-house, with excellent garden, large farm-yards, and suitable agricultural buildings of every description, surrounded by handsome inclosures of first-rate corn land in high cultivation, containing in the whole 161 acres, now in the occupation of Mr. William Malpas, as tenant at will, at the low rent of 250*l*. per annum. A small Freehold Estate, known as Fox's Farm, in the parish of Wratness, with farm-house, yards, and buildings, surrounded by eight inclosures of fine arable land, in excellent cultivation, containing in the whole about 60 acres; let to Mr. Edward Fisher, at the low rent of 90*l*. per annum.—Mr. Leifchild begs respectfully to commend to the attention of noblemen, capitalists, and trust[ees] the above important properties. The farms are of the very first character, and occupied by highly respectable tenants; the houses and buildings are in excellent repair, and the lands farmed in the best possible manner. In addition to these intrinsic advantages, the local and contingent attractions are very superior; among them may be mentioned the beautiful rides and drives with which the neighbourhood abounds, the well-known fertility of the district, its contiguity to the capital market-town and port of Manningtree, and to the borough-town and port of Harwich, to which a railway is in contemplation for the ensuing year.—The estates may be viewed, with tickets only, by permission of the respective tenants, and full descriptive particulars and lithographic plans of each lot may be had at all the principal inns in the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk, and Essex; at Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Co.'s, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row, at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-st. London.

Eligible and safe Investment of 300*l*. per annum in the county of Essex.

MR. LEIFCHILD is instructed by the Devisees in Trust for Sale, to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, at Twelve for One precisely, the valuable TITHE RENT CHARGE, arising out of certain capital lands in the admired parish of Dovercourt, near the borough town and port of Harwich, producing 300*l*. per annum, and payable half-yearly by 25 responsible parties.—Full descriptive particulars, with a terrier annexed, may be had at the principal inns in Essex, Suffolk, and Norfolk; at Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Winter's, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London.

Milkhurst Toll Farm.—A desirable Freehold Estate, land-tax redeemed, at Heathfield, a picturesque district, in the county of Sussex.

MR. LEIFCHILD has received instructions, from the Devisees in Trust for Sale, to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, at Twelve for One, in one lot, a very desirable FREEHOLD ESTATE, known as Milkhurst Toll Farm, eligibly situate by the side of the turnpike-road leading from Lewes to Burwash, Mayfield, and Tunbridge-wells, in the pleasant village of Heathfield, in the county of Sussex. It consists of an excellent farm-house, with yards and gardens, barns, stables, oast-house, and other out-buildings, together with 24 inclosures of arable, meadow, pasture, hop-garden, and wood land in a ring fence, the whole containing 149a. 2r. 5p., about 60 of which are productive wood-land. The property is now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Potten, a respectable tenant; it is freehold, and land-tax redeemed, and the commuted tithes are very moderate. The woods are full of fine young oak timber and thriving underwood, and are well adapted for the preservation of game, of which there abundance at the present time.—May be viewed by permission of the tenant, and full descriptive particulars, with plans, will be issued previous to the sale, and may be had on the premises; at the principal inns at Lewes, Hastings, Tunbridge and Tunbridge-wells, and Mayfield; of Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Winter, solicitors, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, 62, Moorgate-street, London.

Compact Freehold Farm, in the parish of Barcombe, in the county of Sussex.

MR. LEIFCHILD is instructed by the Devisees in Trust for Sale, to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at Garraway's, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, at Twelve for One, in two lots, a very eligible small FREEHOLD FARM, known as Spithurst or Panthill Farm, pleasantly situate in the parish of Barcombe, within five miles of the capital market-town of Lewes, in the county of Sussex; comprising a small farm-house and suitable buildings, with 14 inclosures of capital arable, pasture, and wood land, in very excellent cultivation; also a genteel cottage residence, with excellent gardens, and two handsome inclosures of meadow land adjoining: the whole containing 61a. 2r. 2p. in the several occupations of Mr. Wright and the Rev. Evan Jones. —May be viewed by permission of the tenants, and full descriptive particulars, with plans, may be had at the principal inns at Brighton, Lewes, and Hastings, Tunbridge and Tunbridge-wells; on the premises; of Messrs. Winter, Williams, and Winter, 16, Bedford-row; at Garraway's; and at Mr. LEIFCHILD'S Land and Timber Offices, Moorgate-street, London.

TO CAPITALISTS.—Carmarthenshire and Glamorganshire, South Wales.—The Agent of an extensive Estate calls the attention of Iron-masters, Colliers, Manufacturers, Farmers, and Capitalists in general, to this announcement. He is prepared to enter into engagements with respectable parties for the leasing, on long terms, of various descriptions of property, now the objects of public attention: Anthracite, Bituminous and Steel Coal, Culm, Iron-stone, Limestone, Marble, Flag, and other QUARRIES, Fire Clay, and Brick Earth, Sites for Building at and [nea]r a flourishing and fast rising Commercial Town, Sea port, and Floating Dock, for Manufactories, Ship-building Yards, Wharfs, Store and Dwelling-houses; and in the Coal and Iron district, sites for works joining a railroad and canal, leading by their main trunks and branches to three sea-ports—water-power is almost general. Situations for rural and marine residences in the most beautiful parts of the country, commanding views of Swansea and Carmarthen Bays, and the Black Mountain, with good roads, cheap markets, and daily communication with Bristol, Gloucester, and the Metropolis. The sportsman will find his pursuits rewarded with woodcock, snipe, and other game in winter and in summer, trout, salmon, and the much-esteemed sewin, a fish peculiar to the principality.

The estate containing twelve thousand acres, is situated in twenty-four parishes, offering every variety of soil and scenery to the admirer of the picturesque, and numerous objects of interest to the geologist.

As an inducement to capitalists to embark in such agricultural improvements as draining, planting, erection of proper homesteads, &c. which now so deservedly occupy public attention, leases of ninety-nine years (a term usually confined to building-leases) will be granted for these purposes. Cheap food, cheap labour, cheap fuel, and cheap raw material of every description, will give the manufacturer an advantage over every other part of Great Britain; while the large and still increasing trade in coal affords an intercourse with all parts of the world, for the transmission of raw materials from other localities, at cheap back freights, and for forwarding to their destination the manufactured articles. This more particularly applies to those undertakings where the consumption of coal forms a principal ingredient.

The South Wales Railway will pass through the town and the three sea-ports, and through and near a large proportion of the estate near the sea-coast; while the contemplated Welsh Midland Railway will bring the collieries, iron-stone, limestone, and other quarries within an easy distance of the agricultural counties of Hereford and Worcester, and the great chain of railway communication connecting Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, and all the important manufacturing districts of England.

CLAPHAM.—Long Leasehold Investment.

MESSRS. FOOKS and JOHNSON are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, opposite the Bank of England, on WEDNESDAY, September 17, in lots, five very desirable long LEASEHOLD HOUSES, adjoining each other, being "Pleasant-place," Manor-street, Clapham. These houses are exceedingly well built, in a good situation, let to very respectable tenants, at a rental of 155*l*. per annum, which is considered much under their value, and form altogether an exceedingly eligible investment; held on lease for 73 years, from March 25, 1842, at the low ground-rent of 23*l*. per annum, which will be apportioned.—May be viewed by leave of the respective tenants. Particulars at the Mart; of Messrs. Harbin and Ward, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn; and of Messrs. FOOKS and JOHNSON, Auctioneers, Surveyors, &c. 30, Lincoln's-inn-fields.

LAMBETH.—Three good Leasehold Houses and Shop in an excellent situation.

MESSRS. FOOKS and JOHNSON are instructed by the administrator to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 17, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, THREE very excellent LEASEHOLD HOUSES and SHOP, with good premises in the rear, situate and being Nos. 75, 76, and 79, Prince's-road, Lambeth. These houses are well built, in good repair, and let to respectable tenants, producing altogether a rental of about 85*l*. per annum. The lease is for 61 years, about 37 years of which are unexpired; and this property will be sold free of ground-rent, affording, therefore, a most desirable investment.—May be viewed by leave of the respective tenants. Particulars may be obtained of Messrs. Harbin and Ward, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn, at the Mart, and of Messrs. FOOKS and JOHNSON, Auctioneers, Surveyors, &c. 30, Lincoln's-inn-Fields.

Address of Reference ________________

THE DORKING, BRIGHTON, and ARUNDEL ATMOSPHERIC RAILWAY, by Horsham and Shoreham. (Provisionally registered pursuant to the Act 7th and 8th Victoria, c. 110.) Capital 1,000,000*l*. in 50,000 Shares of 20*l*. each. Deposit 2*l*. 2*s*. per Share.

Arrangements are in progress for the formation of a Company to make at Atmospheric Railway from Dorking (vià Epsom) to Brighton through Horsham and Shoreham, and from Horsham to Arundel, thereby affording (either by means of a junction with the Direct London and Portsmouth Atmospheric Railway at Dorking, or the Croydon Atmospheric Railway at Epsom) to the intermediate very populous and wealthy district, the important advantages of a direct communication with the metropolis, and also with the coast from which it is at present excluded, as well as forming the best connecting link between that district and the ports of Shoreham, Arundel, Portsmouth, and Southampton, and the principal towns of Surrey, Sussex, Kent, and Hants.

A detailed prospectus, with the names of the Provisional Committee, will be shortly published, and in the meantime communications may be addressed to Messrs. Campbell and Witty, 21, Essex-street, Strand; Messrs. Attree, Clarke, and MacWhinnie, and Messrs. Upperton, Verrall, and Veysey, Brighton; Messrs. Coppard and Rawlinson, Horsham; Messrs. Everest and Wardroper, Epsom; and Richard Holmes, esq. Arundel.

CAMPBELL and WITTY, Solicitors for the Bill.

DIRECT NORTHERN and WESTERN

Malmesbury, Cirencester, Burford, Deddington, and Towcester, joining the Northampton and Peterborough line at Blisworth, and from Peterborough by the projected lines on to Boston and Great Grimsby; and by branches of the North-Eastern Railway to Yarmouth; thus uniting the three ports of Bristol, Boston, and Yarmouth. (Provisionally registered.) Capital 1,250,000*l*. in 50,000 Shares, at 25*l*. per share. Deposit, 2*l*. 12*s*. 6*d*. per Share.

This important line is projected for the purpose of opening a direct, uninterrupted, continuous communication between the northern, north-eastern, and western counties of England, uniting the important shipping port of Bristol with the agricultural and manufacturing districts in the north and midland counties; and, as it runs in a transverse direction, it will not interfere with any line now in operation; but, on the contrary, whilst it receives, will give support to all the northern, midland, and north-eastern lines.

Prospectuses, with a plan, will be issued in a few days; in the meantime applications for shares may be addressed to the Solicitors to the Company,

Messrs. CAMPBELL and WITTY,
21, Essex-street, Strand.

Sales by Auction.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, October 2 | Thursday, November 6
Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

An ANNUITY of 100*l*. per Annum.

MESSRS. VENTOM and HUGHES are instructed by the Assignees of James Lane, an Insolvent, to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, Sept. 18, at Twelve, an ANNUITY of 100*l*. per annum, settled on a Gentleman, after the death of his wife, both in their 46th year, the Lady being the senior by three months, which annuity is vested in the public funds in the names of respectable trustees.—Printed particulars may be had of G. J. Graham, esq. official assignee, 25, Coleman-street; Mr. Chambers, solicitor, 11, Basinghall-street; VENTOM and HUGHES, 7, Angel-court, Throgmorton-street; and at the Auction Mart.

GREENWICH.—Eleven Houses, Thames-street, Frederick-street, and Coltman-street.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 23, at Twelve for One, ELEVEN well-built HOUSES, in good repair, and desirably situate in the centre of Greenwich, where houses let as well as in the City of London: No. 5 to 11, Frederick-street, Thames-street, a capital corner shop, situate at the end of Coltman-street, in Thames-street, two houses adjoining, and one in the rear in Coltman-street. The houses contain each four rooms and wash-house, and are let at rentals amounting to about 147*l*. per annum: term of lease 51½ years from Michaelmas-day next; ground-rent 23*l*. 10*s*. on the whole.—Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Messrs. C. and R. Parker, solicitors, Thornton row, Greenwich, and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

OLD KENT-ROAD.—Three Acres of Freehold Building Land, in plots, and Six Freehold Residences.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 23, 1845, at Twelve for One, in plots, nearly three acres of valuable FREEHOLD BUILDING LAND, desirably situate near the Rising Sun, Old Kent-road, presenting considerable frontages on roads made up. Some of the plots are of corner situation, and some being contiguous to the Grand Surrey Canal are likely to become valuable as wharfs. The distance is only about two miles and a half from London-bridge; and the hundreds of houses which have been erected on those portions of the estate which Mr. Single sold two or three years since prove, beyond all doubt, that the property is desirable as building ground.

Also, Six FREEHOLD RESIDENCES on the same estate.

Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Messrs. Barker, Rose, and Norton, solicitors, 50, Mark-lane; of Messrs. Smith and Taylor, solicitors, 4, Basinghall-street; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

THE HEADLAM HALL ESTATE, DARLINGTON, DURHAM.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, at the King's Head Hotel, Darlington, in the county of Durham, on MONDAY, the 13th day of October, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, by Mr. WETHERELL, Auctioneer (unless previously disposed of by private contract, of which due notice will be given), a most desirable MANSION, called HEADLAM HALL, with spacious gardens, lawn, orchard, pleasure-grounds, and plantations, well suited for the accommodation of a gentleman's family; and a valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, comprising about 165 acres of superior meadow, pasture, and arable land, with several cottages for farm-labourers, situate adjoining the pleasant and rural village of Headlam, and about a mile and a half from Gainford, beautifully situate on the banks of the river Tees. The estate, which is in excellent condition, and in the occupation of a highly-respectable tenant, is situate in the best and most picturesque part of the county of Durham, and is easily accessible by good roads to the best markets, being distant from Darlington eight miles, from Barnard-castle eight miles, and from Bishop Auckland eight miles and a half. It is also in a good sporting country, being only three miles distant from the Duke of Cleveland's residence of Raby Castle, where a first-rate pack of fox-hounds is kept. The continuous lines of railway meeting at Darlington afford a ready means of communication with all parts of the kingdom.

Also to be SOLD at the same time, a compact well-built HOUSE, of moderate size, fronting upon the village-green of Headlam, with a good garden and paddock, in the occupation of Mrs. Brockett. Mrs. Brockett will, upon application, send a person to shew the estate.

Particulars, and a lithographic plan of the estate may be obtained of Messrs. Meredith and Reeves, solicitors, 8, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; and Messrs. Harbin and Wards, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn, Strand, London; at the George Hotel, York; King's Arms Hotel, Lancaster; King's Head Hotel, Darlington; of the Auctioneer, Durham; and of Mr. Bowser, solicitor, Bishop Auckland, who is authorised to treat for the sale of the estate.

Extensive and Important Sale of Freehold Property, in Merionethshire, North Wales.

MR. LLOYD has been honoured with instructions from the Trustees of the late Richard Parry, esq. of Llwen Ynn, to submit to PUBLIC AUCTION, on TUESDAY, the 7th of October, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, at the Golden Lion Hotel, Dolgelly, in the following, or such lots as may be agreed upon, the GOPPA ESTATE, situate in the parish of Trawsfynydd, in the county of Merioneth, comprehending upwards of 2,200 acres of arable, pasture, and meadow land, with substantial farm-houses and commodious out-buildings, in good repair, and most respectably tenanted.

IN THE PARISH OF TRAWSFYNYDD.

The rents are very moderate, and in many instances would admit of a considerable advance without any injustice to the tenants; the tithes are commuted, the poor-rates low, and the land-tax upon the whole property redeemed.

This Estate presents to capitalists and others desirous of a safe investment, a most favourable opportunity, as the land abounds in minerals, and the certainty of unlocking the resources of the country by the projected railways, enhances its prospective value to an incalculable extent.

The Mansion House of Goppa on Lot 1, with a trifling outlay, would form a suitable residence for a gentleman of fortune; several trout streams pass through and adjoin the property, and the covers are notorious for early woodcocks.

Every Lot on the Estate has the advantage of having extensive sheep-walks attached, and on most of them are labourers' cottages.

The property is situate on both sides of the turnpike-road along from Dolgelley to Maentwrog, and is distant from the former place twelve miles, and from the latter five miles.

The lots may be viewed on application to the tenants.

All further information, together with particulars and lithographic plans, may be obtained from Francis Hallowes, esq. Coed, near Dolgelly; Walter Powell Jones, esq. Cefn Rug, near Corwen; Mr. Robert Roberts, Bodtegin, near Cerrig-y-druidion; Messrs. Law and Tindal, solicitors, 10, New-square, Lincoln's-inn, London; and at the office of Mr. Thomas Hughes, solicitor, Denbigh; at the Hall of Commerce, London; and at the Auctioneer's Offices, Well-street, Ruthin.

Periodical Sales (established in the year 1803) of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Policies of Assurance, Advowsons, Next Presentations, Rent Charges in lieu of Tithes, Post-obit Bonds, Tontines, Debentures, Ground Rents, Improved Rents, Shares in Docks, Canals, Mines, Railways, Insurance Companies, and all Public Undertakings.

MESSRS. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS respectfully inform the public, that upwards of 40 years' experience having proved the classification of this species of property to be extremely advantageous and economical to vendors, and equally satisfactory and convenient to purchasers, the PERIODICAL SALES of reversionary interests, policies of insurance, tontines, debentures, advowsons, next presentations, all securities dependent upon human life, shares in docks, canals, mines, railways, and all public undertakings, will be continued through 1845, as follow:—

Friday, Oct. 3. | Friday, Nov. 7.
Friday, Dec. 5.

Particulars may be had Ten days previous to each sale, at the Royal Hotel, Manchester; the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool; Dee's Royal Hotel, Birmingham; the Angel, Oxford; the Eagle and Child, Cambridge; at the Mart; and of Messrs. SHUTTLEWORTH and SONS, 28, Poultry.

WEST LODGE, CLAPHAM-COMMON.—Capital Freehold Residence, with Lodge, Gardens, and Pleasure Grounds, Green-house, and Meadow Land, altogether about eight acres: land-tax redeemed.

MESSRS. WINSTANLEY are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 16, a most eligible FREEHOLD RESIDENCE, erected and finished in a very superior style of elegant neatness, planned for the occupation of a family of the first respectability, and situate at the north-west extremity of Clapham-common; containing a handsome entrance hall, with two staircases, library and drawing-room, a dining-room 35 feet by 17, gentleman's room, two water-closets, a boudoir, five best bed-chambers with closets, dressing-rooms, &c., three secondary rooms, a billiard-room or large nursery, excellent kitchen, and wash-house amply supplied with fine spring and soft water, servants' hall, dairy, larder, and other attached offices, and capital cellarage, a paved carriage yard, two coach-houses, gig house, four-stall stable, laundry, and other suitable detached buildings; the lawn, fore-court, and shrubberies are beautifully laid out, the walks encircling the meadows and extending to the Wandsworth-road, to which there is a considerable building frontage.—To be viewed by cards only, which, with descriptive particulars, may be had of Messrs. WINSTANLEY, Paternoster-row; particulars may also be had at the office of Mr. Wright, solicitor, 7, Rathbone-place, Oxford-street; and at the place of sale.

SPALDING and COWBIT.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. POLLARD, at the White Hart Inn, in Spalding, in the county of Lincoln, on TUESDAY, September 23, 1845, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to such conditions of sale as shall be then and there produced, and in the following or such other Lots as shall be agreed upon at the time of Sale.

Lot 1.—All that plot of valuable BUILDING GROUND, situate in Hall-street, and opposite to the Town-hall, and near to the Market-place and Stock-market of Spalding aforesaid, abutting on the south-west on the estate of Mr. Riley, and containing by admeasurement 112 square yards, or thereabouts, having a frontage next the Town Street of about 17 feet, as the same is now staked out, together with the building materials now standing thereon, and being the third part or thereabouts of an ancient messuage and conveniences, now divided into three tenements, and in the respective occupations of Thomas Woods and William Wright.

Lot 2.—All that other plot of building ground, fronting the Town-street aforesaid, adjoining Lot 1 on the south-west, and containing by admeasurement 110 square yards or thereabouts, having a frontage next the Town-street of about 17 feet, as the same is now staked out, together with the building materials thereon, and being one other third part of thereabouts of the said ancient messuage and conveniences.

[illegible] that other plot of Building Ground, adjoining south-west, and the stall-house on the north-west, and near to the stock-market of Spalding aforesaid, containing by admeasurement 110 square yards, or thereabouts, having a frontage next the Town-street of about 17 feet, as the same is now staked out, together with the building materials thereon, as now marked out, and being the remaining third part, or thereabouts, of the said ancient messuage and conveniences.

The situation of the above lots for business purposes is excellent, being in the centre of the populous and improving town of Spalding, opposite to the Town-hall, and contiguous to the market-place and the stock-market.

Lot 4. All that Freehold Close of Arable Land, situate within the first district in the South Fen, in Cowbit, numbered 35 on the plan annexed to the award of the Commissioners for the drainage of Spalding, Cowbit, and other commons, containing by admeasurement 6a. 2r. 23p. (more or less), bounded, north, by land of Mr. John Hutchinson, east by the river Welland and the Cradge Bank, south by land of William Hurrey, and west by the Park Engine Drain, and now in the occupation of James Wade.

Lot 5. All that Freehold Close of Land, situate in Cowbit Wash, in the parish of Pinchbeck, numbered 156 on the plan annexed to the said Commissioners' award, bounded on the south-east by Lord Brownlow's-road, and now in the occupation of Richard Harrison.

The respective purchasers can be accommodated with the whole or any part of their purchase-moneys on approved security.—For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, or at the offices of Mr. C. S. Todd, solicitor, Hull; or Messrs. S. and W. Edwards, solicitors, Spalding.

TOLLER, Elizabeth Mellor, wife of S. Bush Toller, of Lincoln's-inn, esq. barrister-at-law, on the 11th inst. at Hampstead, aged 38.

THE LIVERPOOL ASSIZE COURTS.—On the 13th we took a hasty glance at the interior of this noble pile of buildings, and found that the work continues still to make a very slow progress. The sound of the hammer and chisel is to be heard at every angle; and we have no doubt, from what we saw and learned on our visits, although the walls are bare, and the building itself is neither roofed nor floored, that a very considerable portion of the preparatory part of the workmanship has been accomplished. The 24 granite columns which are to adorn St. George's-hall have arrived from Aberdeen, and the inauguration of the first of them into its position will take place to-day. The columns will have an extremely grand and imposing effect, the granite being of the richest vein we ever had the opportunity of inspecting. The only other columns in the kingdom which bear any comparison to them are the four in the British Museum in London. There the columns are each hewn from the one block, and present to the eye of a beholder a very elegant appearance. Here, in order to save expense, each column will consist of five or six different pieces, and the joinings must necessarily detract to some extent from the general effect. Still, viewed from either end of the magnificent hall, which will be 199 feet in length, the grandeur and massiveness of the sight will be unequalled. The columns for the front entrance are also nearly completed, and so are the 16 Corinthian capitals. The capitals are from the design of Mr. S. C. Kelsey, of London, who has been superintending their execution; and some idea of their massiveness will be gathered from the fact that each of the circular ones weighs 9 tons, and each of the square ones 11 tons. Many of the internal embellishments, though not yet fixed in their respective places, are either completed or in a state of great forwardness; and we may add, that Mr. Elmes, the architect, has at present 170 workmen daily employed. There appears to be very little difference of opinion, however, on this important point,—that it will take from two to three years, at the very least, to finish the building. But, however distant the period of its completion may be, it will, when finished, be such an ornament to Liverpool as no other town in the kingdom can boast of. Its extreme length will be 498 feet. The length of the hall, as we have said, will be 199 feet; its width 72 feet 9 inches; its height 87 feet 6 inches. The length of the courts will be 59 feet 9 inches; their width 50 feet 6 inches; their height about 30 feet. The concert-room will be 70 feet square by about 40 feet high.—Liverpool Albion.

THIS Office unites the Benefit of a Mutual Association with the security of a Proprietary Company, and offers to the Assured the following advantages:—

1. Credit until death, with privileges of payment at any time previously, for one-half of the premiums for the first five years, upon Assurances for the whole of Life,—a plan peculiarly advantageous for securing Loans.
2. In Loan transactions the lender secured against the risk of the borrower going out of Europe.
3. Sums assured to become payable AT GIVEN AGES or DEATH, if previous.
4. Policies indefeasible; fraud alone, not error, vitiating them; and in case the Renewal Premium remain unpaid, the Assurance may be revived at any time within SIX MONTHS, upon satisfactory proof of health, and payment of a trifling fine.
5. Officers in the Army and Navy, and persons residing abroad or proceeding to any part of the world, assured at low rates.
6. Immediate, Survivorship, and Deferred Annuities granted; and Endowments for Children, and every mode of provision for Families arranged.

Information, and Prospectuses furnished, on application at the Office.

This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect security in a large paid-up Capital, and in the great success which has attended it since its commencement in 1834,

Its Annual Income being upwards of £72,000.

In 1841, the Company declared an addition to the Shareholders of one-half of their Stock, and also added a Bonus of 2*l*. per cent. per annum on the sum insured to all policies of the participating class from the time they were effected.

The Bonus added to policies from March, 1834, to the 31st Dec. 1840, is as follows:—

Sum Assured.	Time Assured.	Sum added to Policy
£5,000	6 Yrs. 10 Months.	£683 6s. 8d.
5,000	2 Years	200 0 0

The Premiums nevertheless are on the most moderate scale, and only one-half need be paid for the first Five Years, where the Insurance is for Life.

Assurances are granted by this Society on the lives of persons in every profession and station of life.

The Assured have the option of participating in the profits, or of effecting their policies without participation, at a reduced rate of premium.

Four-fifths of the profits of the Society are divided every five years among the participating members, in the form of an immediate or reversionary bonus, or by reduction of premium, at the option of the Assured.

Where a life assured by another has gone beyond the prescribed limits without the knowledge of the party interested, this Society renews the policy on the same terms as they would have required for its continuance had their consent been previously obtained.

Assurances for which immediate despatch is required may be effected on the same day that they are proposed.

The Tables of Premiums, founded on the Government returns of mortality for the whole kingdom, have been calculated on the lowest scale consistent with security.

Prospectuses and information relative to Assurance in all its branches may be obtained by applying, personally or by letter, to the Actuary at the Office.

Applications from Solicitors in the country desirous of acting as Agents of the Society may be addressed to the Secretary.

The usual commission allowed to all Solicitors.

This Company, in addition to all the usual business of Assurance Companies, offers to the public a new system of Loans, more beneficial to the borrower, and yielding a better return to the Shareholder, than any system at present in use.

Thus any person effecting an assurance with this Company can borrow the full amount of the sum secured by his policy, upon giving collateral security for the payment of an increased rate of premium, fixed by the tables of the Company, according to the age of the person borrowing and the amount borrowed, and interest on the loan for a limited number of years only; which will, in effect, repay the money borrowed, and maintain a policy on the life of the borrower, and he will not, as in ordinary cases, be liable to be called upon to repay, in one sum, and by a given day, the principal money lent.

A reference to the Prospectuses of the Company (which have been already advertised at length in the papers), and which contain specimens of the Tables, will shew the mode by which the Company effects this object.

The Company will also advance money on Annuity, Mortgage, or other security.

Shareholders will receive a large remuneration in the shape of Bonus, arising from the operations of the Company, augmented by the profits on Premiums, paid in connection with Loans, in addition to interest upon their capital invested in shares; besides, by the mode of distribution proposed by the Company, the certainty, in addition to an increasing rate of interest, of a proportionate increase in the value of the capital, by the appropriation of a certain portion of the accumulated profits to the Capital Fund of the Company.

Prospectuses, containing specimens of the tables and every information, can be obtained from, and applications for shares, in the annexed form, made to, the Secretary, at the Company's offices, No. 5, St. James's-street, London; Messrs. Davies and Son, solicitors, 21, Warwick-street, Regent-street; Messrs. Tucker, Barnett, and Ellis, brokers, Change-alley, Cornhill, and John Eykyn, Esq., broker, Change-alley, Cornhill, London; Messrs. D. and J. B. FORM OF APPLICATION FOR SHARES.
To the Provisional Directors of the Sovereign Life Assurance Company.

Gentlemen,—I request you to allot me shares in the above Company, and I undertake to accept the same, or such less number as you may appropriate to me, and to pay the deposit, and sign the necessary legal documents when required.

Extensive and Important Sale of Freehold Property, in Merionethshire, North Wales.

MR. LLOYD has been honoured with instructions from the Trustees of the late Richard Parry, esq. of Llwyn Ynn, to submit to PUBLIC AUCTION, on TUESDAY, the 7th of October, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, at the Golden Lion Hotel, Dolgelly, in the following, or such lots as may be agreed upon, the GOPPA ESTATE, situate in the parish of Trawsfynydd, in the county of Merioneth, comprehending upwards of 2,200 acres of arable, pasture, and meadow land, with substantial farm-houses and commodious out-buildings, in good repair, and most respectably tenanted.

IN THE PARISH OF TRAWSFYNYDD.

The rents are very moderate, and in many instance would admit of a considerable advance without any injustice to the tenants; the tithes are commuted, the poor-rates low, and the land-tax upon the whole property redeemed.

This Estate presents to capitalists and others desirous of a safe investment, a most favourable opportunity, as the land abounds in minerals, and the certainty of unlocking the resources of the country by the projected railways, enhances its prospective value to an incalculable extent.

The Mansion House of Goppa on Lot 1, with a trifling outlay, would form a suitable residence for a gentleman of fortune; several trout streams pass through and adjoin the property; and the covers are notorious for early woodcocks.

Every Lot on the Estate has the advantage of having extensive sheep-walks attached, and on most of them are labourers' cottages.

The property is situate on both sides of the turnpike-road leading from Dolgelley to Maentwrog, and is distant from the former place twelve miles, and from the latter five miles.

The lots may be viewed on application to the tenants.

All further information, together with particulars and lithographic plans, may be obtained from Francis Hallowes, esq. Coed, near Dolgelly; Walter Powell Jones, esq. Cefn Rug, near Corwen; Mr. Robert Roberts, Bodtegin, near Cerrig-y-druidion; Messrs. Law and Tindal, solicitors, 10, New-square, Lincoln's-inn, London; and at the office of Mr. Thomas Hughes, solicitor, Denbigh; at the Hall of Commerce, London; and at the Auctioneer's Offices, Well-street, Ruthin.

Periodical Sale of Reversions, Life Interests, Annuities, Life Policies, Advowsons, Next Presentations, and all descriptions of Securities dependent upon human Life, Ground and Improved Rents, Post Obit Bonds, Shares in Railways, Mines, Insurance Companies, and all other public undertakings.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH respectfully inform the public, that by their system of periodical sales by Auction they are enabled to offer to persons expectant or otherwise interested in the above description of property the most prompt, economical, and satisfactory mode of disposing thereof, as by classifying these descriptions of interests and properties in the same particular and for the same day, much expense is avoided, and a far greater competition is secured. Their periodical sales of reversions, life interests, annuities, life policies, advowsons, next presentations, and all descriptions of securities dependent upon human life, shares in railways, mines, and all other undertakings, will be continued throughout the present year as follows:—

Thursday, October 2 | Thursday, November 6
Thursday, December 4.

Notice of Sales intended to be effected by the above means should be forwarded to Messrs. Fuller and Marsh a fortnight prior to each date, in order that they may have the full benefit of publicity. Messrs. Fuller and Marsh beg to call the attention of the public to the economy and expedition of this system of business, as they are thereby enabled to include each property for the sum of two guineas and a half, including all expenses, should a sale not be effected. Particulars of the next periodical sale may be obtained at the Offices of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, London.

Freehold Estates, Battersea, Surrey.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, September 25, at Twelve, a desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, situate near to the new church, in Battersea-fields; comprising two substantial brick-built family residences, with excellent gardens in the front and rear; also four well-built cottages in Sleaford-street, all of which are let to respectable tenants, and produce a rental of 92*l*. per annum.—The property may be viewed on application to the tenants, and particulars obtained on the premises; of Mr. Haslam, solicitor, Copthall-court, Throgmorton-street; and at Messrs. FULLER and MARSH'S Offices, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

To Railway Contractors, Brickmakers, Builders, and others.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions to SELL by AUCTION, on TUESDAY, October 7, at Twelve o'clock, precisely, in suitable lots, in the Brick-fields adjoining the road from Folkestone to Cherrington, and within a short distance of the railway station, FIFTY-SIX CLAMPS of BRICKS, containing about 3,000,000.—May be viewed. Catalogues obtained at the principal inns in Folkestone, Dover, and Canterbury; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Surveyors and Land Agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

Thirteen desirable detached Villa Residences, Folkestone, Kent.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH beg to announce that they have received instructions from Messrs. Grissell and Peto to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, London, on THURSDAY, September 25, at Twelve, in lots, THIRTEEN FREEHOLD VILLA RESIDENCES, very prettily situate at Folkestone, near to the viaduct, and within a few minutes' walk of the railway station. The residences, which have only been lately erected, are unusually well built, in excellent condition, and fit for immediate occupation.—The property may be viewed, and particulars obtained on the premises; of Mr. Fraser, Glennie-house, Folkestone; the Rose Inn, Folkestone; Mr. George, Sandgate; George, Rye; Swan, Hastings; Crown, Tunbridge; Sussex Hotel, Tunbridge-wells; of James Taylor, esq. 15, Furnival's-inn; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Auctioneers and Land Agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, and Croydon, Surrey.

Sandgate, near Folkestone, Kent.—Elegant Marine Mansion, and Two desirable Family Residences, with immediate possession.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH are instructed by Messrs. Grissell and Peto to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, London, on THURSDAY, Sept. 25, at Twelve, an elegant MARINE MANSION and TWO FAMILY RESIDENCES, delightfully situate at Sandgate, commanding a most splendid sea view. The mansion is let on lease for 14 years, at 240*l*. per annum; and the others are held on very long leases, at small ground rents. They are remarkably well built, and in excellent condition.—May be viewed. Particulars obtained on the premises; of Mr. George, Sandgate; the Rose, Folkestone; Swan, Hastings; Sussex Hotel, Tunbridge wells; of James Taylor, esq. Furnival's-inn; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Auctioneers and Land Agents, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house, and at Croydon, Surrey.

LITTLE BUSHEY, HERTS.—Cottage Residence, Garden, and Three Acres of Meadow Land.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have been favoured with instructions to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, September 25, at Twelve, without reserve, a valuable COPYHOLD ESTATE, situate at Little Bushey, Herts; consisting of a very desirable detached cottage residence, newly built, with about three acres of superior meadow land; let at rents amounting to 33*l*. per annum. The meadow land possesses valuable building frontages to the road from Bushey to Elstree and Watford.—Particulars may be obtained at the Mart; of Mr. Nation, solicitor, 4, Orchard-street, Portman-square; of Mr. Fairthorne, solicitor, St. Alban's; of Mr. Blagg, solicitor, St. Alban's; at the Three Crowns, Bushey Heath; at the Rose and Crown, Watford and of the Auctioneers, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

To Builders and others.—Eligible opportunities of Investment.—Islington.

MESSRS. FULLER and MARSH have received instructions peremptorily to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on THURSDAY, September 25, at Twelve, in four lots, FOUR substantial and well-finished CARCASSES, situate in Rotherfield-street, Islington, held under a lease for a long term, at a moderate ground-rent. The proprietor would allow the greater part of the purchase-money to remain on mortgage (if required), and would not object to make advances for the completion of the houses. —Particulars and conditions of sale may be obtained at the Mart; of Messrs. J. and J. W. Linklater, solicitors, 115, Leadenhall-street; and of Messrs. FULLER and MARSH, Auctioneers and Surveyors, 2, Charlotte-row, Mansion-house.

OLD KENT-ROAD.—Three Acres of Freehold Building Land, in plots, and Six Freehold Residences.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 23, 1845, at Twelve for One, in plots, nearly three acres of valuable FREEHOLD BUILDING LAND, desirably situate near the Rising Sun, Old Kent-road, presenting considerable frontages on roads made up. Some of the plots are of corner situation, and some, being contiguous to the banks of the Grand Surrey Canal, are likely to become valuable as wharfs. The distance is only about two and a half miles from London-bridge; and the hundreds of houses which have been erected on those portions of the estate which Mr. Single sold two or three years since prove, beyond all doubt, that the property is desirable as building ground.

Also, Six FREEHOLD RESIDENCES on the same estate.

Particulars will be ready in due time, and may be obtained of Messrs. Barker, Rose, and Norton, solicitors, 50, Mark-lane; of Messrs. Smith and Taylor, solicitors, 4, Basinghall-street; and at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

Forty-five Pounds per annum on Lease, arising from a Freehold Public-house, known as the Golden Anchor, Golden-lane, Cripplegate.

MR. SINGLE will SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, on TUESDAY, September 23, at Twelve for One, a capital FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE, in full trade, situate in the populous and famous neighbourhood for business, Golden-lane, Cripplegate: let upon lease for a term of which about eleven years are unexpired, at 45*l*. per annum; a rental which may be considered almost as safe as a ground rent.—Particulars may be obtained, in due time, at the offices of Mr. SINGLE, 34, Coleman-street, City.

LEASEHOLD INVESTMENTS.—From 1,000*l*. to 30,000*l*. may be advantageously laid out in the PURCHASE of LEASEHOLD HOUSES of the best description within four miles west of London. They are all let to most respectable tenants at reasonable rents, and will be sold to pay good interest to the purchasers. Term 80 years; ground-rent 10*l*. per house, redeemable. They are semi-detached, with nice gardens, coach-house, stable, &c. and an acre of land may be had with each house if desired. The money is wanted to lay out in buildings on the same property.

Apply to Mr. G. W. Jones, Castelnau, Barnes.

SPALDING and COWBIT.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. POLLARD, at the White Hart Inn, in Spalding, in the county of Lincoln, on TUESDAY, September 23, 1845, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to such conditions of sale as shall be then and there produced, and in the following or such other Lots as shall be agreed upon at the time of Sale.

Lot 1.—All that plot of valuable BUILDING GROUND, situate in Hall-street, and opposite to the Town-hall, and near to the Market-place and Stock-market of Spalding aforesaid, abutting on the south-west on the estate of Mr. Hiley, and containing by admeasurement 112 square yards, or thereabouts, having a frontage next the Town Street of about 17 feet, as the same is now staked out, together with the building materials now standing thereon, and being the third part or thereabouts of an ancient messuage and conveniences, now divided into three tenements, and in the respective occupations of Thomas Woods and William Wright.

Lot 2.—All that other plot of building ground, fronting the Town-street aforesaid, adjoining Lot 1 on the south-west, and containing by admeasurement 110 square yards or thereabouts, having a frontage next the Town-street of about 17 feet, as the same is now staked out, together with the building materials thereon, and being one other third part or thereabouts of the said ancient messuage and conveniences.

Lot 3. All that other plot of Building Ground, adjoining Lot 2 on the south-west, and the stall-house on the north-west, and near to the stock-market of Spalding aforesaid, containing by admeasurement 110 square yards, or thereabouts, having a frontage next the Town-street of about 17 feet, as the same is now staked out, together with the building materials thereon, as now marked out, and being the remaining third part, or thereabouts, of the said ancient messuage and conveniences.

The situation of the above lots for business purposes is excellent, being in the centre of the populous and improving town of Spalding, opposite to the Town-hall, and contiguous to the market-place and the stock-market.

Lot 4. All that Freehold Close of Arable Land, situate within the first district in the South Fen, in Cowbit, numbered 35 on the plan annexed to the award of the Commissioners for the drainage of Spalding, Cowbit, and other commons, containing by admeasurement 6a. 2r. 23p. (more or less), bounded, north, by land of Mr. John Hutchinson, east by the river Welland and the Cradge Bank, south by land of William Hurrey, and west by the Park Engine Drain, and now in the occupation of James Wade.

Lot 5. All that Freehold Close of Land, situate in Cowbit Wash, in the parish of Pinchbeck, numbered 156 on the plan annexed to the said Commissioners' award, bounded on the south-east by Lord Brownlow's-road, and now in the occupation of Richard Harrison.

The respective purchasers can be accommodated with the whole or any part of their purchase-moneys on approved security.—For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, or at the offices of Mr. C. S. Todd, solicitor, Hull; or Messrs. S. and W. Edwards, solicitors, Spalding.

Spalding, 8th September, 1845.

First-rate Fee-simple Landed Investment in Ireland, between Dublin and Galway.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON respectfully apprize the Public that, unless previously disposed of by Private Contract, the fine and important ESTATE and TOWN MANOR of CLOGHAN will be offered for SALE by AUCTION, in Dublin, some time in November next; comprising about 3,000 statute acres, and producing a net and very improvable rental of about 2,400*l*. per annum, punctually paid by a highly-respectable tenantry, and possessing all the advantages of good roads, canals, and rivers.—For particulars and rent-rolls apply to George Kelly, esq. solicitor, 18, Bachelor's-walk, Dublin; or at the offices of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, London, where plans may be seen, and every information obtained.

The important and beautiful Freehold Estate and Manor of Lee Grange, in the Vale of Aylesbury, between that and the other Market-towns of Buckingham, Winslow, and Bicester.

MESSRS. DANIEL SMITH and SON are commissioned to SELL by AUCTION, at the Mart, near the Bank of England, on FRIDAY, September 26 (instead of September 16, as before advertised), at Twelve (unless an acceptable offer shall be previously made), the above very valuable and famous FREEHOLD DAIRY and GRAZING ESTATE; comprising nearly the whole hamlet of Shipton Lee, close to Quainton, and within a few miles of Aylesbury and Buckingham, consisting of several capital dairy farms, with suitable houses and homesteads, in the hands of highly respectable tenants, with some beautiful woodlands, full of thriving young oak, and abounding with game, comprising in a ring fence nearly 1,350 acres, chiefly rich grass land, and embracing the Grange Hill, one of the most prominent and beautiful features of the neighbourhood. The annual value of this fine property is about 2,000*l*. exempt from land-tax, and almost from tithes.—Further particulars may be had of Messrs. Whitmore, Roumieu, and Walters, 9, Lincoln's-inn; and of DANIEL SMITH and SON, Land Agents, &c. in Waterloo-place, Pall-mall, and Windsor.

Recorder of the said borough, at the COURT HOUSE, in Leeds, on WEDNESDAY, the 22nd day of October next, at Two o'clock in the afternoon, at which time and place all Jurors, Constables, Police Officers, Prosecutors, Witnesses, Persons bound by Recognizances, and others having business at the said Sessions, are required to attend.
And NOTICE IS HEREBY also GIVEN, that all Appeals and Proceedings under the Highway Acts, not previously disposed of, will be heard on the opening of the Court, on FRIDAY, the 24th day of October next, provided all cases of Felony and Misdemeanor shall then have been disposed of, or otherwise as soon as the Criminal business of the Sessions shall be concluded.
By Order, JAMES RICHARDSON,
Clerk of the Peace for the said Borough.
Leeds, 19th September, 1845.

COUNTY OF DENBIGH.—NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an adjournment of the QUARTER SESSIONS of the PEACE for the County of Denbigh, for the purpose of auditing and allowing the bills due from the County, will be held at the COUNTY HALL in DENBIGH, on MONDAY, the 13th day of October next, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, when and where the business relating to the assessment, application, or management of the county stock or rate will commence.
AND NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the GENERAL QUARTER SESSIONS of the PEACE of the same County will be held at the same place on TUESDAY, the 14th day of October, 1845, at Ten o'clock in the forenoon, and that the business relating to the assessment, application, or management of the county stock or rate will commence at Twelve o'clock at noon.
AND NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the business relating to the Act 2 & 3 Victoria, cap. 93, intituled "An Act for the Establishment of County and District Constables by the Authority of Justices of the Peace," and to the Act 3 & 4 Victoria, cap. 88, intituled "An Act to amend an Act for the Establishment of County and District Constables," will commence at the said adjourned Sessions, at Twelve o'clock at noon, and at the said General Quarter Sessions at One o'clock P.M.
AND NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN, in pursuance of an Order made at the GENERAL QUARTER SESSIONS of the PEACE held at DENBIGH, in and for the County of Denbigh, on TUESDAY, the 18th day of March last (of which due notice has been before given), that it is intended, pursuant to the Act 3 & 4 Victoria, cap. 88, intituled "An Act to amend an Act for the Establishment of County and District Constables," at the next MICHAELMAS QUARTER SESSIONS of the PEACE for the said County, to be held at DENBIGH in and for the said County on TUESDAY, the 14th day of October next, at the hour of One in the afternoon, to be taken into consideration whether a report should be made to one of her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, that the constables appointed under the statute 2 & 3 Victoria, cap. 93, intituled "An Act for the Establishment of County and District Constables by the Authority of Justices of the Peace," are no longer needed in the County of Denbigh, and that if three-fourths of the justices assembled at the said Michaelmas Quarter Sessions should resolve to make such report, then that such report will be made to such Secretary of State as aforesaid.
By the Court,
JOSEPH PEERS, Clerk of the Peace.
Ruthin, September 23, 1845.

PLYMOUTH and DEVONPORT COURT of REQUESTS.—The Commissioners having determined to appoint a Judge of this Court (being a Barrister-at-Law, duly qualified), under the powers contained in the Act or Acts of Parliament recently passed enabling them so to do, such Gentlemen of the Bar as may be desirous of offering themselves as CANDIDATES for the office of JUDGE of such Court are requested to signify the same to me by letter, accompanied by their testimonials, on or before the 20th day of October next.
By order of the Commissioners,
WILLIAM JACOBSON,
Chief Clerk of the said Court.
Court House, Wyndham Race, Plymouth,
September 22, 1845.

WEST RIDING of YORKSHIRE.—MICHAELMAS SESSIONS. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That the MICHAELMAS GENERAL QUARTER SESSIONS of the Peace for the West Riding of the County of York will be opened at KNARESBOROUGH, on TUESDAY, the 14th day of October next, at Ten o'clock in the forenoon; and by Adjournment from thence will be holden at LEEDS, on WEDNESDAY, the 15th day of the same month of October, at Ten of the Clock in the forenoon; and also, by further Adjournment from thence, will be holden at DONCASTER, on MONDAY, the 20th day of the same month of October, at Half-past Ten of the Clock in the forenoon, when all Jurors, Suitors, Persons bound by Recognizance, and others having business at the said several Sessions, are required to attend the Court on the several days, and at the several hours above mentioned.
Solicitors are required to take Notice, that the Order of Removal, copies of the Notice of Appeal, and examination of the Pauper, are required to be filed with the Clerk of the Peace on the entry of the Appeal; and that no Appeals against Removal Orders can be heard unless the Chairman is also furnished by the Appellants with a copy of the Order of Removal, of the Notice of Chargeability, of the Examination of the Pauper, and of the Notice and grounds of Appeal. C. H. ELSLEY, Clerk of the Peace.
Clerk of the Peace's Office, Wakefield,

THE HEADLAM HALL ESTATE, DARLINGTON, DURHAM.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, at the King's Head Hotel, Darlington, in the county of Durham, on MONDAY, the 13th day of October, 1845, at Twelve o'clock, by Mr. WETHERELL, Auctioneer (unless previously disposed of by private contract, of which due notice will be given), a most desirable MANSION, called HEADLAM HALL, with spacious gardens, lawn, orchard, pleasure-grounds, and plantations, well suited for the accommodation of a gentleman's family; and a valuable FREEHOLD ESTATE, land-tax redeemed, comprising about 165 acres of superior meadow, pasture, and arable land, with several cottages for farm-labourers, situate adjoining the pleasant and rural village of Headlam, and about a mile and a half from Gainford, beautifully situate on the banks of the river Tees. The estate, which is in excellent condition, and in the occupation of a highly-respectable tenant, is situate in the best and most picturesque part of the county of Durham, and is easily accessible by good roads to the best markets, being distant from Darlington eight miles, from Barnard-castle eight miles, and from Bishop Auckland eight miles and a half. It is also in a good sporting country, being only three miles distant from the Duke of Cleveland's residence of Raby Castle, where a first-rate pack of fox-hounds is kept. The continuous lines of railway meeting at Darlington afford a ready means of communication with all parts of the kingdom.

Also, to be SOLD at the same time, a compact well-built HOUSE, of moderate size, fronting upon the village-green of Headlam, with a good garden and paddock, in the occupation of Mrs. Brockett. Mrs. Brockett will, upon application, [illegible]nd a person to shew the estate.

Particulars, and a lithographic plan of the estate may be obtained of Messrs. Meredith and Reeves, solicitors, 8, New-square, Lincoln's-inn; and Messrs. Harbin and Wards, solicitors, 12, Clement's-inn, Strand, London; at the George Hotel, York; King's Arms Hotel, Lancaster; King's Head Hotel, Darlington; of the Auctioneer, Durham; and of Mr. Bowser, solicitor, Bishop Auckland, who is authorised to treat for the sale of the estate.

Auditors—Charles S. Rayner, esq. Kew; Henry Dodson, esq. Suffolk House, Tulse-hill.
Bankers—The Union Bank of London; Messrs. P. A. Reynolds and Co. 77, Montagne de la Cour, Bruxelles.
Engineer—Stephen Hutchison, esq. Engineer-in-Chief to the London Gas-light Company.
Solicitors—Messrs. Watts, Galsworthy, and Galsworthy, 19, Ely-place, Holborn.

This Company is established under particularly advantageous circumstances, having made arrangements for obtaining the right and use of Hutchison's patent aerometer, or dry gas meter, which indicates precisely the quantity of gas consumed. This meter has obtained in England great celebrity for its precision, utility, and simplicity of indication, and is now in use by the London Gas-light Company and others. Patents have been taken out for England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Belgium, Holland, Bavaria, Saxony, Austria, Russia, Prussia, the two Sicilies, and Portugal—the benefits of all thi[illegible] have been secured to this Company.

The objects of the Company are as follow, viz.—The supplying with gas such places in Great Britain and elsewhere as may from time to time be found to [illegible]duction, so as to secure a remunerative [illegible] holders; the manufacture of gas-meters on the principle of the patents referred to, and the supply of the same to gas companies and to consumers, both by sale and on hire; the granting of licences under the patents; and also the manufacture of a superior description of coke, available particularly for railway purposes, this advantage being afforded by an economical arrangement of the heating apparatus to be employed in the production of this Company's gas.

With respect to the supply of gas to such cities and towns both here and abroad as may be desirable, 10 per cent. on the capital to be employed in that branch of the Company's operations is the estimated return, and it is calculated that the capital to be engaged in the meter department will yield a dividend of 20 per cent.

The Directors have already received orders for the supply of meters from companies established in England, and they are in treaty with the concessionaires for the exclusive right of supplying gas to several towns in Belgium.

The capital will be required to be paid up by instalments, only as opportunities for its beneficial employment present themselves, and at intervals of not less than three months.

Applications for shares, in the usual form, should be addressed to the solicitors of the Company; to Mr. George Henderson, Plymouth and Stonehouse Gas Company, 11, George-street, Plymouth; to Messrs. Reynolds and Co., Brussels; or to Charles Williams, esq. Bruges; or at the office of the Company.

This Company, in addition to all the usual business of Assurance Companies, offers to the public a new system of Loans, more beneficial to the borrower, and yielding a better return to the Shareholder, than any system at present in use.

Thus any person effecting an assurance with this Company can borrow the full amount of the sum secured by his policy, upon giving collateral security for the payment of an increased rate of premium, fixed by the tables of the Company, according to the age of the person borrowing and the amount borrowed, and interest on the loan for a limited number of years only; which will, in effect, repay the money borrowed, and maintain a policy on the life of the borrower, and he will not, as in ordinary cases, be liable to be called upon to repay, in one sum, and by a given day, the principal money lent.

A reference to the Prospectuses of the Company (which have been already advertised at length in the papers), and which contain specimens of the Tables, will shew the mode by which the Company effects this object.

The Company will also advance money on Annuity, Mortgage, or other security.

Shareholders will receive a large remuneration in the shape of Bonus, arising from the operations of the Company, augmented by the profits on Premiums, paid in connection with Loans, in addition to interest upon their capital invested in shares; besides, by the mode of distribution proposed by the Company, the certainty, in addition to an increasing rate of interest, o[illegible] proportionate increase in the value of the capital, by [illegible] appropriation of a certain portion of the accumulated p[illegible]fits to the Capital Fund of the Company.

Prospectuses, containing specimens of the tables and every information, can be obtained from, and applications for shares, in the annexed form, made to, the Secretary, at the Company's offices, No. 5, St. James's-street, London; Messrs. Davies and Son, solicitors, 21, Warwick-street, Regent-street; Messrs. Tucker, Barnett, and Ellis, brokers, Change-alley, Cornhill, and John Eykyn, Esq., broker, Change-alley, Cornhill, London; Messrs. D. and J. B.
